MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

JUDGMENTS.

In these lists of judgments the names alphabetically arranged, and which are first on each line, are those of the judgment debtor. The letter (D) means judgment for deficiency. (*) means not summoned. (†) signifies that the first name is fictitious, real name being unknown. Judgments entered during the week, and satisfied before day of publication, do not appear in this column, but in list of Satisfied Judgments.

VOL. XLIII. MAY 25, 1889. No. 1,106

The wisest man in Wall street must, after all, take his chances just like the biggest fool. A speculator may scan the crop reports, delve into railroad returns, keep a sharp eye on the iron trade and general business, have special knowledge over special wires as to rate-cutting; in short, do everything that human ingenuity can suggest in order to know which way the market is going, and still find himself on its wrong side. Experience and ingenuity count for half the battle or less than half, or more than half, but never for the whole, as is very well shown by the fact that the shrewdest speculators in the "street" seldom escape failure in their career. But after making due allowance for the occurrence of that which nobody can foresee it remains true that so far as the outlook goes Wall street is in for a bull campaign of some magnitude and duration. Not that all the conditions are favorable. The way we have been exporting gold this spring shows plainly that the stock and bond purchases of foreigners have a bad side as well as a good, in that our money indebtedness to foreigners is beginning to be so heavy that we have either to make much larger exports or else send away specie. Gold is the grease which runs the Wall street machine. When gold is leaving, unless a new supply comes from elsewhere, the machine begins to creak. But this, under the circumstances, is not such an important matter, for Wall street has a surfeit of money. On the other hand, the bulls have the immense advantage of flourishing crop prospects—an advantage which it would be difficult to over-estimate. This influence has already begun to have its effect, and this effect will continue. Last summer also the exceptional good prospects in all the grains except wheat was an influence sufficiently powerful to send the market up from 10 to 15 per cent., and this in spite of the fact that the over-building of railroads in the West had left the Granger companies in a condition of almost unparalleled weakness. Rates were not held, earnings were low, the management the reverse of wise, and, in addition, the country was distracted by a political campaign. Now all this is changed. The revelations that came out as to the condition of Atchison & St. Paul led to the restoration of rates, the incoming of more conservative officials and the starting of the Interstate Railway Association. Consequently, during the next few months the bulls can advance the market, unhampered by the depressing conditions of last year.

It is a little curious that the attitude of the business of the country towards the crop prospects is very much the same now as they were in the beginning of recorded history, before railroads, banks, bills of exchange, or any of the paraphernalia of modern commerce were dreamed of. The ancient Egyptians depended upon the Nile for their food supply. When the river overflowed, a soft, rich sediment was deposited, upon the scarcity or abundance of which depended the prosperity of Egypt. If it was abundant, great was the rejoicing; if scarce, starvation stared them in the face. So it is with us. It is true that the conditions affecting the crops are not so simple now as then. We cannot count upon our grain until it is in the granary; but the effect is still the same. A good crop causes a manifold rejoicing on the Stock Exchange; a poor one, a period of depression and empty pockets. Walter Bagehot, the English political economist, is our authority for the statement that two indispensable conditions of good business are cheap food and cheap money. Bread is a necessity to the laborer. He cannot do without it even when it is high. When, however, it becomes cheaper he has so much more money in his pocket, and this money becomes a demand for other commodities which capitalists can meet, provided that funds are obtainable. We have a certainty of cheap money and a prospect of cheap food. Hence business ought to be good—a probability that Wall street is always ready to discount. We have, besides, a prosperity among certain railroads at present, which is exemplified by the earnings of the Milwaukee, Lake Shore & Western. It is reported on the best authority that that road is earning 12 per cent. on both its preferred and common stock. With such facts and prospects backing a bull campaign, Wall street, in all human probability, will see lively times during the summer.

We showed, last week, that the project of literally reproducing the Washington square arch is impracticable, and this impracticability gives fresh point to our suggestion that the memorial should have more imposing dimensions and a more conspicuous place. In order to be worthy of the occasion and of the city the centre arch should completely span an avenue, and the subordinate arches that would naturally find place in the piers should span the sidewalks. Meanwhile the subscription languishes, and experience leads us to believe that if an enterprise of this kind does not "go" at the beginning it does not go at all. It is always a case of retarded motion. Nearly everybody is interested a little in the project, but scarcely anybody is interested very much. In these circumstances the proper thing to do is for the city to appropriate outright as much money as may be necessary to erect an adequate memorial in a conspicuous place. Legislation would probably be necessary, but if the city authorities united in support of a bill for the purpose it would doubtless become law early in the next session.

Both the Evening Post and the Times have come to the conclusion that Washington square is no site for the Stanford White arch, and the Times is also of the opinion that only the general idea of the arch should be preserved, on the very good ground which THE RECORD AND GUIDE pointed out last week, that it would be impossible by the laws of physics to preserve it intact. The Evening Post, after surmising that the ridiculous Centennial structure on Madison square was probably taken off the hands of a "busted" traveling show, goes on to say:

> The lower end of 5th avenue is becoming more and more every year a "retired neighborhood," and an arch which commemorates the foundation of the American government and the greatness of the great man to whom above all men its foundation was due, should stand where the living stream of city humanity would pass under it every day.

This is the only common sense view of the matter. The city should be grateful to Mr. White for not leaving us entirely in the hands of the Philistines, who erected those preposterous and impossible architectural farces on Madison square; but we trust he will understand that the arch is to be made permanent, not for the benefit of the subscribers to his original structure, but for the benefit of the city and the country at large.

The last batch of appointments made by Mayor Grant puts the government of this city practically completely in the hands of Tammany Hall. The press generally, and the great part of the public whose political affections are not housed in the wigwam on 14th street, profess to be alarmed at this concentration of power in one political organization. They regard it as fraught with danger, as a long step backward from good government, the result of which is not unlikely to be all that can be included in the terms extravagance and bad management. This, however, is only a superficial view, for concentration of authority—that is what the dominance of Tammany is—means definite concentration of responsibility; and wherever the public is alert and powerful this makes, and makes strongly too, for good government. The evil with us hitherto has been that power in our municipal affairs has not been sufficiently concentrated, and efficient and honest government has been retarded as much by that circumstance as by any other one that could be mentioned. The responsibility for mismangement could be and often has been shifted from department to department, from shoulder to shoulder, from Tammany to the County Democracy, and from the County Democracy to Tammany or to the Republicans. Deals were frequent and indeed inevitable, and then every political organization had reason to be silent when anything went wrong, for in a measure all were in company. Under the new régime, however, the city has to deal solely with Tammany Hall. The responsibility for the proper government of the city, both in detail and in general, rests upon that organization, and the responsibility cannot under any subterfuge be shirked. This is simply the application to city government of the principle that rules in all large private enterprises. It works successfully in the one case. What reason is there that it will not do likewise in the other?

The Mayor's appointments to office are just about what might have been expected, and what was expected when he was put in nomination. It was ridiculous to suppose that a Tammany Mayor would not use the power of the Mayoralty to increase the power of Tammany Hall. So long as the Tammanymen chosen by the Mayor are not personally disreputable nobody has a right to complain. It is not pretended that the men appointed by the Mayor are disreputable, with one exception, or that they are not as good as he could have chosen, bearing in mind his obligations. Above all it is absurd to use these appointments, as has already been done, as an argument why the Mayor's power of appointment should be limited. The struggle to take away the confirming power of the Board of Aldermen was long and arduous, and the success of it was the best thing for our municipal government that has happened in many years. There is little danger that the weak-minded publicists who are already urging a "check" upon the Mayor's power will exert much influence. Now the appointing power is really responsible to the people, and if they do not like the Mayor's procedure they can turn him out at the end of his term. But where a number of Aldermen control the appointments, and blackmail the Mayor into dividing with them, there is no effective responsibility and no practicable redress. Besides, Mayor Grant has undoubtedly learned something from the careers of his three predecessors in office. They all failed, after election, to stand by the organization that put them in power. Mayor Edson did so, so did Mayors Grace and Hewitt, and in each case this political apostacy cut short their public career. Instead of lamenting the ascendency of Tammany Hall, men who look beneath the surface of things, and recognize that a newspaper cry is not the last word of wisdom, will see that the concentration of authority and responsibility in one organization means better government for the city, provided, of course, that the public is watchful of its interests.

In the recently reported formation of a big glass-bottle trust in England, or ring as it is called over there, we have further proof of the absurdity of the statements reiterated by newspapers with certain economic predilections, like the Evening Post and the Times, that trusts and all such combinations in this country are due to the tariff and could not exist without it. In England there is no tariff in the protectionist sense of the word, yet commercial combinations to curtail production, restrict competition and raise prices are perhaps as numerous there as here, and moreover are increasing in number. This is a matter of fact, not of theory. If these combinations do not exist it can easily be proved. But if their existence is admitted, as it must be, why doesn't the Evening Post, the Times, or some other paper which takes the position that they do on the "trust question," explain to people how it happens that these combinations, said to be the creations of a tariff, are to be found in England where there is no tariff. Apart from any bearing which the subject has upon the free trade-protection controversy it is worth explanation. The world is recognizing the fact that these combinations are due principally to excessive competition, that they represent in the field of capital the associative tendency of the times which is more plainly to be seen in the large labor federations than perhaps anywhere else. If this is wrong, and the existence of these commercial combinations depends simply upon a tariff, the fact is worth knowing. Unfortunately, however, with the daily press an argument is not valued for its truth half so much as for the "points" it contains, and the chances that it will go down with the ignorant and the unthinking.

At the first glance it doesn't appear that real estate has any direct or special interest in prohibition. Nevertheless it has. This fact has been made clear in Kansas. Several municipalities in that State are finding it extremely difficult to raise the money they need under prohibition. The saloon licenses were an important source of income, but now that this has been cut off it has been found that either the general taxes must be increased or the deficiency made good by additional special taxes. At first the latter course was adopted. Taxes were imposed upon certain professions and callings, notably upon doctors, lawyers, manufacturers and hackmen. The courts, however, have decided against the legality of such taxes, and the municipal authorities not wishing to increase the general tax rate—an unpopular step everywhere—see no way out of the difficulty other than to increase the burden upon real estate. In the city of Hutchinson, for instance, it is proposed to create a land tax based upon the ground rent value; and it is said that the proposition is favorably received by the inhabitants. This is a forced step towards Henry George's single tax scheme, and is moreover in keeping with the tendency everywhere visible to increase the taxation upon real estate. Rightly or wrongly, from one cause or another, the burdens upon real property are everywhere increasing. Here in New York it is due to the inability of the assessor and tax collector to reach personal property. In Kansas we see it is due to prohibition, elsewhere it is due to some other cause. The result, however, is the same. This tendency, moreover, to lay the expense of government more and more upon real estate receives popular support. At any rate it is not objected to; while "Labor," so far as the voice of trades' unions and such organizations represents its ideas and feelings, is decidedly in favor of it. The mass of people are a long way off from accepting Henry George's scheme; yet events are undoubtedly moving towards his single tax. This is due chiefly to the pressure of circumstances and not to the acceptation of any theory. The time is rapidly approaching when people will have to choose between an income tax and a tax exclusively upon real estate. The personal tax has long been a farce, played at the expense of conscientious citizens. It has already reached a stage when, with advantage to public morals, the curtain might be rung down. A commission should be appointed to revise our present system of taxation and reimpose the income tax, from which such satisfactory results were obtained in this State during the war.

The attitude of the New York press since the burial of the Mayor's rapid transit measure, shows clearly how little they realize the situation the city is in. Having duly recorded how the politicians at Albany killed the bill, they dropped the matter of rapid transit entirely as though it were of no more importance to the welfare of the community than a finished game of baseball. The bill is dead, and to them that is all there is to it. Not a word comes as to what should now be done to remedy a condition of affairs which is working incalculable harm to the city, arresting its development and driving thousands of citizens to new homes in Long Island and New Jersey. More than that, the inability of the working-class to obtain cheap and easily accessible homes here is causing the removal of factories across the river, east and west of us, to Brooklyn, Newark and elsewhere. What does Mayor Grant, the rapid transit experts of the press and others propose should be done? Let matters remain as they are, going from bad to worse, until the evil becomes intolerable? It has already nearly reached that stage. There is not now even a remote probability that any new means of transportation will be in operation for another five years at the very least. We have noting for the present and the immediate future; but the elevated roads; and common sense dictates they should be authorized at once to increase their facilities by constructing the loop at the Battery and the third track. New York has its choice: Do this, or continue to populate Brooklyn and New Jersey towns.

A Proposition to Exempt New Buildings from Taxation.

In this country the tax collector is not the directly offensive character he is in most parts of Europe. He is, perhaps, quite as active, but he is not so much seen.

Taxation with us is not the highly complex matter it is in the Old World. It is as easily comprehended by the mind as by the pocket. We are not troubled as the Frenchman is with taxes of repartition and quota, prestation or prestation-service money, door and window taxes, matricular lists and octroi. We know nothing of additional "centimes." We are not taxed because we belong to a trade or a profession. Death and taxes do not hunt frail mortality arm-in-arm in our cities, and here the "free salt sea" is not a purely poetic figment, watched over by government officials. It is in France.

We have our marvellous vagarious tariff, which admits ottar of roses free but taxes castor oil 189 per cent., and we have a system of State and municipal taxation which, in practice, throws the cost of the government principally upon real estate (of course, thereby increasing rents), and lets property in all other forms go practically scot free. Certainly, this is not intended; but every one knows taxation for years has worked that way, and there has been no vigorous objection to it. In the City of New York, for instance, only 13,000 individuals pay personal taxes, whereas over four-fifths of the municipal revenue is raised on 161,572 parcels of real estate.

Though, in the popular mind, it is expected that taxation should rigorously bear upon the individual strictly in proportion to his wealth, the contradictory principle is also fully admitted: that taxation may be made to bear more heavily in certain directions than in others—when it is for the public good. For instance, all admit the wisdom, if not the justice, of taxing saloons more heavily than churches, and most people regard it as sound and perfectly legitimate statecraft to use taxation to turn social activity into new channels or force it more to some one direction than it would go unguided. The Kings of England who taxed cotton shrouds in order that people should be buried in woolen cloth recognized this fact. Underlying our tariff is the supposition that taxation can and may wisely direct human affairs, and the proposition made some time ago in France to exempt families with four children or more from the exactions of the tax man, because population was not increasing fast enough for military purposes, goes to show the belief that exists as to the power of taxation to direct even the most intimate acts of the individual.

With us our tariff is, of course, a most conspicuous embodiment of this belief that taxation can be more than a tribute from the individual to the State, and that, on the contrary, it can be used as a means to direct the activity of man for the benefit of society at large. In municipal affairs, however, taxation has yet scarcely been viewed in this light. Taxes have been simply the "exactions of Cæsar," modern "tithes of anise and cummin." But in the high license movement we see taxation used for the production of something more than revenue, and in future taxation will undoubtedly be turned to more and more for purposes of a similar nature.

This use of taxation might now be wisely made here in New York to promote the construction of new buildings, which means the development and extension of the city. We might with advantage follow the example set by most of the European countries and exempt new buildings from taxation for a period of say five years after their completion.

In Austria-Hungary neither the "house-rent tax" nor the "house-class tax" is imposed for twelve years upon new buildings, or upon new stories or parts of buildings, or upon old buildings reconstructed or parts thereof. The twelve years of exemption begin on the day the building is occupied. In Belgium buildings constructed or reconstructed do not pay the State real estate tax until the first of January the second year after they are first occupied. In France, much-taxed France, exemption is granted to builders for two years, drained marshes for twenty-five years, land retilled after having laid idle for fifteen years, ten years; lands reforested, thirty years. In many Italian cities new buildings are exempt from taxation for two years. In the Netherlands the period is eight years, and in England vacant houses, old as well as new, escape taxation while unoccupied.

Why should not we also exempt new buildings from taxation? There are many reasons in favor of doing so. A law exempting new buildings from taxation for a period of even four or five years would not only greatly benefit the builders in this city, but the entire community as well. It would stimulate building, and, by making new structures more advantageous to hold than old buildings, would prompt improvement at the earliest moment possible. Antiquated structures would not die the lingering death they do now. Moreover, in these days, when capital calculates so nicely every step before taking one, and turns in this direction or that, remains idle or seeks employment for very small considerations, the knowledge that the assessor and tax collector will not trouble investments in buildings for a period fully long enough to enable them to be disposed of, would undoubtedly make capital more willing than at present to embark in building operations. In the long run the city treasury would lose nothing. On the contrary, it would gain largely. More buildings would be put up than at present, and these in time would pay taxes, while the more rapid displacement of old structures by new would also greatly increase the municipal revenues.

There is another point in favor of the proposition, By special exemptions from taxation, buildings of a kind much needed for the greater health or comfort of the community could be increased. For instance, tenements of a better class than those usually erected, containing larger rooms, of fire-proof construction, and fitted with the best sanitary appliances, might be exempted from taxation for a longer period than five years, on the condition that the owner should agree to charge no more than a certain rent. In this way our tenement house system might be greatly improved and with it the health of the city. Our health laws set only the minimum of sanitary requirements, whereas through exemption from taxation the maximum could be obtained. In the overcrowding of tenements New York is not so bad as Berlin is, or rather was, a few years ago, when 478,052 persons lived in apartments of one room that could be heated, and 100,271 in cellar tenements, but the condition in this city is bad enough and anything that would increase the standard of the accommodations would be a boon to poor people and the whole community.

A system of taxation that makes for "revenue only" fulfils only half the duty of taxation.

The preliminary steps to a work of stupendous importance are going to be begun this summer. It is well known that there are enormous tracts of land in the West, at present arid and fruitless, which need only water to render them very productive. The Mormons have shown what can be done by a skillful system of irrigation in their improvement of the country about Salt Lake City. A large sum has been appropriated by Congress for surveying the district, defining the possibilities of improvement and locating the situations where canals should be cut and reservoirs constructed. The recent experiences in Oklahoma show very plainly among other things that there is plenty of demand for new lands. Agriculture in the Eastern States is becoming yearly less profitable, and there is a constant increase in the amount of grain required for both the home and foreign markets. It will be a matter probably of ten years before the lands can be properly irrigated.

It will be very necessary, of course, that the cost of irrigating these lands should not be any more than is absolutely necessary. The man who farms them will be hampered by the fact that vast improvements have been necessary before the soil became productive; and it is not likely that he could compete with producers in more favored districts, whose lands are watered by the hand of nature. Consequently, the improvements should be made by either the national or State governments rather than by individuals. In both cases, of course, a certain amount of money would have to be spent; but in one case it would be raised by taxation, and the cost thus distributed among the people who would get their share of the farmer's property; while in the other the farmers would have to bear it alone, for they could not raise their prices very much and at the same time compete with other grain producers. Works of this kind in all places and at all times have been considered of too much public importance to allow private individuals to exploit them for private advantage.

An owner of real estate is reported to have given this advice: "Buy real estate on credit." The value of this "tip" depends upon whether money can be borrowed at a lower rate of interest than that which real estate yields. As a general fact, this proposition is correct. There is plenty of money to be borrowed at 4, 5 and 6 per cent., and there are certain properties from which a greater return than this can be obtained. In other words, there are cases in which a man can make an income from the use he has of the money of others. In reality, the surplus accruing on the transaction represents the salary he earns by giving profitable employment to the capital of another. He is in exactly the same position that the man is who works machinery for an employer—of the resulting product a part goes to the employer as interest, profit, etc., and a part to the employed as salary. At the present time there is no doubt a great deal of capital invested in real estate in this way; but it is worth noticing that the proportion of mortgages to conveyances has been decreasing of late years. In 1882 the proportion was about 72 per cent.; in 1883, 76; in 1884, 65; in 1885, 59; in 1886, 59; in 1887, 63; and last year, 62 per cent. From these figures it does not seem that there is any marked tendency to carry real estate more than ever on loaned money.

The Block Bill of 1889.

One of the last acts of the Senate, before its adjournment, was to pass Mr. Hamilton's bill for block indexing, with certain amendments, and one of the last acts of the Assembly was to concur in those amendments. As Governor Hill signed the bill of 1887, defective as it was in details, it is not at all likely that he will refuse to sign this one. It has been a tough struggle, however, to get it through the present Legislature. The bill had to be amended and reamended before it could be passed, and it is safe to say that not one of the alterations made the bill a bit more suitable for its purpose, while some of them were either entirely unnecessary or else really detrimental. As it stands, the bill does not go into operation until January, 1891—a totally unnecessary delay for a reform of such urgent necessity, for there would be ample time to make the books before January, 1890. This was the time proposed in the act as originally drawn up, but it was lengthened first to July, 1890, and then to six months later. It will be seen that this first step towards land transfer reform is not by any means secured yet, for there is a Legislature coming that may wish to repeal the step which this Legislature has taken. Indeed, it is very likely that this bill of this year would not have been passed had there been any other alternative than passing it or allowing the bill of 1887 to go into effect. We have it on the best authority that in the last days of the session Corporation Counsel Beekman came up to Albany with a measure in his pocket, simply repealing the former bill, but that owing to the vigorous opposition of Assemblyman Hamilton and others he could not introduce it at so late a stage. As the matter stands now, the opponents of the bill will have plenty of time to endeavor to get it repealed, while, if they should fail, there would still be left to the Register as many months as he needs to make up his books.

There is now practically no controversy about the principle upon which the bill is based. Appended to a petition sent up in favor of the bill of this year were the names, not only of lawyers who were originally firm "lot" men, such as John E. Parsons, James M. Varnum, Lord, Day & Lord, but also the names of three of the original five land transfer reform commissioners, E. W. Coggeshall, Dwight H. Olmstead and Charles E. Strong, while another of the commissioners, John L. Riker, assisted in the preparation of this year's bill, but did not sign the petition on account of his absence from the city. Thus it is favored by a consensus of competent experts whom, we hope, will unite in the future to protect the advance already made and to extend the principle still further. The present bill is only a very short step in the right direction. By providing simply for future indexing according to the block system it makes searches just as difficult as ever for the present. Mr. Hamilton's bill provides that matters shall not get any worse, but that is all. To supplement the legislation of this year a bill for reindexing should also be passed. But even when that is done, how far shall we still be from the ultimate object of land transfer reform? What we want is to make real estate as easily transferable as personal property. What we have got is a perilous promise from the Legisture that conveyances and mortgages shall be recorded under some intelligible system. We have started for the North Pole and have gotten as far as Nyack. It has been many years since the agitation first started; it will be a year and a-half before anything will be accomplished. There is some truth in a remark of Dwight H. Olmstead, when being spoken of as the father of the block system, answered that more correctly he was its grandfather.

The value of our consular service is not very great in a mercantile way. This is partly to be accounted for by the fact that our foreign trade is so largely confined to our dealings with Great Britain, Germany, France and Canada. Outside of these four countries it is comparatively inconsiderable. We have not the vast world-wide trade that England has, and against even France or Germany we cut a poor figure. The bulk of our exports are agricultural produce, and of this a very large part, nearly one-half, is sent to either Liverpool or London. Of manufactured goods we sell annually to the entire world not much over $100,000,000 worth. Trade or no trade, however, the necessity for maintaining a large consular service exists. It costs a considerable sum of money annually, and it is a matter of some importance to the country that it should receive some benefit commensurate to the expense. One way in which this might be done is to increase the value of the consular reports, published monthly at Washington. At present they are too largely composed of ancient statistics, compiled by trade societies and corporations abroad. These might be dropped and more attention given to an impartial and intelligent consideration of social matters. Such reports as the recent one, describing how the German working class is housed, are of much more value than statistics of the tea crop of three years ago. Our consular service might with proper management become a National Bureau of Information of great value. Changes in taxation, education, manufacture and politics might all be exhaustively reported. In this way we might profit by the experience of other people. For instance, in Europe the municipalization, and even the nationalization of certain industries, especially those of the nature of monopolies, such as the water and gas supply, railroads, etc., has been carried much further than in this country. We are traveling along the same road here, and the experience of Europe, impartially and intelligently stated, would be of immense value to us. It is in the collection of a vast body of easily accessible facts on matters of this kind that our consuls could be of real service to the people. Let us have at once, then, such a National Bureau of Information.

Architectural Competition.

May 11, 1889.

Editor RECORD AND GUIDE:

MY DEAR SIR:—At a recent meeting of the Architectural League a very interesting discussion took place upon a subject which, relating so closely to architects, will perhaps not be out of place if I mention it; not merely as an interesting item in itself, but as a means of getting from you an opinion as to the relation of the architect to the parties with whom he is dealing. The matter alluded to is that of free competitions, or competitions in which an architect engages without remuneration unless his design be accepted.

First. Supposing six architicts compete in this way for a proposed building to be submitted to a building committee consisting of six or eight. After these six designs have been submitted, is it fair to their authors to allow other competitors to enter the field? Or should it not be understood that no others will be allowed to compete, that being the condition upon which these six competed, though it was not so stated?

Second. It being a practical impossibility for any one architect to satisfy in all respects every member of the committee in the details of his design, should it not be considered fair and only a just equivalent for the efforts of the architect to award the work to that one who has succeeded in coming the nearest to fulfilling all the conditions of the problem, and then, having selected him, get him to modify the drawings until he meets with perfect satisfaction from a majority, if not all, of the committee? This, of course, assumes that at least two of the designs differ with respect to merit, though no one is absolutely satisfactory. In this way it seems to me that fair treatment may be extended and in no other.

As was suggested at the meeting, the profession has a code of charges admitted to be equitable and just and recognized in law. But we have no legal standing in a case relating to the attitude of architects in cases similar to the one above cited. Yours truly, ARCHITECT.

We are quite at a loss to answer our correspondont. What he requires is really an opinion upon a question, not of law, or even of custom, but of ethics. Undoubtedly there are such things as unwritten codes of professional ethics. There are certain acts, not unlawful. and not perhaps disreputable so far as the community at large is concerned, which a member of a profession cannot commit on pain of being considered to have done something "unprofessional." and perhaps of subjecting himself to professional discipline. The lawyers have such a code, and the doctors. The lawyer who violates it is called a shyster; and the doctor a quack. Opprobrious epithets are doubtless applied to offending architects by offended architects, though we are not aware that there is any specific and technical term for a violation of the architectural code.

But then the main point about each of these codes is that it does not bind anybody except the members of the profession concerned, who are, or who pretend to be, willing to be bound by it. It strikes us as absurd to complain of a layman for doing something "unprofessional;" that is to say, for not conducting himself according to a code he has never recognized nor pretended to submit to. What our correspondent requires of us is, therefore, a decision upon a point of general ethics, whether a layman, being a member of a building committee, who does not act in the specified circumstances as our correspondent thinks he should act, ought not to be ashamed of himself when he faces his wife and children, or to blush when he wakes up in the night and reflects on his own conduct. We cannot undertake to decide such a point. If the architect and the committeeman were both Roman Catholics they might submit the question to the Pope, who is the highest authority possible for those who believe in his authority, or they might leave it to a church meeting, and consent to abide by the result. The layman certainly would not consent to have his duty prescribed for him by an assemblage of architects, nor the architect by an assemblage of laymen, for the Building Committee is an assemblage of laymen, and has, by the hypothesis, already decided against him the point he wishes to raise.

There is no analogy to be drawn from the practice of any other calling, for the reason that such questions cannot arise in any other calling. We are not aware of any other profession in which it is a recognized custom for its practitioners to do work for nothing and pay their own expenses on the chance of getting a job by the decision of a company of persons who know nothing of the matter. If a litigant were to submit his grievance to a dozen lawyers, with a request to each for a draft of a brief, or a patient his symptoms to a dozen doctors, asking each for a sketch of a prescription, and promising employment to the practitioner whose work he liked best, if he liked it well enough, that layman would doubtless be much astonished by his reception, and would learn that the code in these professions prohibits their practitioners from doing work for nothing, except as a matter of charity or friendship. If the lawyers and the doctors should comply with his request the layman would probably treat their competitive plans according to his own code of ethics and not theirs.

Men and Things.

Ex-President Cleveland yesterday informed a representative of THE RECORD AND GUIDE that it is not his intention to move into Mr. Marquand's residence on Madison avenue and 68th street before September. The house has been leased by him till May 1, 1891. Mr. Cleveland did not care to state the terms of lease, and said that the report that he had an option to purchase the property was true, but the price named—$100,000—was incorrect.

Mrs. Ella J. Filson brought a suit for damages against Crawford & Hausman, who built a stable on the southeast corner of 10th avenue and 73d street. Mrs. Filson owned a house adjoining. Judge Andrews says that the stable was a nuisance and damaged the property. Unfortunately for the lady and happily for the builders the former sold the property during the progress of the suit, and Judge Andrews was therefore compelled to dismiss the claim.

The Building and Loan Associations have reached an immense importance in Australia. There are over two hundred associations catalogued, with capitals ranging from $5,000,000 to $15,000,000. They do a regular banking business, taking deposits on shares of varying values from $50 to $125, and paying dividends at stated intervals. Australians have a knack of doing things well when they are about it.

The Superintendent of Public School Buildings is now advertising for proposals for his summer repairs. These repairs consist of plumbing, carpentry work, etc., and proposals will likely be accepted up to the first of July, the work to be done during the school vacation of July and August.

THE RECORD AND GUIDE is nothing if not modest; yet it can never refrain from gently patting itself on the back when ideas that it has cherished find currency elsewhere. It has been one of our hobbies that New York needed a generously endowed theatre, managed on the same principle as the Metropolitan Opera House, or the Theatre Français, so that plays could be produced for artistic and not for business ends. The company should be large, the plays carefully selected with due regard to the classics and to encouragement to American authors, and the bill changed frequently. Such an institution would raise the standard of the American stage. Our suggestion, however, has as yet awakened no enthusiasm in the breast of a dying American millionaire; it has not even, we are sorry to say, obtained the empty response of a newspaper paragraph. But we are glad to observe that the idea has an abler advocate in the person of William Archer, the celebrated London dramatic critic. He, of course, speaks for London and not New York; but he wants a theatre privately endowed and dedicated to art. The difficulty with the plan would be, of course, the difficulty that the Theatre Français has had of late years. Actors who have got reputation want money as well. The Francais brings out a Bernhardt or a Coquelin; the artist works hard and obtains celebrity. With a position assured the desire for a larger income arises, and Bernhardt and Coquelin leave in search of more fruitful fields. Undoubtedly it would be the same with our great artists. This difficulty is, however, obviously by no means insuperable, and we do not despair of seeing the newspapers announce some day that some patriotic citizen has given a fund to found a theatre that will not have to be labeled: "Good plays produced if they pay."

The property on the south side of 34th street, formerly used as the Lexington avenue car stables, which Geo. R. Read has just leased to Q. E. Sause, the dancing teacher, is being extensively altered by the tenant. As regards both its use and appearance it will be entirely altered. The weary-looking car-horse will no longer find a rest under its roof. In the future it will be devoted to the more exciting, though possibly less humane, purpose of affording social entertainment to New York's pleasure seekers. It will be called the Lyceum Opera House, and will be used for balls, fairs, and other entertainments.

The French Benevolent Society's building at Nos. 320 and 322 West 34th street is having an extension added to it in the rear, which will include a first-class operating room and a large laboratory, with all the improvements. The society has been in existence a number of years and has aided many indigent Frenchmen and Americans of French ancestry. The Coudert family is prominently identified with it, and Joseph Thoron is the president. H. Edwards-Ficken is the architect for the extension.

The row of ten houses which have been commenced on the south side of 75th street, east of 9th avenue, will greatly improve that street. The elevations show that they will be quite handsome in character, the style being what may be termed free Romanesque. The fronts are to be entirely of Long Meadow and Corsehill sandstone. They will each be 20x60 in size, exclusive of two-story and basement 25-foot dining-room extensions. They will cost the builder, J. T. Hall, about $250,000, so the architect, Geo. H. Budlong, estimates.

The late Alfred W. Budlong was one of the squarest men in the lumber trade. No one was more respected in the business. He came to New York in 1857 and had been a prominent lumber man for over thirty years. Although nearly eighty years old at the time of his death he had the appearance of a man of sixty. Mr. Budlong used to recall with some little pride the fact that he was one of the first subscribers to THE RECORD AND GUIDE. His presence among lumbermen will be very much missed, for there wasn't a more honest and kindly man in the trade.

Wm. B. Franke has removed his office to No. 258 West 125th street.

The difficulty about Pythagoras Hall has created considerable gossip in real estate circles. It shows how complications can arise when unexpected. Mr. Sobel's bid of $50,000 was deemed by Judge Barrett to hold good, seeing that he had gone to get the $5,000 deposit required, and that sufficient time had not elapsed to allow of his returning with the money before the property was again put up at sale. The hall will have to be resold. It cost the Knights of Labor, District Assembly No. 49, the sum of $70,000, and it was knocked down to Messrs. Newman Cowen & L. Z. Bach on May 7 at $40,500. The property is worth considerably more money, and it will be of interest to see how much it will bring at a resale. Judge Barrett in his decision says:

A clear case of gross mistake and gross inadequacy has been made out. The referee acted hastily in putting the property up without waiting a reasonable time for Sobel to return and pay the 10 per cent. If, however, he was persuaded that Sobel had abandoned his bid he should not have deprived interested parties of their rights by putting the property up generally. If he had put it up on Sobel's account the latter, who appears to be amply responsible, would have been compelled to bear the burden justly attached to his conduct, whatever that burden, under all the circumstances, might ultimately have been held to be. By selling the property in general terms Sobel was probably released from further responsibility. The innocent people represented by Mr. Breslin should not be deprived of their rights by a mistake to which they were not parties, and the effect of which they were powerless to avert.

Sanitary and Plumbing News.

A question of some importance to property owners in this city is, we are informed, likely to come up for early settlement between a prominent firm of architects and the Board of Health. The point in dispute will be in determining how large can a lot of ground be to be considered only as a corner lot—that is, can it be larger than an ordinary lot—with a view to determining the question of the space to be left open at rear of building. Under the Tenement House acts, it is provided that at the rear of every building for or converted to tenement house purposes on any lot there shall be and remain a clear space of 10 feet between said building and rear line of lot, and such building shall not cover more than 65 per cent. of lot, unless this rule is modified by the Board. The modification usually granted is to allow 78 per cent. of lot to be covered in consideration of large, light courts. The provision of 10 feet space at rear does not under the act apply to corner lots, and it is on the "corner lot" question, where only 4 feet space at rear is required, the controversy hinges.

The circumstances in relation to the dispute are as follows: A client of the architects in question owns a piece of property at the intersection of two streets. After making provision for two or more houses fronting on one street, the corner lot which remains is found to be deeper at the rear end of the lot than on the street; that is to say, while the frontage is only 25 feet, in consequence of the line of one of the two streets (that on the side of the lot) running obliquely, the depth at the rear is 50 feet. The architects propose to erect the building with the customary space of 4 feet open at rear for the full 50 feet, and provide additional ventilation by means of a large interior court, while the Board of Health insists that the 4 feet shall only be allowed for 25 feet of the 50—that is, equal to one city lot—while for the other 25 the 10 feet rear space must be left uncovered, although it would take up the most valuable part of the lot and would leave only the tapering end in front to be built upon. It is going to be an interesting fight if it comes up, for the architects in ques ion are not men who are easily scared. They claim that the lot, though wider at the rear, can only be considered a corner lot, for which the customary 4 feet space is sufficient.

A custom which would be "more honored in the breach than the observance" is that of permitting new tenement houses to be occupied before they are fully finished. Throughout the lower part of the city, where the old houses are fast disappearing and the new tenements, with four families on each floor, are taking their place, it is not at all uncommon to see the household goods and chattels of the incoming tenant mixed indiscriminately with the implements and appliances of the different tradesmen at work in the building. One of the effects of this undue haste is, that the lower portion—that is, the cellar—and wood houses are left for the most part with much of the filth accumulated during the building process, to be removed from the wood houses by the tenants, and it is nothing at all unusual to have the tank on the roof filled up without the least effort at cleanliness. A case in point is afforded in two buildings, at the southeast corner of Broome and Cannon streets, which have been but recently finished, and deserve some attention at the hands of the Sanitary Bureau of the Board of Health.

It is generally conceded that the most consistent member of the "Growlers' Club" is the taxpayer. He is never without a grievance, and while in some instances he may not have a good basis on which to work, there are many more instances in which he is justified in bringing forward his cause of discontent with the existing order of things. The present system of removing ashes and garbage is a legitimate subject of complaint. Two years ago the newly-elected President of the Board of Health had a rule made that no barrels containing ashes and house refuse should be placed on the sidewalk. Instead, the barrels are to be set out in the morning within the area line—that is, they are placed directly, in the case of flats or tenement-houses, under the front windows of the first floor tenants and remain there for half the day, the other tenants throughout the building bringing down their contributions to the general stock and giving those whose windows are convenient to the receptacles the full benefit of the operation in an extra supply of dust. The question is asked, "Cannot this method of disposing of house refuse be disposed of in some better manner? What objection can there be to having the barrels placed on the sidewalk at night and taken away either at night or early in the morning? Down town, in the tenement districts, the barrels are never off the sidewalk, but up-town, where people endeavor to conform to the usages of civilized life, they are kept either under the windows of the first floor or under the stoop at the basement windows until the Street Cleaning Department "machines" come around. What is to hinder removals at night, at least during the summer months?

"Trade protection," in the sale of sanitary and plumbing supplies—which means "sell only to the plumber"—does not, by all accounts, exist to any appreciable extent in this city. Passing a block of houses in course of erection east of 3d avenue, recently, our reporter became an interested spectator of a dispute relative to the disposition of some sixty or sixty-five stone laundry tubs which had been purchased direct from the manufacturer in this city by the builder. The dispute arose over the liability for having the tubs delivered on each floor instead of simply on the first floor where they were left, according to the conditions of purchase, by the manufacturer's truckman, who was so instructed. The plumber, not having bought the goods, had no desire to handle them until they were set on each floor, and refused to have anything to do with them, so that eventually the owner of the building had to shoulder the responsibility. The incident goes to show that no matter what promises may be given by manufacturers to the plumbers, that they will sell only to the trade, they will not be adhered to because it is against their interest to do so. Builders are, we are candidly informed, purchasing sanitary goods all the time and paying plumbers for putting them in position, and, if so, what becomes of "trade protection." It is, apparently, notwithstanding all that is claimed for it, only a myth.

Presentation of the Ludlow Portrait.

The ceremony of presenting to the Real Estate Exchange a portrait of the late Edward H. Ludlow, its first president and one of its founders, took place on Thursday afternoon. Of the twelve original directors of the Exchange who served with Mr. Ludlow only three were present on the occasion—Messrs. Harnett, Cammann and Scott. Among the other gentlemen present were: Messrs. L. J. Carpenter, M. S. Isaacs, J. Romaine Brown, Cyrille Carreau, Henry Remsen, Jere. Johnson, Jr., J. M. Smith, Constant A. Andrews, Benjamin P. Fairchild, James S. McQuillen, Robert Auld, Jr., Wm. Lalor, and Edward T. Young. Myer S. Isaacs occupied the chair, and the presentation speech was made by ex-President H. H. Cammann, who said:

MR. CHAIRMAN—The pleasant duty has been assigned to me by the committee having the matter in charge, to present to you, as the representative of the Exchange, the portrait of its first president, Mr. Edward H. Ludlow.

Mr. Ludlow was one of the oldest representatives of the real estate interests in this city, and was engaged in active business for so long a time and up to such a recent period that he was well known to nearly all the members of the Exchange, and it is hardly necessary for me to more than say that to him, more than to almost anyone else, the early success of the Exchange was due. His farsightedness and his long connection with real estate enabled him to fully appreciate the necessity for properly organizing and systematizing the real estate business, and with untiring zeal he devoted himself to the work. He was of a singularly retiring disposition. Often had he been urged to accept positions of trust and responsibility in corporate and other institutions, but he invariably declined, and it was a matter of much surprise to his friends when he so enthusiastically identified himself with the interests of the Exchange, he being a corporator as well as its first president. From the first meeting called at the office of THE RECORD AND GUIDE, where we met to consider the advisability of forming an Exchange, up to the time when his last sickness compelled him to relinquish his labors, I do not remember a single meeting at which Mr. Ludlow was not present to preside, his active mind ever on the alert, making suggestions in one place, smoothing over difficulties in another, interested to a degree that made his own affairs subordinate to those of the Exchange. He seemed to feel that this work was to be the culmination of a long, active and honorable business life, and that in the success of the Exchange he would have his most enduring monument.

The placing of a portrait on the walls of an institution of one who has served it is a pleasant recognition that his services were appreciated, and certainly no one had better claim to such recognition than he whose memory we have met to honor, and whose name will ever be held in warm remembrance by all the members of the Exchange. (Applause.)

Myer S. Isaacs then rose and said:

The privilege is conferred upon me of accepting, in behalf of the Real Estate Exchange, this life-like portrait of its first president.

Mr. Cammann has fittingly alluded to the services of Mr. Ludlow in connection with the organization of the Exchange. Mr. Ludlow was admired for his thorough knowledge, technical and practical, of his department of thought and action, honored for his absolute integrity in public and private life, and loved for his kindly disposition and gentle bearing.

He assumed the duty of securing the co-operation of brokers, auctioneers and owners, in the foundation of this institution. It was the first expression of a desire to combine real estate interests for the common good. The idea that citizens engaged in the several avocations connected with the sale and management of real property should concentrate their energies upon the orderly direction of affairs was apparently novel and startling, and but for the persistence of Mr. Ludlow and one or two of his associates would not have gained acceptance.

I do not imagine that the Exchange has attained perfection; it is prosperous and successful; it is advancing steadily upon the lines originally laid down, crystalizing sentiment among real estate men, demanding fair dealing in transactions, urging and aiding public improvements and economical administration. I wish its power were more clearly apprehended in compelling the adoption of a system of rapid transit—the vital problem which New York must speedily solve.

Upon us, the members of the Exchange, devolves the responsibility of maintaining its dignity and its right to recognition. Mr. Ludlow's genial face beaming upon us, as with approval, is a perpetual reminder.

In the name of the Exchange I cordially thank the donors of this portrait for their valued and appropriate gift. (Applause.)

The chairman read the following telegram from President Cruikshank, who is in the Adirondacks for his health:

I sincerely regret that circumstances prevent my attendance at the acceptance of the portrait of the late Mr. E. H. Ludlow, our first president. Permit me to join in spirit in the welcome accorded to it, recalling, as it does, his high character and standing, and his services in behalf of the Exchange.

The Chairman called upon Messrs. Geo. H. Scott and Richard V. Harnett, both of whom rose to pay a tribute of appreciation to the services rendered by Mr. Ludlow in the organization of the Exchange.

Of the thirteen original directors, Messrs. E. H. Ludlow, Isaac Honig, John H. Sherwood, Leopold Friedman and D. G. Croly are dead, the others being Messrs. E. A. Cruikshank, H. H. Cammann, Richard V. Harnett, S. Van Rensselaer Cruger, Geo. H. Scott, S. F. Jayne, Albert Bellamy and James Stokes.

Important Buildings Under Way.

SOUTH OF 14TH STREET.

This will be an active building year in the down-town business districts. Year after year the older buildings are demolished to make way for stately structures such as our grandfathers never dreamed of. This year the quota is a full one, as will be seen from the list of the principal buildings for which plans have been filed since January 1, with other buildings under way, as described below.

The Mechanics' National Bank is tearing down the structure adjoining the Drexel building, and will build a nine-story office building on the site. It will cover Nos. 31 and 33 Wall street and have a frontage of 42.3¾ feet with a depth of 106.8 feet. It will have two elevators and will be fire-proof. The front will be of Indiana limestone, with the exception of the two first floors, which will be in granite. The contractor for the entire work is David H. King, Jr. The architect, Charles W. Clinton, estimates the cost at $390,000. The building is to be ready next May, and the bank will occupy the first floor.

The Farmers' Loan and Trust Company are erecting an eight-story office structure on the site of their present quarters. They have not vacated the small building which they put up on the spot, and will transact business continuously during the erection of the new structure, in the same manner as things were done in the Times building, though the problem, while of a similar character, will not be as complex. It will have a frontage of 80.5 and a rear width of 92.8, with a depth of 70.6. It will be fire-proof and will have two elevators on the William street side. David H. King, Jr., has received the contract for the entire work; C. W. Clinton is the architect, and the cost is estimated at $425,000.

Nassau street is also undergoing a slight change, but the inroads made upon that narrow and busy thoroughfare are comparatively slight. The old buildings on the well-known southeast corner of Fulton street have been torn down, as far south as the little structure where De Witt, Lockman & De Witt have their offices. In their place a six-story office building is to be erected, from plans by De Lemos & Cordes. It will be of the Renaissance order and will be 31.2x51 in size. The first floor and basement will be of granite, and the floors above of brick, iron and terra cotta. It will have a passenger and freight elevator, steam heat, electric light, etc., and the first floor will be used as a café and restaurant by the owner, Frank Raub, who also has a somewhat similar place in the building adjoining the Brooklyn Bridge to the east. The contractors selected thus far are: Messrs. List & Lennon, masons; T. J. Duffy, carpenter; and Cook & Radley, iron work. Excavations are about commencing, and the building will be completed in the fall. The cost is estimated at $80,000.

Further north, at Nos. 119 and 121 Nassau street, opposite the Press Club, the old Clapp building is being demolished to make way for a ten-story fire-proof office building, to be built for Eugene Kelly, the well-known banker, as an addition to Temple Court. It runs through to Theatre alley, and will be a first-class office structure. It will cost upward of $200,000. The front will be of a limestone from Balinasloe, Ireland, and the design will have a tendency toward the Romanesque. The principal contractors are: John Keleher, mason work, including fire-proofing; Post & McCord, iron work; Wm. Brennan, stone work; and E. F. Haight, carpentry.

Nothing definite seems to have been decided upon as to the details of the new World building, to be erected by Joseph Pulitzer on the northeast corner of Park row and Frankfort street. Geo. B. Post is to be the architect.

Taking a run north of the City Hall, we find the building at No. 337 Broadway, near Worth street, being torn down, to make way for a six-story brick, stone and iron front building, to be erected for Cora M. Bramwell and Myra Moffat, two ladies who are said to be worth many millions. It will have a frontage of 27.4 feet, and a depth of 136.11 on one side and 126.11 on the other. It will have a store on the first floor and offices above, while it will have a freight and passenger elevator. The contract for the entire work has been awarded to Cornelius Callahan. S. A. Warner, the architect, estimates the cost at $85,000, and expects to have the building finished by January.

Another building, of a similar character, to be five stories high, and to be divided into two attached buildings covering a frontage of 60x90 and 100, is being built by Bernard S. Levy, at Nos. 9 to 13 Walker street, near Broadway. The first floors will be used for store purposes, and the floors above for lofts. They will have a freight elevator, and excellent light. They are now up to the first tier of beams, and will be ready for next February's renting market. The fronts will be of brick, stone and iron. The cost is estimated at $80,000.

The largest and costliest building under way in the city at this moment is being built for Chas. Broadway Rouss, on a plot of ground covering Nos. 549 to 553 Broadway and Nos. 120 to 124 Mercer street. It is to be 73.10x200.2 in size, ten stories high and fire-proof, and the cost is estimated by the architect, Alfred Zucker, at about $700,000. It will have six elevators, two passenger, two freight and two sidewalk. Mr. Rouss contemplates using this mammoth building solely for the purposes of his business. He anticipates that it will give him facilities that will enable him to double, if not treble, his present business. The first and second stories on the Broadway side will be of granite, with stone and architectural iron above, while the Mercer street side will be of pressed brick, terra cotta and blue-stone. The building is now up to the third tier of beams on the south side, while on the north side it is partly up to the second tier and partly underpinned. It is to be ready by about January, 1890. The principal contractors selected are: Ed. Franke, mason; Gillis & Geoghegan, steam heating; the Jackson Architectural Iron Works, iron.

Going further north it is seen that Bleecker street, both east and west of Broadway, is the centre of quite some building activity. Indeed, Bleecker street is becoming a more important business thoroughfare year by year. The Manhattan Savings Institution is erecting an eight-story and basement building on the northeast corner of Broadway. It will have a frontage of 53.3 on the main thoroughfare and 138 feet on Bleecker street. The front will be of Lake Superior red sandstone up to the second story cornice, above which it will be of stone, pressed brick and terra cotta. The bank will occupy the first floor and basement, and the balance will be rented out as lofts. It will have three elevators, two passenger and one freight, and will cost about $300,000. The principal contractors are: Moran & Armstrong, masons; James W. Elgar, carpenter; Cheney & Hewlett, iron; Rutzler & Blake, steam heating, and Michael Smith, plumber. The foundations are now being commenced, and the building will be ready for occupancy on May 1 next. S. D. Hatch is the architect.

A six-story cellar and sub-cellar warehouse is being built at Nos. 97 and 99 Bleecker street, west of Mercer street, for Isaac and Henry Meinhard, from plans by Alfred Zucker. It will be 50.4x128.4 in size, and the front will be of Long Meadow stone, iron and terra cotta. It will have three elevators, one passenger, one freight and one sidewalk. The first floor will be used for store purposes and the floors above as lofts. The building is to be ready by next January. The principal contractors are: A. Van Dolsen & Son, masons; McGuire & Sloane, carpenters; The Jackson Architectural Iron Works, iron; Baker, Smith & Co., steam heat, and McAdams & Cartwright, elevators. The building will cost about $150,000.

Another six-story brick (iron and stone front) warehouse is being built at Nos. 98 and 100 Bleecker street, covering also No. 170 Greene street and No. 197 Mercer street, for Rachel, wife of Theodore Cohnfeld. It will contain four elevators—two freight, one passenger and one sidewalk, with provision for a fifth elevator. The first floor will be used for stores and the floors above for warehouse purposes. The building will be unusually valuable, owing to its having access to three important business streets. The architect, Alfred Zucker, expects to have it ready for occupancy by January, 1890. The mason selected is Wm. H. Arnott, and the carpenter, James W. Elgar, while the Jackson Architectural Works will do the iron-work. The building will cost about $260,000.

Another warehouse is being commenced at Nos. 79 and 81 Wooster street and Nos. 151 and 153 South 5th avenue, by Jacob Lorillard, trustee. The building will be 55x200 in size, and will only cost $75,000, so the architects, J. B. Snook & Sons, state. It will be a plain building, and will have passenger and freight elevators and a dumb-waiter. The first floor will be used for stores, and the floors above for lofts. The main contractors are: Samuel R. Acker, mason; O. T. Mackey, carpenter; J. B. & J. M. Cornell, iron work, and Otis Bros., elevators.

A six-story store and loft building is to be commenced at once on the southwest corner of Mercer and 3d streets. It will be 80 and 100x100 in size, and is to be erected for Isabella C. May, of Washington, D. C., from plans by McKim, Mead & White. The front will be of brick, stone and terra cotta, and the cost is estimated at $150,000. J. J. Tucker is the mason and J. C. Hoe's Sons the carpenters. The building will have a freight and passenger elevator. The old structures on the site are now being demolished to make way for the new one, which will be finished some time in the fall.

Plans were filed for a building to be erected by Henry Maillard on the northeast corner of University place and 9th street, to cost $90,000, from plans by J. E. Ware. No signs of tearing down are to be seen on the spot, and upon inquiry it is learned that the improvement is postponed till next year.

Bond street is likely to become an important business street later on. A few changes have been made in its character recently. Another improvement is to be added in the shape of a seven-story brick and stone building, which is to be erected at Nos. 42 and 44 Bond street, for Morris B. Baer, from plans by Buchman & Deisler. It is to cover a plot 52x95, and will cost between $50,000 and $60,000.

The Mercantile Library Association have resolved to erect a fire-proof library on the site of their present quarters, at No. 19 Astor place, which will be torn down next May to make way for the improvement. The intention is to build six stories high or more. It had been announced that they would build on the property owned by them on the southeast corner of Broadway and 37th street, but they resolved that the Astor place site would be more advantageous and therefore sold the Broadway property, Robert Hoe becoming the purchaser at $306,250, an advance of $126,250 over the price paid by the association in 1880.

The excavations for the Union Trust Company's new building will be commenced in about a week or two. At present the work of tearing down the old building on the site is under way. It will be ten stories high and fireproof, and will cover Nos. 78, 80 and 82 Broadway, and Nos. 3, 5 and 7 New street, with a frontage of 72.2 feet on the former and 76.7 on the latter, and a depth of from 106.2 to 112.6 feet. The company will occupy the principal story, which will be that above the ground floor. They will also occupy part of the ground floor and basement. The balance of the building, the rear of which faces the Stock Exchange, will be rented out for office purposes. Geo. B. Post is the architect, and the cost is estimated at $400,000. At present no contracts have been decided upon, though several are expected to be given out within a week or so.

The metamorphosis of Wall street continues, and only a few years will probably elapse before that great money centre will be lined with high office buildings on both sides, between Broadway and Pearl street. The most important building under way on Wall street is the one which is to be erected by Matthew Wilks on the southwest corner of Wall and Broad streets, taking in all the ground west of Broad up to the Stock Exchange, which it will adjoin. It will be ten stories high, and will have a frontage of 84.9 feet on Wall, with a rear of 58.2, and 76.2 feet front on Broad street. The entire front will be of Indiana limestone, and it will be a handsome and imposing building. There will be two elevators, both on the Wall street side. At the office of the architect, Chas. W. Clinton, it was said that the building is expected to be ready by May next. The foundations will shortly be commenced. The principal contractors are: Luke A. Burke, carpenter; Morton & Chesley, masons; and Post & McCord, iron work. The cost is estimated at $400,000.

An Unexpected Local Improvement.

Less than three months ago the residents and property-owners on 43d and 44th streets were bewailing the fate that their homes and their real estate bade fair to continue for years to have stables opposite to them. Suddenly, when little expected, the tidings came that the obnoxious buildings had to a large extent been sold, and that they were to be torn down to make way for new and handsome structures. To the housekeeper it meant freedom from malodorous smells and to the property-owner increased value to his real estate.

The recent sales of property which have taken place in the two streets and on the avenue are as follows:

5th av, s w cor 44th st, runs north 30 x west 100 x north 70.5 x west 25 x south 100.5 to 44th st, x east 125—4,760.5 sq. ft. Minnie R. S. Cornell et al. exrs. John B. Cornell to The Fifth Avenue Bank. April 22, 1889. $234,340

43d st, n s, 245.8 w 5th av, 75x100.5. Samuel W. and Simeon M. Andrews et al. to Alfred L. Loomis, the latter transferring it to The New York Academy of Medicine. April 27, 1889. 90,000

43d st, Nos. 32–36, s s, 400 w 5th av, 78x62.10. S. W., S. M. and C. S. Andrews et al. to The West Presbyterian Church. April 27, 1889. 45,500

43d st, n s, 125 w 5th av, 99.4x100.5. Louisa M. wife of William H. Lee to The Century Association. May 9, 1889. 149,000

44th st, No. 15, n s, 200 w 5th av, 25x100.5. Frederick W. Meyer to Joseph H. Choate. May 8, 1889. 25,000

44th st, No. 17, n s, 225 w 5th av, 25x100.5. To Joseph H. Choate. April, 1889. 25,000

The two first properties are to be improved. The 5th avenue corner is to have some $50,000 or more spent on it, in the way of additions, alterations and interior decorations and furnishing. The Fifth Avenue Bank intends to fit it up most comfortably for ladies and gentlemen. There will be reception and retiring rooms for both sexes on the first floor, which will also be the main bank floor. The floors above will be laid out as bachelors' apartments, and will be occupied by some of the rich unmarried men about town. The plans for the entire changes are in the hands of Architect R. W. Gibson.

The plot of 75 feet frontage on 43d street is to be adorned with a handsome building for the New York Academy of Medicine, of which Dr. Alfred L. Loomis is a prominent member. It will be a five-story building and will cost about $140,000, so the architect, R. H. Robertson, told the writer. The first floor will have an assembly hall, a smoking room and a banqueting hall. The last-named room will take in the rear of the second story, which will also have a section room for lectures, which will be delivered by prominent physicians on interesting medical topics. The third and fourth floors will contain stock rooms for a huge library, with shelves sufficient to accommodate about 200,000 volumes. The librarian's quarters will also be on part of the fourth floor. The fifth floor will be used for miscellaneous purposes. A suggestion made by Dr. Gouverneur M. Smith is considered excellent and is to be carried out. It consists of converting part of the roof into a garden. About 2,500 square feet will be laid out in this manner and the gentlemen who minister to our physical ailments will be able to sip their coffee, smoke their cigars and discuss the latest medical discoveries in the midst of sweet smelling flowers "far away from the madding crowd."

The plot in the rear of Dr. Paxton's church is likely to be used to make an extension to accommodate the popular preacher's frequently overcrowded congregations.

The Century Club have decided to erect a handsome club house on the plot purchased by them. As yet no architect has been selected.

Joseph H. Choate, the well-known lawyer, was seen at his offices. He said: "The two lots purchased by me adjoin the Berkeley Lyceum, and they will very likely be built upon by the Brearley School, which is a high-class school for girls. The only doubt as to whether the improvement will be made is the matter of cost. Should that prove an obstacle the property will be sold." The Brearley School is now located at No. 6 East 45th street. All this property is covered more or less with stables, with the exception of the 5th avenue corner, and the Lee property, which is vacant. How great an improvement will take place when over 200 feet frontage of these objectionable buildings is torn down need not be dwelt upon. Other negotiations are said to be under way which, if consummated, will further improve this locality.

Something About Stamford.

I have been spending a few days at Stamford under one of the hospitable roofs on Strawberry Hill, and I have received the pleasantest impression of the town, with its fine drives, its handsome surroundings and its views of the Sound.

Stamford has vastly improved as a residence suburb during the last five or ten years. A large number of new houses have been built, many of them of a costly character. The New York contingent has increased from year to year, until now it has developed into quite a colony. The social life is delightful, and the residents comprise many families whose refinement and culture makes them pleasant neighbors and whose wealth and enterprise make them desirable taxpayers for the township.

The first thing that strikes the visitor on driving through the town is the profusion of churches. Of these there are eleven, exclusive of a number of meeting rooms. There are two Episcopal and three Methodist, as well as Catholic, Congregational, Presbyterian, Unitarian, Baptist and Universalist churches. For a town of 16,000 inhabitants this is a good showing, and it is characteristic of the religious life which is so marked a feature of Connecticut towns. The Catholic and Presbyterian churches are considered the handsomest edifices from an architectural point of view. The Methodist and Episcopal congregations are the wealthiest.

In Stamford, as in other places, the existence of cliques is not a novelty. The social life, to a large extent, is divided by various hills. The "swellest" set resides on Strawberry Hill. The location next in rank is Noroton Hill, then comes Richmond Hill, and then Clark's Hill.

William N. White, one the principal real estate agents here, said: "Property on Strawberry Hill is deservedly the most valuable and costly in the town. It contains the largest number of fine places, and has a first-class social element, composed very largely of wealthy New Yorkers. Land can be bought there at from $50 to $70 per front foot. Our lots are generally 60x150 each, so that this would make Strawberry Hill lots of that size worth from $3,000 to $4,200 each. The owner of a good plot on Strawberry Hill road, opposite Dr. Lord's, wants $7,500 for 140x400, and I have made him more than one offer near that figure. This does not represent the best prices, but it shows how cheaply property can be bought here in a fine location. Austin H. Watson's house, with a plot 100x400, recently sold for $14,000. Property on Noroton Hill is worth up to $50 a front foot. On some of the least valuable parts of that hill farm land has sold at $500 an acre, and would bring as high as $1,000 an acre. On Richmond Hill ground is worth from $30 to $40 per front foot."

The most valuable property is in the borough, around the Town Hall, and within four or five minutes' walk of the depot. It is worth from $200 to $350 per front foot and over. There are one or two good pieces of architecture on this spot, the bank building being the best. It was designed by a Bridgeport architect. For more numerous examples of good architectural work one has to turn to a number of private residences, not forgetting one or two of the rectories. The best work is done by New York and other outside architects.

The value of Stamford property is advancing with each season. In a year or so the New Haven Road will have built four tracks up to their depot, and the time from New York will be shortened to about thirty-five or forty minutes, instead of about fifty-five. This will bring more people there and considerably enhance the value of real estate. At present the four tracks are completed to Portchester, which is some eight miles below Stamford. The road will build a new depot to cost $50,000 or more, to conform to the four tracks and increase the accommodations.

There was quite a real estate movement in the spring. Among the most recent sales is that of Ketchum place, on the corner of Willow and South streets. It was sold for Mrs. S. Cornish to Dr. Geo. S. Mallory for $11,000, and comprises a house, with a plot 100 and 110x255, equal to 26,775 square feet. The purchaser is now making alterations and additions, and will resell it, no doubt at a good profit. At auction, a few weeks ago, a two-story and mansard roof house on Prospect street, near the Universalist Church, with a plot of about 70x200, belonging to Edgar S. Weed, was sold to Chas. Hugh Lounsbury at $9,000. This is considered a low figure. Dr. Mallory, who indulges in a little real estate speculation at times, has just made a neat transaction by selling the unexpired lease of a plot on Broad street, near Franklin street, 45x150, for $1,700. The lease has thirty-eight years to run, and is burdened with a rental of but $5 a year. The lessee is Mrs. Louise Skelding, who intends to build a pretty villa on the property. The ground, if in fee, could not have been bought for less than $3,000. Henry K. McHarg's purchase of the Star Place, from John J. Jones, has been a recent theme of gossip. It comprises about twelve acres, and the price paid was $40,000.

Shippan Point is taking a step forward. It comprises a peninsula on the Sound, and is a pretty spot, but rather some distance from the main centre. Edward M. Bell, one of the most intelligent of the local real estate brokers, has just sold five plots on this point. Two were purchased by Catharine Ryle for $1,000, their size being 184x177; one was bought by Fred. Lancaster for the same sum, size 100x200; the fourth by Mrs. Robert Fellows, size 50x200, for $800, and the fifth by Chas. Jones, for the same price. The three latter will build homes on the lots. They were all sold for the estate of the late Moses Rogers. The Stickney Place, at the foot of Noroton Hill, comprising a house with three and a-half acres, has been purchased by Daniel D. Youmans, the well-known New York hatter, for $14,000; and among other recent changes is that of the De Comeau property at Glen Brook, comprising nine acres, house, stable and other improvements, which was sold at auction for $9,000.

The Electric Light Company recently purchased a plot, 100x100, on Garden street, near the depot, on which they have commenced to build a place for their plant. They will supply the inhabitants with incandescent light. Stamford will thus soon not be found wanting in electric light, either indoors or out of doors. There are some fifty to sixty dwellings under way, mostly of the smaller class, for workmen and tradespeople. One of the finest of the recent improvements, now about completed, is Dr. Vail's residence on Main street, which cost some $50,000. Another fine house, built by A. H. Smith, son of the ex-president of the Stock Exchange, on Clark's Hill, has cost about $15,000.

There are only two local architects, as far as I could ascertain. One is John S. Bogardus, the other Mr. Inslee. The former represents the younger school, and the latter the older school, but I could not find any one who could tell me of any work either had done worth speaking of. With the immense wealth represented in Stamford, it seems curious that no good architect has made an attempt to establish himself in that place. There is certainly a wide field for a man of ideas. I am told that Geo. B. Post and Augustus F. Holly have done some work there; but one or two young architects, with the experience of a New York office at their heels, would no doubt find a profitable field for their abilities in design and construction, without relinquishing their city connections.

The town and borough are divided. The latter has a Mayor and Aldermen, but the former is called the Warden, and the latter, of whom there are nine, the Burgesses. Both are old English terms, which seem to have descended from Colonial times. I saw the Warden, Mr. Edwin S. Holly, who told me that the tax rate was eighteen mills in the borough, and eleven mills outside. This assessment, in both cases, is on a valuation of 50 per cent. of the actual value.

A glance at the names of the wealthiest residents, and the owners of the finest homes, will show many names known to New Yorkers. One of the most extensive places is that of James I. Raymond, who owns fifty acres, which cost $75,000. Then there is James E. Vail's handsome place, with its large hot-house, its stables, dairy and numerous other out-houses. This place was once owned by Ferdinand Ward, and was sold under the hammer after the Grant & Ward failure. It is said to have cost Ward, with improvements, altogether upwards of $150,000. Dr. Samuel Cook, the ex-minister of St. Bartholomew's, New York, has spent $50,000 on some six acres and a house. I sat behind the doctor at church on Sunday, and he was subsequently pointed out to me as a man who has one of the finest teams of horses in the town. Then there are the places of F. A. Palmer, president of the Broadway Bank; Oliver, William and George H. Hoyt, James D. Smith, A. J. Hatch, Dr. Henry P. Geib, W. W. Skiddy, Mrs. C. L. Crane, Frank Phelps, Schuyler Merritt, Dr. R. P. H. Vail, the Presbyterian minister; Woolsey R. Hopkins, the Rev. Dr. D. C. Potter, Henry R. Towne, T. Porter, Wm. L. Brooks, Addison Hall, Charles Burdett and Wm. A. Lottimer; the Hinkley, Myers and Pomroy homes, and Dr. Lord's two places on Strawberry Hill, one of which, a very charming stone villa, with an old English aspect, is covered with ivy transplanted from the ruins of Cluny Abbey, France. It has recently been rented by Mr. Louis B. Harding, of Boston, for five years.

This letter would hardly be complete without a reference to Phillip's Park at Glenbrook, the most attractive spot around Stamford. It is a private park, with miniature brooks and considerable landscape gardening, a little Eden, which is thrown open to the townsfolk twice a week, through the public spirit of the owner. B.

Columbia College Leaseholds.

What has been the effect of the great advance in the ground rents of the Columbia College leasehold lots bounded by the north side of 47th street, the south side of 51st street, the east side of 5th avenue, and a line running about 200 feet east of 6th avenue? Has it affected the value of the buildings on the lots? Has it frozen out a number of owners and forced them to rent their houses? Are these leaseholds still worth purchasing, as they used to be?

Wm. B. Taylor & Sons said: "The result of the increase in the ground rents of the Columbia College leaseholds has been to reduce the value of the properties from 20 to 30 per cent. It has made a good deal of it unsaleable. That is, many of the owners could not sell except at a crushing sacrifice. No. 616 5th avenue and No. 624 5th avenue were put up at auction some two weeks ago and the auctioneer could not get a bid on them. We have an unusually large number of them for sale on our books, all at greatly depreciated figures, owing to the increased ground rents. Take one case, for instance. There is a house on —— street, for which $23,000 was wanted a few years ago; the owner will now gladly take $18,000. The ground rents are generally supposed to have been increased about 100 per cent., but they have actually been advanced from about 110 to about 600 per cent. No. 38 West 50th street, which is owned by us, had a ground rent of $360; it has been raised to $789. A 5th avenue owner had his ground rent advanced from about $400 to $2,700. No. 62 West 50th street, a three-story house, 18-foot front, was sold a few months ago for $10,000. Of course the reason for such a low figure is abnormal. The owner wanted cash and made a sacrifice to get it. The house is assessed at $14,000. We have a letter from a prominent New Yorker referring to this house, in which he says that if the ground rent had not been advanced so much it would bring $18,000 in the market. The old ground rent was $288; it is now $601. I think the assessed valuations are too high. Of course, the Tax Commissioners assess the houses on what would be their value in fee, but they have decreased in value since the ground rents have been advanced, and the commissioners ought to take this into consideration."

Morris B. Baer & Co. said: "When the lots were first leased by the Columbia College they brought a bonus, for people were anxious to lease a piece of ground for a term of twenty-one years, with three renewals, at a low cost, when money was bringing 7 and 8 per cent. and over. The difficulty with leaseholds is that they cannot find ready purchasers. The only thing to do is to rent them or live in them. Under the old ground rents people had some incentive to buy; now that these rents are so high there is a detriment instead of an incentive, and the property suffers accordingly."

The reporter called at No. 59 West 49th street, among other houses. He found that the owner lived out West, which was also the case with No. 36 on the same street. No. 59 has been rented for $2,800. The taxes and ground rent amount to about $1,200, which, with repairs, etc., would probably bring the maximum charges up to $1,400. This leaves a clean $1,400 on an equity of say $20,000, which is equal to 7 per cent. Should there be a mortgage of $10,000 placed on the property at 6 per cent. interest, the net income would be $800 on an equity of $10,000, which would be equal to 8 per cent. So that a Columbia College leasehold, even as an investment, is not such a bad paying property after all. The same calculation made upon other houses, excepting those on the 5th avenue fronts, would probably make an equally good showing.

V. K. Stevenson says that he owns No. 613 5th avenue and resided there for a number of years in the centre of Columbia College leasehold properties, and thus for a long time was made familiar with these leases. No one was more astounded than himself when, at the end of the first term of twenty-one years of these leases, the ground rents were put up to such prices as was almost equivalent to confiscation. Mr. Stevenson said: "I organized the Columbia College Leasehold Protective Association for the purpose of having the owners of these leaseholds combine in order to have the ground rents made less for the new term of twenty-one years than was demanded. Mr. Effingham H. Nichols was president of the association, and Banker Hazlett McKimm treasurer. Mr. Nichols owns No. 620 5th avenue, and Mr. McKimm No. 5 West 50th street, both leasehold properties. The increased rental was so great that if the owners of some Columbia College leaseholds would offer their houses to rent and add the taxes, ground rent, broker's commission and insurance together, he would find that he would have very little left as his equity in the property. Some of the 5th avenue owners of these leases have been bamboozled into the idea that they can alter their houses permanently restricted, as they say, into stores. The absurdity of this is apparent. Suppose the houses on 47th street, northwest corner of 5th avenue, were altered into stores, where would the man be who owns No. 1, No. 3, No. 5, and so on, on West 47th street. He has bought his house and paid a high price for the leasehold years ago, with the distinct agreement on the part of the trustees that stores could never intervene between his house adjacent to 5th avenue and the avenue itself. If these trustees, who have slipped the ground rents up to almost confiscation on 5th avenue, should attempt to permit the avenue houses to be altered into stores, then they would immediately be opposed by all the owners, who are in the majority, who reside on the cross streets, between 5th and 6th avenues, between 47th and 51st streets, and there are several hundreds of them, because stores on 5th avenue would naturally detract from the quiet tone and dignity of their side street homes. One of the objects in endeavoring to have the owners reason with the trustees was that several of the former had been left widows dependent upon these houses for their support. There was a special effort made, also, to reduce the assessment on these houses. One of the clauses of the Columbia College leases is such, that once the ground rent is advanced to a given sum per annum—and it was materially advanced the last time—then in any future renewals the ground rent can never again be made lower than the amount of the past ground rent; or, in other words, suppose that at the termination of the present new term of twenty-one years this place becomes entirely changed—and the bird of fashion is even now flying to Riverside Park—and Chinese laundries come in here, imagine the ground rent on the side street at the end of this present term of twenty-one years being kept up to the price that you can now rent a good house for down town."

The lady who owns No. — West 50th street said: "My husband, who died five years ago, paid $27,500 for this house. I expected, when the renewal took place, that the ground rent would be increased, but I thought it would be by about $100 or so, and not as it was, from $320 to $683. This makes me pay in ground rent $363 a year more. The tax assessment is just as high now as it was years ago, and yet I could not get, by many thousands of dollars, as high a price as my husband paid. I was a member of the association which protested against the large increase on the part of the Columbia College trustees, and, although I acquiesced in the compromise made with the association, I felt that the advance was ruinously high. I have made an application to the Tax Commissioners to reduce my assessment, which is now $16,500. I have not yet heard anything from them, but I do feel that it should in justice be reduced a few thousand dollars at least, seeing that the property has so much depreciated in value."

Bellamy & Winans said: "It is true that there have been more houses to rent in the Columbia College leasehold district than for some years past, but this has been due not to any drawback on the part of the property. On the contrary, we find that there is no residence section in the city which is so much sought after as that very district. It is clean and restricted, and it is only half-an-hour's journey from Wall street, more or less, according to the distance from the elevated road station at 6th avenue and 50th street. The reason for the vacancies has been, apparently, because so many leaseholds have just expired and been renewed, and now that the ground rent has been settled upon the owners know exactly their position. It so happens that these houses have been placed upon the spring market. Now the renting season is rapidly changing to the fall. Everyone who can afford it goes to the country during the summer, and it is quite certain that vacancies in houses in the Columbia College leasehold district will be few and far between when the renting season is over next fall, for the houses will all be rented at fair prices."

An effort was made to ascertain from Messrs. Bellamy & Winans how many Columbia College leasehold houses had been offered to rent this spring, with other information, but they did not feel disposed to tell. By aid of a canvass, and with the assistance of other brokers, it was ascertained that the largest number offered was on 49th street. On this street alone, between 5th and 6th avenues, fourteen houses have been offered on the market this spring. As near as could be ascertained, of the 274 houses comprised in the Columbia College leasehold section here being dealt with, close upon forty owners have made efforts to rent. Of course the public has seen very little evidence of this, for owners in most cases object to have "to let" bills on their houses. The reasons assigned are various: first, there has been the usual quota of spring vacancies; second, the high ground rents have forced a number of weak holders to rent their houses. This latter reason has probably had a good deal to do with some of the houses offered for rent. How far it has had to do with it cannot be ascertained, for it would be necessary, in order to get the information, to ascertain the reason for renting from each owner—too delicate a task even for a newspaper reporter. But when it is considered that the interest on mortgage, ground rent, taxes and repairs total up to about $1,800 on some of the least valuable of the houses, it is not to be wondered at that the burden is too heavy to bear, especially on those who have been left widows.

At the office of the treasurer of the Columbia College information was declined to the reporter for publication. It was denied, however, that the ground rents had in some cases been increased 600 per cent. The largest advance was said to be from $475 to $2,259, which is an increase of 373 per cent. It was urged that the ground rent was not in excess of the value of the property.

In answer to an inquiry of the reporter it was stated that the old ground rents were not on any basis of values. The college at that time wanted a certain income, and it adjusted the rents principally with a view to securing that income both on its lower and upper properties. The old leases called for a renewal on not less than a 5 per cent. basis, but this had been mitigated in favor of the lessees.

The basis of the ground rents is now as follows: $810 per annum for the first lot belonging to the college east of 6th avenue and $16 per lot additional for every lot further east, the second lot being $826, the third $842 and so on. The lots on the 5th avenue fronts range from $2,200 to $5,275. The latter figure is for D. O. Mills' residence, which is 50 feet wide. Mr. Mills previously paid $1,134, so that his ground rent was increased $4,141. Fortunately Mr. Mills can stand it. But if he had to depend upon the rent for part of his subsistence the house would have to bring $12,000 per annum or more to give him an interest on his equity equal to what he would get from a 2½ per cent. city bond.

An old real estate broker said that a full lot about 200 feet east of 6th avenue, between 47th and 51st streets, would probably bring $27,500 if vacant. It would certainly bring $25,000. A valuation of 4 per cent. on this would be $10,000, so that the lot would yield nearer 3 than 4 per cent. to the college at present valuations. He did not think, however, that the college should have demanded a full present valuation. The houses built upon their lots are not as good as they were. They are depreciating in value year by year. This makes the lot less valuable to the owner of the house, although it does not affect the value of the lot. The houses which have been built, and the select neighborhood which has been created by them, has increased the value of these lots quite as much as the march of time and the increased population. Who knows whether these lots will be worth as much fifteen or twenty years hence. A principle of equity, not of strained justice, should have regulated the renewals. The same holds good as to the assessed valuations. While the city recognizes only the value in fee, a slight discrimination should be made in favor of a lessee, for he and not the owner of the land, bears all the city's obligations, of whatever character.

An official in the Tax Assessment office said: "I feel that it is a hardship on the owners of Columbia College and other leaseholds to assess them on a valuation as though they owned the property in fee. The difference between the classes of property is right here: that, while you may be right in taxing a piece of property on a certain valuation where the ground appreciates in value to the taxpayer's advantage, an advantage of which he can avail himself at any time by obtaining an increased figure for it in the market; you, on the other hand, will be doing an injustice by maintaining a similar valuation on a piece of property where the appreciation, if there be any, does not accrue to the benefit of the lessee, and where year by year the house he owns depreciates more and more in value, and the lease for which, should he try to sell it, he can get less for as the time for its expiration draws nearer. The owner of the ground seems to get all the advantages of the increase, while the lessee of the property, who has put his good money into the house and pays his big ground rent, gets all the disadvantage."

This brings up a little point to end with. Does it pay to lease one's ground instead of disposing of it? Well, in reply to that, it can only be said that the Columbia College has no doubt found it does. It has derived a very handsome income for a generation from its properties, an income which has been as sure as anything on earth could be, for a failure on the part of a lessee to pay ground rent, taxes or other charges, enables them to take possession of his property. They have not lost a cent in all those years, and now they come in for a vastly increased rental, which is secure for twenty-one years more, no matter whether there be ups and downs, panics, fires, or any other catastrophes. It is a sure means of perpetuating an estate, and it is only taking a leaf out of the book of the landed aristocracy of England, who have by this means kept property in their families for generations.

Real Estate Department.

The market has been dull this week. There is a continuation of the inactivity in the brokers' offices, though a few more sales are taking place, while others are under way. The attempt to flood the late spring market with trans-Harlem lots has resulted in the vast majority of them being withdrawn. They will no doubt fare better in the fall. The tables of conveyances, mortgages and projected buildings for the week show a considerable increase over the corresponding period last year.

Business on 'Change opened in a somewhat discouraging manner on Monday. Some sixty-one lots were to have been auctioned off in Westchester village, but fifty-six of these were withdrawn, the balance going at $160 to $170 each. The lots formerly belonging to the Bathgate estate, situated on 3d and Fulton avenues and 171st street, did a little better, but the majority of them were also withdrawn. The southwest corner of 3d avenue and 171st street sold for $4,650, inside avenue lots bringing $3,075 to $3,350 each, the buyers being A. J. D. Wedemeyer, L. Jacobs, John Williams and J. Bullwinkle. A number of properties were sold under foreclosure, mostly to the plaintiffs. Among them were three four-story houses on 70th street, west of 9th avenue, which became the property of Chas. H. Gilman at $21,150, $21,250 and $23,050 respectively.

Tuesday's market made a somewhat better showing. No. 865 3d avenue, near 52d street, a four-story tenement on a lot 25x110, was bought by Wm. S. Lalor for $28,500; No. 81½ Bowery, south of Hester street, a lot 12.5x113.10 and 114.6½, with two old buildings thereon, was secured by M. Goldsmith at $15,500; a five-story tenement at No. 512 East 14th street went to Theo. M. Roche, while two lots on Bleecker street, near Charles street, about 17x irregular, were knocked down to S. Ruhl at $17,700. Four five-story flats at Nos. 254 to 260 West 123d street were knocked down to Ed. C. Sheehy. Of the forty-seven lots announced to be offered on Boston avenue, and adjoining avenues and streets, only a few were sold, though the owner was willing to part with them at less than the prevailing values. Two of the lots on Forest avenue, north of 165th street, 20x87.6 each, were bought at $1,000 each. The purchaser only paid $20 cash down to bind the bargain, and a few hours later sold them at a profit of $600—not a very unsatisfactory turn. One of the interesting sales of the day was a life interest in a lot on the northeast corner of 8th avenue and 142d street. It is 24.11x100 in size and has a three-story frame dwelling and a two-story frame stable on it. The life interest was purchased by Lucinda Y. Brown for $1,200.

A sale of lots belonging to the estate of J. Groshon Herriot was held at Yonkers on Tuesday by Fairchild & Yoran. Out of 189 lots a total of about 140 were sold at from $125 to $700 each. The attendance was good, and the lots went to about forty different buyers at an avernge of about $300 each. The prices realized were satisfactory.

On Wednesday only three auctioneers took the stand and the sales were few. No. 539 Manhattan avenue, near 122d street, with a 15-foot house and lot, was bid in at $14,600. A four-story brown stone front dwelling, with a lot 22x103, at No. 241 East 13th street, became the property of Theo. Wood at $20,000, and a half-interest in No. 126 West 27th street, a three-story frame dwelling, and plot of 50.11x irregular, was purchased by Timothy Donovan at $7,000.

Thursday's sales included both city and suburban property. A three-story brick factory, with a lot 17x irregular, No. 62 Centre street, was knocked down to Jas. Livesey for $21,000; a four-story brick dwelling, on a lot 21x30, at No. 16 Moore street, near Front street, was bought by James Redmond for $11,400; the 20-foot residence at No. 497 West End avenue was knocked down to H. De Forest at $26,500. Five houses on Madison avenue and 127th street, which were to have been offered under foreclosure were withdrawn. A dwelling and plot on Richmond terrace, New Brighton, Staten Island, was bought by J. B. Leavitt for $18,250, and another was sold to J. F. Stevens for $19,250, while another on the same terrace was withdrawn, having been sold privately. A property at Orange was also sold before the auction hour.

On Friday no sales took place, those announced being either adjourned or withdrawn.

On Monday, May 27th, John S. Mapes will offer 132 desirable lots in the village of Williamsbridge, Westchester, adjoining the 24th Ward. They are situated on the principal avenues and are twenty minutes' ride from the Grand Central Depot on the Harlem Road. The titles will be guaranteed free to the purchasers.

On Tuesday, May 28th, William Kennelly & Bro. will sell, under the direction of Geo. B. Newell, the lot and building on the east side of 3d avenue, about 26 feet south of 135th street; and on Wednesday, May 29th, they will offer, by order of the executor, to close an estate, a plot of 4 13-100 acres at Fort Washington, overlooking the Hudson River and just south of the land owned by James Gordon Bennett. This property has a future.

On Tuesday, May 28th, Richard V. Harnett & Co., will sell thirty-two choicely situated lots on the west side of 10th avenue, 149th and 150th streets. These lots are easily accessible by the cable railroad, and 60 per cent. of the purchase money may remain on bond and mortgage. On the same day Richard V. Harnett & Co. will sell four lots on the north side of 89th street, 25x100.8½ each, 400 feet east of 10th avenue. The terms are liberal and the lots desirable for building purposes.

On Tuesday, May 28th, Jere. Johnson, Jr., will sell 416 fine lots at Flushing, L. I., situated on Murray Hill Heights, in that attractive suburb. The lots all surround the depot for a distance of three or four blocks, and the sale will give an excellent opportunity to young beginners to purchase inexpensive sites for homes. The time from Murray Hill Station to Long Island City is only twenty-five minutes, and trains run quite frequently. The property is to be sold at 1 o'clock in the day, and excursion tickets can be obtained from the auctioneer to view the property.

On Wednesday, May 29th, Fairchild & Yoran will sell on the premises, by order of the Supreme Court, the balance of the Hyatt farm, consisting of 260 plots, half a mile north of Woodlawn Station, on the Harlem Railroad. The property is specially adapted for cottage sites or for large institutions.

On Wednesday, May 29th, Smyth & Ryan will sell 76 3-5 acres at Throgg's Neck, Westchester County, by order of the Supreme Court in partition. It has about half a mile of water frontage on the East River or Long Island Sound, and comprises the Francis Morris mansion with numerous outbuildings. It is in a beautiful situation, and would form one of the finest country seats near New York. C. P. Huntington, F. C. Havemeyer, Jacob Lorillard and other well-known New Yorkers have neighboring places.

On Monday, June 3d, Smyth & Ryan will sell the dwelling, factory, and vacant properties belonging to the estate of the late Abraham Dowdney, by order of the Surrogate. These include the houses and lots at No. 28 East 75th and No. 28 East 85th street, the factory at No. 1115 1st avenue, four vacant lots, including a gore, on 75th street, and two full vacant lots on 130th street.

On Tuesday, June 4th, Adrian H. Muller & Son will sell the valuable improved and unimproved properties belonging to the estate of the late John F. Delaplaine. It comprises the following parcels: Nos. 705 and 707 3d avenue, No. 34 Walker street, No. 309 Church street, No. 114 Warren street, Nos. 239 and 241 Bowery, Nos. 928, 930 and 932 9th avenue, No. 161 West 19th street, No. 218 West 32d street, No. 30 West 66th street, Nos. 424 and 426 East 18th street, and lots on 4th and 9th avenues, West 97th and East 75th streets. This will be an important sale.

On Tuesday, June 4th, Richard V. Harnett & Co. will sell, by order of the executors, the valuable plot, with buildings thereon, known as Nos. 124, 126 and 128 5th avenue, and No. 2 West 18th street. It comprises 92 feet on the avenue, having a depth of 175 feet, with three residences and a stable, and is certainly one of the most valuable parcels south of 23d street. The property will be sold to close the estate of the late Gordon W. Burnham.

Out Among the Builders.

Alfred Zucker has plans on the board for a six-story brick and iron store to be erected on the south side of Bleecker street, 25 feet west of Wooster street, for the Manhattan Building and Improvement Company, of which

F. H. Mela is president. The size of the building will be 25x100, and it will have all the modern improvements. The cost will be $40,000.

In all probability a school-house will be built on the southeast corner of 129th street and Madison avenue for the Academy of All Saints. Wm. Schickel & Co. will most likely be the architects.

We have been informed that extensive improvements are contemplated to St. Veronica's Roman Catholic Church which will be under the supervision of the Rev. John F. Fitzharris.

Thomas F. Sharpley intends to build about fourteen three-story brick and brown stone dwellings on ten lots on the north side of 113th street, 120 feet west of 5th avenue.

Fred. Ebeling has plans on the board for a seven-story and basement brick factory with stores on the first floor, to be erected on the southwest corner of Centre and Walker streets, at a cost of about $60,000. The building will have a frontage of 45 feet on Walker street, 75 feet on Centre street, and will be provided with electric motors as driving power instead of steam. The owner's agent is Wm. H. Carpenter.

Wm. B. Franke, who recently purchased the plot at the southwest corner of Mount Morris avenue and 124th street, 101x100, has prepared plans for an apartment house, which will be erected on the premises. The building will be six stories high, with a high basement, which is to be used for stores. The entire structure will be strictly fire-proof and will contain every modern improvement. In every respect it is to be equal to any of the first-class apartment houses in this city. Estimates are now being received.

J. C. Burne has finished plans for Cotter Bros. for twenty five-story buildings, to be occupied as stores and flats, on the west side of Willis avenue, between 137th and 138th streets. Brick and brown stone will be used for the fronts. All modern improvements will be introduced. The cost will be $360,000.

Geo. F. Pelham has plans for a five-story tenement and store, 25x89, to be built by Weil & Mayer at No. 10 Lewis street, to cost $21,000; for the same owners a similar building, 23.10x89, at No. 51 Oliver street, to cost $20,000; and one for Joseph L. Buttenweise, 25x76, at No. 97 Allen street, to cost $18,000.

Jas. Henderson has plans finished for J. L. Becker for a frame cottage, 22x35, to be built on Bedford Park, to contain seven rooms. The cost will be about $4,000.

F. Wennemer has completed plans for a single flat, 25x84 feet, on the north side of 92d street, 45 feet east of Lexington avenue, for Christian Hachemeister. It will be constructed of brick and stone and will be fitted with hardwood throughout. All modern improvements will be introduced. The cost will be about $25,000.

William H. Hume will alter No. 53 West 42d street for George Hillen. The alterations will consist of making the basement and first floor stores, and generally repairing the other floors which will be occupied as dwellings. The cost has not been estimated.

Schneider & Herter are drawing plans for two five-story and basement brick, stone and terra cotta tenements to be built at Nos. 105 and 107 Goerck street, for Messrs. Blumberg & Goldstein, 26x88.6 each, with all the modern improvements at a cost of $22,000 each; for a five-story brick stable and workshop to be built on the rear of No. 103 Goerck street, and for alterations to the building on the front of the same lot. The total cost will be $12,000.

William B. Tuthill has finished plans for the estate of Marshall O. Roberts for alterations in the structure No. 35 Warren street. The interior will be transposed into offices. The cost will be $20,000.

George M. Walgrove has completed plans for Thos. J. and George Jenkins for a five-story flat, 25x85, which they will erect at No. 119 West Houston street. It will be constructed of Euclid stone and buff brick with terra cotta trimmings. The cost will be $18,000.

M. V. B. Ferdon has plans for the construction of a five-story brick tenement with stores on the ground floor, to contain four families, 26.3x89x100, to be erected for L. and K. Ungrich at No. 110 9th avenue at a cost of $20,000.

Wm. C. Frohne is engaged on plans for the alteration of the tenements Nos. 423 and 425 East 80th street. The buildings will have stores on the ground floor and will be altered internally. Bernard McQuade is the owner. The cost has not yet been estimated.

Brooklyn.

George Walker will build ten houses on Howard avenue, the block front from Bainbridge to Decatur street; the corners will be four-story brick flats, 20x60 each, and contain stores on the ground floor, the inside buildings will be three-story brick private dwellings with basement of stone, and the total cost will reach $68,000. Architect, John E. Dwyer. The same architect has completed plans for a two-story frame extension, 12x25, and interior alterations to present building for flats, for Edward Higgins, to cost $2,000.

John E. Dwyer is the architect for a four-story brick and stone store and flat to be built on the northeast corner of Fulton street and Rockaway avenue. The building will have a frontage of 25 feet and will be 117 feet deep, running through to Somers street, and will cost the owner, Thomas Haggerty, about $35,000. Mr. Haggerty will also build, from plans by the same architect, three four-story brick and stone stores and flats, 20x55 each, on Fulton street, adjoining the above, to cost about $10,000 each, and four three-story brick flats, 18.6x56 each, on Somers street, in rear of above, to cost $6,500 each.

William C. Frohne is the architect for a four-story frame tenement to be erected for W. G. Muser on the southwest corner of 3d avenue and 41st street, South Brooklyn. The building will be 20x78, and will have accommodations for two families on each floor. The cost will be $8,000.

Th. Engelhardt is at work on plans for a three-story and mansard roof frame dwelling with brick basement, 22x50, to be erected on the northwest corner of Bushwick avenue and Van Buren street, with two three-story frame dwellings, 20x50 each, adjoining, for Charles A. Meyer, to cost $18,000, a four-story frame double tenement, 25x58.6, on the south side of Gerry street, 125 east of Harrison avenue, for Frank Winterrath, to cost $6,500; and a three-story frame tenement, 25x60, on the north side of Suydam street, 225 east of Evergreen avenue, for William Wolf, to cost $5,000.

Architect P. C. Keeley has completed the plans for the new Catholic Seminary to be built as an addition to St. John's College.

Out of Town.

BAY RIDGE, L. I.—The Crescent Athletic Club intend to build a handsome club house on the Van Brunt property purchased by them on the Shore road. The ground is 500 feet square and cost $51,500. The club comprises many Brooklynites and has many fine athletes among its membership, its football team standing very high.

BERGEN POINT, N. J.—Henry F. Kilburn has prepared plans for the First Presbyterian Church at this place. It is designed to form a connection with the present building which has been occupied as a place of worship, but after the completion of the church proper the older portion will be used as a Sunday-school and lecture-room. Its dimensions are 56x60, and it will be built of brick with stone trimmings. The interior is to be finished in ash and the windows fitted with stained glass. The organ will be placed over the pulpit, and the new structure is to be connected with the older part by rolling blinds which will permit of both floors being thrown into one audience room. The seating capacity of the new building will be for 320 and of the old for 100. The cost will be about $15,000.

PORTCHESTER, N. Y.—Frank W. Beall is drawing plans for a two-and-a-half-story brick and stone dwelling to be built here for A. V. Whiteman. It will be 60x85 feet in size, and the first floor will be finished in hardwood. The cost will be $30,000.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y.—A new parish building, to include a Sunday-school, is to be erected adjoining Grace Church. It will be 34x60 in size, of local stone and shingle, and will cost about $10,000. Plans are being prepared by Geo. H. Budlong.

Special Notice.

Messrs. Allen & Co., general iron works, Nos. 140 and 142 East 41st street, are the sole owners of the Williams & Hofele patents for iron clothes-line frames for roofs. They report that they have just discovered that their patents have been infringed upon, and fifty or more of the iron frames have been erected without any authority from them by C. L. Williams, the former owner of the aforesaid patent, and F. E. Seymour, of No. 2474 3d avenue, this city. Allen & Co. have just begun suit against Martin Disken, 47th street and Lexington avenue, who has purchased and erected five of these iron frames from Seymour, and they will bring suit as quickly as they possibly can against all others who have erected and who may erect these iron frames without their consent.

Contractors' Notes.

Sealed proposals will be received at the Hall of the Board of Education, No. 146 Grand street, until Thursday, June 6th, at 9.30 A. M., for making sanitary alterations, etc., at Grammar School Building No. 34 and Primary School No. 40; and until Wednesday, June 5th, for making repairs, etc., at Grammar School No. 30; and for alterations to the heating apparatus in Grammar Schools Nos. 56 and 64; also until Monday, June 3d, for making alterations to the heating apparatus in Grammar Schools Nos. 22 and 36; and for making general repairs at Grammar Schools Nos. 22, 36, 71, 37, 39, 43, 57, 68, 72, 78 and 83; also until Friday, May 31st, for making sanitary improvements at Grammar School No. 31 and Primary School No. 36; general repairs to Grammar Schools Nos. 4, 12, 40 and 41, Primary Schools Nos. 7, 13 and 24; alterations to the heating apparatus in Grammar Schools Nos. 17 and 41 and Primary School No. 40; and for supplying new furniture for Grammar Schools Nos. 3, 10, 41, 47 and 55 and Primary School No. 24; and until Tuesday, May 28th, for supplying the furniture required for Grammar Schools Nos. 87, 14 and 49; and for making heating apparatus alterations, etc., in Primary Schools Nos. 10 and 20; also until Wednesday, May 29th, for the erection of a new school building on the southeast corner of Eagle and 163d streets. Plans and specifications may be seen and blank proposals obtained at the office of the Superintendent.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICKS.—For Common Hards the market has retained an easy tone, with a further fractional modification in the line of value for all grades. Demand has been very fair, indeed rather fuller if anything; but the supplies came to hand with greater rapidity and more liberal volume than the requirements of business could take care of, and receivers were, under force of circumstances, compelled to put their prices at a level that would retain the attention of buyers. Something very fine might possibly command $6.50 per M at the present writing, but the average top is $6.25 per M for Haverstraw, and the bulk of the trading is done at a somewhat lower level where Up River stock can be bought, the latter preponderating both in supply and in attractions to secure the general run of demand. The latter is mainly a matter of cost, though not uninfluenced by the fact that quite desirable quality can also be obtained, as the stock is all coming to hand in very good condition. Considerable complaint and more or less surprise are expressed at the state of affairs prevailing and the failure of the comparatively low run of cost to act as an incentive to a more universal demand. As we have before called attention, however, the lapse in business at present is not without reasonable explanation. The vast amount of work completed during the winter, and the usual delay for preliminary preparation, after getting possession of premises May 1st, keeping a large number of jobs on the waiting list. In the meanwhile, too, the season for making brick has been very much earlier than usual, and since the commencement of shipments there has been a constant surplus offering of anywhere from ten to twenty barge loads without greatly relieving the pressure from primary points and thus leaving an unnoticed accumulation at both ends. That manufacturers should feel more or less apprehensive over the prospect for the immediate future under the circumstances is no more than natural. Yet it hardly seems possible that buyers can long remain unappreciative of the ruling low range of cost. Pales have, in the meanwhile, been meeting with a better demand, Brooklyn becoming a good custom, and, as usual when this class of stock is wanted, the call is sharp. Prices have stiffened and on finest lots show rather better than last week. New make Croton Point Fronts have been offering at about old prices.

LATH.—Some irregularity has been shown, but on the whole the tendency proved favorable to buyers. Immediately following our last, sales were made at $2.25 per M. to arrive, and subsequently reported on spot lots of very choice quality, but arrivals came in a little too rapidly, and bunching up compelled a drop to $2.15 for the major portion of the offering, with some business reported lower, though the above-named figure seems to be now considered about a market rate. According to reports circulated most of the floating cargoes are now forward, but dealers do not appear to feel very much worried over the supposed prospect of scarcity, and some of them are thought to be in possession of quite an accumulation.

LIME.—Demand is not very full or active, and there has been some difficulty experienced in disposing of arrivals promptly, especially as dealers are tendered no extra inducement in the way of cost. As an offset to the narrow outlet, however, the production and shipments are curtailed at both the Eastern and State kilns, and manufacturers are not likely to start up until there is better warrant for such a move.

LUMBER.—An absence of really stirring features remains as a characteristic of the general local lumber market. Trade moves along fairly, and now and then some pretty big deals are made, but operators have a knack of managing affairs quietly, and many are inclined to conceal rather that make public their transactions. Not that any "funny work" is going on or that the basis of operations differs in any great degree from what is generally consided market rates, but over several of the leading woods competition is keen, and it is natural that frequently either the buyer or seller has some minor feature that it is thought well the neighbors should not know of. For pretty much every standard description of stock on the list the present position seems quite steady, and, except in the matter of some of the coastwise stuff or the more desirable hardwoods, offerings are fairly up to the necessities of trade. There has apparently been no easing off at primary points calculated to be of benefit to this market.

Eastern Spruce has no more than the usual irregularity. Prices vary fractionally over quotations, sometimes based upon supply present or expected; sometimes on the belief in demand, or the amount of it that may at the moment be accessible, and occasionally it is suspected on the difference in ability of receivers to manage cargoes, but, after all, the general range runs pretty much the same from week to week, and there appears to be custom enough to take about all the stock coming to hand. Much confidence continues to be expressed by manufacturers and their representatives in the stability of affairs at primary points, and no contracts can be made ahead except at very extreme figures. As we close the market seems to be shaping up into pretty strong form again. There has been a great deal of stuff received here during the month, and the poorer lots sold low, but scarcely anything now remains afloat, it is said, and receivers report fuller bids for desirable random. Advices by mail also say that while the freshets made their appearance upon the St. John and other rivers, and logs commenced to move, there had come a sudden jam at Grand Falls, about 30 miles above Fredericton, and until that should become broken there was not much chance for free cutting.

Piling is held with pretty general firmness. Reports of sales at fractionally shaded rates are not so uncommon but that an occaslonal effort is made to use them in a bearish way, but the business is of an exceptional character, and with many of the majority of the receivers there is still an inclination to float and hold desirable cargoes rather than part with them at any real modification of cost.

Hemlock does not appear to be giving sellers any trouble. Occasional reports are heard about stock coming to hand at something less than quotations, and investigation will reveal the fact that the statement is true, but also generally brings to light that the stuff has been bought on previous early contract, which could not be duplicated, and that on current offerings holders' ideas remain very firm. All the leading manufacturers claim to have only sufficient supply in hand to make fairly comfortable carrying, and in such condition that the stock loses nothing in quality by waiting a while for custom.

White Pine shows no more than the usual irregularity, and taken altogether the market is in very good condition. Distribution embodies about the usual quantity and assortment on local account, to which dealers have been accustomed thus far this season, and there is a very fair chance to sell parcels for yard stock, though this portion of the trade is in some cases momentarily checked by receipts of parcels coming to hand on contract, either direct from the mills or from purchases made at interior distributive points. The market is not overrun with salesmen, yet there is a great many of them around, and none appear ready to make any determined stand for higher figures. The export outlet still appears to be in good and promising conditiou, with local supplies well run down.

Yellow Pine is not openly offered at any lower rates, nor is it known that secret tenders have been made from leading sources that would give buyers greater advantages. There is, however, occasionally to be noticed a disposition to talk the market a little tamely, and which is attributed in a great measure to disappointed operators who have failed to get some of the special contracts in competition with their better equipped competitors. Facilities for production are said to be increasing at many Southern localities, but buyers are a little shy about accepting tenders from new sources.

Carolina Pine remains quite steady for all first-class stock, with a good general demand, and the attainment of that result seems to satisfy the majority of sellers. Now and then there is an offering made at some shading, but buyers who have had the experience of two or three years in handling this wood are cautious about committing themselves on bids to any offer they do not consider as coming from manufacturers fully acquainted with the wants of this market and prepared to cater thereto.

Hardwoods are moving in much the same general form as for some time past, dealers appearing to feel no great anxiety, and manufacturers also assuming a somewhat indifferent tone, yet a little business is continually jogging along, and values well sustained throughout. Occasional complaint over a rather slower call for cherry may be heard, which buyers say is due to the costly character of the wood, but as the supply is small, it is carried confidently. Quartered Oak is stiffening in tone, but only where quality is of the very best. Walnut still remains out of favor on home account. Poplar is held much the same as usual, with also, as usual, a number of local buyers contending against the cost.

GENERAL LUMBER NOTES.

THE WEST.

From the Timberman, of Chicago, we take the following:

According to the advices from Stillwater and the Mississippi country generally, the conclusion is reached that the log cut of the past season on the Mississippi and its tributaries was about 300,000,000 feet. This is a decrease of about 70,000,000 feet from the previous year.

The Timberman has continuously maintained that there was to be an exceeding shortage in the log crop, even while some of its contemporaries have evinced doubts about the question. But the position was taken after mature consideration of the question, and when there could be but little doubt as to its correctness. Of course we have avoided arbitrariness in relation to the question by giving the opinions of others, but a candid consideration of the question from a practical standpoint could lead to no other conclusion than that reached by this journal, that there must be considerable idleness of many of the mills in Wisconsin, Michigan and other States because of the lack of stock.

In the first place, the logging season was much later than usual in its commencement, because of the lack of snow and frost; secondly, operations in the woods were necessarily suspended earlier than usual for the same reason, camps being broken while immense quantities of logs remained on the skidways, it being impossible to transport them to the banking grounds. The same causes produce the same effect everywhere; and consequently the lack of snow which necessitated a cessation of operations in the woods was also an insurmountable obstacle to transporting the same to the mills. Thus it will be observed that even if incessant rains had flooded the streamf, there must of necessity have been a shortage in the log crop for the reason that less logs were cut and banked than usual; and only one logical conclusion could be reached by a careful and practical consideration of the question. Our exchanges from every direction are now commenting on the drought causing a shortage of logs, and causing many of the mills to cease operations before they were fairly in successful motion.

The Mississippi Valley Lumberman as follows:

The salvation of the Western white pine lumber trade lies in good crops in all the Western agricultural States. It is very evident that yellow pine is to be for all time to come a very important factor in the situation, and is to determine very clearly the field in which white pine lumber can be successfully and profitably distributed. The period of better and better prices will be ushered in whenever there is a new area of prosperity in the Western States, which will bring with it a demand from the present population, a large influx of immigration and railroad building which may be demanded by the wants of the people. Good crops are a condition precedent to this state of affairs. Every branch of trade, and none more so than lumbering, is therefore vitally interested in the farmers of the Western prairie States getting a good crop this year.

The Northwestern Lumberman as follows:

Looking the white pine field over, we find that the weaker spots are in Chicago, middle Wisconsin and on the upper Mississippi. If we look into the causes of this state of things, we shall see that the cutting off of the Southwestern trade by yellow pine has had much to do with it. Really, this cutting off has been compensated for by the growth of city requirements in Chicago, Minneapolis, St. Paul and smaller cities this side of the Missouri River, but the shippers have not come to fully realize this. They have money in the shipping business, have piled up lumber to meet that requirement, and it will grow black on the foundations before they will attempt to turn it into local channels. Besides, the urban trade is by the wagon load, and the wholesalers are used to shipping by the train load. The market for dimension and coarse lumber is being depressed in the West this spring by the doleful shoutings of the heavy wholesale dealers, who have been unable to turn over their lumber as they anticipated.

In respect to this city the attitude of the yard dealers toward cargo prices is having a peculiarly depressing effect on the market for coarse lumber, especially piece stuff. This influence is so centralized as to apparently have little effect beyond Muskegon and other producing points on Lake Michigan. Neither does it affect inch lumber to a great extent. The market for such stock is being maintained by the Eastern buyers who are visiting upper lake producing points for the purpose of purchasing blocks of lumber. The Chicago buyer meets them in large numbers, especially at Menominee. The peculiar feature of their operations is that they appear eager for stock, and are actually overbidding the prices that were paid by the same class of buyers last year. The Chicago man had made up his mind to an easy market this spring, but finds that the Eastern dealers have forestalled that conclusion by placing orders at advanced prices. How the men from the East can afford to pay such prices, and ship the lumber to the lower end of Lake Erie at a freight rate of $2 a thousand, and pay additional canal and rail rates beyond, passes the comprehension of the Chicago buyer, who can see no money in purchasing at last year's prices. The supposition from the Chicago standpoint is that somebody east of Buffalo is biting off more than he can chew, and that the eager Eastern men who think that the market this season has unlimited backbone may find out where they were mistaken before the year reaches the close.

GREAT BRITAIN.

The Timber Trades Journal as follows:

LONDON.

American Woods.—Black walnut, whitewood, oak, etc., in all of these a good steady trade is being done at prices about as last reported.

Sequoia.—The parcel per Windhover cleared up without reserve by Messrs. Churchill & Sim, on Wednesday last, went off exceedingly well. It is evident that the consumption of this wood is extending by the fact of such a large number of different buyers entering into eager competition at the sale to secure one or more lots. The market is now cleared of stock so that should any other parcels come along there is no doubt they will be well received.

GLASGOW.

There has been a noticeable decrease lately in parcels of logs arriving per steam liners from the States; the total of walnut and whitewood logs imported to date is much under that for corresponding period last year, and the stock of logs of various kinds at the piling ground. Queen's Dock is much smaller than it usually is, but oak planks have been arriving in large quantities weekly, the total this year so far being about 26,000 pieces. The bulk of these are in fulfilment of large contracts with railway companies, and go into the hands of consumers ex quay. Staves have also been freely imported from the States, and a brisk business is doing. Arrivals have been to the amount of about 280 mille, and sales appear to have been readily made ex quay, and the stock in yards is at present very light, Yorkill Yards being nearly clear of staves.

METALS.—COPPER—Ingot, since the meeting of the representatives of the producing companies reduced and settled the rate for the next three months, has been very quiet. Consumers can obtain about all the supply they want, but show no anxiety whatever, and the majority seem inclined to bring investments down to the smallest compass possible. The regular figure is 12c. for Lake, but dealers are understood to obtain ¼@½c. more for small lots. Casting brands are quoted as 10@11c. Manufactured Copper sells rather moderately, buyers generally expecting better terms, and for the present the line of value is somewhat nominal. We quote as follows: Sheets, not above 30x72 in., 16 oz. and over, 25c.; do, 14 to 16 oz, 26c.; do, 12 to 14 oz, 27c.; do, 10 to 12 oz, 28c.; do, 8 to 10 oz, 38c.; do, under 8 oz, 28@33c. Sheets longer than 72 inches add 1c. for 12@14 oz, 2c. for 10@12 oz, and 3c. for 8@10 oz. Sheets, not above 36x96 in., 16 oz and over, 25c.; do, 16 to 32 oz, 25c.; do, 14 to 16 oz, 27c.; do, 12 to 14 oz, 29c.; do, 10 to 12 oz, 33c.; do, 8 to 10 oz, 36c. Sheets longer than 96 inches add 1c. for under 16 oz; and 2c. for 8 to 10 oz. Sheets, not above 48x96, 32 to 64 oz, 25c.; do, 16 to 32 oz, 28c.; do, 14 to 16 oz, 30c.; do, 12 to 14 oz, 32c. Sheets 60x96 and over, 25@30c., for 32 to 64 oz. and over, and 31c. for 16 to 32 oz. All bath tub sheets, per lb., 16 oz, 28c.; 4 oz, 30c.; 12 oz, 32c.; and 10 oz, 35c. Bolt copper, ⅜ inch diameter and over, 25c. Circles, 60 diameter and less, 3c. above price of sheets of same thickness; circles, 60 to 96 do do, 5c. do; circles, 96 do and over, 6c. do. Segment and pattern sheets, 3c. above price of sheets required to cut them from. Cold or hard rolled copper, 1@2c. per lb. above the foregoing prices. Copper bottom, 28@31c. per lb. IRON—Scotch Pig continues selling in small lots, mostly as the wants of regular customers may send them upon the market. The supply, however, is moderate and well under control, with owners generally firm in insisting upon full former figures. We quote at $19@21.50 per ton according to brand, delivery, etc. American Pig since the late reduction in value has found a more liberal demand and quite a large amount of stock was booked on contract with deliveries to extend over a period of six months. The bulk of this business, however, was secured by the leading companies whose production has become standard, and less popular brands rather go begging at times, even when offered at pretty low figures. We quote at $16.00@17.00 per ton for No. 1 X foundry; $15.00@16.00 for No. 2 X do.; and $14.50@$15.25 for Gray Forge. Old material has not changed in any important particular, the general demand running slow and buyers bidding quite indifferently. Supplies, however, do not appear to be very persistently urged into notice. We quote at about $21.50@22.00 for old rails; $19.00@19.50 for No. 1 wrought scrap; $14.00@16.00 for cast scrap, and $18.00@18.25 for car wheels. Steel rails are somewhat more settled in price and selling with greater freedom. No large orders came upon the market, but in small lots nearly 10,000 tons have of late been placed under contract and further parcels are in treaty. We quote at $26.50@27.00 per ton at the mills and $27.50@28.00 do., at tide water. Manufactured Iron secures only a light, erratic sort of movement and presents rather a featureless sort of market. Considerable stock is being delivered for building purposes, but on special contract. We quote Common Merchant Bar, ordinary sizes, at 1.90@2.10c. from store, and refined at 2.00@2.30c.; Rods, round and square, 2.10@2.20c.; Bands, 2.20@2.30c.; Norway Nail Rods, 4@4c., and domestic sheet on the basis of 2.77@2.80c. for common Nos. 19@16. Other descriptions at corresponding prices, with 1-10c. less on large lots from cars. LEAD—Domestic Pig does not meet with a great deal of speculative attention, and as the trade wants are small a weak sort of tone prevailed on the general market of late, though without materially changing the general run of value. We quote at 3.70@3.80c., as to quality. The manufactures of lead are quoted: Bar, 5c.; pipe, 6c.; sheet, 6¾c., less the usual discount to the trade; and tin lined pipe, 15c.; block tin pipe, 45c., on same terms. TIN—Pig sold mainly in small lots on trade orders, simply in fact as absolute necessity seemed to dictate investment. Speculation, too, has acted rather tired, and on the whole the tone of the market was easy after having previously run up somewhat. We quote at about 20½@20¾c. for round lots and 20⅝@20¾c. for jobbing parcels. Tin plates meet with a moderate demand, the principal call coming from can manufacturers. Offerings quite as full as the outlet requires, and prices on the whole easy. We quote prices as follows: I. C. Charcoal, ½ cross assortment, Melyn grades, $5.45@5.50, each additional X add $1.50; I. C. Charcoal, ½ cross assortment, Allaway grade, $4.75@4.80, each additional X add $1; Charcoal terne, M. F. grade, 14x20, $6.60@6.65; M. F. grade, 20x28, $13.20@13.25; Worcester, 14x20, $4.62½@4.65; Worcester, 20x28, $9.50@9.55; Deane grade, 14x20, $4.20@4.30; Dean grade, 20x28, $8.37½@8.50. Allaway grade, 14x20, $4.05@4.07½; Allaway grade, 20x28, $8.10@8.20; I. C. Coke, B. V. grade, $4.25@4.27½; J. B. grade, 14x20, $4.30@4.32½; I. C. Bessemer steel, squares, $4.65@4.70 basis; I. C. Siemens steel, squares, $4.70@4.75. Spelter is not selling freely, but on the support of excellent advices from primary sources has a firm holding at 4.75@4.80c. for the ordinary brands of common.

NAILS.—A good trade demand, and now and then very fair export orders keep about the average quantity of stock in motion and retain a healthy tone on the general market. Sellers, however, have no basis upon which to seek an improved line of valuation and must accept about former figures in all cases. We quote at $1.80@1.85 per keg for car lots, and $1.90@1.95 per keg for parcels from store.

PAINTS AND OILS.—For the general line of stock there is a steady consumptive demand, and prices find a reasonably healthy natural support, while goods controlled by trusts or combinations are of course firm in price, against which buyers only waste time in contending. Supplies and assortments appear full enough to meet all calls promptly, and a somewhat larger outlet could be satisfied. Linseed Oil selling very well and closing at 57@58c. for Western and 59@59½c. for City. Spirits Turpentine has not changed greatly in value, but the market ruled somewhat dull all around. We quote 39@40c. per gallon, according to quantity, delivery, etc.

TAR AND PITCH.—The inquiry is confined as clearly as possible to immediate consumptive wants and does not run full. Supplies, however, are small enough to be well managsd, and give support to values. We quote Pitch $1.35@1.50 per bbl.; Tar at $2.10@2.20, according to quantity, quality and delivery.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mort gage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

JUDGMENTS.

In these lists of judgments the names alphabetically arranged, and which are first on each line, are those of the judgment debtor. The letter (D) means judgment for deficiency. (*) means not summoned. (†) signifies that the first name is fictitious, real name being unknown. Judgments entered during the week, and satisfied before day of publication, do not appear in this column, but in list of Satisfied Judgments.

Appended quotations are based almost wholly upon prices obtained for goods from first hands. Yard rates necessarily range much higher owing to the expenses attending sorting out and grading cargo and even car lots, besides which must be added the cost of handling and carrying until consumers are ready to invest. Terms of sale also prove important factors, and, altogether, it is impossible to give a line of retail quotations thoroughly reliable in character.

VOL. XLIII. JUNE 1, 1889. No. 1,107

To-day over $3,000,000 gold will leave the country. On Wednesday and Thursday last damaging frosts put in an appearance in some sections of the country, and at the same time came the reports of rate cutting among the Western roads, so it is no wonder that the stock market shows a reaction at the close of the week. The wonder is that the reaction is not greater. Among those who are well-informed about railroad matters it is confidently stated that the rate cutting will not amount to much, but that all matters can, and will be, easily adjusted. Those who have been so frequently scorched, however, will recognize an old friend in these denials, and will not so readily take stock in the assertion that everything can be so easily fixed. It is a favorite saying, that no war of rates among railroads ever takes place with a big crop in sight, and generally speaking this is true, although the fight among the Western roads last fall gave this belief a slight shaking, till the presidents' agreement, which soon followed, showed that railroads can always fix up rates with big business in sight. It still looks as though Wall street was in for a bull campaign this summer, and should the weather continue favorable speculators will see to it that the bull market keeps pace with the crop outlook. Outside general business conditions are favorable. The recent large dry-goods auction sales were all considered highly successful, and indicated that the country is not overstocked with goods in distributors' hands. On the whole the outlook is decidedly favorable, but it is well to remember that one swallow does not make a summer.

The completion of the Fifth Avenue Elevated road in Brooklyn is another blow at the prosperity of New York. It means the opening of another avenue for the exodus of citizens disgusted with the deplorable condition of rapid transit on this island. It means the beginning of large building operations in the 22d and 8th Wards across the East River instead of in the annexed district across the Harlem. The activity is likely to be especially striking in the 22d Ward, Brooklyn, which, under the stimulus of merely the promise of rapid transit, has become a populous district of beautiful and substantial homes. In the last five years 1,209 buildings have been constructed there at a cost of about $13,000,000. There is not any manner of doubt that by far the greater part of this has been done at the expense of this city, and indeed the same is true of the entire of the wonderful building boom in Brooklyn, which, since 1884, has resulted in the construction of more than 16,000 buildings at a cost of over $80,000,000. This boom still continues, and for several weeks past plans have been filed at the Kings County Building Department for from half a million to a million dollars' worth of new buildings weekly. With anything like decent rapid transit much of this activity would be transferred to the upper wards in this city, which to-day are less developed than any outlying ward in Brooklyn. But it is out of the question to expect people to make homes in a district that cannot be reached without nearly an hour's standing in packed, unhealthy cars. All this might be obviated by departing from the senseless policy of crying for some "perfect" system of transportation instead of allowing those who are willing to improve our present facilities to go ahead and improve them. In the meantime we can continue to search Heaven and earth for a perfect system, and strive to reconcile all the conflicting interests in the way of putting it in operation when we have found it. The welfare of the city will not suffer then with a third track on the elevated roads and a loop at the Battery. Transportation will be quicker and much more comfortable than it is, and we shall retain a large part of the increase in our population which is now rapidly building up Brooklyn and New Jersey towns to our detriment.

There is something unquestionably suspicious about the sudden reduction of the salary list in the Department of Public Works by the new commissioner. On the face of it the reduction effected by the discharge of useless or supernumerary persons without filling their places amounts to $50,000 a year. Adult and experienced New Yorkers are requested to believe that an official representing Tammany Hall prefers to present this amount to the taxpayers rather than to the organization. So far as we know their views, such New Yorkers will decline this request. If no office is to be continued that is not needed, and if no officer is to be appointed to a place he is not fit for, what is the use of the municipal government to the organization, as the members of the latter might put it, "at all at all." Meanwhile the other organization is discredited for extravagance, and the vacancies may be filled at leisure. Of course we may be doing Mr. Gilroy an injustice, and he may be actuated by pure zeal for the oppressed taxpayer. If he will show us a year hence that the salary list in his department remains $50,000 less than it was before he made the reduction we will cheerfully acknowledge the injustice, though we scarcely think such a showing will increase his popularity in the "organization."

It must be owned that Mayor Grant has a practical way of effecting his objects. He showed this in the matter of the electric wires, after it had been dandled with until everybody was tired of it. He has gone about the securing of the Sunday opening of the museums in the same way. The Museum of Natural History wants $400,000 from the city for the building of a new wing. On the official visit of the Board of Estimate to the Museum, the Mayor is said to have expressed himself against the grant of any money to the Museum unless it were opened to the public on Sunday. If he can persuade the Board of Estimate to take this view, the trustees of the Museum will doubtless examine their scruples against Sunday openings more carefully than they have done before. Practically the choice offered to New Yorkers, who find their own dwellings or those of their acquaintances tiresome on Sunday during the season when suburban excursions are not available, is between the churches and the saloons. Nobody who opposes the Sunday opening would maintain that a man was not better engaged on Sunday in a museum than in a saloon. Such a person would doubtless insist that everybody should go to church, but everybody will not, and nobody can attend church all day. Moreover, it is not the most touching tribute to religious services that more people might go to them if all the other places were shut up. The Sunday opening cannot be very long delayed, and the Mayor has very likely done something to hasten it by his declaration.

The movement which was started a year or two ago in England by the conversion of some of the largest beer and ale breweries into joint stock companies has extended itself to this country and has made great progress. Continually we are hearing of great breweries that have been capitalized at enormous sums and passed into the hands of English syndicates. So apparent has been the process that some of our sturdy Irish-Americans have become alarmed and have agreed to abstain from the beer, be it good or bad, that is made by these foreign capitalists. The St. Louis beer manufacturers, according to the papers, are so far the only ones who have received a good offer and rejected it. If the movement continues some sort of a beer trust will not be an unlikely consummation, for the capital engaged in the manufacture of this drink will then be under the control of men who are not opposed to each other. As many of our beermakers are and have been, and hence will be, very liable to concentration, a beer trust, it must be remembered, would have a very good chance of success, for the manufacturers practically control the retailers through mortgages on their fixtures. The result of this movement will be worth watching.

Mayor Grant has visited Riverside Park, and taken that and the water front below it into consideration. It may now be expected that this work will go on. His attention was particularly drawn to the business value of the river and the need of other connections with the upland, and he is reported to have censured the Park Department for filling in at 86th street, and taking away the old stairway to the river shore. He should have been told that Riverside Drive, except this section of 86th street, had been completed many years, and that the assessment for the whole work could not be laid till the Drive was completed, and that for this reason the work was done. There is a limit to the business uses of the water front, The region between the Central and Riverside Parks is three miles long, about half a mile wide and about 80 to 100 feet high above the river. It is clearly destined to be a residence and not a business section. It is about one-fourth covered with buildings, and the present accommodations have been sufficient to supply building materials. It has access to the river at 79th, 96th and 129th streets, which seems sufficient for the purposes of a region of dwelling houses. In this it differs from the lower portions of the city, adjacent to the Hudson River, which are almost wholly given over to business. The business location on the upper end of the island will be along the low banks of the Harlem River and at its intersection with the East River. But the great business use of the Hudson River shore, beneath the Riverside cliff, will be for storage and transportation to the interior. Beyond the Hudson River Railroad line, the 12th avenue has been laid out 75 feet wide, and from it the river can be filled up for about 200 feet to the bulkhead line. This will be occupied for stores and warehouses, as it is accessible on one side by the railroad and on the other the sea-going vessels; and for this use more frequent communication will hardly be necessary, at least for many years to come. A very important use of this region is the improvement of Riverside Park, and it is obvious to every one who studies the subject from this standpoint, that the park should be extended to and occupy a portion of the river front as a water park, at the water level, such as the Battery Park has been for two centuries. It is the parks which give beauty and value to the city, and increases its attractions as a place of residence, not to be matched by any other use to which its land can be applied. It is singular that in carrying forward the designs for the completion of the park, Mr. Frederick Law Olmsted should be so disregarded. He had much to do with the design of the park at the outset, which has been so maltreated, and is the most able man in his profession of the whole country, yet he is dropped as if he had never existed. Riverside may be made the most beautiful park of the globe, or it may become one of the most tiresome of common places, and this is a subject worthy of Mayor Grant's attention and energy.

It will surprise many who have readily believed that this is an imperial city to learn that, in many respects, it is second-rate and provincial. Looking westward it seems to dominate the continent; but in a survey of the world, and compared with the capitals of Europe, it has in truth but a subordinate position. It has much to learn and much to do before it will really hold the rank many of its citizens believe it now occupies. It has wealth and prosperity, but it is the wealth of a community heavily in debt, individually and as a body. Its lines of steam communication over the Atlantic are owned in Europe, and much of the capital that supports its main line of Westward railroads is also owned there, Its great financial negotiations for new enterprises are made abroad, and foreign bankers supply a large part of the capital used in the daily operations of Wall street. Energetic men who are not even citizens are the leaders of its most pushing enterprises. Its government and politics are mainly in the hands of a race, gifted in that respect, deprived of home rule in Great Britain, and learning politics and statesmanship there by being condemned to be a minority in opposition. In this city this race develops its natural faculty as in a new field, and shows that its leaders are true descendents of the Irish kings. This city holds more Germans than any city in Germany, save Berlin, and more Irish than any city in the world. The Germans show their love of industry and of home, and the Irish their power; and were it not for their love of their adopted country and their earnest patriotism, we would be a subjected city. We have just what the British government are afraid of, for their independence, courage and ability are equal to any question in politics. It is the same in the church. The clergy from England, Scotland, Ireland and Wales are called here, and readily take the highest places, as much now as they did a century ago. As they gather at home, in their summer vacations, they converse in their meetings at Liverpool and at Belfast, over the City of New York and its religious needs and promises much as in our own consistories the returned missionary speaks of the progress of religion in Siam.

This city is far behind in great things. In its work is displayed great poverty of design and of enterprise. After the overthrow of the Tweed ring it was stunned by the spectacle of an enormous debt, and has been half paralyzed since. No one has yet appeared who can state the gross debt, how and when it was incurred, and what we have to show for it. We can enumerate the Croton Aqueduct, the Central Park and the Court House, and stop far short. We have a city of the greatest natural advantages, and as greatly neglected. If an enterprise like the Grant Tomb or the Centennial Arch is started, the design is too small to keep up the impulse. The city is too cosmopolitan, made up too much of men who come here to make money, and lacking the civic pride which has made Paris proud and honored Boston.

There are many subjects here, ready for the most thorough and comprehensive treatment to make the city worthy of itself. The streets and street pavements; the proper lines and modes of rapid transit; the rectification of the old lines in the portions of the city laid out a century ago, as has been done in London and Paris; and artistic treatment of our parks and pleasure grounds. Great honor will follow Mayor Grant or any man who can rouse the citizens to do deeds worthy of the city, and carry on the works which its imperial destiny already demands.

Nothing like sufficient attention has been given to the discovery of the value of cotton seed as a cattle food. In the first place if all that is said is correct it means a great accession to the wealth of the South; for until recently these seeds have been thrown away annually in immense quantities as worthless. In the second place, it means a great increase in the live stock wealth of the country; and a substitution, even in part, of this new food for the corn now used, must in time seriously affect agriculture in certain States and perhaps give to the South some of the importance in cattle raising which now belong to the West. Last year was a bad year in the cattle business. Only the large cattle raisers made money. Those, however, who used cotton seed obtained a profit amounting, it is said, to as much as $17 a steer. From calculations it appears that an acre will yield about 500 pounds of seed, and a steer consuming five pounds of meal and twenty pounds of hulls a day will in 120 days add about 200 pounds to its weight. Besides, the quality of the flesh is said to be very much finer than when fed on corn. No one thinks, of course, of attaching anything like the importance to this discovery of a new food that would be given to the opening of even a small gold field out West, yet it probably means an addition to the wealth of the country enormously greater than has been obtained from California since 1849. But, according to popular superstition, the precious metals constitute the principal part of a nation's wealth, while as a matter of fact they are only an item in it.

Who Shall Own the Telegraph?

It is about time the truth was told as regards the working of the English telegraph system. One would judge from the misleading reports circulated in the daily press in the interest of the Western Union that the telegraph system of England, owned and controlled by the government, was a total failure; that it was not only operated at an enormous loss, but inefficiently managed both as to its finances and in its service. The evident design of these reports is to discourage thought or movement in the direction of a national system of telegraph in this country and to create a feeling of satisfaction among the people with our present system in the hands of private companies. The truth is, as shown from official and other reports, that the efficiency of the telegraph service since the government of England assumed control in 1870, has been greatly increased; quickness, certainty and secrecy of the service have improved, and the increase in the number of government employés has not been productive of political evils worthy of note. The Secretary of the London Chamber of Commerce, in a recent letter to Mr. Francis B. Thurber, of this city, states that the working of the telegraph by the government has been so satisfactory that public opinion is in favor of assuming control of the cables to Europe. A report to the Houses of Parliament for 1888, just published, in treating of the telegraph, says in substance: The telegraphic system of England has been brought to the highest pitch of perfection; the government has neither neglected the inventions of other countries nor has it been chary of exercising inventive skill itself. In short, the almost unanimous feeling in England is against a return to private management.

A great deal of capital is made in this country out of the failure of the total gross receipts earned by the English telegraph service each year to meet the total expenditure. The annual reports show that in 1886 the expenditures exceeded receipts by £75,000, and in 1887 by over £175,000 (excluding in both cases the annual interest on borrowed capital of £326,417), the heaviest deficits recorded in any years of government control. These figures, contained in the annual table of receipts and expenditures, give satisfactorily the information desired by the government, but they are utterly meaningless when used in a comparison between the operation of the telegraph under public control in England and private management in this country, unless we go behind the returns and note the items which make up the grand total expense or revenue of each. In the first place, an examination of the table discloses that the cause of the comparatively heavy deficits for the years named above was, that in October, 1885, the initial charge for telegrams was reduced from one shilling (24.4c.) per twelve words to sixpence (12.2c.); this caused a rise from thirty-three to fifty million messages in the two years, and a correspondingly increase of plant, staff, etc., all charged to the expenditures of the year. It is seen, therefore, that the policy of the two countries is wholly different with respect to telegraphs, a fact which must be noted in any just comparison. England has adopted the policy of "low rates" and "widespread dissemination," while the private companies of this country work simply for money profits, with incidental regard for the public. Notwithstanding this reduction in the price per minimum message one-half, the deficiency in revenue to meet expenditure, which amounted to £65,646 in 1885, the last year of operation under the one shilling charge, was reduced during the last fiscal year (1887-88) to £31,761. If from this deficiency for the year 1887-88 is deducted the value of services performed for other public departments without remuneration, calculated in the report as £30,584, there is found to be left an actual deficiency of only £1,777. A just comparison between the two different systems requires that such a deduction be made. If, still further, the total of the receipts each year from telegrams, private wires, etc., is placed alongside of the actual working expenses, on account of salaries, wages, maintenance, etc.—including costs of extensions, but not those charged to the votes of other departments—it is seen that, excepting the year 1887, the expenditures in respect of the English telegraph service have never exceeded the revenue since the plant was purchased in 1870—the net revenue for the year 1887-88 calculated on this basis being £31,247. Another important factor besides gratuitous service which has all along contributed towards heavy expenditures of the English system is that not one cent. of the large annual capital outlay for improvements and enlargements has been charged to capital account. In this country the outlay by the Western Union for extensions, or in swallowing up rival companies, goes to enlarge the capital stock upon which a large profit is demanded, while in England the expenditures for this purpose has invariably been charged as current expenses, going to swell the grand total yearly expenditure and apparently increasing the tax burden upon the people, but in reality securing to them a saving. The statements which have designedly been put into circulation that little encouragement is given to improvements and inventions pertaining to the telegraph in England is totally unfounded. The Post-office Department have in their employ eminent electricians and engineers who introduce improvements annually and adopt outside inventions when it seems advisable. The Ginth duplex is the normal mode of working in that country, Edison's quadruplex is common, and the Delany system of multiplex is gradually being introduced. We heralded it as something wonderful that during the recent Republican Convention held at Chicago 500,000 words were sent out in one night; but in England, when Gladstone introduced his famous Home Rule bill, in April, 1886, 1,500,000 words were sent from the Central Telegraph office in London. The Western Union, instead of adopting new inventions when they have had the opportunity, have, on the contrary, hindered the application of improved methods of communication. Some of Edison's most important inventions, such as the automatic system of telegraphy, the motograph system by which 1,000 words are automatically repeated a minute, etc., are locked up in the vaults of the Western Union building at the corner of Dey street and Broadway. Even if these inventions, now locked up, were put into use by the Western Union it is very doubtful if the public would be in any way benefited thereby. A lowering in the cost of the article or convenience which a monopoly under private control supplies does not necessarily reduce the price charged for it. The adoption of the quadruplex instrument, it is said, saved the Western Union $500,000 a year, but no reduction in the price of telegrams followed from this that any one ever heard of. The Western Union Company say that they are not able to run wires underground in those places where necessity almost demands it at the present rate of charge, yet in England, where the price for twelve words is only 12.2 cents, wires are placed underground wherever possible. Of the 1,745 lines of wire entering the Central station in London not one is open. In many cases wires are conducted underground for a distance of fifteen to twenty miles from this office. A mere glance at the official documents relating to the English telegraph system is all that is necessary to set any one aright in regard to the facts of its workings who has been accustomed to obtain his information second-hand through highly-colored and misleading reports, circulated in the interests of private telegraph companies in this country.

Every artificial system of business contains its own factor of failure when it reaches the violation of natural laws. It is as important to provide a market as it is to encourage manufacturing, and with such wise forethought the business of the country will be kept good for the present administration. It is here that the genius of Mr. Blaine will serve the country. When the business of the country is good, this city has a period of acceleration. Wealth and population accumulate here; stores, offices, warehouses, hotels and dwellings are demanded; rents are kept up, the builders are busy, houses sell readily, and all land commands high prices. This is the present situation. In this generation New York City has become the greatest manufacturing centre of the country. Before that, for two centuries, it had grown great and rich on foreign commerce. If it should become a part of the Republican policy to restore to this city its share of foreign commerce, and let its energy once more run into ships and steamers, it would make another good bound in wealth and progress.

The prevalence of Republican principles in the administration of the general government for the next four years will have a decided influence on the business interests of the country and of this city and upon real property values. The system of high protective duties to which the business of the country has been long adjusted, and by which it has been benefited, will continue for that period free from any outside disturbance. It will be left to its natural operation. With a rapidly growing country, only partially filled up, and in some respects almost undeveloped, there is a great field and intense eagerness for industrial profits. A system of government which gives bounties or enhances prices by protection is always attractive, and where thereby wealth becomes consolidated its hold is very great on the people.

The protective system contains within itself a check. It may, in the first place, produce too great a revenue. The Republican principle of disposing of this by relieving the people from internal taxes, or by expending the surplus on education, public buildings, the navy and harbor defenses, will reconcile the people to a taxation they do not directly feel, and will strongly sustain industrial works. In the second place, the home market may with some goods be over-supplied. The cost of manufacturing, under a high tariff on raw materials, may become so great that we shall be excluded from the markets of the world when we meet the competition of England and other European nations. The Republican plan of meeting this difficulty by expanding our home market will also sustain the business of the country. They will bring Canada, Mexico and some Central and South American States into such commercial relations with us that we will supply them with all our manufactures. It will be the difficult and, if successful, the triumphant point of the administration. It is to be done, in face of the present hold of England over those countries and her jealousy, by reciprocity and not by free competition.

Building and Loan Associations.

Few outsiders realize the extent to which building and loan associations have been started and have prospered in this and other countries. There are not so many of them in New York and its vicinity; but farther south, particularly in Pennsylvania, and farther north, particularly in Minnesota, they are very numerous and active. According to the estimate of a writer in Scribner's Magazine there are now from 3,000 to 5,000 of these co-operative organizations in the United States with a constant investment of $300,000,000. Further, the accumulations under this plan of saving during the past forty years have amounted to from $500,000,000 to $750,000,000. The savings banks have found this method of inducing economy and collecting savings a serious rival to their own, and Minnesota, Pennsylvania and New York are mentioned as States where the growth of these institutions has been seriously checked by the formation of co-operative associations. In glancing over their record of prosperity here and abroad a number of interesting questions immediately suggest themselves. What is a building and loan association essentially? Why have they succeeded so much more largely than the other forms of co-operation? What is their function to be in the future? What are their limitations? What their dangers? In this article only the first of these questions will be answered.

A building and loan association is a body of men organized for the purpose of allowing a portion of that body to obtain a benefit temporarily from the savings of the whole. Each member of the association agrees to pay a certain fixed sum of money into the common treasury at stated intervals, the amount of this sum being proportional to the number of shares which the member holds. These shares have a certain par value, which is different in different associations; and when the amount of the dues collected at the stated intervals, together with the interest they have earned, makes a total equal to this par value, the shares "mature." The object of the association is to lend the money as soon as collected so that it may bear as much interest as possible. He who wishes to borrow for the purpose of building a home must in the first place own the necessary land. This done he has a right to borrow a sum of money equal to the amount of his shares when they have come to maturity. Consequently, every association must consist of a number of borrowers and a number of non-borrowers, the borrowers desiring to supplement their own savings by the savings of others in order to build a home, and the non-borrowers being willing to lend in order that their shares may arrive at maturity the quicker by their being added to the common fund the premiums and interest paid by the borrowers.

When an association starts in there are naturally more people desiring to borrow than there is money for them in the treasury. Consequently, loans are put up at auction, and very often fetch a handsome premium. According to W. A. Linn bonuses are high, as 60 per cent. have been paid for loans in New York within the past year. Such a state of things cannot, however, continue for any length of time, for a demand for loans indicated by such a percentage would soon cause the incorporation of other associations. In other parts of the country where the associations have been more numerous than in New York and have existed for a greater length of time, premiums scarcely exist at all. The management of these premiums has always been a source of trouble to the associations, for they increase the pecuniary obligation of the borrower to an extent that is sometimes very difficult for him to bear. They are collected in various ways. Under the "gross" plan, the premium is deducted in advance from the amount of the loan, while interest is charged on the whole sum. Under the "net" plan, the premium is deducted as before; but interest is charged only on the sum which the borrower receives. According to a better method, known as the "installment" plan, the premium is paid in monthly parts, which amounts to the same thing as paying a higher rate of interest for the loan.

As security for a loan, the association takes a mortgage on the real estate and an assignment to the association of the borrower's stock. It is obvious, of course, that this security is in reality almost entirely personal. The stock derives its value only from the prompt payment of dues. If dues are not paid the man is worthless. One of the best aspects of the association is the very fact that they provide the strongest incentive possible to saving, and consequently to frugal habits. The lending differs essentially from an ordinary loan, the maker of which always tries to secure himself absolutely against either the inability or the unwillingness of the borrower to pay. The two necessities of a building and loan association are: the constant payment of dues and the constant employment of the money obtained in that and other ways.

The ordinary par value of a share is $200, and the monthly dues on each share $1. If there were no interest or premiums a share would of course come to maturity in sixteen and two-third years, but as a matter of fact it is generally nearer ten or twelve years, for the profits of a well-managed association often reach from 12 to 20 per cent., this being because the interest is compounded monthly. In the earlier days of the building association movement it was the custom to make a new comer subscribe to shares from the beginning and pay in cash the amount that the other shareholders had already paid in dues. But this did not work well. When the borrowers in the association had been exhausted they could not be recuperated, because would-be shareholders could not afford to pay so much cash. Then the association had to collect large sums of money in order to meet the maturing shares of the non-borrowers. Hence it was found better not to have the association terminate all at once, but to establish a new series of shares which new comers could subscribe to. This was found convenient in many ways. A man could save up money in the first series to buy a lot, and then enter a second series to borrow money to build on it. Moreover, it gave the association more vitality by bringing new blood and new borrowers in all the time, thus assuring the steady employment of the association's money.

The building associations have made many blunders. The failure that some suffered when the movement first started was due to this fact. But they have learnt from experience, until at present they are an important factor in the building trade of the country. To all appearances this importance is on the increase. It has certainly been the most successful of all the co-operative experiments so abundantly tried here and abroad.

We are undoubtedly at the beginning of a period of great material prosperity, surely to be fostered by the Republican administration. The first century of the nation was given to the establishment of freedom amid great contentions. It resulted, not in the grasping by the people of rights and liberties from a superior despotic power, as in England and Europe, but in freedom as a principle, out of which all the fruits of freedom would grow. This first century was attended with the material prosperity, somewhat wasteful, gained by subduing a wild country. In our second century we proceed with freedom disembarrassed from future conflicts; a country brought into use and occupation with material interests of every kind established, and brought many of them to a high degree of success. Nothing now needs to be wasted. The political parties do not differ so widely as to interfere with this prosperity which everywhere prevails. We have under Republican control reached nearly a purely Democratic currency. It is national notes supported by an unusually strong reserve of gold coin, and national bank currency secured by an equal deposit of government bonds at a low rate of interest; that is, the people pay the banks 3 per cent. as a bonus for keeping their currency in circulation. So soon as the banks can do without the bonus, or the people tire of paying it, the banks will support their currency with gold. Each party will unite in reaching the old Bostonian system, the soundest currency in the world, and an immense support for national wealth.

Each party alike believes in free trade; they differ only in the application of the doctrine. If some one were to assert that to make the Mississippi River, or the Allegheny Ridge, a boundary, and enforce a high protective tariff on each side of it as a means of increasing national wealth, it would satisfy the whole country at once that absolute free trade within our own borders was the condition of national prosperity and wealth. No parties could be formed on that issue. The difference is in the application of the doctrine, and that is one of degree. The inquiry now is, how the whole nation may turn to the best advantage all the means and powers which its country affords in order to derive from them, as a nation, the greatest possible advantage and enjoyment? The principal issue now is on a matter of detail; whether this end will be better attained by the encouragement of manufactures by a lower duty on raw materials, a purely business question in which the people are likely to know their own interests.

We are free from all foreign complications, and from all perplexing questions as to what the individual owes to the State, and what the State shall do for the individual, which gave so much trouble to European countries, for here the individuals in mass are the State. The greatest dangers we can encounter are from our prosperity, or the overworking of special lines of human energy. The beginning of the second century is auspicious for material prosperity in every respect, and this city and its growth stand at the heart of the contingent to receive its full share of the benefit.

Our Letter Bag—The Growth of Socialism.

Editor RECORD AND GUIDE:

Will you grant me space in your columns to enter a protest against the growth of Socialism these days? I am an old subscriber to THE RECORD AND GUIDE, and an older Jeffersonian, a believer in the good doctrine under which this nation has increased so marvelously in numbers and wealth—that the people that are governed least are governed best; that the activity of the "State," outside of very narrow limits, is evil; and that the individual is much better qualified and much more able to manage his own affairs and look after his own interests than a lot of politicians (mostly corrupt) in a Legislature or a bureaucracy of paid officials.

A protest is necessary. The protest of every man is necessary. We are drifting to Socialism as fast as we decently can, and what surprises me is so few of us are aware of it. Look around. Things have come to such a pass now that one cannot go to church, take up a magazine, attend a public meeting, or hold ten minutes' conversation on general affairs without having to face Socialism.

Curiously, this increase of Socialism is not due to any great accession to the number of Socialists—that is, of men who are well aware of the ground they stand on and believe (what haven't people believed?)—that the condition of mankind is to be ameliorated, if not entirely reformed, through the agency of this "generality;" this dull "average" of the good and bad qualities of a Society, this "reflection" of a people in every feature which we call the "State." It is not among these that the Socialism of the day is to be found, for they are merely a handful, but among the multitude who, when occasion arises, denounce Socialism as fallacious, impracticable, unjust and even immoral; and then, with splendid inconsistency, demand in the same breath compulsory education, the inspection of tenement houses, stringent building laws, factory laws, railroad regulations, State telegraphs, municipal bridges, gas and water works, public markets, etc., ad nauseum. Whether the multitude know it or not, this is Socialism, and the simon pure article, too. Isn't it time we all recognise what we are drifting to. As yet Socialism with us is more of a tendency than a fact; but in the affairs of men events never die childless. Every event produces other events without number, and every Socialistic cry raised is answered by others as by echoes from around the horizon. We cannot say (or rather we may say it, to be always belied by the facts that follow,) that we will allow the State to intrude just so far upon the rights of the individual and no further. We have seen that immediately the State commenced to carry the mails it had to go into the stationery and printing business. In England it led to the ownership of the telegraph, and now to protect its telegraph interests it has to regulate and control the telephone. From teaching children the three Rs, we have come to teach them music, singing, drawing, foreign languages. The common school was followed by the high school and the State University, and in England the State-educated child is now crying to be State-fed, and the State-washed and the State-clothed child will soon be in accouchement.

We must learn that the least impairment of a principle destroys it.

In this country we have just completed the celebration of the crowning event of the stout struggle waged a hundred years ago for the freedom of the individual to pursue life and happiness unburdened and unhampered. Across the water, in France, they are celebrating the overthrow of the domination of a class, and a class, moreover, who undoubtedly believed, as others do to-day, that they were able to direct the mass of individuals they ruled better than those individuals could themselves. Yet, to-day, when I am prohibited from buying in the cheapest market the necessities and comforts of life so that some other individual may grow rich, what is it but a curtailment of my freedom and my right to pursue life and happiness in my own way provided I do not infringe on the like right of other people. And when the tax collector comes to me and demands, under penalties, that I pay for the education of my neighbor's child, the inspection of my neighbor's house, what is that but taxation for the benefit of a class? What difference is there in principle between taxing me for the benefit of John Smith or for the benefit of Lord Knows-who? I may be even more advantaged by ministering to the tastes of his lordship than by helping to pound the "three Rs" into the heads of John Smith's children and making a brood of bookkeepers of them and raising them "above" (God save the mark) mannal labor.

Is it just to tax me for the benefit of somebody else? Is that which is not just, right? Can that which is not right prosper—in the long run? Do not all our State regulations work as the Bavarian law did which prohibited the marriage of persons not possessed of certain means for the support of any children they might have? The law was enforced. Marriages among impecunious persons ceased. "One more social evil conquered!" cried the believer in State action. Fool! In a few years half the births in Munich were—illegitimate. Grand result!

Every wrong road in life is a cul-de-sac, necessitating a painful retreat. We are getting on to a wrong road with our Socialistic panacea—a wrong road because Socialism is not based upon justice, because it is establishing class rule—the rule of the so-called working class—for their benefit. God save us from injustice and the man with a panacea. T. GREGORY.

We give space to our correspondent's letter because, in spite of his alarm at the growth of Socialism, his communication voices the ideas of a still very numerous class. It is true "we are all Socialists now," though mostly of the kind that do not recognize their Socialism. The signs of the times are strongly Socialistic, and there is very little doubt that a larger and larger measure of Socialism will yet prevail.

It seems to us our correspondent is needlessly alarmed at the coming Socialism. He exaggerates it. He sees it in only an extreme form—a permanent, all-pervading tyranny imposed upon Society from without. Mankind, however, rarely accept a theory and then resolutely put it into complete practice. On the contrary, the world proceeds by experiment, and is led by one fact to another. Socialistic measures, whenever adopted, will be adopted irrespective of any theory or principle. They will not be the work of Socialists. They will not be imposed upon Society from without, but will be a growth from within, and will conform to some need of Society. Their existence will be the patent of their right to exist.

It is worth pointing out to our Jeffersonian friend that the long reign of Individualism in this country and in Great Britain has been preparing the way and is still preparing the way for Socialism. The consolidation of the "Working class" into trades unions and larger organizations wherein the interests of each is subordinated to the interests of all, the growth of benevolent labor Societies which in England have distributed $17,000,000 in supporting unemployed members, the establishment of mutual insurance Societies, have all been "centralizing" labor, thus preparing the way for the control of "Labor" by the State, just as the "trust" is "centralizing" Commerce and the consolidation of railroads, the Transportation of the country. From these to the "State" is a comparatively short step, one that can be taken when a larger and more difficult one could not. All centralization is towards State control.

No doubt to many people the dominance of the State over the individual will seem intolerable—that is, intolerable under present conditions. But conditions change. The Jeffersonian idea might continue to be the safest guide if this country continued as it was under Jefferson. But in many respects we are as far away from Jefferson as from Sesostris.

In an ideal state of Society, if every man were perfect, intellectually and morally, there would be no need for Socialism, just as in such a state there would be no need for Individualism. Every one would do right without the need of dictation in one direction or suppression in another. Wherever we find Socialistic measures applied or advocated it is as a remedy for an evil. Indeed, Socialism is a remedy. The perfect State, the perfect man, needs none of it. People are ignorant, refuse education to their children, or from some imperfection of their own or of others, cannot afford to send them to school, hence State schools and compulsory education. Dishonest builders erect poorly constructed, unsanitary houses, hence Building laws and Health laws. Indigence on the one hand and greed on the other gave rise to Factory laws and mine regulations; dishonest tradesmen necessitated adulteration laws, the inspection of weights and measures, and so on. Behind all Socialism, as behind all law, lurks some imperfection of the individual. As morality, sympathy and intelligence increase, Socialism must decrease and pass out of existence, just as certain crimes have passed from the statutes—repealed by the improvement of mankind.

As Individualism has made for Socialism, so Socialism may in turn make for Individualism. History contains many examples of what may be called the "Conversion of Opposites"—Evil making for good; tyranny for the largest freedom; war for peace. Every event in the past was legitimate and inevitable, and we may believe the nothing bas happened which has not contributed, or will not yet contribute, to the happiness of mankind. Take, for instance, the long rule of the aristocracy in Europe, which our correspondent decries. Was it an evil? Are we not now enjoying the fruits of thh concentration for many centuries of power and wealth upon a few individuals? That concentration set up standards of manners, learning, art, and even morality, which are ours to-day, but which the masses of Europe in twice as many centuries could not have given us. The strength of the nations was wasted to produce a consummate flower, the seeds of which were afterwards scattered broadcast. The refinements of life to-day and the elegancies which the common people share are the refinements and elegancies of the aristocracy. Our standard of manners is the standard set by the aristocracy. We owe the existence of most of our art and literature to the aristocracy. Our architecture is not the architecture of the masses, but of the aristocracy. Nor is our furniture, nor the decoration of our homes.

Who then can foretell the outcome of Socialism, or say what is good and what bad for the future. As to the Present it will always make about the best it can of things.

Is it a Good Thing for the City?

Editor Record and Guide:

I was very much interested to read in your issue of May 25th your remarks upon the bearing of Mayor Grant's continued Tammany appointments to the principle of administration under which he and his successors have been given sole power to make them. It seems to me that taking all in all you are rather too optimistic as to the success of the application of that principle. It has been continually argued in your editorial columns that the larger the body of men called upon to elect or to reject a given candidate, and the more important the issues at stake on that election, the more responsible the voters would feel, and consequently the more sanely they would vote. If in any case this responsibility is appreciated, and if at the same time other things were equal, I should regard this as undoubtedly so. But did not the last Mayoralty election show very plainly that other things were not equal, that the influence of a powerful political organization, existing only for the sake of spoils, was far more effective than that of a man of recognized integrity and experience. There could be little choice between Hewitt and Grant as desirable candidates, yet how far did Hewitt come from election?

The trouble is that the voters lack the requisite knowledge to distinguish a good candidate from a bad one. When the difference becomes glaring, and it is obvious that a vote for one man means a vote for economy, honesty and reform, there is little danger as to the result; but when things are going along fairly well, to all appearances, the average citizen is apt to be content with his present security, seeming or real, and vote as it affects his private interests, social relations, or passing whim. This being true, it is plain that no permanent reform can take place in our municipal government until the voters learn vigilance. This concentration of responsibility is a useful device in that it will probably teach them vigilance, and when the culprits are found out make it more easy to punish them. But this result will never be obtained until New York has again and again passed into and out of the hands of the spoilsmen. It should never be forgotten that all the reforms in municipal government which The Record and Guide has been advocating are only devices; they derive their efficiency proximately from the honesty and sagacity of the city officials and ultimately from the intelligence of the voters.

The electors of New York must learn that they cannot afford to put into the Mayor's office any man, however good his personal character, who will appoint city officials in the interest of any one or any two political organizations. The New York Sun has pointed out with what skill the prominent places have been filled so as to strengthen Tammany Hall. This may or it may not lead to an organized system of corruption; but whether it does or not there is every possibility of such a system. The gates are open. If Tammany can elect the next Mayor also, things will be doubly worse.

But what I wish to insist upon is, that a responsible Mayor is not the sum total of municipal reform. The voters must appreciate that a position of responsibility is not to be conferred without most painstaking consideration. They must be careful not merely to turn out bad men, but to elect safe ones. In one instance at least they have failed to do this.

The old depot of the New York & New Haven Railroad Company, on Centre street, is being rapidly torn down by F. W. Seagrist, Jr., & Co. The new building for Criminal Courts and other purposes, which is to be erected on the site, will be a great improvement to the neighboring property. It will occupy the entire block and will be 187 feet on Centre street, 190 on Franklin, 188 on Elm and 171 on Pike. It will occupy 34,000 square feet, and Walton, Storm, Chairman of the Finance Committee of the Board of Aldermen, says it will cost over $1,000,000.

The Associated Artists—the ladies who turn out such splendid work in embroidery on 23d street—have just finished a delicate piece of workmanship in the shape of a portière of plush applied to a cloth of gold. The design comprises six dolphins worked in different colors, light pink and green, red and pink, and one or two copper shades, the whole giving an impression of the highest artistic excellence in embroidery. The design was drawn by Miss Ella Ward, a young lady who possesses considerable talent in this direction and who is now studying abroad. The portière is valued at $400. Cornelius Vanderbilt, a few years ago, gave $2,000 for a piece of tapestry done by the young artists of this association, who are producing work equal to that done in Europe.

There is a play being produced at the Windsor Theatre that renders excusable the absurdities of Miss Rosina Vokes' extravaganza, the "Ghastly Manor." This play—"The Mystery of Fernley Abbey"—is simply the most impossible combination of bad construction, ill-conceived characters, absurd and unnatural situations, poor, trite humor and silly declamation that it has ever been the misfortune of the writer to witness. Its utter futility is all the more apparent because there are really some clever actors in the company, who are simply overweighted with the endeavor to put some animated sense and sensible animation into their parts. You can almost respect Mr. Couldock as the blacksmith, you can almost laugh at Mr. Kennedy as the impoverished actor, you can quite sympathize with Miss Evelyn Campbell in her unnecessary troubles, but in every case in spite of the author.

The Finance Committee of the Real Estate Exchange have made the following report on the matter of converting the mortgage on the property from 4½ per cent. into 3 per cent.:

Over 300 stockholders having signed consent to change the mortgage indebtedness, as contemplated by the directors, your committee respectfully submit the report which was presented at the meeting of the Board of Directors on May 7, 1889, and placed on file, and request that they be now empowered to proceed to obtain subscriptions in accord with the same, and issue bonds, etc. GEO. H. SCOTT, IRA WARREN and GEO. R. READ.

The directors will meet on Tuesday to consider the question finally. Mr. Scott, who has been very active in the matter, says that he has little doubt but that the money will be subscribed inside of the Exchange.

In the City Departments.

The Common Council over four years ago established the width of the roadway of West End avenue at forty feet. They have now rescinded that resolution and have applied it only to that portion of the avenue south of 69th street.

Granite block pavement is to be placed on 159th street, between 10th avenue and the Boulevard, and on 113th street from the Boulevard to Riverside Drive.

People who drive will be glad to know that a watering trough is to be placed at Broadway and McComb's street, Kingsbridge, in front of James Mulligan's. It will be subject to removal at the pleasure of the Common Council.

The roadway of the avenue bounding Morningside Park on the westerly side is to be regulated and paved with a Telford and macadamized foundation, having a gravel surface, except the gutters, which are to be paved with trap-rock blocks. Other minor improvements are also ordered along this roadway.

The widening of the sidewalk of Edgecombe avenue, between 141st and 145th streets, will certainly increase the value of the property between these four blocks. It will result in the roadway being reduced from 39 to 30 feet in width and the sidewalks on both sides being widened 4 feet 6 inches on each side.

Croton mains are to be laid in the following streets: 89th, 90th and 91st streets, from the Boulevard to Riverside Drive; 102d street, from 9th to 10th avenues, and 125th street, from 10th to Manhattan avenue. Water mains are to be laid in 85th street, between the Boulevard and Riverside Drive; St. Ann's avenue, between the Southern Boulevard and 122d street, and in 132d street, betreen St. Ann's and Willis avenues; Walton avenue, from 149th to 150th street; the east side of 9th avenue, from 101st to 102d street, and 101st and 102d streets, from 9th to Manhattan avenue, and in Cedar place, from Trinity to Eagle avenue.

The City of New York will have two fine edifices in the Municipal and Court buildings, for the plans of which they are advertising. The successful architect, in each case, will be a fortunate man, as he will not only secure an award of $1,500 and a 5 per cent. fee for the design and superintendence, on an estimated cost of over $2,000,000 in the one case and over $1,000,000 in the other, but he will achieve considerable distinction in his profession. The plans for the Municipal building are to be in by August 1st, and those for the Criminal Courts by June 20th. The drawings in both cases are to be sent in under assumed names, and in the selection the Board of Commissioners will be assisted by three architects and a civil engineer, to be appointed by the Mayor. In the case of the Municipal building three of the unsuccessful architects will have an opportunity of recouping themselves for their work, as a premium of $1,500 will be awarded to the plan adjudged second best, and $500 to the two plans deemed third and fourth best.

Important Buildings Under Way.

II.

BETWEEN FOURTEENTH AND FIFTY-NINTH STREETS.

In our last week's article the principal buildings under way south of 14th street were given. They included those for which plans have been filed in the Building Department this year, together with the buildings contemplated or under way. The list comprised structures from five to ten stories in height, and from $60,000 to $700,000 each in estimated cost, the total expenditure on them being in the neighborhood of $5,000,000. When it is considered that there are numerous smaller improvements under way, it will at once be seen how extensive will be the building movement this year. The principal buildings between 14th and 59th streets are given below, and while they are not as costly as those further south there are still some large structures to be built aggregating millions of dollars.

One of the most important improvements within the boundaries just named is the building now being erected on the northwest corner of 14th street and Union square. The plans called for a ten-story building, but this has been changed to a nine-story building, the two first floors and basement of which will be used for store purposes and the six floors above for offices, of which there will be ninety in all, while the top floor will be used for studios, of which there will be fifteen. The building will have a frontage of 51.7 on the square and 116.10 on the street, and the store part will probably be used by Simpson, Crawford & Simpson, one of the firm of which, William Crawford, is the owner of the building. The first four stories of the front will be of Indiana limestone, the three stories above of brick, and the two top stories of terra cotta. It will have three elevators, two passenger and one freight, and steam heat, electric lighting and other modern conveniences will be provided. The architect, R. H. Robertson, says that the building is being pushed forward with all speed and will be completed at the rate of nearly one story per week as far as the masonwork is concerned. It is now nearly up to the the third story. The cost is estimated at $250,000. The contractors so far selected are: Walter Jones & Co, masons; The Jackson Architectural Iron Works, iron; Gill & Sons, stone.

The Methodist Book Concern's building on the southwest corner of 5th avenue and 20th street is nearing completion. It will be eight stories high and 104.3x170 in size. It will have offices for the bishops, the Missionary Society, the Christian Advocate, the Board of Education, etc., and will have a printing house in the rear on the upper floors. It will also have a chapel on the third floor in which religious services will be held daily, and a library, reception rooms, etc., will be provided. The cost will be about $500,000. E. H. Kendall, the architect, expects the building to be ready in the fall.

On 23d and 24th streets three buildings are going up to the order of A. B. Darling, of the Fifth Avenue Hotel, from plans by D. & J. Jardine. They are all six stories high, one of them being 75x80 in size, on 23d street, 325 feet west of 6th avenue, adjoining Proctor's Theatre. Another will be 25x80 in size. The third building will be in the rear, on the south side of 24th street, 304 feet west of 6th avenue. The former are as far as the foundations, while the latter is up to the top story. The first floor and basement of the 23d street building will be occupied by Messrs. Cassidy & Son, the manufacturers of gas fixtures, while the whole of the 24th street building will be occupied by them as a factory and will be 84.4x117.6 in size. The upper floors of the 23d street building will be rented as offices and studios, with the exception of the 25-foot building adjoining, which will probably be rented out for warehouse purposes. The buildings are to be ready in October, and will cost about $125,000. They will have three elevators, two passenger and one freight. A. A. Andruss & Son are the masons, and McGuire & Sloane are the carpenters.

Ehrich Bros.' new building is up to the fourth floor. It has a frontage of 91.1 feet on 6th avenue, 76.7 on 22d street and 43.4 on 23d street. It will have an iron front on the avenue and 23d street, and a brick front on 22d street. It is to have four or five elevators and will cost about $250,000. The building will be completed about September 1st, and will be occupied by the owners. Wm. Schickel & Co. are the architects.

The Manhattan Brass Company is building a six-story brick and stone front factory on the southwest corner of 1st avenue and 28th street. It will be an unpretentious building of substantial construction, and will be occupied by the owners when completed. It will have a frontage of 98.8 feet and a depth of 100, and will cost about $80,000. The foundations are being excavated for at present and the building will be ready about October or November, so the architects, Buchman & Deisler, expect. The masons are Messrs. Dawson & Archer, I. B. Jacobs, of Brooklyn, being the carpenter, and Adam Wagner the contractor for the ironwork.

The church to be built for the Carmelite Fathers on 28th and 29th streets, 100 feet west of 1st avenue, will be commenced in about a month's time. At present none of the contracts have been given out, nor will the factory on the site be torn down for a week or two yet. It will be an iron front edifice and will be 60x178.6 in size. T. H. Poole is the architect.

The southwest corner of 5th avenue and 28th street is being improved by the erection of a six-story brick business building, 28.4x71 in size. It is to have a store on the first floor and offices above. The foundations are partly finished. Adjoining this building, on the south side of 28th street, commencing 71 feet west of 5th avenue, within half a minute's walk of Broadway, another building of a similar character is being constructed and is up to the roof. It is 54x112.10 in size. Both structures are being built to the order of Joseph Thompson, agent for the owner, from plans by J. E. Terhune. A passenger elevator, steam heat, and other conveniences will be provided. W. Van Doorn is the carpenter, and Thompson & Mickens are the masons, of both buildings, which will cost, together, about $100,000.

The most important improvement up town is that of the nine-story hotel which is to be built by Robert and Ogden Goelet, on the southeast corner of Broadway and 32d street. It will have a frontage of 91.9 feet on Broadway and 133.10 on the street, and will thus cover 12,279 square feet. The first story will contain a number of handsome stores, the second story a dozen offices, and the balance of the building suites of apartments and rooms for a family hotel. The front is to be of Tuckahoe marble, buff brick and light terra cotta, and will present a fine appearance. Two elevators, steam heat, electric light, etc., will be provided, and the rear rooms will be lighted from an interior court. The cost of the building is estimated by the architects, Messrs. McKim, Mead & White, at $500,000. The principal contractors are: Michael Reid, mason; Norcross Bros., carpenters; J. B. & J. M. Cornell, iron; Harkness Boyd, plumbing; Gillis & Geoghegan, heating; Otis & Co., elevators; Hurst & Treanor, sidewalks; Matt. Taylor, granolithic; the Perth Amboy Terra Cotta Company and the United States Illuminating Company.

The southwest corner of 34th street and Lexington avenue is being covered with two seven-story flats of fire-proof contruction. One is 47.6x113.6 in size, and the other 47.6x107.6, and it is said that they will cost $265,000 together. Elevators, steam heat and other improvements will be provided. The basement on Lexington avenue will have one large store and two small ones, while there will be two suites per floor in each flat, making twenty-eight in all. The two buildings will be connected in the cellar and basement. They are up to the fourth tier of beams. The basement and first story will be of Indiana limestone, and the stories above of buff brick with stone trimmings. Architect Geo. E. Harding expects they will be ready for occupancy next spring. Thomas Brennan is the owner and builder.

The Robert L. Cutting estate is building a factory on the north side of 40th street, 225 feet west of 1st avenue. It will be 100x95.9 in size, and will be divided into two buildings, one of which will probably be rented as a piano manufactory. It will have two freight elevators, and the front will be of brick, stone and iron. The foundations are now being worked at, and the building will be ready about September. It will have a five-story front and a three-story rear, and will cost about $50,000 to $60,000. D. & J. Jardine are the architects. The main contractors are Dawson & Archer, masons; O. T. Mackey, carpenter; Z. Ayres, iron work.

The Manhattan Athletic Club's building on the southeast corner of Madison avenue and 45th street is up to the first tier of beams. The swimming bath, which is to be one of the largest in the country, the boiler and engine rooms and one or two other compartments have already been constructed. The club was described at length in these columns some time ago. It will have a frontage of 125 feet on the avenue and 115 feet on the street. It will have twelve bowling alleys, Turkish, Russian and swimming baths, a café, rifle range, etc., in the basement; a reception room, main parlor 38x65, billiard and pool tables, etc., on the first floor; a concert room 60x110 and stage for theatricals, athletic exhibitions and musicales, on the second floor; a gymnasium on the third floor; dining rooms, etc., on the fourth floor, and a roof garden above. Passenger and freight elevators, electric lights and every modern improvement will be provided. The building will cost $275,000. P. J. Lauritzen, the architect, expects to have the club finished by May 1, 1890.

Several improvements on 5th avenue, 43d and 44th streets, present and contemplated, were mentioned at length in our last, in an article entitled "An Unexpected Local Improvement." They include: 1. The Fifth Avenue Bank's new building on the northwest corner of 5th avenue and 44th street, on which the bank will spend $50,000 or more in altering the old Cornell house into a fine modern business building, from plans by R. W. Gibson. 2. The New York Academy of Medicine's building on the north side of 43d street, 245.8 feet west of 5th avenue, to cost $140,000, from plans by R. H. Robertson. 3. A new building for the Century Club on the same block to the east, for which the architect has not yet been selected. 4. The Brearley School, not definitely decided upon. 5. A proposed extension to Dr. Paxton's church.

Plans were some time ago filed for a seven-story flat and four six-story flats to be built on the southeast corner of Lexington avenue and 48th street, by Angelo Mondolfo, to cost about $200,000, but no traces of their commencement are to be seen on the site. The architects, Schneider & Herter, say they will probably be commenced in a few weeks.

Central Park West.

I have for some time been laboring under a sort of hazy impression as to the character of that part of 8th avenue known as Central Park West, between 60th and 110th streets. I have had an idea that it was lined more or less with the most promiscuous lot of buildings to be seen on any avenue in the city, a conglomeration in which first-class apartment houses, second-class flats, handsome residences, innumerable shanties and an institution or two were mingled together in one long row of sightly and unsightly structures. The other day the thought struck me that I would like to know just exactly how the matter stood. Here, thought I, is a splendid avenue overlooking the Central Park, with vast future possibilities before it. It ought to be the site of some of the finest residencss and apartment houses in the city, and yet, from a blind neglect on the part of builders, the land lies idle, while other and less favored spots are coddled and made much of. Surely, builders and real estate dealers would be interested in knowing where the march of improvement is under way on this avenue, and what parts of it look desirable for improvement at an early date. So I took a run along the entire distance fronting the Central Park and back again, surveying each block, with the result given below. Fortunately, I entered my task with a light heart, after being confronted with the handsome facade of Durland's Riding Academy, with its two little towers ornamenting the corners facing the 8th Avenue Plaza and its cheerful lawn and shrubbery in front. The description of the ground under the heading of "Present Condition" takes in the eight lots on each block front on Central Park West, between the streets indicated:

BETWEEN.			PRESENT CONDITION.
60th and	61st	streets	—Occupied by Durland's Riding Academy.
61st and	62d	"	—Occupied partly by the Van Norman Institute, rest vacant.
62d and	63d	"	—Entire front vacant.
63d and	64th	"	—Saloon, stable and two old shanties, all frame, rest vacant.
64th and	65th	"	—Entire front vacant.
65th and	66th	"	—One shanty, seven lots vacant.
66th and	67th	"	—One shanty on the southwest corner, seven lots vacant.
67th and	68th	"	—Entire front vacant. Three to six feet of rock on part of the ground.
68th and	69th	"	—Entire front vacant.
69th and	70th	"	—Four or five frame houses on 100 feet. The four lots on the northwest corner of 69th street vacant, two or three of them having rock on about twelve to fifteen feet high, the highest rock along the whole avenue.
70th and	71st	"	—Five frame shanties and dwellings, including a saloon. The rest vacant.
71st and	72d	"	—Four shanties on the northwest corner of 71st street. Four lots on the 72d street corner vacant.
72d and	73d	"	—The handsome and imposing "Dakota" apartment house, by far the finest and costliest structure on the avenue.
73d and	74th	"	—Entire front vacant.
74th and	75th	"	—Michael Brennan, excavating and getting in foundations for several handsome flats.
75th and	76th	"	—Frame saloon on the northwest corner, seven lots vacant
76th and	77th	"	—Entire front vacant.
77th and	81st	"	—American Museum of Natural History. The addition near the 77th street front is now about up to the second story.
81st and	82d	"	—A flat being erected, now up to the sixth story, taking up 100 feet frontage on the northwest corner Four lots on the southern corner vacant.
82d and	83d	"	—The whole front covered with six flats. Three are five stories high on the northern corner, and adjoining these are two flats, up to their third tier of beams, which are being built by Wm. Hall's Sons. The southern corner of 83d street is covered with a flat, now up to the sixth story.
84th and	85th	"	—Wm. Noble s nine residences, an ornament to the avenue. Some of them are sold and some occupied.
83d and	84th	"	—Wm. Hall's Sons will build a six-story flat on the northwest corner of 83d street. The southern corner of 84th street will be improved by Chas. H. Lindsley.
85th and	86th	"	—One frame house on the northern corner of 85th street. Seven lots vacant.
86th and	87th	"	—The grounds of the Mahattan Athletic Club.
87th and	91st	"	—Four block fronts vacant.
91st and	92d	"	—An institution on the southern corner of 92d street—an old two-story attic and basement structure. The res vacant.
92d and	93d	"	—Shanty on the southern corner. Rest vacant.
93d and	94th	"	—Two five-story brick and brown stone flats in the middle of the block. The rest vacant.
94th and	95th	"	—Entire front vacant; 15 to 20 feet below grade.
95th and	96th	"	—One shanty; seven lots vacant.
96th and	97th	"	—Entire front vacant.
97th and	98th	"	—One house; seven lots vacant.
98th and	99th	"	—One shanty; seven lots vacant.
99th and	100th	"	—Two-story brick saloon on the northern corner of 99th street; seven lots vacant.
100th and	101st	"	—Three-story brick building on the northern corner of 100th street; seven lots vacant.
101st and	102d	"	—Entire front vacant; 10 to 20 feet below grade.
102d and	103d	"	—Shanty on northern corner of 102d street; seven lots vacant. Plot of 100 feet on southern corner of 103d street blasted out ready for building.
103d and	104th	"	—Entire front vacant; a little rock on two or three lots.
104th and	105th	"	—Entire front vacant.
105th and	106th	"	—Cancer Hospital, an ornamental and attractive building covering about six lots; the balance, on the northern corner of 105th street, vacant.
106th and	107th	"	—One five-story brown stone front flat, the "Ella," adjoining the southwest corner of 107th street; seven lots vacant.
107th and	110th	"	—Three block fronts vacant, about 15 to 25 feet below grade; elevated road runs by the 110th street corner.

An analysis of the property improved and unimproved shows the following results:

Total No. of block fronts	50
Total No. of lots (about)	402
No. of lots improved	96
No. of lots unimproved	306
No. of flats and apartment houses	11
No. of private residences	9
Miscellaneous buildings, including riding academy, hospital, club stand, museum, etc	6
No. of old houses, stables, shanties, etc., nearly all frame (about)	30

It will thus be seen that only about one-quarter of the frontage has been improved, and that the balance is open to improvement. In the number of lots improved, in the above table, the four blocks occupied by the Museum count thirty-two lots alone. Durland's takes in about ten lots, while the Dakota covers eight lots on the avenue front, not to speak of its street frontage, which here is not taken into consideration, as only the avenue fronts are dealt with.

The improvements on the avenue thus far seem to point to its being occupied, from a residence point of view, mainly by flats. It is, indeed, the natural avenue for first-class apartment houses, for it gives such a superb view of Central Park and will never have any buildings opposite, advantages which, sooner or later, will make their influence felt. A number of handsome residences will no doubt also creep in here and there.

Sanitary and Plumbing News.

The communication from "A Disgusted Plumber," in a recent issue, has evoked some expressions of opinion on the controversy which, it appears has been carried on for some time past in a more or less animated manner between the Health Department and the Master Plumbers. As the point involved are of interest to the building community because of the delay caused by stoppage of work through the service of "violations," we append, in a condensed form, the gist of the opinions advanced, as indicating how far public sentiment is in favor of a modification of the cast-iron rule, the execution of which led to so much dissatisfaction toward the close of Mr Bayles' brief, but otherwise satisfactory, term of office.

"A Builder" writes to say that the system of reporting every little mistake of the plumber's workmen in a building is little better than a nuisance. He thinks the Board of Health should employ no one for Inspectors of Plumbing who do not understand the work which they go out to supervise; that it ought to be the duty of the inspector if he sees a plumber doing work which is not in accordance with the Board regulations to tell the man that he is not doing his work properly—and if he can show him the way that it should be done, so much the better. This, however, he says, is not done; but, as far as can be judged by written communications of Mr. Bayles, the inspector is not allowed to be a "plumber's foreman," which means that he is not to tell him beforehand what he is to do, but if he does wrong then he reports the work in violation and causes a delay of four or five days before it can be again got under way. He illustrates his position thus: "Suppose the plumber sets his water closets, and the carpenter comes along to put the windows in the water-closet shafts or put up the casing or the seats and should stand on the 'back-air' pipes from the water-closet trap, he bends them by his weight, and when the inspector comes along and sees the pipe sagged on goes a violation for 'bowed vents and the carpenter work around these closets is stopped until the violation notice is served on the owner and the inspector comes around again. Now, what is to hinder that inspector from calling the plumber and telling him to take the sag out of that pipe at once? But he won't do that, because he wants to show his authority; and it is time that this should be stopped and proper authority be given to the inspector to use his own judgment and not put obstacles in the builders' way."

"Another Disgusted Plumber" strengthens the arguments of his brother craftsman, in a recent issue, in favor of having the plumber recognized as the party to whom the notice of defective work should be sent, because if there are any serious defects in the work the master plumber will be arrested without the owner being at all consulted in the matter. He argues, with some show of reason, that if the plumber is made personally accountable for the neglect of his men in great matters, why is he not dealt with in the same manner in the lesser faults of workmanship? If one or two open joints are found in the iron pipes, the master plumber is placed under arrest. If minor defects are found to exist the plumber is entirely ignored, and the owner is notified that the plumbing work is in violation of law. There is not much consistency in this course, he claims, and he is of opinion that there is an inconsistency about the whole business of violations which President Wilson should not countenance. He closes his communication by a very vigorous denunciation of the habit of many of the inspectors, viz.: that of sneaking into a building without letting the plumber know of his presence, and then reporting in violation whatever unfinished work he comes across.

That there is considerable dissatisfaction with existing methods of procedure, as pursued by the Bureau of New Buildings, is evidenced by the above and others which it is unnecessary to reproduce. Delay in the approval for several weeks of plans filed, owing to the alleged absence of the chief inspector, and other causes, is also dwelt upon in one or two instances, and these utterances of discontent are now probably made in the hope that all of the real or fancied grievances of the writers could not be presented at a better time than on the occasion of the change in the presidency. While it is very desirable that public business in the public departments should be disposed of with dispatch, yet it not unfrequently happens that the fault of delay does not always rest in the department. Probably if matters were closely inquired into some at least of the delays in the disposition of plans may be due to the complaining architects themselves who fail to come up to the requirements of the Health regulations. There are always two sides to a story, and we have only one side in this instance.

The pressure test now required in all new plumbing work in this city is every day demonstrating the deceptive character of the iron soil and waste pipe used indiscriminately prior to the new Health regulations, and even at the present time in old buildings. Inquiry among the plumbers elicits the fact that even with the extra heavy cast iron now in use it is an impossibility to get pipe free from sand holes and able to stand the air pressure of ten pounds to the square inch. A few days ago, a reporter of THE RECORD AND GUIDE, having occasion to see an architect in a new building, was surprised on entering to see the vertical lines of iron pipe patched here and there with tar and litharge, and on inquiry was informed that the daubing was rendered necessary to enable the pipe to withstand the pressure. The reporter asked if the Board of Health allowed that sort of pipe to stand, and was informed that it would be "all right." The next day, visiting the architect again, he found the hapless plumber and his men engaged in taking out the daubed lengths of pipe which the Health Inspector condemned. The discovery of defects after the pipe is up is, it appears, quite common, and the worst of it is the manufacturers will not be responsible further than to exchange the defective lengths for a sound quality of pipe. If this be the case to any great extent in new extra heavy pipe, what must be the actual condition in the old buildings where the tarred pipe, with its defects covered up, presents but a poor defense against the entrance of sewer gas into our dwellings?

The era of "jerry building" is not over, evidently, in this city. Recently the attention of a reporter of THE RECORD AND GUIDE was directed to two tenements erected within the past few months, which were on that particular day the destination of a member of the Sanitary Police Squad, charged with the service of an order from the Board of Health for the vacation of the premises, then only partly occupied. The unusual circumstances induced a casual inspection of the houses, and the result showed that the lessons of Buddensieck were not wholly forgotten. The plumbing work was in a dismantled condition, the sinks had been removed, the sink waste pipes and traps were bent and broken, the ground keys were taken out of the water pipes, and not a water-closet was completed or fit for use in the building, although some sixteen or twenty families had already moved into the house. Inquiry developed the fact that the buildings were erected by a speculative builder; that the plumbing contract was taken at so low a price that the plumber was a loser; that, in addition, it was reported that the buildings were covered by loans aggregating $34,000, leaving no margin for a mechanic's lien; that the tradesmen were unpaid, and that the contracting plumber had removed all of his material, which was not actually set permanently, even to the cedar tank on the roof and the gas pump in the cellar. After an ineffectual effort to get another plumber to finish the work to the satisfaction of the Health Department the original contractor had to be guaranteed his money, and has since, we learn, discharged his contract. Meanwhile the impression which these buildings are calculated to create on the observer is, have we a Bureau of Building Inspection in New York City?

There is no small amount of dissatisfaction among a large class of investors in house property in this city, because the Health Department will not give a certificate setting forth that the plumbing work in any building has been finished in accordance with the plans and specifications on file and the regulations framed by the department. The Bureau of Inspection of New Buildings, it is alleged, is not managed in a way to show a desire to give the public any information that can be withheld. The prospective buyer to be sure can go to the department, and the clerk will inform him, if he desires it, whether there is any violation of law recorded against the building; but that is not satisfactory, because there is no official record to produce. It is only a verbal assurance, which is not of much benefit, because it has to be merely repeated from one to another without anything to show that there is foundation for the statement.

An instance of the need of some such official guaranty is afforded by the failure recently of the sale of a tenement building on the west side of Park avenue, between 90th and 91st streets, on the alleged ground that though the building was only finished some five or six months ago the plumbing work was said to be not up to the standard, notably the joints connecting the leaden and the iron pipe being filled with paper. There may not have been any grounds for it, but it is alleged that the sale fell through, which might not have occurred had there been a certificate issued by the Board of Health to produce for the satisfaction of the buyer. The house in question was also damaged in reputation through the lack of judgment displayed in placing the tank insecurely on the roof so that it toppled over during a recent storm and fell through to the next floor with its entire contents. The Health and Building Departments might with advantage in such instances improve on their methods of inspection and reports when a building is completed.

The great dissatisfaction expressed generally by the plumbers some time ago with the character of the iron pipe furnished them by the different manufacturers, in view of the severe tests now applied by the Health Department inspectors, has been in great part removed by the improved article now supplied which is sufficient to stand the required pressure of air or water. The choice is, we understand, left to the plumbers, and there is not now the difficulty experienced in making the pipes proof against the test. Evidently the complaints which were being made last year have stimulated both our own manufacturers and those of other cities, for we learn of an article in this line which may probably find its way here some time or another. The exterior surface of the pipe is ribbed or serrated, and when inserted in the hub and the molten lead poured in and calked it is claimed that the joint will stand against any amount of pressure, expansion, or the other ills which lead joints are heir to. The principal recommendation of the pipe is, that the grooves or ribs which circle round the pipe, the spaces being only three-eighths of an inch apart, and this affords facilities for cutting not presented by any other description of pipe in the market, the grooving preventing the liability to split or crack under the cutting process. This pipe is claimed to stand a hydraulic pressure of 500 pounds without a leak, and if this is actually the case the manufacturers are to be congratulated. Their brother craftsmen in the East have not found the application of the pressure tests an unmixed blessing so far, although there are less complaints about the quality of the iron pipe now supplied than heretofore.

There is a strong tendency on the part of owners and architects to dispense with the running trap on the main house drain which has so long been the sheet-anchor of the "sanitary expert of the period." Our reporters, in their rounds among builders, find the anti-trap feeling growing, and the plumbers in many instances state that after the plans for plumbing of new buildings have been approved it is by no means uncommon to have applications for amendments in this regard placed on file in the Health Department. In the low-lying sections of the city, gate or tide-valves are substituted to prevent the "backing" of the tide-water through the drains. There is a section of the Health Department regulations providing for this application, and now it becomes a matter of interest just to ask, if the trap is necessary why do away with it in any instance, and if it can be dispensed with in safety in one instance why not discard it altogether?

No. 5.—67th st and Boulevard, and to extent of half block.]

The above described list will be transmitted for confirmation on the 26th day of June, 1889.

The Union League Club's (of Brooklyn) new building was inadvertently reported last week as being an extension. The structure will be entirely new, there being no building on the spot at present, the ground being vacant. There were six competing architects.

Real Estate Department.

There has been less doing than usual in the real estate offices and on 'Change this week, mainly owing to the intervention of Decoration Day. The sales at the Exchange have been composed to a very large extent of out-of-town property, including quite a number of parcels in Westchester County. The city properties offered were generally unimportant and require no particular mention.

The conveyances and mortgages for the week show a slight increase over the figures of the corresponding week last year. The projected buildings are 20 larger in number and $1,387,025 in amount. This is mainly due to the filing of plans for the new World building on the northeast corner of Park row and Frankfort street for $1,000,000. It is to be thirteen stories high, exclusive of a dome 112 feet high, and will be 115.4x136.8 in size. The total height will be about 300 feet. Geo. B. Post, as previously reported in these columns, is the architect, while the mason selected is Robert L. Darragh, Philip Herman's Son being the carpenter.

The Hyatt estate sale of property, near Woodlawn, in the City of Yonkers, took place Wednesday, on the premises. The property has been in the family 102 years, and as it was a partition sale every parcel had to be sold. There were 257 parcels in all, and they brought $53,087.50. The highest figure obtained was for the lot on the corner of Bronx road and McLean avenue, 75.8x64.5x95.9x128.6, which brought $800, the inside lots bringing from $250 to $425 each. The parcels sacrificed were those a few hundred yards away from the McLean villa. They were about 100 feet square, and some went for as low as $60. Advances have been obtained on several of the parcels sold, all of which were considered very cheap.

On Decoration Day, James L. Wells sold on the premises, at Fordham, the property belonging to the C. L. Cammann estate, comprising eighty-five lots on Creston and Kirkside avenues, Kingsbridge road and Donnybrook street, at good prices, particulars of which are given in another column.

On Tuesday, June 4th, Richard V. Harnett & Co. will sell the very valuable properties at Nos. 124, 126 and 128 5th avenue, and No. 2 West 18th street, comprising three handsome residences and two stables, with a frontage of 92 feet on the avenue and a depth of 175 feet. The property is admirably adapted for alteration into a business building. Immediate possession can be given, and 70 per cent. can remain for a term of years.

On Tuesday, June 4th, Adrian H. Muller & Son will sell the valuable improved and unimproved properties belonging to the estate of the late John F. Delaplaine. They comprise Nos. 705 and 707 3d avenue, 34 Walker and 309 Church street, 114 Warren, 239 and 241 Bowery, 928 to 932 9th avenue, 161 West 19th street, 218 West 32d street, 30 West 66th street, and 424 and 426 East 18th street, and lots on 4th and 9th avenues, West 97th and East 75th streets. This will be a very important sale and will attract a large crowd of investors.

On Tuesday, June 4th, Richard V. Harnett & Co. will sell 365½ city lots at Yonkers, belonging to the estate of Fred'k H. Cossitt. They will be sold in thirty-seven plots, and will offer an excellent opportunity to young beginners to acquire a site for a home at figures that are out of the question in New York. Yonkers and vicinity is healthily situated, and the Cossitt property is on some of the highest ground and commands an extensive view. It is situated on North Broadway, Palisade avenue and Shonnard place. Seventy-five per cent. can remain for five years at 5 per cent. The property can be reached in an hour from Wall street.

On Wednesday, June 5th, Richard V. Harnett & Co will offer the handsome villa, with surrounding grounds, known as "Elmhurst," at Arlington, on the Montclair Railroad. It has a frontage of 343 feet on the Passaic River, and has all the conveniences for making a fine home for a well-to-do family. It is to be sold by order of the estate of the late James C. Ludlow.

On Tuesday, June 11th, Adrian H. Muller & Son will sell, by order of the Supreme Court, in partition, 160 choice and valuable plots of land situated in the village of Westchester, Westchester County, being part of the Givan Homestead. They average about fully an acre in size, and are located about half a mile from Williamsbridge on the highway from Westchester to Eastchester. There are lots situated on Palmer Boulevard also. This is a positive sale. The title is guaranteed, and 70 per cent. of the purchase money can remain on mortgage for five years.

Gossip of the Week.

SOUTH OF 59TH STREET.

Otto Pullich and O. S. Holden have sold for James Alexander Striker six full lots on the east side of 9th avenue, between 52d and 53d streets, with the old building thereon, for $90,000; and for Jacob Vix two five-story tenements with stores, 25x85x100 each, Nos. 423 and 425 West 52d street for $54,750.

D. Kempner & Son have sold for F. Lavelle the three three-story brick buildings at Nos. 307 to 311 West 43d street, with plot 75x100, for $45,000.

H. V. Mead & Co. have sold the three-story brick private house No. 250 West 31st street, 20x40x98.9, for Mrs. Flora R. Scott, to James Madden, on private terms.

John J. Clancy & Co. have sold for Judge Charles P. Daly the four-story brown stone dwelling, 20x60x100, No. 334 West 58th street, to Dr. M. Deschere for $22,000 cash, and the three-story brown stone dwelling No. 224 East 128th street, on private terms.

L. Froehlich has sold for Mrs Lynch the four-story single flat, 20x50x63, No. 1058 2d avenue, for $12,000, and for Mrs. Disosway the four-story and basement brown stone front residence, 16.3x50x70, No. 603 Lexington avenue, for $14,000.

J. S. Sturdevant has sold for Eliza B. More to Augustus C. Bechstein the lot and store No. 110 Hudson street, 21.10x75, for $18,000.

B. Galewski has sold to Benedike Klain No. 97 Allen street for $16,500.

Peabody & Co., the brokers in the transaction, have notified us that the price paid for No. 18 West 10th street, the sale of which we reported last week, was $52,500.

In the article on Columbia College Leaseholds, last week, V. K. Stevenson stated that he is the owner of No. 613 5th avenue. Mrs. M. M. Huylar writes to us that she has owned that house since 1881.

NORTH OF 59TH STREET.

Scott & Bowen have sold to M. A. Lawson the plot on the southeast corner of 104th street and Manhattan avenue, 100.11x100, for improvement. E. M. Mallett, broker.

C. K. Bill has sold for Ellen M. Harlow the apartment house No. 126 West 83d street, to Laura R. Concklin for $34,500.

J. J. Schwartz has sold for Whitfield Terriberry the three five-story double brick tenements and stores at Nos. 2547, 2553 and 2555 8th avenue, 25x65x85 each, to Alex. F. Blinn for $78,000, and for the latter to the former the three three-story brick tenements and stores at Nos. 2003 to 2007 Fulton street, Brooklyn, 20x50x87 each, for $30,000, and the three-story frame house at No. 896 Bedford avenue, Brooklyn, lot 25x100, for $10,000.

I. Kuhn has sold to D. Greenfield the three five-story houses, 75.11x75, on the southwest corner of 2d avenue and 102d street, and one house, 25x85x100, adjoining on 102d street, on private terms; and for Heyman Bros. four five-story flats with stores, 100.11x75, on the northeast corner of 101st street and 2d avenue, on terms which have not transpired.

We are informed that instead of one dwelling on 76th street, between 8th and 9th avenues, as was reported last week, B. S. Levy has sold five dwellings to Dr. Lozier.

M. A. Hoppock has sold for M. A. Lawson the four-story and basement brown stone front single flat No. 221 West 104th street, 21x73, lot 25x100, to Mathilde R. Bechenberg for $27,750.

John B. Hibbard has sold for Timothy Harrington the two three-story brick dwellings Nos. 413 and 415 East 88th street, size 20x48x100 each, to Weinberg & Uhlfelder for $21,000.

Brooklyn.

Walker & Lawson, the New York builders, have sold the three-story and basement brown stone front house No. 71 Lee avenue, 22x50x100, to Messrs. Scott & Bowen for $10,000. Broker E. M. Mallett.

Mulligan & Leggatt have sold for the estate of James Wiley thirteen lots on the north side of Macon street, between Lewis and Stuyvesant avenues, for $22,500; for the Prentice estate, the southwest corner of Halsey street and Sumner avenue, 100x125, for $15,250; for H. Lengstakin a plot, 38x100, on the west side of Tompkins avenue, 22 feet south of Jefferson avenue, for $5,750; and for Isaac Halstead a plot, 160x100, on the south side of Bainbridge street, 305 feet east of Hopkinson avenue, for $8,000.

Corwith Bros. have sold the three lots, 75x95, on the southwest corner of Norman avenue and Jewell street, for David Atkin to Leopold Heymann for $3,400.

J. P. Sloane has sold for S. P. Welin the vacant lot, 25x100, on the north side of Eagle street, 200 feet west of Provost avenue, to John McGrath for $710; and for James Cowen the lot, 25x100, on the north side of Eagle street, 175 feet west of Oakland street, to Francis Gray for $1,600.

On Wednesday, June 5th, Jere. Johnson, Jr., will sell at the Brooklyn Real Estate Exchange, 393 Fulton street, 102 valuable lots on 3d avenue, 74th and 75th streets; a two-story brick dwelling, No. 167 9th street, and fifty well-situated lots in Flatbush, Av B, East 2d and East 3d streets.

The sale by Jere. Johnson, Jr., on Murray Hill, at Flushing, L. I., attracted about five hundred people. The bidding was very spirited and the prices realized were satisfactory. Out of a total of 416 lots, ninety-eight were sold for $37,490, averaging $185 per lot.

Out Among the Builders.

Ralph S. Townsend has plans on the board for seven three-story and basement private dwellings, to be erected on the southeast corner of West End avenue and 104th street, for M. A. Lawson. The five houses, with a front on West End avenue, will be 20x50. The street houses will be 16x58. These dwellings will cost about $100,000.

Robert B. Baird intends to build a handsome seven-story apartment house, 82.8x118 and 119 in size, on the southwest corner of 10th avenue and 103d street, from plans by E. L. Angell. The same architect is preparing drawings for a six-story flat with stores, 40x98, to be built by Frank L. Fisher on the northeast corner of 9th avenue and 76th street.

Bernard S. Levy intends to erect a handsome six-story flat with stores, 30x98, on the southeast corner of 9th avenue and 77th street.

The building now occupying No. 69 Cortlandt street will shortly be torn down and a new office building erected in its place, which will be completed by October next. The agent is Geo. R. Reed.

Douglas Smyth has plans on the boards for Henry Mierisch for a five-story flat, 37.8x97.11, which he will build on the southeast corner of Lexington avenue and 124th street. It will be constructed of stone, brick and terra cotta. The first story will be arranged for six stores, and the others to accommodate twelve families. All modern improvements will be introduced. The heating will be by steam, and hot water connections will be in all the apartments. A fire-escape will be erected and electric bells placed on all the floors. The cost has not been estimated.

Richard Berger has plans for A. D. Juilliard for a six-story and basement storage building, 24.6x175.3, which he will erect at No. 7 Vestry and No. 28 Laight street. The first stories will be of iron, and the others of brick with stone trimmings. Two elevators will be introduced which will be run by electricity. The cost will be $30,000. The same architect has finished plans for Scholle & Bros. for a first-class apartment house and store, 28x88, which they will build on the south side of 92d street, 100 feet west of 3d avenue. The material used will be brick, stone and iron. The trimmings will be of hardwood. The cost is $22,000.

The same architect has plans on the boards for the congregation of the Jewish Synagogue formerly in Rivington street who have bought the old church building on the south side of 15th street, between 2d and 3d avenues, which they will alter and improve. The cost will be about $10,000.

Renwick, Aspinwall & Russell have plans for three five-story improved tenements, to be built for Miss Serena Rhinelander on the northeast corner of 2d avenue and 87th street. Two will be 40.7x72 each and one 19.6x91.

The J. M. Horton Ice Cream Co. intend to build a five-story flat, 25.6x70x95, on the west side of 9th avenue, 25.8 north of 74th street, from plans by Cleverdon & Putzel.

Work on removing the old foundations of French's Hotel is going on rapidly. Inquiry at the office of George B. Post, the architect for the World building which is to occupy the site, can elicit no definite statement as to the time the building will commence, but it will, in all probability, be in a very short time, as the plans have just been filed. The estimated cost of the building is $1,000,000.

Henry Lewis Morris will build a five-story improved tenement and store, 49.3x88, on the east side of 3d avenue, between 149th and 150th streets, from plans by Renwick, Aspinwall & Russell.

J. Averitt Webster and E. H. Hammond are the architects for five five-story brick and stone single flats, to be erected on the south side of 103d street, 112 feet west of 10th avenue, for Stephen E. Davis. The buildings will be 20x65, and will cost $15,000 each.

Ed. Wenz is engaged on plans for four five-story brick, stone and terra cotta front tenements and stores, to be built on the northeast corner of Avenue A and 73d street, for William A. Wilson, at a total cost of $80,000. The corner house will be 27.2x94, the other houses 25x87 each, and they will accommodate four families on each floor.

D. & J. Jardine have the plans on the boards for three five-story brick and stone front tenements, 25x80 each, to be built on the south side of 46th street, 200 feet east of 11th avenue, for Hurst & Trainor, to cost $45,000.

George W. Debevoise, Superintendent of Buildings for the Board of Education, informs us that until the controversy between Corporation Counsel Clark and Arthur Berry is settled as to the latter's retainers, no new building operations can be undertaken.

James Barrett has plans under way for a five-story flat, 25x70, to be built for Antonio Gallo on the north side of 112th street, 125 west of 6th avenue.

M. V. B. Ferdon has plans for a five-story tenement, 25x84.8, to be built by H. W. Deane at No. 263 East 10th street.

Wm. Fernschild has plans for two five-story flats, 25x68 each, to be built by Geo. J. Fernschild.

Frank Wennemer has plans for a five-story flat, 25x80, to be built on the north side of 92d street, 20 feet east of Lexington avenue, for Geo. Milligan.

Brooklyn.

The Executive Committee of the Montauk Club has decided to raise $125,000 to build a club house. Charles E. Moore is president, and the present club house is at No. 34 8th avenue.

Out of Town.

BAYONNE CITY, N. J.—Chas. H. Smith has completed plans for the Story Memorial Hospital. It will be built of frame, in the cottage style, 74x61, and will be two stories and attic high. The hospital is to accommodate thirty patients in the wards, and eight or ten in the private rooms. The cost will be $15,000.

GROVE SPRINGS, LAKE KEUKA, N. Y.—Mellen, Westell & Kirby have plans for an addition to the summer residence of C. W. Drake. It will be of frame, 30x45, two stories high, and a piazza will surround the entire building. The cost will be about $2,000.

PERTH AMBOY, N. J.—Chas. H. Smith has completed plans for a frame hospital at this place. It is to be 48x64 feet. The wards will be one story in height and will accommodate sixteen patients. The main building is to be two stories high and will cost $7,000.

PITTSFIELD, MASS.—Mellen, Westell & Kirby have completed plans for Mrs. Mahlon D. Ogden for a summer cottage in the Colonial style; it will be of frame, 70x55, and will contain ten rooms and servants' quarters. All modern improvements will be introduced. The cost will be $9,000. They also have finished plans for Fredk. T. West, at the same place, for a frame summer residence in the Colonial style. It will contain ten rooms and servants' rooms. The cost will be $8,000. All modern improvements will be introduced.

PLAINFIELD, N. J.—Chas. H. Smith has finished plans for De Witt Brokaw for a two-story and attic cottage, 39x50. The first story will be constructed of brick, with stone trimmings, and the other portion will be shingled. All modern improvements will be introduced. The cost will be about $7,000.

ROSEVILLE, N. J.—Frank F. Ward has plans on the board for two frame cottages in the Colonial style which will be built for Mrs. Jenny E. Earle, one 27x36, two stories high, and to contain eleven rooms and a bathroom, to cost $5,000, and one 36x41, two stories in height, the first story to be of stone, the balance frame, to contain twelve rooms, with bath and store rooms, to cost about $10,000. Both are to be finished in hardwood.

SOMMERVILLE, N. J.—Chas. H. Smith has plans finished for A. A. Clark for a cottage, 40x65, in the Queen Anne style. Serpentine greenstone will be used for the first story, and the trimmings will be of red sandstone. It will contain thirteen rooms, and all modern improvements will be introduced. The cost will be $12,000.

YONKERS.—The North End Land Improvement Co. have had plans prepared for improving about ten acres recently purchased on Yonkers avenue, Dunwoodie. We hear bids are now being received for the work.

Special Notices.

Henry R. Worthington, who represents in this country the Worthington Steam Pumping machinery, has just opened, in addition to his branch offices in Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, St. Louis and San Francisco, another office at No. 338 Sibley street, St. Paul, Minnesota.

Builders desiring all kinds of paneled and embossed metal ceilings can not do better than go to John McCallum, corner Washington and Vestry streets, New York City. He is the sole agent for the celebrated Northrop & Kinnear patent ceilings, of which a full description can be had from Mr. McCallum's catalogue.

O. G. Bennet, the well-known appraiser and mortgage broker of No. 150 Broadway, has a large sum of money to loan in sums to suit on improved property at 4½ per cent. Mr. Bennet has been appraiser for the Dry Dock Savings Bank for twenty-one years, and builders and owners with good applications would do well to see him.

Among other work recently completed by Hall & Garrison, manufacturers of interior fittings, are five houses on the south side of 74th street, between 9th and 10th avenues, for which Architect E. L. Angell drew the plans. The firm is now completing all the woodwork in the elegant apartment house which Vice-President Levi P. Morton is finishing at the northwest of H and 15th streets, Washington, D. C., at a total cost for land and building of about half a million dollars. Mr. Henry C. Adams, of No. 280 Broadway, is the efficient New York manager for the firm, whose factory is in Philadelphia.

Contractors' Notes.

Sealed proposals will be received at the Department of Public Charities and Correction No. 66 3d avenue, until Tuesday, June 11th, for materials and work required in the erection of a residence for the Medical Superintendent of the Insane Asylum at Hart's Island.

Sealed proposals will be received until Monday, June 10th, at the Hall of the Board of Education, 146 Grand street, for making general repairs at Grammar School No. 10, and until Thursday, June 6th, for making sanitary alterations, etc., at Grammar School No. 34 and Primary School No. 40.

How to Draw a Contract.

An invaluable work for all dealers in realty is found in "The Guide to Buyers and Sellers of Real Estate," by Counsellor Geo. W. Van Siclen. This pamphlet, of only fifty-six pages, offers a complete solution of all the complicated questions that arise in drawing contracts. It discusses questions of titles, liens, curtesy and dower rights, deeds, searches, etc., and contains forms of contracts and judicial decisions which, with other general information, will go far towards making every man his own lawyer. It tells all about fixtures, assumption of mortgages, apportionment of rents, description of property, terms of payment, damages for failure to carry out contracts, information on setting aside contracts for mistake or fraud, and forms of deeds. Published by THE RECORD AND GUIDE, 191 Broadway. Price 50 cents.

Bound Volumes of the Record and Guide.

Subscribers and others can purchase at this office years 1887 and 1888 of THE RECORD AND GUIDE, handsomely bound in half morocco. This is a rare chance for real estate men who cannot afford to wait while their RECORDS are being bound. Volume XLII., the last half of 1888, or any other single volume, can be had for $4.75 per volume, or $9.50 per year.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICKS.—Not much of an encouraging character was to be found on the general market for Common Hards. The arrivals ran somewhat less frequent, and the local surplus accumulation was of smaller proportions, yet there seemed to be a shrinkage in demand also, and business lacked quick and satisfactory features. Indeed, buyers retained the advantage and were well aware of the fact, which led to positive resistance against all attempts to strengthen values, though hardly taking the form of an effort to further seriously cut down cost. On the average run of reports we infer that most of the business shows $6.00 for the bulk of the Haverstraws, sales at a higher figure being exceptional in character, and on "Up River" the $5.50 limit proving quite difficult to exceed even with the best goods. We find among the trade much the same state of feeling previously noted, no one except the consumer finding satisfaction with the present and a great deal of perplexity existing regarding the future. With the plans recorded, however, and the preliminary work already shown, there is hope that demand has really been only temporarily delayed, and some operators indeed predict that by the middle of next month the movement will assume more satisfactory form. In the meanwhile, however, production is going on with a freedom that must be taken into consideration, nearly every manufacturer, it is said, turning out stock to full capacity, aided materially by the excellent weather. It is believed that a great many would be willing to curtail the make temporarily, but there is an absence of co-operation, and no one seems willing to make the first move toward shutting off. The demand for Pales has again proven quite brisk, taking up the supply about as fast as offered, and readily sustaining former rates, with the best commanding $3.50@3.75 per M. The quality of all arrivals has run very good this week.

LATH.—The market has not realized the favorable suggestions some of the trade put forth last week, but on the contrary went directly in an opposite course. In short, there was a development that cannot be called uncommon in the shape of an "unexpected" heavy arrival of stock, and before receivers could get rid of it all they were compelled to drop the line of cost all around. Sales were actually made at $2.00 per M, but it is insisted that they were not really first-class stock at that price, and $2.10 claimed to be the quotable inside figure, with latest business at $2.15, the tone reacting as the supply in first hands disappears. Once more receivers appear to think they now have about everything of importance forward, and calculations are of a favorable character in consequence, but the liberal quantity taken during May should have stocked up dealers pretty well. A large proportion of the stock offering since our last came from Maine, and as an indication of the manner in which it worked forward so rapidly it may be noted that a cargo leaving Calais on Friday was reported here Wednesday morning.

LIME.—The local market continues slow, and while the arrivals were moderate quite enough came forward to satisfy the current outlet. So far as known there was no change in line of value. Advice from the eastward indicate that manufacturers are preparing to start burning again, but only on a moderate scale and with a determined effort to keep the production within the limits of consumptive wants.

LUMBER.—According to locality dealers vary somewhat in their reports of the distributive movement, but the general aggregate is undergoing no shrinkage, and the assortment handled gives pretty much all grades of stock a chance to participate. Over the offerings from first hands negotiation is also very good, yet in some cases we hear complaint of less vigor to the demand than heretofore, and closer figuring. That, however, is in a measure explained by the fact that a great majority of dealers have been receiving a large quantity of stock on contract and are engaged in handling it; besides a great many of the representatives of interior operators have been about during the past month working up trade through the Eastern States, in the counties adjoining this city and along up the Hudson, with considerable success understood to attend their efforts both as to quantity placed and prices obtained. Some are commencing, to return, and predict a renewal of demand on this market before long.

Eastern Spruce retains about usual favor. Since the first hunger of the season to obtain stock was satisfied buyers have been rather more cautious in their methods toward random offerings, and, as we have at various times noted, when they could catch receivers with a little more stock than convenient for immediate handling would work the feature to advantage, but on specials have not as yet succeeded in securing much of a gain, if any. That was at first claimed to be due to a scarcity of logs, but the story does not now have much foundation, and "books full of orders" is a more likely explanation. Demand for extra sizes continues good and confirms a suggestion made in this column at the commencement of the year, that for the first six months at least every stick of long stuff offered would be wanted. There is said to be quite a large offering of Spruce in Virginia this year, with a little of it reaching our market, but not sufficient trial as yet to decide upon its adaptability.

Piling meets with somewhat irregular demand and receivers are influenced according to their temperament. The majority, however, appears to stand up very well against attempts to weaken their ideas on value and for all good sticks insist that full former rates be paid. There is a good accumulation in chains but nothing excessive or difficult to take care of.

Hemlock of standard production from the Pennsylvania section still shows that manufacturers are working in quite general harmony and succeeding very well in supporting values, with the encouragement of a reasonably good demand. Reports of shaded rates however, are not lacking and are occasionally identified with outside offerings from locality mentioned or with Northern stock, of which the supply has proven a trifle fuller than calculated upon a short time ago.

White Pine remains about as before. Of newly desirable box boards the supply is limited, and shipping grades continue scarce, with room for a considerable increase of offering; but of other stock there has, thus far, been about as much as the market required, and some of the trade think a small surplus. Competing woods account in a measure for the absence of local demand, and, besides that, a great many localities that in former years were dependent upon this market have emancipated themselves, either through the efforts of the pushing salesmen or by going direct to the mills, the latter policy pursued by a great many manufacturers who require a sort of special cut and prefer trading with those who have become used to and thoroughly understand their wants.

Yellow Pine may or may not be doing so well as a month or so ago. The "regulars" or those connected with the organization, so far as they will report anything at all, evidently intend to convey the impression that business is maintaining full and satisfactory volume, but the "outsiders" claim that trade is less satisfactory, and that harmony among the members of the combine is somewhat disturbed at times. As a basis for quotations former figures are used, but under the contradictory expression of views already noted prices really have a slightly nominal position.

Carolina Pine is steady in price and finding very good demand of a general character, with the market evidently well in hand. The local run of custom gets some addition now and then, and sellers claim to be extending the area of country distribution to a satisfactory extent. Buyers insist upon a full standard of quality, and generally obtain it from the class of manufacturers who are now supplying the market.

Hardwoods as a rule are only moderately active. It seems to be quite a universal report that poplar is all right and doing well, considering the combatative feeling against cost, but other descriptions of stock have a slow uncertain demand, with a bit of irregularity on values, though not enough to disturb the general range. The export outlet wants more or less stock, but it must be first class in every respect, and the interior operators desiring to cultivate foreign trade had best select some one here who is posted, and in whom they have confidence to send them instructions as to what is wanted before attempting to forward stock.

Shingles find a very good general demand, exporters taking about their average quantity, and the home trade improving on most outlets. Now and then evidences of irregularity are noticeable on pine, but nothing of a serious character, and for cedar prices are quite steady.

The exports of lumber, exclusive of hardwoods from the port of New York during the month of May were as follows:

	1889. Feet.	1888. Feet.
To West Indies	2,026,000	1,831,000
To South America	1,669,000	3,193,000
To East Indies	2,170,000	1,083,000
To Europe	.....	.....
Total feet	5,865,000	6,107,000

Previously reported	30,554,000	20,144,000
Total since Jan. 1	36,419,000	26,251,000

GENERAL LUMBER NOTES.

THE WEST.

The Northwestern Lumberman furnishes the following items:

The rains of the past two weeks through the Northwest seem to have helped the soil and extinguished forest fires to greater extent than they have benefited the log drives.

It is reported that a company is being formed in England to transport logs from British Columbia to England in rafts of the Joggins type. The Canadian export duty stands in the way, but an effort will be made to secure its removal. If unsuccessful in this the projectors of the scheme will confine their operations to Washington Territory, Oregon, California and Alaska.

If we were to judge of the present condition of the lumber trade at large by that pertaining to white pine alone, we could not say that it was satisfactory. In assuming this it is not meant that there is any very serious feature connected with the current white pine trade, or that any disaster threatens it. But there seems to be less demand than was anticipated, and sales at all points fall below the usual mark at this season of the year. * * * * * *

When we reach the real cause of the hard lines into which the white pine trade has fallen, we shall find it in the increased use of other than white pine lumber. While it has been recognized that long leaf and short leaf pine in the West and North Carolina, yellow and sap pine in the East, and poplar all over the country, and the hardwoods generally, have been making inroads into the white pine demand, it has been considered scarcely possible by those exclusively interested in white pine that any serious decline of white pine demand could result from the competition of other woods. But the reports from the different market centers are significant of the change that has come. While from nearly all points we hear complaints about the white pine trade, there are reports of a brisk demand for yellow pine, North Carolina pine and sap pine at Philadelphia, with active demand for hemlock, while about the same condition pertains to these kinds of lumber in New York and at other leading Eastern points. We also notice that poplar is in demand, and is selling at advanced prices, and that there is a fair requirement, reaching positive activity in some places, for the hardwoods that take the lead for interior finish. Hence we must conclude that the white pine trade must be measured by a larger standard than that in any other kind of lumber. What would be prosperity in respect to any other of the leading kinds would be dullness in white pine. For this reason there can really be an immense movement of white pine, induced by a vast consumption, while it may still be too limited to satisfy the craving desire of operators or to maintain values.

The Toronto, Ont., Mail has jumped upon the injustice of Dominion export log duty with both feet. Speaking of the proposition to add that duty to the United States import lumber tariff, making the total duty $5.00 a thousand, the Mail declares as follows: "It is needless to say that such a step would compel the immediate abandonment of the export duty by the Canadian government. Our lumber trade would be face to face with ruin. It is not surprising, therefore, that Canadian lumbermen should be anxious to secure the removal of the log duty. They foresee that the action of Congress will almost to a certainty necessitate its removal within the next twelve months, and that in the meantime its retention tends to check the popular desire that exists, especially in the Northwestern States, for a reduction of the American lumber duties. These arguments have been urged upon the government with an unusual amount of unanimity and earnestness.

AT CHICAGO.—The commission men think that there have been fewer cargoes on the market during the week than in the week preceding. They also report a slightly more active market for everything but shingles. In respect to activity, however, there is nothing to be elated about. It is probable that the late easing down of piece stuff prices has been something of an inducement to the yard men to take hold with greater courage, though they have not yet astonished the commission men in that direction. On the surface it looks as if the slight concession in prices has stimulated the demand, if any such improvement has actually been realized.

There is a degree of reticence about prices of piece stuff this week. It is asserted among the yard men that there is considerable p. t. business going on. Few will admit that they can buy for less than $10, though it is admitted that lots have been sold at $9.75. When such a price has been made, it is alleged that it has occurred on holdsful in vessel that brought in deckloads of timber that had been sold, and the consignees in such cases were anxious to get quick dispatch on the piece stuff. It is probable that the larger share of the piece stuff thus far sold has changed hands at $10, though the fact that some has gone at $9.75 has the effect to limit the highest price at $10, whereas $10.25 was sometimes realized on good cargoes. Virtually there has been a decline of 25 cents a thousand, when all things are considered. This does not please the manufacturers, and it is proclaimed that there will be a withholding of shipments if the present condition of the market for piece stuff does not improve.

Receipts of inch lumber have been relatively less than of dimension. Little No. 1 is arriving, the Eastern buyers having captured about all the good lumber on Green bay and considerable on the east shore of this lake. No. 2 inch is selling on the market for $11 to $12 for green and from $12 to $13 for dry. The value of medium inch ranges from $13 to $14, while extra cargoes are worth $1 more. Norway strips sell from $11 to $13, and they are not over plenty.

From the yards considerable lumber is moving to the Eastern States. Common inch and dimension is being shipped in appreciable quantity to Pennsylvania and New Jersey. This is a developing phase of the Chicago shipping trade and may at length rise to large proportions. When the Eastern buyer calls for dimension it must be all white pine. Two-inch stuff is used for special purposes, for which Norway is not admissible. When white pine dimension is thus sold a higher price than that for mixed pine and Norway is realized, leaving the latter to be sold at the usual price at home.

ENGLAND.

The Timber Trades Journal as follows:

American Black Walnut.—Supplies of late have not come over quite so freely, but there is no scarcity. Trade has been done more particularly in board stuff of best quality. The quantity passing into consumption is still considerable, as the demand for cabinet work is keeping well up.

American Whitewood.—The healthy tone of this market continues, and there appears to be no diminution in the large quantities being used. We have lately seen several parcels landing at the West India Docks of very poor quality, being sappy as well as rough, and unless a much more liberal system of allowance in measurement is adopted stock of this character will be sure to give much dissatisfaction to buyers.

SOUTH AMERICA.

The Rio Janeiro market is reported by the News as follows:

Pitch Pine.—The market has improved somewhat in tone. We may quote to-day at 34$000@35$000 per doz. There have been no receipts. White Pine—Receipts nil, and the quotations are 100@105 rs. per foot, with a better feeling. Spruce Pine—Nothing new. Swedish Pine—Receipts nil and quotations are unchanged, at 35$000@36$000 per doz. for red and 34$000@35$000 for white deals.

NAILS.—Offerings continue about equal to calls made, and are readily obtainable at former rates. Indeed the cost of material is such that buyers promptly resist all attempts to make a higher line of valuation and with success. Production is undergoing some curtailment it is said. We quote at $1.80@1.85 per keg for car lots, and $1.90@1.95 per keg for parcels from store.

PAINTS AND OILS.—Supplies as a rule appear to be under very good management, and offered only as demand may naturally develop. The movement is a little erratic, as buyers will not hurry and adhere closely to the actual wants basis, but interior custom is becoming fuller and requires a pretty good average assortment in order to keep regular stocks in proper form. Linseed Oil is fairly active on most outlets and ruling steady at 57 @58c. for Western, and 59@59½c. for City. Spirits Turpentine moves slowly, and mostly in small jobbing lots with former rates only barely supported. We quote at 39@40c. per gallon, according to quantity, delivery, etc.

PLASTERERS' HAIR.—In common with most other building material the movement has been rather disappointing thus far this season, and the effect upon value depressing, with figures down to 17@21c. for cattle and 25@28c. for goat. As matters stand the accumulation is a little full in first hands, but with an ordinary revival of trade would soon work down, and there is hope that the outlet will increase during the month.

TAR AND PITCH.—Business fairly active on the ordinary run of orders, but no unusual movement and supplies available at about former rates. We quote Pitch $1.35@1.50 per bbl.; Tar at $2.10@2.20, according to quantity, quality and delivery.

For tables of Building Material prices see pages v., x., xi and xiii.

CONVEYANCES.

Wherever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee they mean as follows:

1st—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i e., a deed in which all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranty.

2d—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no express covenants, he really grants or conveys the property for a valuable consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date. Whenever the rate is not given, read as 6 per cent.

JUDGMENTS.

In these lists of judgments the names alphabetically arranged, and which are first on each line, are those of the judgment debtor. The letter (D) means judgment for deficiency. (*) means not summoned. (†) signifies that the first name is fictitious, real name being unknown. Judgments entered during the week, and satisfied before day of publication, do not appear in this column, but in list of Satisfied Judgments.

VOL. XLIII. JUNE 8, 1889. No. 1,108

The short-horned bull market in Wall street does not like the continued heavy gold shipments, and it is no wonder, for sooner or later it must give way if these continue. The events of the week have all been of an extremely discouraging nature. General business shows no improvement; disasters without parallel have come upon parts of the country, railroad rates are again a disturbing influence, and against this serious combination of circumstances the bulls only point to the indications, and they are good ones, of a big crop. Conservative investors are disposed to wait a little until things are running more smoothly, and they have some evidence that foreign capital is more disposed to flow in this direction. It is probable that next week will give more favorable accounts, or at least that what news does come will not have the uncertainty which has given rise to so much fear and doubt, as everything we have heard this week has done. Nothing will be lost by waiting. Already the estimates of loss, both of life and money, in Pennsylvania are being largely reduced. The Cambria Company, which at one time was put down as losing $6,000,000, has reduced the amount to something like $300,000, and it is probable that the Pennsylvania Company will also find that matters are not so bad as the early accounts made them appear.

The necessity of more rapid transit is so imperative that every attempt to find a new mode deserves candid consideration. As soon as rapid transit lines are established the city grows along and conforms to them. The difficulty is in making routes when this growth has already crystallized along other lines. We have the prospectus of a new line called the People's Rapid Transit Company. This company proposes to build an elevated viaduct road, taking a line of private property through the blocks, and crossing streets on arches of masonry. The first and immediate question they have to meet is the cost of this right of way. It would be very large, and would be just so much added to the cost of constructing a road on an existing avenue. To meet the interest upon it the company proposes to erect business structures on their strip of property to support their elevated roadbed, and below it to furnish stores, warehouses and rooms for renting. This is a reproduction of a plan much considered years ago, when the great contest was pending about the use of public streets for a road. It was the subject of controversy in Governor Hoffman's time. The argument then against it was the high cost, the interference with private property, which provokes great opposition, and this logical point: the private property bordering on the new route would have great value, because it would front on a new thoroughfare. This was a speculative point at that time, now it is demonstrated. Now everyone sees that the avenue which has the greatest travel, surface or elevated, has the greatest value. This bordering property ought to be brought into use. As Governor Hoffman said, why not make the new avenue broad enough to accommodate travel and give this great benefit to property owners? Make of their route a new business avenue. The answer was fitting. Instead of making a new avenue save that expense and take an existing avenue and benefit that; and so they did. West Broadway, 6th, 3d and 9th avenues show the wisdom of it. This plan of taking an existing avenue and benefiting it has been adopted and may well be extended. It can be done by giving the roads now there a more substantial structure and four tracks. It would double their capacity. This is the immediate improvement in rapid transit. Broadway and the Boulevard is the great route which the people want, and where property would be doubled in value. To-day it is the underground that is proposed and fought and resisted most blindly. The time will come when Broadway will be a three-story street, with an underground, a surface and an elevated story—altogether insufficient for its great travel, the travel which belongs to it and concentrates upon it, and which, if it is not driven away, will make of Broadway the greatest street in the world in obedience to the law of the growth of cities, that where the greatest travel is brought is found the highest value.

The sale of the Bonner lots, on 5th avenue and 57th street, to Mr. Huntington recalls the time, over twenty years ago, when they were worth $12,000 each. They are now worth $85,000 each. It illustrates the fact that some investments in land in this city have been profitable, and the truth stands out that even to the present purchaser the investment will be a profitable one, if Mr. Huntington builds a residence, at its estimated cost of a million and a quarter, on his lots, and adapts it to the use it will come to twenty years hence. When that time comes round, it will be a great property for a hotel or a club house, or a great warehouse. Fifth avenue does not last more than twenty years as a residence site. It is less than fifty years since the first house was erected on it, and now the lower two miles of its length are occupied by stores. They exclude any new private residences, and as the old ones depart, business absorbs them, because it pays the most rent. Twenty more years will carry this business occupation up to Central Park corner. It behooves the owner now to build such a structure that it can be converted to the new use, and need not be demolished. The art of building has now reached the stage of the Roman republic, when buildings were erected for all time. It has not been so heretofore; but an architect can now make them substantial forever and convertible to all future uses. The Stewart house on the 34th street corner has become nearly valueless, for want of this convertibility. It provokes the question, what will be done when the 5th avenue up to Central Park is occupied for business? It is the fatal element in the plan of this city that the growth of private residences and of business is along one and the same line; the latter push out the former in half a generation. There should have been a recess of small parks and stretches of avenue where private residences might have found a holding ground. But this was not foreseen. When private residences are driven from 5th avenue, where will they go? There will then be more palaces than now. This island presents finer sites than anything in the whole area of its suburbs. The high lands bordering on Central Park and on Riverside Heights will reach the point where they will diminish in supply, and as rapidly increase in price as the 5th avenue has done.

The daily papers, to all appearances, have just learned that there was such a thing as the "Block bill" passed recently by the Legislature. But two newspapers throughout the winter had any reference to it editorially, one of which used it merely as a nail on which to hang an attack on Register Slevin. Yet few of the bills acted upon by the Legislature both needed and deserved such careful attention from the press. Some sharp words spoken at the right time might have prevented some of the mutilations which the original measure had to suffer.

The importance of an event is not to be measured by the amount of attention it attracts, for the most important events are rarely striking. They culminate slowly, are a series of phases of a constant growth rather than revolutions, and are often completed before they receive general recognition. The casting of certain memorable chests of tea into the waters of Boston Harbor was the outcome of ideas that were part of the impalpable cargo of the Mayflower, and slowly expanded in New England for more than a century before they created a great historical event. One of the most important events going on in this country now is the rapid conversion of the public lands into private property. Since 1880 124,000,000 acres have been settled under the homestead, pre-emption and timber culture laws—an area greater than that of Indiana, Ohio, Michigan and Illinois combined. Sixty million acres or nearly one-half of this were in the Northwestern States and Territories, thirty millions in Kansas, Colorado, Missouri, New Mexico; nineteen millions on the Pacific coast, and thirteen millions in the South. Along the Pacific roads alone 18,000,000 acres have been settled since the last census. This means the settlement of a territory nearly equal to the area of Germany, only a little smaller than France, and nearly twice as large as Italy and four times the size of England. The United States undoubtedly cover a great deal of space, but it is plain that at this rate it cannot be long before all the good land is settled. The exhaustion of the public domain must have far-reaching effects, in many directions. In the first place, it will bring about a more rapid increase in the value of real estate everywhere. To some extent, perhaps to a great extent, it will change the character of immigration. Its influence on the agricultural interests of the country cannot be estimated. The existence of a vast area of unoccupied land must have been an immensely powerful factor in shaping the growth and development of this country. There are many students of our institutions in Europe, and some on this side of the water, who believe that the real test of the strength and value of these institutions will not be made until the land is all occupied. The immense area of the public domain has undoubtedly caused the country to grow much quicker than it has developed, and there is reason to expect that by-and-by the process will be reversed. Expansion will not be so easy. Thirty years ago Macaulay looked forward to this event when he wrote: "As long as you have a boundless extent of fertile and unoccupied land your laboring population will be far more at ease than the laboring population of the Old World, and while that is the case the Jeffersonian politics may continue to exist without causing any fatal calamity." Macaulay, however, had only the wisdom of his generation, and the dire calamities which he prognosticated when "a multitude of people, none of whom has had more than half a breakfast or expects more than half a dinner, will choose a Legislature," are not likely to occur. There is not any doubt, however, that with the extinction of public lands this country will have to face a new order of things, and new problems will arise demanding more careful attention than those in the past have.

Five Months of Real Estate Transactions and New Buildings.

We give below the customary tables showing the filings of deeds, mortgages, and plans for new buildings. The figures cover each of the past five months of the present year compared with the same months in 1888 and 1887. An examination of the tables shows that during each of the last five months the deeds and mortgages exceeded in both number and amount involved the transactions of the corresponding month last year, and, with the exception of the month of March, the dealings in the year 1887, which was so far ahead of all previous years in the number of transactions as well as in the money invested in the way of purchase of realty and mortgage loans. The conveyances from January to May will, of this year, exceed the filings during the same period in 1888 by 1,648, and 1887 by 723. In the amounts involved 1889 is $37,502,817 ahead of 1888 and $9,336,626 in excess of 1887. The month of April in each of the three years witnessed the filing of the most deeds, and April of this year leads all other months with a record of 1,889 deeds, expressing a total expenditure of $36,612,318. Of the 7,424 deeds recorded 1,222, or less than one-sixth of the total, embraced property in the 23d and 24th Wards, and the consideration expressed in such deeds reached $5,739,581, or less than one-twenty-fourth part of the grand total of $138,634,524 for the twenty-four wards. The figures for May show an increase of 398 in number and $11,435,889 in amount over the same month last year, and 265 in number and $3,790,008 over May, 1887.

The mortgages for the last five months aggregate 6,606, an increase of 832 over last year and 606 over the year before. A total of $85,710,530 is the mortgage record for 1889, which is $22,682,449 over 1888 and $14,988,728 over 1887. From this it will be seen that while there was an increase of more than $37,000,000 this year over last in the money invested in the purchase of real estate the mortgage debt was increased by only $22,682,449, while the increase in investments this year exceed 1887 by $9,336,626 the mortgage debt is increased $14,988,728. During the present year 3,927 or over 59 per cent. of the mortgages recorded were at 5 per cent. interest or less, against 57 per cent. last year and 61 per cent. in 1887. As to the total amount involved the percentage of loans at 5 per cent. or less is 66 per cent. this year against 62 per cent. in each of the last two years. The totals are $56,993,086, $39,507,174 and $44,334,735 for 1889, 1888, and 1887 respectively. The mortgages by banks, trust and insurance companies numbered 906, 865 and 859, in 1889, 1888 and 1887 respectively, and represent in round numbers, as far as the amount involved goes, 25 per cent. of the total loans this year, in comparison with 28 per cent. last year and 23 per cent. the year before.

Among the estates which changed hands during the month of May were the Meeks, Faitoute, Ferris and Jas. Brown estates. The former embraced six parcels, all of which were bought by the heirs for a total of $589,750. Nineteen or twenty pieces belonging to the Faitoutes were secured by an heir at $150,850. Barely $200,000 is involved in the deeds of the Ferris property. It will be remembered the Brown estate, which is beyond the Harlem, was recently sold at auction, and eighty-seven lots have been transferred for a total of $284,525. Another tract sold at auction was the New York Hospital lots, and sixty-one of these have changed hands for $318,750.

The largest purchases down town were No. 49 Wall street, by the Atlantic Mutual Ins. Co., at $362,500, and a building site on Beaver and Pearl streets, by the Coffee Exchange, for $230,000.

Armory Hall, notorious for the carousals carried on there, was conveyed by Billy McGrory, called McGlory, to Pinkus Nathan for $75,500, and is being changed into a factory. The Ferris residence at No. 716 Broadway, has been acquired by the Scholle Brothers at $75,500, and will be torn down. Among the brokers who became owners were Ferdinand Fish, Peter F. Meyer and Hall J. How. The former bought the northwest corner of Washington and Liberty streets for $40,100. Mr. Meyer traded a house on West 125th street for a more costly one on Lenox avenue, and Mr. How exchanged four lots on West 84th and 85th streets, with John Glass for the dwelling No. 424 West 23d street.

Brewer George Ehret acquired No. 108 East 14th street at $42,500; Bookmaker John Kelly, property on East 13th and 14th streets at $60,000; Dr. Le Roy Satterlee, the dwelling No. 8 West 18th street, at $80,000, and Rob't G. Dun got No. 294 Broadway at $125,000. Wm. G. and Wm. F. Weld took title to the southwest corner of Broadway and 4th street at $308,000; Adolph Keppich, the southwest corner of Broadway and 14th street at $650,000, and Clarence H. Scrymser to No. 29 Broadway, northwest corner Morris street, for $132,500. Mr. Scrymser mortgaged this corner for $100,000, or 75 per cent. of the purchase money, at 5 per cent.

EXCHANGES.

These were the most important exchanges:

7th av, s w cor 119th st, five flats, at $225,000, by Homer J. Beaudet, for a plot 133x106 on the s w cor of Bedford av and Rodney st, Brooklyn, at $65,000

Mt. Morris av, s w cor 124th st, four lots at $80,000, by Judge Chauncey S. Truax to Wm. B. Franke for a flat on s e cor 6th av and Washington pl, at 105,000

Block bounded by Park and Lexington avs, 99th and 100th sts, thirty-two lots, by S. H. Thayer to Geo. F. Johnson for six dwell"gs on West 97th st.

Dwelling No. 1541 Central Park West, at $70,000, by Wm. Noble for five lots on s e cor 5th av and 132d st, at 50,000

LARGE BUILDING LOANS.

Spencer Aldrich to J. E. Vandewater. 10th av, n e cor 75th st, five lots. 150,000

Ed. Hirsh to John Casey. 10th av, n e cor 81st st, eight lots. 80,000

COSTLY LOTS.

On the east side of town Daniel Hennessy paid about the highest figure for lots, giving $105,000 for a plot of four lots on the northwest corner of Madison avenue and 71st street, the seller making a building loan. The Huntington purchase is too recent to need special mention here. On the west side, Francis Crawford paid $100,000 for four lots on the south side of 72d street, 200 west of 9th avenue; the estate of Geo. H. Jones sold three lots on 81st street, west of 8th avenue, for $22,500 each, and three in the rear on 82d street at $10,600 each.

The Holland Trust Co. are now offering bonds aggregating $225,000 for sale, secured by mortgage on the above property.

8th av, w s, from 138th to 139th st, block front, ten flats and six dwell'gs. $425,000

LITTLE CASH PAID DOWN.

G. G. Kip sold seven lots on the northeast corner of Lexington avenue and 47th street for $108,200, and took back a mortgage for $100,000 at 5 per cent.

Executors of Mary P. Higgins sold a plot on the west side of 10th avenue, 95th and 96th streets, for $120,000, and took back a mortgage for $110,000. Subsequently the lots were resold at $150,000 and again at $166,500, and are now mortgaged for $140,000.

The Century Association bought four lots on 43d street, west of 5th avenue, for $149,000, and the sellers have allowed $120,000 to remain at 4½ per cent.

New Buildings.

The plans filed for new buildings from January to May, inclusive, make an excellent showing. They number 986 plans, embracing 1,790 buildings to cost $33,290,105, as compared with 793 plans for 1,365 buildings to cost $20,673,560, projected during the same months last year—an increase of 425 in buildings and $12,616,545 in cost. A comparison with the figures for 1887 makes a different showing, as during the first five months of that year 2,517 buildings were planned, and the cost given as $40,493,115, an excess in buildings of 727 and in cost of $7,203,010 over this year's filings. These figures, however, are made clear by stating that in the early part of 1887 there was a great rush in the way of plans to anticipate the passage of the Tenement House and New Building laws then pending at Albany, and during March and April alone 1,531 buildings were projected at an estimated cost of $24,610,845, against 831 buildings calling for an expenditure of $15,742,765 during the same months this year. Thus it will be seen that the filings in those two months, when a larger percentage of plans failed to be carried out than is usual, amount to more than the difference between the total figures to May 31 for 1887 and 1889. To make it still plainer we will say 1887 is now ahead of 1889 by 727 buildings and $7,203,010 in the cost, while the excess of plans during March and April, 1887, over the same months this year is 700 in buildings and $8,868,080 in amount. So that in the other three months this year's figures are up to the phenomenal record of the boom year in building—1887. It seems proper to here state that there is always a certain percentage of plans which are not carried out, and this has been estimated by good judges to be about 15 per cent. of the filings. In view of the heavy filings during March and April, 1887, under pressure to avoid restrictions in the depth of the lot to be built upon, etc., it was estimated that fully 30 per cent. did not go any further than the filing of plans.

All the districts show an increase over last year's figures, except those between 14th and 59th streets, between 110th and 125th streets, 5th and 8th avenues, and the 23d and 24th Wards. The west side outstrips all others in the way of increase, the figures being 161 and $3,355,395 last year against 405 and $9,184,500 this year. North of 125th street also shows a large increase. The number of buildings projected north of the Harlem during the last five months represent 22 per cent. of the total filings against 29 per cent. last year, and 18 per cent. the year before. During the month of May this year, there were more buildings planned than in the same month last year, and nearly as many as were planned the year before.

The foregoing tables are so complete and exhaustive that it seems like an act of supererogation to say more about them, but the following additional facts will no doubt be appreciated by our readers, and are therefore given.

Of the 167 flats and tenement projected, 115 will be put up by owners who are builders, architects, or dealers in building material. The entire 46 dwellings to be built between 59th and 125th streets west of 8th avenue, will also be erected by the same class, and 40 of the 52 buildings to go up north of 125th street must be included under the same heading. In the 23d and 24th Wards 35 of the 44 dwellings planned will be built of wood and only 8 of brick. The district south of 14th street can boast of the costliest building planned, viz., the World building, $1,000,000. Only one dwelling was projected during the month for the section between 59th and 125th streets east of 5th avenue, against 46 between the same streets on the west side. North of 125th street 52 dwellings were projected, of which F. G. Butcher will put up 34 and Wm. Astor 6.

The ground taken by Lord Salisbury, recently, in respect to bi-metallism, is very satisfactory to the bi-metallists. The burden of his remarks was that, as a matter of principle, it did not make so very much difference whether there was a double or a single standard. The essential thing to be considered in relation to the matter was the wishes of the greater part of the mercantile community. This meant practically that the government would support any measure which was very vigorously demanded by the bi-metallists. It is said that the latter have behind them now the support, not only of the most influential cabinet officers, but two-thirds of the members of the House of Commons. As for Lord Salisbury's speech, it betrayed more political astuteness than economic sagacity. There is more in the theoretical aspect of the question than he seemed to imagine; but, after making allowance for this, there is a degree of truth in what he said. Aside, for instance, from any advance in prices, which our coinage of silver may bring about, it is desirable for us because of our silver mines to have that metal reinstated to its former monetary position. We have an interest in silver, not only as a money, but as a commodity. An increase in the demand for it means an increase in the prosperity of one of our industries. Thus we are interested in a policy of bi-metallism both for special and general reasons.

The Evening Post gives some interesting facts as to the extent to which pools and syndicates have flourished in Germany. The following is an authentic list of the combinations at present existing in that country:

(1.) International combinations: International steel-rail pool (of long standing but temporarily broken up); Austro-German iron syndicate, international mining conventions for the sale of lead, tin, and zinc; international conference of glassworks, international dynamite trust, thread manufacturers' combination, Anglo-German strontianite syndicate, herring fisheries agreement, and copper syndicate.

(2.) German trade combinations: Four separate coal and coke combinations for different districts, cast-iron combination of the Rhenish Westphalian district, German rolling-mills union with four distinct subdivisions, iron ties combination, union of wire manufacturers, four combinations of tin workers, union of steel wheel makers, union of fork manufacturers, brass rolling mills union, zinc association, lead syndicate, lime combination, cement union, glass manufacturers' union, brick makers' union, soda syndicate, bromide combination, potash combination, white lead syndicate, "sulphonal" syndicate, oil manufacturers' union, three distinct syndicates of salt works, bank of alcohol producers (which has recently failed), Bavarian society for the sale of alcohol, preliminary cotton thread union,

Southern cloth syndicate, jute syndicate, Saxony embroideries' union, wrapping paper association, cardboard association, and paper bag combination.

Conditions are more favorable for the existence of these combinations in Germany than they are here. Competition is, perhaps, more severe, and trusts have been favored by the government and supported by the law. Consequently, hitherto they have been to a degree successful. They seem also to have a rather better organization and methods of distribution. Their prices are wisely regulated to their market, and in case of competition they can boycot the manufacturer who deals with a mill outside the syndicate. They are still, however, experiments, and their success or failure depends upon the future.

A New Warehouse.

A commercial building possessing many points of architectural interest has lately been completed at the northwest corner of Great Jones street and Lafayette place. The architect had the advantages of a respectable area and of a height not excessive. The frontage on Great Jones street is about 100 feet and on Lafayette place but a few feet less, and there are but six stories. His clients have also permitted him to give the supports of the first story a magnitude visibly sufficient to sustain the superstructure, and the reluctance of owners to allow this liberty to designers of stores is one of the chief drawbacks of our commercial architecture.

Among the interesting points of design in this edifice are the choice and combination of material, the treatment of the outer corners, and the arrangement and detail of the supports in the first story. The materials are a light gray granite employed in the plinth of the building, a very dark brown brick used with a sandstone similar in tint but several shades lighter, and with terra cotta of its own color, buff brick, and cast iron introduced in the pillars of the ground floor and in the sash frames above. The main feature of the composition is the massive treatment of the outer angles, which are distinguished from the main building and separately roofed, though not projected, thus becoming flanking pavilions. For about 15 feet in breadth each of them is a virtually solid wall, for the openings are so placed and designed as to remove and punctuate the massiveness of the walls. Each has at the level of the sidewalk a round arch, giving entrance to the upper stories, of moderate dimensions and appearing still smaller by contrast with the wider and taller arches of the store fronts proper. The impost of the arch is continued in a massive stone beam as the lintel of a subordinate entrance, apparently for goods. In the second story the wall is pierced only by a narrow arched slit and by a pair of low, lintelled openings. The sloping string course above the second story, coped with tiles, and the withdrawal of the wall above by a few inches, distinguishes these two stories as the base of the building. It is further distinguished by the material, which in this basement, excepting the iron work, is of dark brown brick. Between these pavilions the first story is divided into four bays on the east front and five on the south. The granite plinth sustains a series of dwarf pillars, in cast iron, with flaring cushion capitals and moulded bases of the same material. These pillars are impressive from their size, for they must be quite 4 feet in diameter, and from their very sturdy and massive form, for they cannot be more than a diameter and a-half in height. They are so massive, indeed, that the question naturally suggests itself why this material should have been employed, since it evidently does not save room, and it is unlikely that it saves money, considering that the forms and details employed are so far from the stock patterns of the foundries. With the dimensions and proportions of the pillars they might have been safely built not only in granite, but in sandstone, or even in brick work, of which the piers they sustain are composed. The design of the pillars, which would be effective in masonry, is not so in metal, for though there is no effort to disguise the material, a capital, which retains its place by weight, and a moulded and spreading base, are details as solecistic in metal as they are appropriate in masonry, and the only justification for introducing the former material in a building of masonry is the economy, either of space or of money, which is plainly not effected here. The arches that connect the piers are not sprung from the capitals of the dwarf pillars. They are segments turned between the stilts that continue the lines of the pillars and are recessed behind the plane of these, which are continued through the second story. At the angle of the building the massiveness of the two outer corners is indicated only by a thickening of the intermediate pillars into a triple pillar, which does not lack the size necessary to its function, but in which the massiveness becomes rather clumsy and ungainly.

The brick piers are continued through the second story, where they are not withdrawn into the wall by offsets, but are stopped in rounded pediments, crowned with finials. Between them are the triple openings of this story, with light mullion-shafts in iron carrying the sandstone lintels. There is an obvious reason for the use of metal here, and its treatment is characteristic and satisfactory.

The next two stories are grouped also, with arched openings running through both. The arches are again segmental, in brown brick and turned between brown brick piers, while their junction at the springing is marked by terra cotta masks of the depth of the arch, but not so successful in modelling as the more purely architectural detail, being rather lumpy and inexpressive, and neither really classic nor effectively grotesque. Each of these arches incloses an iron sash frame, in which a heavy transom marks the intermediate floor line. In this second division the sombre monochrome of the first is lightened, for while the piers and arches are of brown brick, the field of the wall, wherever it appears, is in buff with quoins of brown brick. Their solidity is maintained, the wall being pierced with but one small opening in each story.

A moulded string course separates the second from the third division, which comprises also two stories, and this equality is a questionable point of composition. The building would probably have been more effective if the middle division had been distinctly larger than either of the others, and had been increased by a story at the expense of the upper. The fifth story above the arcade consists of pairs of openings with central mullions of brown brick sustaining lintels of brown stone, the wall being elsewhere of buff brick, and the whole treatment severely simple. In this story, for the first time, the richness is given to the pavilions, though still without compromising their solidity, by a pair of rather ornate arches in brown terra cotta with diapered spandrils of the same material. The sixth story is a plain arcade of openings equally spaced, without reference to the divisions below, and the wall is crowned by a simple but effective cornice in terra cotta. Here again the plainness of the curtain wall serves as a foil to the comparative richness of the pavilions, which rise half a story higher and are differentiated in treatment. That on the south side shows a tall arcade of four cusped arches carried upon columns standing free in front of the piers, with a steep roof above. On the Lafayette place front a parapet of panels in brown terra cotta crosses the pavilion on the line of the sixth story and carries a picturesque gabled dormer in the same material, effectively relieved against the steep roof. We have noted what seem to us the questionable points of composition and of detail in the building, but these do not prevent it from being a creditable work, tried by the strictest standard. As things go, it is very good indeed.

Most of those who lament the dominance of Tammany in our city affairs of course start off with the supposition that the rule of that organization must necessarily be passing iniquitous. The record of Tammany certainly is not immaculate, but none of the other local political organizations is in any position to throw stones. Prejudgment is usually a matter of much prejudice. Tammany is now in control of the management of the city and should be judged by results. Whatever the outcome may be so far as Tammany is concerned, it will be found in the long run that the dominance of one organization is in the interest of good government.

The queer economic notions which legislators and the constituents they represent have is shown by the attitude of several States on the question of taxing mortgages as well as the property behind the mortgage. The strange idea prevails that this double taxation relieves the borrower by equalizing the tax burden. He pays the taxes upon the property, and it is supposed the mortgagee pays a proportionate sum upon the mortgage. The very reverse happens. The borrower pays both the property tax and the mortgage tax. The value of money is, for instance, 5 per cent.; that is, 5 per cent. is the amount which capital earns in manufacturing and other channels of trade. Now, it is plain, that if in lending money with real estate as security the lender is taxed, say 2 per cent., one or two things will happen; he will refuse to lend upon real estate and turn his capital in more profitable directions or he will make the borrower pay the mortgage tax. The latter is the ordinary course. These mortgage laws are on a par with the mass of empirical law-making, which takes up fully one-half of the time of our legislatures —State and National. The remedy is to educate our Congressmen and State representatives. They are woefully in need of it.

To find a four-leaf clover is lucky. It would seem, however, that the word itself is lucky. Last Saturday the great work of rebuilding the line of the Toledo, St. Louis & Kansas City Railroad and widening its gauge was brought to a successful conclusion, and a new standard gauge line between Toledo and St. Louis, 450 miles long, thereby came full-armored into existence. The use of the "trefoil," or clover leaf, on all the freight cars of this company has caused the adoption for it, through the West, of the name "Clover Leaf Route," a title which may soon be expected to be familiar enough in Wall street. Last Sunday the "Grand Prix du Jockey Club," one of the greatest events of France, was run in Paris and was won by Clover by one length, while the successful opera of Von Suppe, now being given by Palmer's Theatre, is also called "Clover." There is much that is suggestive and fascinating in the word.

Our Letter Bag—The Justification of Socialism.

Editor RECORD AND GUIDE :

I thank you for your courtesy in giving space last week to my letter on the growth of Socialism.

It is plain from the remarks you added to it that we both agree that Socialism is increasing. But, apparently, you are inclined to regard this fact as a rather good thing for the country. I am not. You think that, on the whole, it will work for the benefit of people. I don't. And, furthermore, you believe that Socialism, or such a measure of it as may be adopted, will result in a social condition very unlike anything that Socialists imagine at present. Perhaps; but facts don't support any such belief.

Socialism is no new thing. We should never forget that. It has been tried—tried over and over again. In Sparta the State had supreme control over the individual. It was present at his birth, inspected him, and decided whether it was for the interests of the nation that he should live; it educated him after the age of seven, fed him at the phiditia, married him, trained his wife physically, then controlled his marital relations, and even regulated his speech. France has always been a State-ridden nation. Before the Revolution the "government decided on the persons to be employed, the articles to be made, the materials to be used, the processes to be followed, and the qualities of the products used." To-day, officials stand in that country at the elbow of every man. The individual can do little that is not inspected and directed. The nation is ruled by an omnipresent bureaucracy. In Germany and other continental countries the same condition prevails.

I don't ask whether this is wise. History shows it is not. I ask simply, is it just? Is it right to tax me for educating my neighbor's children, inspecting my neighbor's tenement, regulating railroads (against my own interest if I live in a large city) for the benefit of small towns, for the creation of small parks that I will never use? If the Legislature were to vote $10,000 annually for carrying the inhabitants of Mott street to the seaside to give them fresh air in the interest of the general health an outcry would be raised against the act, and we should be told that the Legislature had no right, that it was not just, to use the money of some people for the benefit of others. But this very thing is done when the city is taxed for parks in certain localities. And if in the general interest it is right and just to provide some of the community with "breathing spaces," free baths, free museums, why not with free food also, and free clothes and free books to read? If the first step is right, the second is right also; and, besides, is quite as important. Why not take it? T. GREGORY.

Our correspondent is wrong in thinking that he obtains no benefit from parks which he does not frequent, public schools to which he does not send his children (or is he a bachelor?), the inspection of other people's tenements, the supervision of new building, the establishment of free baths, free museums, and other municipal benefactions. Let us see. Suppose our correspondent were living in a fine house in some isolated spot in the country, but surrounded by the homes of say a dozen squalid, uneducated, half-starved families. No matter what pains he might take to educate his own children and render his own home healthy, it is plain that his efforts would be in some degree nullified by his surroundings. Disease might break out in one of the dirty dwellings adjacent to his and invade his family. The example of neighboring children unkempt, uneducated, would have an evil influence upon his own. The probabilities are that under such circumstances he would be very willing to enter into any scheme to improve the neighborhood. He would gladly contribute to the education and clothing of his neighbor's children, and the introduction of sanitary improvements into the dwellings around him. He would be one of the first to laugh at the question: "What benefit do you get from these ameliorations in the mental and physical condition of your neighbors?"

He would recognize easily the value to him of Socialistic measures in this narrow sphere of application; but in a larger field, as in a city, he is advantaged by them in exactly the same way. The happiness, health, prosperity, intellectual and moral condition of each is influenced by the happiness, health, prosperity, intellectual and moral condition of all. In Society there is a tendency, what may be called a centrifugal social force, keeping men at and tending to bring men to the centre, to the "average" of every condition—mental, intellectual, moral, etc. As we are all interested in increasing the "average" duration of life so we are all interested in increasing the average of happiness, knowledge, prosperity and morality. The aim of Socialism is to increase these. How much it can accomplish it is impossible to say; but the man who thinks he has no interest in the condition of his fellow-man ignores one of the most important of all social facts. Not only is individual interested in individual, but community in community and nation in nation.

Editor RECORD AND GUIDE :

I own a few pieces of real estate in different parts of the city. Can you inform me how I can keep myself informed of the assessments likely to be put on them and those that actually are put on them. A SUBSCRIBER.

It is something of a surprise to find that you have been a subscriber to THE RECORD AND GUIDE for a little more than three years, for the information you desire is published weekly regularly in the columns of this paper, under the heading "Important to Property Holders" and "Notice to Property Holders." Under the former heading notice is given of all property in the city affected by contemplated assessments, with the date up to which objections to them can be made. Under the latter heading is given a list of all property affected by confirmed assessments as well as the nature of the improvement for which the assessment has been made. These lists, the preparation of which require much time and trouble, contain some of the most valuable information for real estate owners published.—[ED.]

Men and Things.

Washington E. Connor is among the prominent brokers who have recently taken title to New York realty. Mr. Connor has this week acquired a dwelling on the northwest corner of Madison avenue and 54th street, the consideration being $72,000.

The Herald, on Saturday last, announced with a flourish of trumpets, as "the latest scheme for quick travel in the metropolis and its suburbs," the plan of the People's Rapid Transit Company. THE RECORD AND GUIDE gave an account of this company's plans as far back as July 14, 1888.

Isaac J. Mackinley has been appointed Second Deputy-Superintendent of Buildings. He comes from the Department of Public Works, and in the Building Department will have charge of the fire escapes. The executive part of the department now consists of Thomas J. Brady, superintendent; Enoch Vreeland, first deputy, and Isaac J. Mackinley, second deputy.

There seems to be money in some suburban property. Arnold Lustig, who bought four plots at the Cossitt estate sale of property at Yonkers on Tuesday, says that he has made several investments in Yonkers property during the last few years, among them being the parcel sold to the Leake & Watts Orphan Asylum. When asked how much profit he had made on these ventures he declined to say, but when the figure of $25,000 was mentioned, he said, smilingly, "more than that I guess."

James L. de Fremery, Wm. S. Baird, Henri M. Suermondt are the incorporators and trustees of the Maxwell City Land and Improvement Co., with a capital of $50,000. The object of this organization is the purchasing, selling, leasing and improving real estate in New York and Maxwell County.

The Twilight Park Association seems to be in a flourishing condition. The manager has been selling corner lots of late in a way that suggests the speedy exhaustion of the 160 acres which the association owns. And there are at least a dozen cottages in the course of erection, with more to come. There will probably be a couple of hundred people living there this summer, and the place is to be recommended to anybody who wants fresh air and a quiet life without the formality of a hotel and the hollowness of a boarding-house. The park itself is a place which you seldom want to go to and you never want to leave. The surprises and charms of the surrounding country are entrancing, the majesty of its scenery inspiring. Let anyone who wishes at once to learn all about the place, and to read a piece of gentle literary advertising, turn to Mr. Charles Wingate's cheerful descriptions which appear from time to time in the Evening Post. The above remarks are not copied therefrom.

Important Bills Signed.

Governor Hill has been busily at work this week signing and vetoing the bills bequeathed to him by the Legislature. Among those signed which are of some interest to New York property-holders are the following: Mr. Hamilton's bill for the future indexing of transfers and mortgages according to the block system, which goes into effect on January 1, 1890; that of Senator Ives, giving permission to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment to spend $2,000,000 yearly in the pavement of the streets until a total of $6,000,000 has been laid out; Senator Langbein's, providing for the construction of as many free baths as the Board of Estimate and Apportionment deem necessary for the health and comfort of the people; and that of Thomas Smith, Jr., providing that the wages of day laborers employed by the State shall not be less than $2, and in all cases where laborers are employed on any public work in this State preference shall be given to citizens of this State. The Governor has been particularly zealous in signing Brooklyn bills, some of them of much importance. Mr. McCarren's measures, authorizing the appropriation of $900,000 for the repavement of the streets, and the issue of $500,000 worth of bonds for the purchase of sites for the erection of municipal buildings; Mr. Graham's, providing that five days' notice must be given to tenants in New York and Brooklyn who are removed from premises on summary proceedings; Mr. Longley's, authorizing the appropriation of $650,000 for improvements in the 8th Ward; Mr. Aspinall's, providing that all assessments due on any piece of property must appear on the tax bill thereof; Senator O'Connor's, reserving certain parts of Prospect Park for an art museum and library buildings; and Mr. O'Connor's, authorizing the appropriation of $350,000 for the erection of an armory for the 13th Regiment, are among those signed by the Governor.

Some Remarkable Advances.

Early in the year there appeared in the "Gossip" a report of the sale of a plot, 80.5x110, on the southwest corner of Broadway and 4th street, with two five-story and two two-story stores thereon, by the Equitable Life, to one Adolph Keppich, at $460,000. Some curiosity was excited by the delay in passing title, which was not done until three weeks ago, when it was found that the property had been transferred to Edward A. Davis for a nominal consideration, and mortgages taken back by the Equitable aggregating $455,000. Curiosity was increased, when, the week before last, Davis reconveyed the same property in consideration of $650,000. This time the grantee was Mr. Keppich, originally reported by the sellers to be the buyer. From the foregoing it will be seen that Kep-pich appears to have paid $190,000 more for the corner than the sellers reported they received from him for it, and the mortgages taken back by the grantors amount to only $5,000 less than the reported purchase price. The records show that Davis has frequently appeared in transactions which Moritz Bauer, the speculator, had an interest in, and, as in this deal, the mortgages have generally been given by him, and the properties then conveyed to the principal. An examination of the City Directory fails to disclose Mr. Keppich's name, address or business. According to the mortgages published in our last issue Mr. Bauer has borrowed from Mr. Keppich $15,000, taking as security a second mortgage on a plot, 30x102.2, on the southeast corner of 77th street and 9th avenue.

On April 22d the premises No. 116 Nassau street were sold at auction under Court orders, in partition, for $58,000. The name given to the auctioneer as the buyer being John Pettit. About two weeks ago title to the property was passed, and Joseph W. Spencer appeared as the purchaser. Simultaneously with the transfer by the officer of the Court to Mr. Spencer there was recorded another deed by which the property was transferred by Spencer to one Samuel Trimble for $75,000, or $17,000 more than was paid at auction for it. Mr. Spencer lives at Orange, N. J., and Mr. Pettit does also. Mr. Trimble's name often appears in the conveyances, and the parcels transferred to him are invariably heavily mortgaged and then turned over to Mr. Pettit.

After a perusal of the foregoing an impression is created that it is unwise to place much dependence on the figures mentioned in some conveyances when a go-between is used by speculators for purposes best known to themselves.

The Huntington Purchase.

OTHER NEIGHBORING FIFTH AVENUE SALES.

THE RECORD AND GUIDE reported the sale of part of the Bonner property on 5th avenue, between 56th and 57th streets, in April, and title was taken May 31st to the following five lots: Three lots on the southeast corner of 5th avenue and 57th street, 75.5x125, and two lots on the south side of 57th street, 125 feet east of 5th avenue, 50x100.5. The transfer was made by Andrew A., Robert E. and Frederic Bonner to Collis P. Huntington for $450,000, subject to a mortgage of $400,000. The plot contains 14,448.9 square feet. A reporter of THE RECORD AND GUIDE, in the absence of Mr. Huntington, was informed by his secretary that he intends to build a handsome residence on the property. Sketches have been prepared by a firm of architects, but the secretary declined to state their names. "The report that Mr. Huntington bought the property with the condition that he would spend $1,000,000 on the house is untrue. Mr. Huntington is not the kind of man to enter into any such an agreement as that," said the secretary.

The plot is in an exceptionably fine situation. It is on a wide street and has, on the three other corners of the avenue opposite, the handsome residences of ex-Secretary of the Navy Whitney, Cornelius W. Vanderbilt and Mrs. Mary Mason Jones. This does not secure it, however, from the encroachment of business in the neighborhood. The two easterly blocks north and south of the Bonner plot have already lost their private character somewhat. The front north of 57th street has a bank, a stockbroker's office, a boarding-house and a club, and the block to the south of 56th street has a school and a boarding-house, while other houses on both blocks can be obtained for business purposes; so that unless the wealthy owners of the four 57th street corners combine to maintain the selectness of their locality, as did Fred. W. Vanderbilt when he bought the house between his residence and the Union League Club, its exclusiveness will probably be encroached upon further each year. Mr. Huntington's city house is at No. 65 Park avenue, on the southeast corner of 38th street, and his country place at Throgg's Neck.

Apropos of this important purchase a search of the files of THE RECORD AND GUIDE, giving the records of 5th avenue properties between 54th and 59th streets, transferred between 1878 and 1889, will no doubt prove an interesting table to many of our readers. They are as follows:

Some Large New York Buildings.

The million dollars called for in the plan filed by Joseph Pulitzer as the cost of the new World building, at Park row and Frankfort street, is as large as the largest sum named in any plan for a single building ever filed in this city. There is no doubt that the Equitable building cost more money, still that fine structure was put up at different times and the cost was not mentioned in the plans filed, it being simply stated that the work would be done by day's work, cost not estimated. As is well known, the Tribune building was put up in two sections. The cost of the main structure was given as $400,000, and that of the Frankfort street wing at $230,000. Other costly structures are the Mills building, for which plans were filed in May, 1881, to cost $1,000,000. The plans for the Times building were filed among the alterations of buildings, and the cost given as $600,000.

In the way of apartment houses the Central Park block, or Navarro buildings, are the most costly ever erected in this city. The plans called for an expenditure of $2,400,000 for the eight buildings, but it is believed they cost nearer double that figure. The mammoth "Osborne," on the corner of 7th avenue and 57th street, was put down in the plans at $650,000 by the builder, Thomas Osborne, and at the somewhat recent sale, under foreclosures of that structure it was stated it had cost nearly as much again. Mr. John Taylor made the building loan and to secure himself was obliged to advance about double the amount originally agreed on. The Taylor estate became the owners, and the property is now said to be paying handsomely.

Another costly edifice is the Plaza Hotel on the 5th avenue plaza, extending from 58th to 59th street. The twelve lots on which the hotel stands were purchased about five years ago by Phyfe & Campbell for $850,000. The seller, John C. Anderson, a son of the well-known tobacconist of that name, took back a second mortgage for $450,000, the first being $350,000. Subsequently the builders became involved in litigation with some heirs who contested their title to the property and the New York Life Insurance Company foreclosed a mortgage held by them aggregating nearly $975,000. There were only two bidders and the company became the buyers at $925,000, or $50,000 less than the mortgage foreclosed. Of course the builders and second mortgagees were thus wiped out and the Anderson heirs left to contest their claims. Last month the hotel was leased to Frederick A. Hammond, proprietor of the Murray Hill Hotel, for nine years and seven months beginning from October 1st next, at from $102,500 to $127,500 per annum.

Building in Newark.

The total number of plans filed during the month of May at the office of the Superintendent was 156 against 114 for the same month last year. The same characteristics mark the buildings as have marked them ever since the present movement began. They are either two-and-a-half or three-story dwellings, about 20x30 or 40. They have made up in quantity, however, what they have lacked in quality. The total number of filings for the first five months of this year has been 636, while for the same period in 1888 they amounted to only 486, an increase of nearly 31 per cent. The following is a list of the more important buildings filed between May 15th and June 3d: Joseph H. Storch, No. 118 Somerset st, one 2½-sty frame dwg, 22x50; Gustav Meyer, No. 108 Somerset st, one 3-sty frame dwg, 22x40; Frederick Knickmeyer, No. 21 Somerset st, one 2½-sty frame dwg, 23x42; William Hill, southeast corner of Sussex av and 2d st, one 3-sty frame store and dwg, 24x44; H. Heinsheimer, Nos. 65 and 67 Court st, three 2-sty brk dwgs, 17.4x28 each, with extensions; P. J. Moore, No. 56 Astor st, one 3-sty frame store and tenement, 23x51; D. Loeffler, No. 152 Belmont av, one 3-sty frame dwg, 25x56; C. P. Williams, No. 322 Summer av, one 2½-sty frame dwg, 21x46; Foster & Shaw, Nos. 247-255 South 10th st, eight 2-sty brick dwgs, 16x31; L. H. Watson, Nos. 60-64 Union st, one 3-sty brick factory, 50x100; Mickens Bros., Nos. 440 and 442 Summer av, two 3-sty frame dwgs, 19x43 each, with extensions; Mrs. M. E. Schmidt, No. 68 Mulberry st, one 4-sty frame store and flat, 20x77; F. Nichol, Nos. 236 and 238 6th av, two 2-sty frame dwgs, 20x40; G. Zehmer, No. 123 Livingston st, one 3-sty frame dwg, 25x50; David Cody, Nos. 55-7 East King st, one 1-sty brick carriage-house, 39x45; Xavier Wilderotter, Nos. 31 and 33 Montgomery st, two 3-sty frame dwgs, 46x46; Louis Breitung, Main and Ferry sts, one 3-sty frame store and tenem't, 24x51, with extension; Charles Frank, Ferry st, corner Long av, one 3-sty frame dwg, 22.6x54, with extension; Christian Trapper, No. 44 Lexington st, one 2-sty frame tenem't, 30x50.6; William J. Hughes, Nos. 108 and 110 Bergen st, two 3-sty frame dwgs, 40x42; Celluloid Mfg. Co., Ashbridge st, one 1-sty brick factory, 90x30, and one 1-sty brick storehouse, 55x37; Mrs. C. Baxter and Mrs. J. M. Chandler, No. 893 Broad st, one 4-sty brk store and dwg, 20x80.

Jersey City News.

The summer promises to be an active one from a building point of view. Sales of real estate are more numerous than last year, and they include business properties, as well as lots on the Heights and in other residence locations. Brokers C. H. Le Vaire, F. G. Wolbert and Frank Stevens all report that the market is in a healthy condition, with an upward tendency. The improvements on Jersey avenue, Mercer, Wayne and 3d streets have increased values along that line. Lots for building purposes on the Heights can be purchased at $1,000 to $1,500 and upwards, and $4,000 to $5,000 would represent the maximum figure for one of the best corner lots in the choicest dwelling location up that way. Rents are very reasonable, and are well maintained at last year's figures.

Building Inspector Clarke says that larger buildings are being put up now than in previous years, and the improvements, on the whole, are of a better class and more costly. The principal architects have considerable new work under way, and the following items will be news to Jersey City real estate owners who hold property on the blocks where the improvements are to be made:

J. J. Throckmorton and William Burnsted will each build a two-and-a-half-story villa on Glenwood avenue, near Bergen avenue. They will be 30x48 in size, and will have hardwood mantels and other trim, with electrical work and various improvements, and will cost $14,000. Plans are being prepared by G. L. Bettcher.

Chas. Schaefer will build, from plans by Rudolph Sailer, two four-story double flats, 25x56 each, on the south side of Railroad avenue, 50 feet west of Barrow street, to cost $17,000.

Mrs. Van Vredenburgh intends to put up two five-story and basement brick and brown stone front flats, 25x70 each, on Montgomery street, near Jersey avenue, from plans of G. W. La Baw, to cost $22,000.

Mr. Wood will build a two-story and basement dancing hall, etc., 50x100 in size, on the east side of Barrow street, 50 feet south of Railroad avenue. The basement will have a bowling alley and billiard room, the first floor a dining room, offices, etc., and the second story a dancing hall 47x90, with galleries, etc. The cost, as estimated by Architect Sailer, will be $25,000.

G. W. La Baw is preparing plans for a five-story and cellar brick and stone front flat, 25x65, to be built on Palisade avenue, West Hoboken, for Sol. Isaacs, to cost $10,000; and for a two-story brick and terra cotta front stable, 50x76, to be built by J. D. Carscallen on Erie street, near 8th street. It will have coachman's quarters on the second story, and will cost $8,000.

Two five-story brick and stone front flats, 25x72 each, are to be built by Mr. Hall on his lots on the north side of Wayne street, between Barrow street and Jersey avenue, from plans by E. Simon. They will cost $36,000.

James Leo will build a four-story brick paper-box factory, 50x100 in size, on Varick and Colden streets. It will have a chimney 75 feet high, and will contain a boiler room, etc. The cost will be $12,000. G. L. Bettcher is drawing the plans.

Three two-story and attic cottages, 21x46 each, are to be built by Messrs. Warren, Higham & Mullen on Arlington avenue, near Cartaret avenue, from plans by R. Sailer. They will cost $3,700 each.

The latest plans being prepared by E. Simon are for a three-story and cellar house, 25x65, to be built for Martin Costigan on Orchard street, near Montgomery street, to cost $5,000; a three-story frame dwelling, 25x52, to be built by Michael J. Gat ly on Bright street, near Varick street, to cost $4,500; a two-story and cellar brick dwelling, 18x40, to be built by a Mr. Baker on the west side of Pacific avenue, near Communipaw avenue, to cost $3,500; and a two-story and attic cottage, 20x40, to be built for Henry Limberg on the north side of Winfield avenue, near Greenfield avenue, to cost $4,200.

G. L. Bettcher is preparing drawings for a four-story brick and stone front double flat, 25x50, to be built on 6th street, near Jersey avenue, for Mrs. T. Kenny, to cost $8,500; and three two-and-a-half-story frame cottages, 16.8x50, with improvements, to be built by Robert Von Cleff on Lincoln street, near Summit avenue, to cost $9,000.

R. Sailer's latest orders are for a four-story brick and stone flat, 25x58, to be built for John Gleistein on the west side of Monmouth street, 25 feet north of 7th street, to cost $9,000; and for a two-story and basement dwelling, 22x40, to be built by Chas. Henry on the north side of Hutton street, 125 feet west of Central avenue, to cost $4,000.

Oscar Fuhrlein will build three three-story and basement brick cottages, 15x50 each, on Madison avenue, near Clinton avenue. They will have stone stoops and various interior improvements, and will cost $15,000. The plans are being prepared by G. L. Bettcher.

Quite a number of auction sales are to take place during the forthcoming week. Fifty store, dwelling, tenement and vacant properties will be sold on Washington, Erie, Jersey and other streets and avenues; twenty-eight building lots on West Side and Hoadley avenues, formerly West Bergen; and seventy building lots on Ocean, Bay View and Arlington avenues, and Bidwell and Clark streets.

Two parcels of real estate changed hands a few days ago, one of which is the largest known for many a year in this city. The latter was a purchase of property by the New Jersey Warehouse and Guaranty Company from Edward F. C. Young. It is located on Garfield avenue and Thompson street and includes considerable land under water. The figure was $700,000. The other parcel was purchased by the Manor Real Estate and Trust Company from Chas. W. Henry. It is on 1st street, near Grove street, and also incudes lands under water. The price paid was $125,000.

Plans have been filed recently for the following new buildings to be erected this summer: One five-story brick tenem't, 30x85, at 51 Morris st, for P. & J. J. Craven, to cost $18,000; ar't, L. H. Broome. One four-story brick tenem't, 25x56, at [illegible] 13th st, for John Murphy, $8,400. One four-story brick tenem't, 25x56, on 13th st, e Jersey av, for J. J. Waters, $8,400; ar't, E. Simon. The total cost of projected buildings during the year ending May 31st is estimated by Inspector Clarke at about $3,000,000. The final figures for May are not yet made up, but they are given approximately. The number and cost each month are as follows, the cost being in thousands of dollars:

1888.	No.	Cost.	1889.	No.	Cost
June	81	$639	January	33	$ 83
July	60	192	February	68	172
August	93	309	March	90	151
September	78	228	April	83	267
October	97	250	May	90	325
November	86	217
December	31	90	Total (about)	890	$2,933,000

Real Estate Exchange Matters.

The balance sheet of the Real Estate Exchange for the first six months of the fiscal year, from November 15, 1888, to May 15, 1889, shows a decrease of $580.08 in the running expenses, and the receipts an increase of $7,291.48. There is a decrease of over $400 in membership subscriptions, and an increase of over $263 in office rents and $7,024 in Exchange Salesroom fees, etc. This includes about $2,400 for the second row of auctioneers' signs, so that the actual increase from knockdown fees is about $4,600. The report, as adopted by the directors, shows a net surplus for the half year of $20,293.11, equal to over 4 per cent. on the capital stock. The income from the Exchange Salesroom is $15,933, and from offices $15,233, the total income being $32,539.49, and the expenditure $12,246.38.

Ten shares of Real Estate Exchange stock sold on Thursday for $1,225, a premium of $225 on the price of issue.

Messrs. Richard L. Williams, N. J. Van Pelt, Jr., Fernando Wood and Arthur S. Cox have been elected stock members of the Exchange; and Miss Agnes K. Murphy and Messrs. Miles C. Palmer, Isaac Kuhn and Frank L. Fisher, annual members.

The Board of Directors have a proposition to place another row of signs on the walls of the Exchange. They are also considering an extension of the Bureau of Information and a re-arrangement of the manager's office; the obtaining from a title company the names of owners of property not on the books of the Exchange; the placing of an awning over the skylight of the auction room, and the use of exhaust steam to heat the building.

The Exchange knockdown fees in May were $1,616.50, a decrease of $433.50 as compared with May, 1888.

The Exchange Committee appointed to receive subscriptions for the Johnstown sufferers are Messrs. Horace S. Ely, H. H. Cammann, Richard V. Harnett, Geo. R. Read, F. P. Forster, Charles Coudert and C. W. Luyster. The subscriptions thus far announced are: "A Friend," per Horace S. Ely, $100; James Rufus Smith, $100; Geo. R. Read, $50; Samuel McMillan, $50; Mrs. Lewis B. Brown, $50; Thos. C. Higgins, $30; H. H. Cammann, $25; J. Romaine Brown, $25; David F. Porter, $25; Cornelius Luyster, $25; M. S. Isaacs, $25; Douglas & Henry, $25; Brown & Leviness, $25;

M. Sahlein, $25; Benjamin Hardwick, $10; David Y. Swainson, $5; "Cash," $2; Wm. Reynolds Brown, $20; Phillips & Wells, $25; Jere. Johnson, Jr., $100; Seton & Wissman, $50; Timothy Donovan, $5; Hermann Bruns, $25; Richards & Sause, $25; Ira Bursley, $50; A. L. Mordecai, $25; H. D. Smith, $5; Thomas Monaghan, $5; Benj. F. Romaine, Jr., $15; John M. Gibson, $5; T. Wolfe Tone, $25; Morris B. Baer, $25; Chas. A. Schermerhorn, $15; H. G. & F. E. Eilshemius, $12.

Damages Against the Elevated Railroads.

William Rankin, the builder, obtained a judgment on Thursday, before Judge Allen, in the Court of Common Pleas, after a three-days' trial, for the sum of $22,000, on the flat houses owned by him, Nos. 109, 111, 113 and 115 West 53d street. The lots had been bought by Mr. Rankin in 1886, and the previous owner had already recovered damages for their rental value. Mr. Rankin finished his flats in January, 1888, and after a while sued for damages for the permanent injury done to the property. He was awarded $4,750 on each of the four flats for permanent injury and $500 on each for the loss of rent since January, 1888. The reader will notice that there are two kinds of suits which may be brought. If Mr. Rankin had sued, as the previous owner had sued, for the loss of rents for a certain number of years (not more than six) he could have obtained $500 a year on each of the houses throughout all time, provided, of course, he could prove that much damage had been done; but, instead, he sued for permanent injury to the property and consequently no other suit can be brought against the roads by the owners of that parcel. Julien T. Davies appeared for the Manhattan Company and John A. Weeks for Mr. Rankin.

Important Buildings Under Way.

III.

BETWEEN FIFTY-NINTH AND EIGHTY-SIXTH STREETS, EAST SIDE.

The two previous articles showing the principal buildings under way described those on the east and west sides of the city south of 59th street. They comprised buildings whose cost will have been over $7,000,000 by the time they are completed. In this article a glance is given at the progress made on important buildings under way between 59th and 86th streets, east of 5th avenue. In the two first articles the structures described were mainly of a business character, while those north of 59th street show that flats predominate.

One of the handsomest buildings under way is that of the Progress Club, on the northeast corner of 5th avenue and 63d street. It is now up to the roof and in appearance looks as though it had five full stories. It has, however, only three stories, exclusive of a basement and cellar. This is owing to the second and third floors being mezzanine stories. The Club has a frontage of 100.4 feet on the avenue and 92 on the street, with an 8-foot alleyway. The first floor will contain a library, ladies' drawing room, office, committee and other rooms; the second floor, a large banqueting hall, 88x50 in size, chess and card rooms, etc., and the third floor a ballroom, 88x50 in size, with a portable stage for use in theatricals, musicales, etc. The billiard room, café, etc., will be in the basement. The cost of the building, which will be opened in the fall, is estimated at upwards of $400,000. Alfred Zucker is the architect.

The new buildings of the New York Homeopathic Medical College and Hospital have been nearly completed. They cover the western front of Avenue A, between 63d and 64th streets. The college will be 48x112 in size. The ground floor will contain the assembly and examination rooms; the first floor, the laboratory and museum: the second floor, a lecture hall and anatomical theatre, to seat several hundreds; and the mezzanine and third floors, a histological laboratory, a library and dissecting room. There will also be a doctor's room on each floor. The hospital will be a three-story building, 48x84 in size. Both are ready for the plastering work and will be opened in the fall. They have brick and terra cotta fronts. Russell Sturgis and Geo. Keister are the architects. The cost is estimated at $150,000.

Excavations have commenced for the handsome residence which is to be built for Henry O. Havemeyer on the northeast corner of 5th avenue and 66th street. It is to be three stories and attic in height and will have a frontage of 50.2 feet on the avenue and 115.2 on the street. The elevation, as seen in the office of the architect, Chas. C. Haight, shows that it will be a very handsome and stately piece of domestic architecture in the modern French style. The front will be of Jonesboro granite. The first story gives a noble floor of seven large rooms, all communicating with each other and capable of being thrown open en suite for reception purposes. The foyer will be 26x30 in size, and will have a grand staircase leading to the upper floors. The second story will have eight rooms and two bathrooms, and the third story will have a number of rooms, as well as a picture gallery and studio. The building will have every conceivable modern convenience and will cost close upon $200,000. Robinson & Wallace have received the contract for the mason work, and W. H. Kirk & Co. have been selected to do the carpentry.

The Dispensary and Training School for Nurses, which is being built by the Mount Sinai Hospital on the north side of 67th street, a little east of Lexington avenue, has just been commenced, the workmen being busy on the foundations. It will be six stories high, and will have a frontage of 50 feet and a depth of 90.5. The first story is to be of stone, and the front above of light brown brick and terra cotta. It will have a passenger elevator, steam heat and unusually good ventilation, and will be of fireproof construction. The first and second floors will contain the dispensary, etc., while the floors above will be used for the training school, and will have parlors, library, reception and other rooms. The details of the front are in the Italian Renaissance, and the plans have been drawn by Brunner & Tryon and Buchman & Deisler. The building is to be ready for occupancy early next spring, and the cost will be close upon $100,000. List & Lennon are the masons, and Baker, Smith & Co. will do the heating and ventilation.

The Central Turn Verein's new building is nearing completion. It is situated on the north side of 67th street, 100 feet east of 3d avenue, and has a frontage of 175 feet and a depth of 100, with a height of 130 feet. It is of fireproof construction throughout. The first floor will contain the main gymnasium hall, 110x50 in size, a swimming bath, 20x48, restaurant and billiard room; the second floor a gymnasium gallery and large assembly hall; the third floor a main dining hall and school apartments; the fourth floor a main ballroom, 70x150, and ladies' parlor and sitting rooms, etc.; and the top floor, servants' and caterers' quarters. There will also be a shooting range and bowling alleys. The front is of buff brick and Long Meadow stone, and the entire cost of the building is estimated by the architect, Albert Wagner, at $675,000. It is proposed to supply the swimming bath with salt water pumped up from the East River. The contractors are Edward Franke, mason; Jeans & Taylor, carpenters; J. B. & J. M. Cornell, iron; Baker, Smith & Co., steam heating; the United States Illuminating Co. and Tucker Electrical Manufacturing Co., electrical work; J. Thomson & Berger, plastering; Mead & Rossman, plumbing; H. Hanlein, cut stone; and Iden & Co., gas fixtures. The building will be opened in about three months.

Ten five-story flats are nearing completion on the north side of 83d street, 298 feet east of Avenue A. They are being built by Schreiner Bros., from plans by Brandt & Co., and they will cost $160,000.

On the northeast corner of Madison avenue and 84th street Robert B. Lynd is putting on the roof of his seven-story flat, which is to be ready by October. It will have a front of stone, brick and terra cotta, and will have an elevator, etc. It will be a semi-fireproof building, and will have a frontage of 62.2 feet on the avenue and 71 feet on the street. It will have room for fourteen families, and will cost, it is estimated, about $115,000. John H. Duncan is the architect.

On the southeast corner of 5th avenue and 85th street Philip Braender is building a six-story flat, 52.2x96 in size, from plans by Frank Wennemer. It is up to the fourth tier of beams, and has a front of English brick and Dorchester stone. It is to have passenger and freight elevators, and will be ready by October. The cost is estimated at $125,000.

One of the most substantially-constructed flats of its class is being roofed in on the southeast corner of 5th avenue and 86th street. It is a five-story building, and will contain suites of apartments to accommodate ten families, exclusive of a doctor's office in the basement. Being on a wide street, only a few blocks from the entrance to the Metropolitan Museum of Art, it is one of the most desirable corners on the high ground on the upper part of 5th avenue. It is being erected for Margaret L. H., wife of Fred. J. Stone, and is to be ready for occupancy about September 1st. It has copper bay windows on the second, third and fourth floors, and it is a semi-fireproof building. The first story and high basement have a stone front, while the floors above are of peerless brick, the architraves and cornices being of Philadelphia pressed brick. An innovation introduced in the construction was the use of heavy steel rails in place of the ordinary iron beams. The front suites will consist of eight rooms and bathrooms, and the rear suites of seven rooms and bathrooms. The frontage on the avenue, exclusively of a party wall, is 25.8 feet and on the street 96 feet, and the cost of the building is estimated by the architect, W. E. Mowbray, at over $70,000.

Recent Suburban Auction Sales.

Thousands of New Yorkers are interested in suburban property, and so much of this class of real estate has been offered at auction lately, and so little attention paid to it, that a more than passing notice seems desirable of the principal properties offered during the past twelve days.

On the 27th ult. John S. Mapes held a sale at Williamsbridge, a village adjoining the 24th Ward, which was only incorporated this year. There were thirty lots offered, but only four of them were actually sold. They were on 4th avenue, near 5th street, and 25x114 each. They went to D. Mason for $130 each. The balance were bid in by J. B. Skenion at $125 to $140 each, and were not sold. A sale of 102 lots in the same village met with an equally unsuccessful result, W. Livingston buying six lots at from $45 to $100 each, and J. Lichtenstein, who seems to have been purchasing quite a little suburban property recently, securing a plot 105x114 in size on 6th avenue and 5th street for $520. The balance of the lots were withdrawn. The prices obtained are said to be fair, considering the fact that the lots offered are on low and stony ground. Still, Williamsbridge, which was formerly known as Wakefield, has made wonderful progress in the last few years, and about one hundred houses have been commenced or completed there this year.

On the 28th ult. Jere Johnson, Jr., sold 189 lots at Flushing, L. I., situated on Murray Hill Heights and surrounding the new railroad station. There was a large crowd present, and the bidding was prompt and spirited. Although 416 lots were announced for sale, 227 were withdrawn, the balance bringing $37,490, an average of over $198 each. A lot on the corner of Broadway and Boerum avenue, 27.65x129.11x25x117.30, was purchased by S. Kramer for $400. One on the corner of Amity street and Boerum avenue went to a Mr. Van Amberg for $320. Other lots brought various prices, which were all considered reasonable. Flushing is only nine miles from New York, and the cummutation fare $47 per annum, and it is one of the pleasantest of the Long Island suburban towns within easy reach of the city.

One of the most important sales of Long Island property that has taken place for years was held at Throgg's Neck on the 29th ult., Messrs. Smyth & Ryan being the auctioneers. The property was sold by order of the Supreme Court, in partition, and the sale was attended by C. P. Huntington, John A. Morris, Edward Hunter, F. De R. Wissman, Thos. J. Havemeyer, Frederick W. Jackson, L. F. Seaman, Chas. E. Coddington, Arthur Hunter, John C. F. Gardner and others. The property contains 76 3-5 acres, and is located on a bluff overlooking the Sound, on which it has a frontage of several thousand feet. It is situated in the midst of the country homes of C. P. Huntington, F. C. Havemeyer, G. S. Wright, Mrs. G. T. Adee, Bruce Brown, A. Zerega, Jacob Lorillard, A. Taber, C. Mitchell and others, and is considered one of the most valuable properties in the neighborhood. It was offered in two parcels. The first comprised 12¾ acres, and has on it an old homestead, a barn and six other out-buildings. The bidding commenced at $15,000, and the contest narrowed down toward the end to two competitors, Messrs. Huntington and Morris. The latter secured the property at $50,100. It is said that he bought it for his son, Arthur Hennen Morris, who was recently married to Miss Jessie Harding, daughter of the proprietor of the Philadelphia Enquirer. Mr. John A. Morris is the gentleman who made the improvements for the New York Jockey Club and leased the property to them. Parcel 2, which contains 63 9-10 acres, was also secured by Mr. Morris, after a contest with Mr. Huntington, the knockdown price being $76,000. The first offer made was $25,000, and about two hundred and fifty bids were called out before the hammer came down. Title will be taken in the name of Cora Morris, the purchaser's wife. The bidding was done in person by Messrs. Huntington and Morris up to a certain point, and beyond that by a representative of each gentleman, a ruse which deceived the auctioneers as much as the opposing bidders and bystanders. The whole property was expected to bring about $100,000, but brought $26,100 over that sum. One of the bystanders said that the water front at that point affords one of the finest yacht anchorages on the Sound, as it is protected from the strong currents and has a mud bottom, thus saving yachts from injury should they get aground.

An important sale of Yonkers property took place on the 29th ult., to which a brief reference was made in our last. It comprised 260 lots of the Hyatt farm, situated at a point commencing directly north of the boundary line of New York City. They were therefore almost as good as city lots; but as it was a partition sale, under Supreme Court orders, much of the property was practically sacrificed. The largest price paid for any of the lots was $800; it was for a parcel on the northwest corner of Bronx River road and McLean avenue, which has a frontage of 75.86 on the road, with a rear width of 64.5 and a front of 95.93 on the avenue, with a rear depth of 128.63; it was bought by F. Schrader, of Williamsbridge. Lot 141, an irregular plot on the corner of 1st street and Scott avenue, 94.24x143.8x60.6x124.4, was sold to W. J. Barnes, the New York dealer, for $425; this gentleman purchased some forty-six parcels in all at a total of over $9,000. Lot No. 161, on the northwest corner of Bronx River road and Scott avenue, 58.7x57.06x129x115.4, was purchased by Casper Starke for $535. Lot 97, on the northeast corner of McLean avenue and 1st street, 51.47x50x148.6x136.36, brought $375, W. T. Ockendon, who secured some twenty lots in all, being the purchaser. Lot 114, on the southeast corner of 1st street and Scott avenue, 169.15x127.58x87.8x117.33, brought $480. James Kyle & Sons, the New York brokers, purchased ten lots, and Thos. Curran, another New Yorker, bought seven lots at $135 each, on Hyatt avenue, east of McLean avenue. Lot 45, on the northwest corner of McLean avenue and 1st street, 53.54x50x187.55x168.5, brought $355. Lot 21, on the southeast corner of Scott and Hyatt avenues, 50.06x50x109.8x112.2, was sold to Miss A. K. Murphy, the young broker, for $170, the bidding having commenced at $25. The northwest corner opposite, which is a shade larger, was secured by W. J. Barnes at $130. This gentleman is said to have acquired the cheapest lots at the sale. Daniel M. Owen, the New York dealer, bought four lots on Bronx River road, commencing about 125 feet north of the 24th Ward boundary, for $1,385. The Hyatt Homestead, said to be 150 years old, with twenty lots, went to W. H. Valentine for $1,100. The purchaser has since been offered $500 advance, which he has refused. Lots 2 to 5, facing the boundary line and fronting on 5th and McLean avenues, were purchased by A. T. Doyle for $1,002.50. Considerable merriment was caused when lot No. 1 was offered. It comprises a diminutive corner of irregular shape, just on the boundary line of New York City. It has frontages on 4th and McLean avenues and on 1st street, and comprises about 200 square feet. It brought out the one and only bid, $25, at which it was knocked down to R. G. Cornell. When it was put up, some one called out, "What is it?" and when it was knocked down the same man cried out, "What will he do with it?" The parcel known as Cedar Plot, comprising 14 acres, was offered in forty-eight lots. The plot is covered with cedar trees, and the only improvement is that of two streets which are cut through but not graded. Thirty of the parcels brought $2,740, and the remaining eighteen $3,630, in all $6,370, an average of $455 per acre. It is curious to note that the eighteen lots brought more than the thirty, though there is said to be very little difference in value. This occurred on account of a number of lots being put up with the privilege of purchasing others, and as there happened to be no bidders to contest beyond a certain figure with the purchasers, the latter grasped the advantage afforded them and took the whole lot at the same low prices. This was the case with lots 230 to 241, which were secured by W. J. Barnes at $110 each. They vary from 100x100 to 108.5x107.1x100x100. Nos. 229 to 242 shared the same fate, going at $125 each, as did Nos. 245 to 256, which went as low as $60 each. The latter vary from 100x100 to 100x270.7x119.27x205.66, and the purchaser was considered in luck to get them. Jas. M. McLean bought the northeast corner of Tuckahoe road and the lane skirting Cedar Plot, size 87.4x61x96.14x100.97, for $145, and the smaller lot adjoining for the same price. He also bought other parcels opposite the McLean residence at from $330 to $340 each, W. J. Barnes securing lots adjoining for $210 each. The writer asked the auctioneers, Messrs. Fairchild & Yoran, whether the discrepancy in prices was not due to inferior land or rock. "No," was the answer, "the plot is covered with cedar trees. It is fine ground, and all the lots are equally good. It was the buyer's luck and the shortsightedness of Yonkers people in not attending the sale and bidding against the New York dealers. Many of them would have been there, no doubt, had they known such bargains would be obtained. They will now have to pay a good deal more if they want the lots. A letter carrier has offered nearly 70 per cent. advance to one owner, and other instances have come to our ears of similar offers. The property brought $53,087.50."

On the 29th ult., James Bleecker sold a handsome two-story, basement and mansard roof villa, with a carriage house, at No. 163 East Front street, Plainfield, N. J. It adjoins the houses of Wm. R. Clarkson and Mrs. C. E. Ryder, and has sixteen rooms and various improvements. It has a handsome lawn and garden, and is 105x609 and 584.10 in size. It was knocked down to Judson B. Bonnell, the New York flour dealer, at $6,475.

On Monday Jere Johnson, Jr., held an absolute sale of forty-one vacant lots on Jersey City Heights, and it is an indication of the demand for properties up that way, in view of the contemplated "L" road, that the lots were disposed of in half an hour. They brought prices considerably higher than the owner had anticipated, and they could have been bought at private sale for less. Five lots on Howard place, east of Storm avenue, brought $525 each, T. W. Marsh being the purchaser. Eighteen lots on Bowers street, between Nelson and Milton avenues, went for $260 to $280 each, Judge A. B. Dayton securing eleven of them. The same gentleman bought nine lots on the opposite side of the street at $270 each, while others brought $275 and $280. The sale was a decided success.

On Tuesday, June 4th, Richard V. Harnett & Co. disposed of forty-seven acres belonging to the estate of the late F. H. Cossitt, and fronting on North Broadway, Yonkers. It is very choice property and comprises 345.36 city lots, which were sold in thirty-seven parcels, containing from 19,650 to 30,668 square feet each, equal to from eight to over twelve and a-quarter city lots. One of the marked features of the sale was that every parcel was purchased by New York dealers and investors. Those who imagine that suburban property has no attractions for outsiders will no doubt be surprised at this circumstance, and it goes to show what faith city people have in Yonkers property. Of all the suburban estates sold recently this is the only case where all the property was taken by New York business men. It should be added, however, that the New Yorkers came in for bargains, as every parcel sold below what it was expected to bring. The corner of North Broadway and Shonnard place, containing 12.26 city lots, was obtained by F. H. Rubino at $7,050. Mr. A. D. Juilliard, one of the executors, told the writer that a Yonkers expert had valued the property at about $12,000. A. P. W. Kinnan, of the well-known real estate firm of J. Romaine Brown & Co., bought the two plots adjoining on Broadway, 100x236 each in size, for $6,000 together. They are said to be worth $40 per front foot, or $8,000. Mr. Kinnan was asked by a reporter of THE RECORD AND GUIDE if he was going to re-sell them. "No," was the answer, "I am going to build a fine house on them, and will have plans drawn immediately by D. & J. Jardine." A. Lustig, the well-known real estate operator, bought the two lots adjoining for $3,000 each. Mr. Lustig is a shrewd dealer, and was not afraid to follow in the wake of Mr. Kinnan, when he knew the latter was going to build on his plot. E. Dwight got the next lot at $2,925, and John Fleming the two remaining plots at $2,950 and $3,125 each. Mr. Lustig told the writer that if he had not been going to Europe on Saturday he would have bought the entire north Broadway front. The size of the whole front is 925x236, and it brought $28,050. M. Kahn purchased the northwest corner of Palisade avenue and Shonnard place, 100x225.6, for $2,675, and other lots. The northwest corner of Park avenue and Shonnard place, 125.6x200, was knocked down to Ed. C. Sheehy, the real estate dealer, at $2,700, and the adjoining lot on the avenue, 100x200, for $1,625. P. Pohalski secured the northeast corner of Palisade av and Shonnard place, 225.6x100, for $2,325, and the lot adjoining on the place, same size, for $1,950. H. B. Phinney got a similar lot adjoining for $1,750. Other lots on Palisade avenue, 100x250 each, went to M. F. Butler and Jas. Edwards at $1,775 each, and to Lichtenstein Bros. at $1,925 each, Geo. Wemyss paying $1,875 for the one adjoining. Plots on the opposite side of the street, in the rear of North Broadway, 100x200 each, were bought by A. Lustig, John Fleming and G. Bashford at from $1,600 to $1,800 each. The Park avenue inside lots, 100x250 each, went for $1,700 to $1,750 each, Wm. Allen Butler, the Wall street lawyer, M. Kahn, Lichtenstein Bros. and Lawyer M. Hershfield being the purchasers. The thirty-seven plots, covering altogether 925.6x936, brought $82,800. The block between North Broadway and Palisade avenue, 925.6x436 in size, brought $47,625. Mr. Juilliard said that $65,000 had been offered for it to the estate, and had been refused. A plot of nearly twenty-one acres adjoining, belonging to the estate, will probably be sold in the fall. It is on high ground and contains a little observatory from which the surrounding country can be viewed. It should be added that North Broadway is 100 feet wide and Park avenue 150 feet wide, but the latter is to be laid out by the estate in boulevard style. The balance of that avenue is not as wide.

On Tuesday, Jere. Johnson, Jr., held an important sale of Rutherford Park, N. J., property. Of the 233 lots offered about 170 were sold, the balance being withdrawn. The lots brought a total of over $17,000. The highest price obtained was for the lot on the corner of Montross and Morse avenues, 25x86 in size, which brought $155. The opposite corner went for $150 and inside lots on the former avenue brought $110 to $126 each. Lots on the two corners of Wood street and Morse avenue, 25 and 27x100, brought $130 and $105 each. The lowest figure obtained was for a lot 25x100 on Elm street, adjoining the corner of Wood street, which went for $55. The prices were considered low.

On Wednesday, Richard V. Harnett & Co. sold a three-story dwelling with a conservatory and saloon parlor, containing heat and other improvements, at Arlington, on the Montclair Railroad, within about half an hour's journey from New York. It has a frontage of 343 feet on the Passaic River, and a depth of 409x336.5. It has a barn in addition, on a plot 110x178. The property was sold to A. A. Taft, a New York broker, at $9,400. It was offered by order of the estate of the late James C. Ludlow.

On Thursday, the sale by Jere. Johnson, Jr., of seventy lots at Gravesend, L. I., brought together a large crowd of interested bidders. The property sold at fair figures, and every lot was sold. There were thirty-five lots fronting on Ocean Parkway and thirty-five in their rear, and the former were only sold on condition that the latter would be taken at the same price. The prices varied but little, the highest being obtained for twelve lots near Ryder avenue, six of which went to J. Dempsey at $270 each and six to C. Van Amberg at $275 each. The lowest figures were obtained for the corner of the Parkway and Avenue O, running through to East 5th street, D. P. Stevens becoming the owner at $235 each, taking ten lots at that price. Other lots sold for $237.50 and $250, each buyer taking six lots. The lots were all 20x125 in size, and they brought a total of $17,470, an average of $249.55 each. The prices were considered low. Each plot of six lots is restricted to one residence, to cost not less than $3,000. No nuisances are permitted, and no stables will be allowed within 100 feet of the Parkway. The property is some forty-five minutes journey from Wall street.

Sanitary and Plumbing News.

Some of the alleged causes of complaint against the inspection methods of the Board of Health are likely to be removed in the near future if present indications are to be relied upon. President Wilson has evidently come to the conclusion, whether from the comments appearing in our columns or otherwise, that the Health Department should be run on business principles, and the service expected of its officers be performed in the best interest of the public, without causing any unnecessary friction. He has lately been interviewed on the subject by the President and Secretary of the Master Plumbers' Association, and at the meeting the "situation" was very thoroughly discussed, as we are informed, with a view to adopting whatever will best conduce to the interests of the public. The main point at issue just now, as will be seen by the communication sent to us recently, is the recognition of the right of the plumber to be notified of any defects in his work, with a view to removing them within a reasonable time, so as to obviate the necessity of reporting to the owner that the work is in violation of law.

Another sore point with the plumbers is the loose manner in which the registration feature of the Plumbing law is carried out, and the facilities thereby afforded for any one calling himself a plumber to undertake plumbing contracts of greater or less amount. Under the regulations of the department every plumber engaged in business in New York is bound to register his name and address in the books of the department, and to send due notification afterwards of any change of address. This rule is not strictly enforced, it appears, and the master plumbers are of the opinion that they are thereby exposed to the competition of a class of men who, having no stake in the community, have nothing to lose, but everything to gain by "skinning" on contracts. President Wilson has given assurance, we are informed, that he will have this matter inquired into and the law enforced. It should not be forgotten that a plumber not registered at the Health Department cannot sue in the courts for any bill due for work performed.

The trap on the house drain, that pet feature of the modern sanitary plumbing system, is disappearing under the operation of an optional rule of the Department of Plumbing regulations. A prominent firm of plumbers has recently informed a reporter of THE RECORD AND GUIDE that the owners or architects of several buildings for which the firm has the plumbing contract, have applied for the privilege of having the trap omitted, and the request has been in every case granted. Of course, the "fresh-air inlet," so called, goes with it, for while it never, after the first month or so, acts as a "fresh-air inlet," yet as an accompaniment of the running trap, while of no practical value, it is only right that it should disappear also so as not to be a reproach to the wisdom claimed for our sanitary regulations.

Real Estate Department.

The week has been quite an active one on 'Change, the properties sold including important parcels of city and suburban property. In the brokers' offices comparatively few sales are reported. The conveyances for the week show a decrease in amount, while the buildings projected are about double in estimated cost, as compared with the corresponding week last year. A detailed report of the suburban sales of this and last week will be found in an article elsewhere.

On Monday, the sales of city property were unimportant, the largest crowd being attracted around Auctioneer Johnson's stand to witness the Jersey City sale, reported elsewhere.

Tuesday was quite an important day on 'Change both in city and suburban realty. Properties were offered belonging to the estates of John F. Delaplaine, F. H. Cossitt, Gordon W. Burnham and others, and the attendance on the floor was probably larger and more important than on any day since the Centennial celebrations. Among the principal dealers, investors and brokers that crowded around the auctioneers' stands were Judge P. H. Dugro, Hugh N. Camp, T. S. Clarkson, B. P. Fairchild, W. C. Lesster, Amos R. Eno, M. A. C. Levy, Hoffman Bros., A. Bellamy, J. C. Lalor, H. Hirsh, J. S. Mapes, Chas. S. Brown, J. J. Smith, J. Bookman, E. J. Powers, Morris Wilkins, Cyrille Carreau, W. H. Rosenblatt, T. Donovan, W. H. Alden, L. J. Phillips, S. McMillan, D. F. Porter, M. Littman, S. Steinhardt, Ottinger Bros., Cyrus Clark, S. T. Meyer, R. Auld, J. Steiger, J. Romaine Brown, F. R. Houghton, J. F. B. Smyth, D. McElroy, Louis de Bebian, Newman Cowen, M. B. Bronner, J. Robinson, Myer Finn, J. Glass, L. J. Adams, W. R. Martin, Samuel Glover, Jas. E. Leviness, W. W. Fogg, G. Beekman, S. de Walltearss, F. Crary, Jefferson M. Levy, J. T. Boyd, Edgar Tucker, H. Seward, Smyth & Ryan, C. H. Distelhurst, C. A. Berrian, J. M. Gibson and Bernard Smyth. James Cruikshank, the aged father of the President of the Real Estate Exchange, manifested a lively interest in the sales of the downtown property of the Delaplaine estate, of which he is one of the executors. He was on the stand, near Auctioneer Meyer, and in a chat with the writer said, with a smile: "These prices are a little higher than they would have been when I was a young man."

The most valuable parcel of the day was that offered by Richard V. Harnett belonging to the estate of Gordon W. Burnham. It comprised three houses and a stable at Nos. 124 to 128 5th avenue and No. 2 West 18th street, on a plot 92x175, on the southwest corner, opposite Chickering Hall. Wm. P. St. John, President of the Mercantile National Bank, who is one of the executors, was on the stand to watch the sale. The bidding commenced at $300,000, and the property was finally knocked down to the heirs at $424,000. Mr. Harnett then proceeded to sell the F. H. Cossitt estate property at Yonkers, a full account of which appears in an article elsewhere. A. H. Muller & Son held the most important sale of the day—property belonging to the estate of the late John S. Delaplaine. Two three-story buildings at Nos. 705 and 707 3d avenue, near 44th street, 20.1x80 each, went to Daniel Mahoney at $15,400 each. Jacob Bookman, the real estate operator, bought the choicest parcel of the estate. It comprises No. 34 Walker street and No. 309 Church street, adjoining and surrounding the northeast corner. It has a frontage of 25.1 on Walker street and 24.11½ on Church, with a depth of 74.11 and 50 feet respectively. The bidding started at $50,000 and the hammer came down at $82,000. The plot has a five-story iron front store on it, which is rented at $6,000 per annum. No. 114 Warren street, near Washington street, a four-story brick store, on a lot about 23x76.8, was secured by C. H. Woodbury. "There's a government bond for you," said the auctioneer. "Nothing to do but collect your rent, and—see how quickly you can spend it." The "government bond" started at $18,000 and ran up to $24,000. It is leased at $1,650 and has party walls. There was quite a contest for Nos. 239 and 241 Bowery, east side, near Stanton street. "Now, gentlemen, we'll go to German Broadway," cried the auctioneer in announcing these parcels. However, a lady, Mrs. Julia A. Chase, secured one of them, No. 239. It has one, two and three-story buildings on it, and is rented at $3,000 and Croton till May next. The bidding started at $30,000 and Mrs. Chase became the owner at $40,000. Jonas Hess secured No. 241 at $45,000. It has one and three-story buildings on a lot 25.9 x about 112x114.5. Chas. A. Baker bought Nos. 928 to 932 9th avenue, 50x100, with three three-story brick buildings, for $33,500. Isaac Metzger bought three lots on 9th avenue, between 96th and 97th streets, for $10,800 each, and Judge Dugro paid $17,250 for the northwest corner of 9th avenue and 97th street, Newman Cowen securing the two avenue lots adjoining, at $11,150 each. Other parcels were purchased by Builders Loonie & Parker, M. Hershfield and others. Jas. L. Wells had a large crowd of trans-Harlem buyers around his stand to bid on the Bussing estate lots at Williamsbridge, in the 24th Ward. Some ten ladies were interested on-lookers. Three of them stood on one of the stands, carefully noting down the prices in their catalogues. One of the most eager of these was a young lady with a color in her cheeks almost as ruddy as the rose in her breast. Of the 450 lots offered 138 were sold at $61,690, an average of about $447 per lot. The prices obtained were very good. Many of the purchasers intend to improve, and this was evidently the reason why the balance of the property was withdrawn, the owners feeling that when the improvements are made the lots will sell at higher figures. At the office of the auctioneer it was stated that one hundred more lots could have been disposed of to the crowd in front of the stand had they not been withdrawn. The prices of the day were considered low for the suburban property sold, and good for the Williamsbridge lots, while the Delaplaine estate, on the whole, sold very well. Considering the large number of unimproved properties offered and disposed of the tone may be considered healthy.

One of Tuesday's sales was that of No. 155 Madison street, on the northwest corner of Pike street. It is a five-story brick and terra cotta front tenement, on a plot 50x45.9x54x45.9, and brought the handsome figure of $60,000, Harris Aronson being the purchaser.

The sale which attracted most attention on Wednesday was the foreclosure of Palmer's, late Wallack's, Theatre, occupying Nos. 1218 to 1226 Broadway and Nos. 31 and 33 West 30th street, on the northwest corner. It contains, in addition to the theatre, three two-story offices, and is on a plot 105.8x110.6x98.8x72.9. Col. Tom Ochiltree, Herman Oehlrichs, Arthur Wallack, Senator Gibbs and others faced Auctioneer Kennelly when he took the stand, and the property was knocked down to Octavia A., wife of Theodore A. Moss, who holds the mortgage, the total amount due being $221,700. Another sale which attracted attention was that of Pier No. 27 and the bulkhead at the foot of Park place and North River. It is one of the most valuable down-town and was secured by Wm. Rhinelander, through Timothy Donovan, who bid for him on the property. The pier has a lease on it of twenty years, held by a Mr. Burns, who has made a business of leasing water fronts. His lease is at $18,000 a year, and he sub-lets it to the New York Central Road at $60,000 a year. The road's lease expires in four years. The property has a frontage of about 60 feet and is some 500 feet long and brought $405,000. This will yield Mr. Rhinelander a large per centage on his money when the lease of the property is renewed. The vacant plot on the southwest corner of 2d avenue and 123d street, 100x80, was knocked down to Myer Hellman for $38,750. The sale of two vacant lots on the northeast corner of 5th avenue and 98th street was adjourned.

On Thursday, No. 2223 1st avenue, near 114th street, a four-story brick tenement, on a lot 25x100, was knocked down to Henry Turno at $10,500.

On Friday an unusually important parcel for that generally quiet day was offered under foreclosure. It consisted of a plot 400x81.8, covering Nos. 114 to 142 Gansevoort street, extending from West street to 13th avenue It is almost entirely covered with one to five-story buildings, and was sold to John Sulzer, of Roselle, N. J., at $220,000, which is $6,500 over and above the encumbrances. The plaintiff, Susan R. Lawton, holds mortgages in addition of about $20,000, so says Attorney Perry; so that she is nearly "wiped out."

On Tuesday, June 11th, Adrian H. Muller & Son will sell, by order of the Supreme Court, in partition, 160 desirable plots of land, constituting part of the Givan Homestead, in the village of Westchester, Westchester County. The plots average about half an acre in size, and in the main are situated on the highway from Westchester to Eastchester, half a mile from Williamsbridge, and about the same distance from Westchester station on the Harlem and Portchester Railroad. Some others are located on Palmer Boulevard. This sale has the advantage of being positive and unreserved. The title is guaranteed by the Lawyers' Title Insurance Co., and 70 per cent of the purchase money can remain on bond and mortgage for five years at 5 per cent.

On Tuesday, June 11th, Jere. Johnson, Jr., will sell, at 1:30 o'clock, on the premises, the remaining portion of the Garretson estate, including 383 valuable lots, with ocean views, all surrounding Garretson station, Staten Island. The titles are guaranteed by the Title Guarantee and Trust Company. There will be a free excursion from New York to Garretson by special train in connection with a boat leaving the foot of Whitehall street at 12 o'clock on the day of the sale.

On Tuesday, June 11th, Richard V. Harnett & Co. will sell the four-story dwelling, No. 355 West 29th street, 22x45, with an extension 10x98.9. On Tuesday, June 18th, Richard V. Harnett & Co. will sell eight lots on the east side of 8th avenue ready for immediate improvement, constituting the entire front from 133d to 134th streets. This is the only remaining unimproved front between 122d and 135th streets, being a rare opportunity for builders. Seventy per cent. of the purchase money can remain on mortgage at 4 per cent.

On Wednesday, June 19th, H. C. Mapes & Co. will sell at 1 o'clock, on the premises, by order of the Supreme Court, in partition, eighty-five business and dwelling sites, situated in Westchester, adjoining the Jockey Club, and forming a part of the Sackett estate.

Out Among the Builders.

Andrew Spence has plans for eight three-story and basement private dwellings, to be erected on the north side of 113th street, 245 feet west of 5th avenue, for Thos. F. Sharkey; two houses will be 16x50 and have a stone front, the other six will be 15.6x50 and have a brick front with stone trimmings. The total cost will be $96,000.

Excavations will soon be commenced for ten four-story brick, stone and terra cotta front private houses, to be built by H. M. Reynolds on the south side of 146th street, 100 feet west of St. Nicholas avenue, previously reported in these columns. Three will be 18x50, and seven 17.4x50 each. They will cost about $125,000, and will have all the improvements. Harry B. Van Benschoten is the architect.

G. A. Schellenger is preparing the plans for seven five-story flats, to be built by Ed. Cunningham, on the southeast corner of Manhattan avenue and 116th street. Four will be 27x87.5 each, and the others 36.3x58, 36.9x58 and 27x88.

A. B. Ogden & Son have plans for five five-story flats, 25x73 and 80 and 70, to be built by Harry Browning, on the southeast corner of Willis avenue and 144th street.

Herter Bros. have completed plans for a six-story factory, 25x125, which they will build for themselves, at No. 484 Pearl street, between Chatham and Centre streets. The front will be constructed of stone and buff brick. The cost will be $30,000.

B. W. Berger has finished plans for the Buffalo Door and Sash Company for a factory building, 50.5x100, which they will erect on the northwest corner of 124th street and 9th avenue. The material used will be brick with stone trimmings. The cost will be about $30,000.

Herter Bros. have plans for a five-story apartment house with stores to be erected by Marx Solomon on the southwest corner of Rivington and Pitt streets. It is to be 54x76, and will be constructed of buff brick, terra cotta and brown stone. Cost $50,000.

Justus F. Zimmermann will build at once three five-story brown stone and brick flats, each 28x90, at Nos. 338 to 344 East 13th street, at an estimated cost of $25,000 each.

Alfred Zucker, the architect, is making a two months' tour in Europe.

Fred. R. Meres will build five five-story brick and stone front flats on the southeast corner of Madison avenue and 134th street. The corner will be 26x60, and the others 18x50 each, and they will cost about $70,000.

J. C. Burne has plans for two five-story flats, 25x70 each, to be built by Harry Hawkes, on the south side of 143d street, 350 east of 8th avenue.

D. F. Mahoney has plans for a five-story tenement, 32.5x32.4, to be built by M. J. Mahoney, on the southeast corner of Cherry and Roosevelt streets.

F. Ebeling has plans prepared for a five-story tenement, 25x26.4, which Mandel Levin will build on the rear of the lot at No. 55 Norfolk street.

Wm. Graul is the architect for a five-story tenement, 25.6x55, to be built for Wm. Klein, on the north side of 15th street, 94 feet east of Avenue A.

Alexander I. Finkle has completed plans for Albert Stake for a five-story apartment house, 25x89, which he will build at No. 60 Willett street. The material used will be brick, stone and iron, and all modern improvements will be introduced. The cost will be $18,000.

Brooklyn.

F. B. Langston has plans under way for three three-story and basement brick and brown stone dwellings, 20x46 each, to be erected on the north side of Bergen street, 200 west of Nostrand avenue, for Fowler & Bliss, at a cost of $6,000 each. The same architect has also plans for three three-story and basement brick and stone dwellings, 16.6x45 each, on the north side of Sumpter street, near Saratoga avenue, for Dr. Jesse B. Lung, at a cost of $5,000 each; also plans for a two-story brick stable, 20x25, to be erected on Monroe street, near Marcy avenue, for William Richter, to cost $2,500; and for altering and remodeling Dr. Carson's Church at corner of Willoughby and Tompkins avenues, at a cost of $3,000.

Out of Town.

ASTORIA, L. I.—John McIntyre is drawing plans for two four-story brick tenements, to be erected on the corner of Fulton street and Perrott avenue, for Jacob Babbs. One building will be 21x64, single flat, and will cost $12,000. The other will be 27x64, double tenement, and will cost $14,000.

FRANKLIN, N. J.—H. Ehrlich will build a two-and-a-half story ornate frame villa here, with modern improvements, to cost $6,500, from plans by G. L. Bettcher.

HAINES CORNERS.—H. D. Croly is going to erect at this place a two-story frame cottage, 22x32, at an estimated cost of $1,300.

HARTSDALE, N. Y.—James M. Farnsworth has completed plans for S. H. Crook for a frame cottage in the Queen Anne style which will cost $3,500.

HOBOKEN, N. J.—James M. Farnsworth has finished plans for Myles Tiernay for a three-story and basement residence, 35x50, which he will build on the Stevens property. It will be constructed of brick with terra cotta trimmings. The cost has not been estimated.

INTERLAKEN, N. J.—James M. Farnsworth has plans on the board for S. E. Morse for six frame cottages to be built in the Swiss and Queen Anne style. The cost will be from $4,000 to $7,000 each.

PELHAMVILLE, N. Y.—J. E. Terhune has plans on the board for the Pelhamville Land Company for two frame cottages, one 25x40 and the other 30x42, to cost $3,000 each.

Contractors' Notes.

Sealed proposals will be received at the Department of Public Charities and Correction, No. 66 3d avenue, until Friday, June 14th, at 9:30 A. M., for material and work required for new plumbing and repairs to the old in the west wing of the New York City Asylum for the Insane, Ward's Island.

Special Notices.

Geo. F. Pelham, architect, has succeeded to the business which his father, Geo. B. Pelham, conducted for many years in this city. The latter's sudden death left the fulfillment of contracts under way to his supervision, and the clients of the father have come forward with new orders with full confidence in the ability and industry of the son.

One of the oldest east side houses in the city is that of Jas. Mathews & Son, the slate and metal roofers and the manufacturers of metal cornices and skylights, of No. 326 Avenue B, between 19th and 20th streets. This firm is known alike for the promptitude with which they attend to their orders and the skill with which they execute them. They not only put on roofs, but paint and repair them. Their business has extended so much of late that they have opened a commodious branch office at 172 East 110th street.

Some of the best work in the line of manufacturing iron and other cornices and roofing buildings is now being done by August Jacob, of 260 East 78th street, near 2d avenue. This gentleman, during his years of experience has done satisfactory work for many of our leading architects, builders and property owners. The new buildings, for instance, on East 14th street, near 3d avenue, at the corner of Worth and Baxter streets, at Franklin and Varick streets, among others, testify to his activity, good methods and skill. An example of his fine cornice work can be seen now on 25th street, between 2d and 3d avenues.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICKS.—Every week it becomes more and more potent that production of Hards this season is considerably ahead of consumption. There is nothing shown to modify the belief that large amounts of stock will ultimately be wanted, but with a greater quantity of the old crop discovered that was thought to exist, and the early and abundant commencement of new production, the supply has come along faster than it could be handled even with the most careful and conservative methods, and it was found simply impossible to stay the downward course of values. Since our last the conditions have been about the worst of the season, cost dropping off to the lowest plane, yet reached without as yet stimulating any special evidence of enthusiasm among buyers, and we found most receivers in a more or less dissatisfied and discouraged frame of mind, a condition apparently fairly warranted by the market they had to encounter. On Haverstraws the very highest quotation suggested was at $5.75 per M, and that only considered likely on some small lots or special brands, etc., the average extreme standing at $5.50, and thence down to $5, with the latter figure about the best obtainable on nine-tenths of the Up Rivers, even though some of the latter showed up very fine. There is, however, no special complaint about quality thus far, as the wet weather production has not yet been reached. The rates we have noted have, it is believed, at last brought matters to a point where some counteracting effort must and will be made at the producing end. To keep on selling at ruling prices, it is claimed, is simply ruinous to manufacturers, and the latter are understood to be most actively engaged in an effort to protect themselves. Operators profess to be ignorant as to the measures likely to be adopted, but some predict a change in the tenor of the market before the middle of the month. Pales have possibly eased off a fraction on the average business, but maintained a pretty good position in the face of the state of affairs for Hards, and at the close we again have quotations at $3.75 per M., though the bulk of trading is on basis of $3.50 for top rate.

LATH.—Like a Dundreary conundrum, "one of those things no fellow can find out," is the amount of lath afloat for this port. At the writing of our last, as we then noted, receivers claimed everything well sold up and were talking quite firmly, when, presto, in came a bunch of stock, principally from Maine, and prices promptly made another tumble, some business actually going at $1.95, but it is claimed that nothing really first-class sold below $2.00, and of late the valuation is raised to $2.05@2.10 per M. It is evidently practically useless to attempt any forecast of the market in view of the developments of late, but we do not believe there will be any great scarcity of lath, and indications lead to the impression that no dealers are suffering for lack of supplies.

LIME—No improvement in demand can be learned of, and all around may be heard complaint of a more or less unsatisfactory business. General consumption is backward, and dealers get along with such stock as they have on hand or the odd arrivals coming in from time to time. At the Eastward the manufacturers are working slowly and shipping in this direction, according to the apparent requirements of our market, but getting some very good orders from intermediate points.

LUMBER.—Some of the yards are doing a first-rate business, others only fair, and at a few matters are rather dull, just as trade may be shifting about. Taken as a whole, however, the deal is a pretty good one, and with more stock going out on contract the deliveries are on an expanding scale. Those who are trying to sell stuff to dealers meet with about the usual experience and no very new developments come to the surface. A great many buyers have come to a point where their immediate accumulations permit a certain amount of standing off, and they assume a degree of indifference in accord therewith, yet there is rarely a refusal to negotiate where attractions are offered, and for thoroughly standard grades of lumber of all kinds, and little patience in canvassing generally finds a place for it upon a well sustained line of value, the average tone of the wholesale market being steady.

Among the property losses by the recent great floods that falling upon lumber will be most severe. As yet only rough and inaccurate estimates have come to hand, and it will probably be several weeks before anything like reliable figures can be obtained. At Williamsport some 200,000,000 feet of logs and 50,000,000 feet of cut lumber are said to have been floated away, but from a gentleman in the trade, who has received considerable private information, we learn that the freshet extended over a much wider area of lumber territory than generally supposed, and advices are constantly coming in of losses of logs and cut stuff at various other points, besides damage and destruction of mill property. As the consumption right at primary points must in the nature of things be enormous for some time to come, it looks very much as though there would be very little if any stock to ship, and there is now a pretty general refusal to accept orders on any basis, with a much higher line of cost talked of when negotiations are again resumed. Hemlock is the grade most directly affected.

Eastern Spruce, in a general way, may be called steady and on the upper line of quality there is a great deal of good, solid strength shown. In the long run it looks as though there would be the usual "disappointment" about the shortage of logs, and indeed with the exception of one or two localities the mills have right along had all the supply they really required, but the exhaust, present and prospective, for wide stuff seems sufficient to take care of any cut there may be in excess of special orders, and manufacturers and receivers continue the old expression of confidence that no more than a temporary easing off in value can occur, and even that must prove moderate in character. From the buying side, however, we catch a word now and then, and it is to the effect that while Spruce will, of course, find more or less demand right along, dealers are in a somewhat more independent position than early in the season and may not submit to attempts to crowd them too severely.

Piling is without much, if any, change. Some disappointment is again expressed over the rather light character of demand from certain quarters whence better things had been expected by this time, yet all leading dealers insist that if any one wants stock they must bid for it at full former rates, or it will be carried awaiting a more propitious period.

Hemlock is occasionally "rumored" to have sold lower, but, if anything, has really shaded $11.50 per M. It is probably State stock, and not very attractive at that. No open offering of desirable Pennsylvania stuff can be traced at any quotable shading, nor is there the least reason to doubt the reports of reputable gentlemen handling the principal portion of this stock, and who claim to have made no secret tenders at a shading, and also expressed confidence in their ability to maintain the market without difficulty. Indeed, since the terrific floods in Western New York and the Pennsylvania lumber region the feeling of strength has become much more marked, as it is believed that the serious drainage will fall heavily upon the producers of hemlock. To what extent cannot as yet be determined owing to the meagre data received from the scene of devastation.

White Pine does not secure an altogether roseate report from the majority of those who have been trying to place it in large blocks. We have previously referred to the evidences of more or less apathy on the part of many local customers from whom a better showing was naturally expected, and now some of the traveling men who have canvassed the country around about, and for that matter all likely localities, come back and say that the orders secured were unexpectedly few in number and small in size. Competition from other woods and exceeding caution among buyers seem to be the main quieting influences. Prices about as before but somewhat nominal except for desirable parcels of box and shippers, both of which are scarce.

Yellow Pine remains somewhat uncertain. About former rates are given out for quotations, and possibly it will be as well to retain them for the present, but there is a little grumbling now and then with an intimation that shadings are allowed and not always by the "outsiders." Considerable stock has come forward this year, and while a portion moved directly into consumption on contract there has also been enough going into stock to make quite a fair accumulation, and the demand is more cautious for all grades.

Carolina Pine timber has found a little custom, but mostly on a demand outside of this city, and it goes experimentally as a rule. Kiln dried and carefully prepared lumber, however, is retaining favor, with now and then a report to the effect that some of the mills are slightly behind in their orders. Prices about as before, and firmly maintained under current management.

Hardwoods find about former average favor, and for most kinds are steady in value, with here and there exceptional strength shown. That feature seems still to be most marked on poplar of which the control is so perfect at primary points, and though reports of business at shaded valuation may occasionally be heard they are doubtful, and especially so as regards really desirable stock. At the other extreme walnut is very uncertain, and it is not good policy to send it forward unless positively ordered. Cherry is dull, very dull, but it is the cost makes it so, as a great many more consumers would like to use it if they could afford to do so. Ash, if not too narrow, sells well, and most other leading domestic woods get fair attention. Mahogany is commencing to realize the expectations of operators and finds a better general demand.

GENERAL LUMBER NOTES.

THE WEST.

The Timberman has the following:

In conversation with one of the heaviest lumber dealers of Michigan this week, the Timberman was informed that our estimate of 150,000,000 feet shortage in the log crop on the Saginaw river this season, will be found too low instead of being excessive, as is claimed by many people. The gentleman alluded to stated his firm conviction that the shortage will overrun 200,000,000 feet, unless the rafting of logs to the river should be much more largely engaged in than it is at present.

In this connection it may be stated that there are plenty of logs for sale in the Spanish river and Georgian bay country, but they are held at such exorbitant prices, owing to the expected demand in Michigan, that it is impossible to purchase them, pay a $3 export duty and tow them to Michigan mills, except at a loss when the product is placed on the market. In addition to this, the situation becomes more serious when it is understood that the Tittabawassee boom, which is the principal feeder to the Saginaw river mills, has tied out, up to June 1st, only about 70,000,000 feet of logs, or less than one-fifth of its output in 1888, when it delivered 356,354,630 feet, and it is asserted that in a few weeks the company will have delivered all the logs within reach until the floods shall drive them from the tributary streams.

And as follows referring to the Chicago market:

Trade in hardwoods is fair and the sales are now somewhat in increase of the receipts for most varieties of woods.

One dealer reports that his receipts of walnut average about the same as they have for some months past, but that perhaps common and cull walnut are a trifle weak from $2 to $3 lower than they were at the beginning of the year. The purchase was made by another firm this week of some 20,000 feet of good walnut at $1.50 per M less than it could be bought for sixty days ago.

Thick walnut seems to be preferable to anything else just at present and there is a very fair demand for export walnut in all thicknesses.

The demand for dry oaks, firsts, seconds and common, is very good, but cull oak is a drug on the market.

Quartered oak seems to hold its own and even go ahead of plain oak in the orders received, and prices for the same are in accordance with the schedule of prices given below.

Trade in ash is very much the same as it is in oak with an increasing demand from wagon manufacturers and agricultural implement makers for future consumption. This demand is very pronounced from day to day and applies both to dry and green stock. Implement makers usually buy six months to a year ahead of their consumptive demands, in order to have their goods thoroughly seasoned and be well equipped for meeting all demands upon them.

Basswood is claiming its share of attention at the present time, and its advocates profess to believe the demand will radically increase from this time forward. Firsts and seconds are supposed to be worth $18.

But little attention has been paid to cherry, if our reports are accurate, except for house finishing purposes and desk and office finish. Even for the latter purpose quartered oak seems to take the lead. The substitution of birch for higher priced woods for interior finish continues to be a feature of trade.

There is the usual inquiry for hickory and poplar squares.

There is a little call for cedar, but it mostly runs to posts or material for paving blocks.

The Northwestern Lumberman as follows:

The plain fact is that all the talk that has been heard about hung up logs was premature. The winter was a very open one, some of the spring days were unusually warm, all of which inclined the man interested in logs to imagine that the year was farther advanced than it really was. June, the month of freshets, has not, at this writing, arrived. There is ample time for rains which will release most of the logs on the banks and in the beds of streams. Of course, it is possible that the usual amount of rain will not fall in June, but it is better to wait and see before we conclude that it will not. It is more liable to come, however, considering that the fall of snow the past winter was very light. The man interested in log driving is always spying out some ghost that he thinks will bar his way.

At Chicago the cargo market has been well supplied during the week and cargoes have been worked off with reasonable dispatch, considering the dull state of the market. The inch lumber arriving is mostly dry, and the demand appears equal to the supply, which is not as abundant or pressing as that of piece stuff. From the best information obtainable our price list represents selling prices as nearly as a price list can, and they do not differ appreciably from those that prevailed at a like season last year. Flat common lumber sells at $11.50 to $12. Negotiations for the sale of 3,000,000 feet of Lake Superior stock were pending this week at $11.75. A cargo of Norway strips was sold at $12.25. These prices indicate the average run for low grade stock. Medium sells from $13 to $14l and No. 1 from $15 upwards.

Piece stuff has settled to $9.75 for short lengths green. But little, if any, difference is made if there is a considerable percentage of long stuff in the cargo, but, as a matter of fact, little long is arriving. Here is where the manufacturers are losing this year. The market for long joists is dull, and sales are made at a serious reduction from prices that prevailed two years ago and considerably under last year's prices. The mill men and their commission agents here are much dissatisfied with the market for dimension, and they say that they shall withhold lumber from the market if prices do not improve. Some hemlock is arriving and sells for $7.50.

The Mississippi Valley Lumberman of Minneapolis says:

May, 1889, closes with an excellent showing. Despite the general complaint which was to be heard on all sides at the opening of the month the Minneapolis shippers have done a very heavy business. They have shipped more lumber than they ever shipped in the same month in any previous year, and though prices have been, and still are, rather unsatisfactory, the business of the month when viewed from all sides must be eminently gratifying. The following compilation shows the business done during the month of May for the last three years. It is a conclusive refutation of all the logic which has been used to prove that the current season is an unusually dull one, and it should be sufficiently cheering to dispel all the gloomy forebodings and depression that some have felt because of low prices.

THE SOUTH.

The Southern Lumberman, Nashville, Tenn., as follows:

There is nothing whatever to report that is new or of interest in regard to this market. The prices of all grades of the leading lumber—poplar—are well maintained, and business is fairly good for the season. The slight advance made by the Poplar Manufacturers' and Wholesale Dealers' Association has neither diminished orders nor added to stocks. The trade glides along smoothly at present prices, and nothing has transpired to indicate any change for some time to come.

The river has been so low as to entirely cut off supplies of logs from that source, except from the immediate vicinity above, and consequently the river mills are idle. The other mills are, however, well supplied and doing full work.

Poplar squares of popular sizes are in demand, and a buyer who wanted 5 by 5 and 6 by 6, which are quoted in the association prices at $29 for 1sts and 2ds, failed to get a car load, although there is a good stock on hand. Wide and clear boards are in excellent demand, but narrow common and culls are slow sales.

Walnut seems still a little dull in all grades. Walnut logs of good quality and size are much sought for, and prices seem out of proportion to those of lumber.

We have heard of no deals in cherry.

GREAT BRITAIN.

The Timber Trades Journal the following:

LONDON.

After a visit to the West India Docks the writer says: "We were also much impressed with the enormous quantity of manufactured boards, etc., stored in the sheds and floors—whitewood, satin walnut, black walnut and American quartered oak; of this last we noticed a novel cutting, which certainly seems calculated to develop and display the fine grain radiating from the centre. We did not think it possible to suggest a new mode of conversion—and should as soon have thought of inventing wooden nutmegs—but here is always some thing new arriving from our protectionist friends the other side of the Atlantic."

And reviewing a recent public sale, as follows: "The pitch pine planks made remarkably good prices, some of the 2 and 2½-in. reaching £13 10s. The same can be said of the sawn and hewn timber, from Pensacola, which in the teeth of the heavy arrivals made from 65s. to 72s. 6d. per load, some of the long lengths of the hewn timber touching 75s. It was rather expected that with the big steamer cargoes lately discharged in the Surrey prices would have yielded, but sellers have every reason to be satisfied with the result. The knowledge that Southern freights are hardening has no doubt helped to sustain values in the face of a threatened heavy supply.

The hardwood market as follows:

American Woods, Black Walnut, Whitewood, Oak, etc.—In all of these a fair amount of trade is being done at prices as last reported; the markets are generally well supplied.

Sequoia.—Of this there is now none remaining unsold; and judging by the result of the recent public auction sale, when so large a quantity was cleared off without reserve, and which in our opinion brought very satisfactory prices, it is evident that there is a better demand for this wood than we had supposed, so that there seems to be a very fair prospect for the parcel which, we undsrstand, is expected to arrive here about the end of next month.

LIVERPOOL.

Sequoia—The market—which has been bare of this wood for some time now, has been supplied with a cargo. This is the India with about 60,000 cubic feet. The planks appear to be of the usual quality and dimensions, and are being removed to be piled and lotted for sale. Numerous inquiries have been in the market recently for this wood, and buyers will now have an opportunity of filling their requirements.

METALS.—COPPER—Ingot undergoes very little change, and in comparison with the period when the speculative mania was rampant there is an extremely stupid sort of market. The policy of the companies appears to favor keeping supplies off the open market, but all calls from customers are promptly met and at about former rates. The general quotation is at 12c. for Lake, and 11@11½c. for casting brands. Manufactured Copper has about the usual demand and is without special feature of interest beyond a somewhat weak undertone on values. We quote as follows: Sheets, not above 30x72 in., 16 oz. and over, 20c.; do, 14 to 16 oz, 21c.; do, 12 to 14 oz, 22c.; do, 10 to 12 oz, 23c.; do, 8 to 10 oz, 33c.; do, under 8 oz, 23@28c. Sheets longer than 72 inches add 1c. for 12@14 oz, 2c. for 10@12 oz, and 3c. for 8@10 oz. Sheets, not above 36x96 in., 16 oz and over, 20c.; do, 16 to 32 oz, 20c.; do, 14 to 16 oz, 22c.; do, 12 to 14 oz, 24c.; do, 10 to 12 oz, 28c.; do, 8 to 10 oz, 31c. Sheets longer than 96 inches add 1c. for under 16 oz; and 2c. for 8 to 10 oz. Sheets, not above 48x96, 32 to 64 oz, 20c.; do, 16 to 32 oz, 23c.; do, 14 to 16 oz, 25c.; do, 12 to 14 oz, 27c. Sheets 60x96 and over, 20@25c., for 32 to 64 oz. and over, and 26c. for 16 to 32 oz. All bath tub sheets, per lb., 16 oz, 23c.; 4 oz, 25c.; 12 oz, 27c.; and 10 oz, 30c. Bolt copper, ⅜ inch diameter and over, 20c. Circles, 60 diameter and less, 3c. above price of sheets of same thickness; circles, 60 to 96 do do, 5c. do; circles, 96 do and over, 6c. do. Segment and pattern sheets, 3c. above price of sheets required to cut them from. Cold or hard rolled copper, 1@2c. per lb. above the foregoing prices. Copper bottom, 23@26c. per lb. IRON—Scotch Pig has found rather light sale, the demand in the main covering merely such lots as certain customers require for special use. The offering is equal to the wants of the market and available at former rates. We quote at $19.00@21.50 per ton, according to brand, delivery, etc. American Pig has not been selling in many large blocks, but buyers wanting invoices of a few hundred tons have proven quite numerous, and run up a good aggregate business from time to time. All the well known and standard brands have commanded full rates without difficulty, but more or less inferior product is understood to be offering at quite a shading. We quote at $16.00@17.00 per ton for No. 1 X foundry; $15.00@16.00 for No. 2 X do.; and $14.50@$15.25 for Gray Forge. Old material generally has been slow of sale, with most of the business apparently confined to odd lots of rails and scrap as wanted to fill some small special order. Rates unsettled, with an inclination to favor the buyer. We quote at about $21.50@22.00 for old rails; $19.00@20.00 for No. 1 wrought scrap; $14.00@16.00 for cast scrap, and $18.00@18.25 for car wheels. Steel rails show a generally better market. During the month of May over 100,000 tons were placed by the Eastern companies alone with further contracts now under treaty, and as Western manufacturers have been asking for an increased allotment it looks as though most mills were sold up closely to present limit. The tone of the market very naturally under the circumstances is strong, and there is some talk of an increase in the line of valuation. We quote at $27.00@27.50 per ton at the mills and $28.00@29.00 do., at tide water. Manufactured Iron has found a little better demand on special contract and sold fairly from store with a steady market ruling. We quote Common Merchant Bar, ordinary sizes, at 1.90@2.10c. from store, and refined at 2.00@2.20c.; Rods, round and square, 2.10@2.20c.; Bands, 2.20@2.30c.; Norway Nail Rods, 4@4c., and domestic sheet on the basis of 2.77@2.80c. for common Nos. 19@16. Other descriptions at corresponding prices, with 1-10c. less on large lots from cars. LEAD—Domestic Pig meets with only about an average demand from consumers, and the speculative element showing no special interest there is a more or less dull market. Holders, however, ask a little more money. We quote at 3.85@4c., as to quality. The manufactures of lead are quoted: Bar, 5c.; pipe, 6c.; sheet, 6¾c., less the usual discount to the trade; and tin lined pipe, 15c.; block tin pipe, 45c., on same terms. TIN—Pig in a general way retains a pretty steady market, but the movement is not free, as consumers' wants are light and speculators act cautiously. We quote at about 20¾@20½c. for round lots and 20½@20⅝c. for jobbing parcels. Tin plates are somewhat irregular. Charcoal ternes met with very good demand, including calls for future delivery, but charcoal tin slow, and cokes generally neglected. We quote prices as follows: I. C. Charcoal, 1c cross assortment, Melyn grades, $5.45@5.50, each additional X add $1.50; I. C. Charcoal, 1c cross assortment, Allaway grade, $4.75@4.80, each additional X add $1; Charcoal terne, M. F. grade, 11x20, $6.60@6.65; M. F. grade, 20x28, $13.20@13.25; Worcester, 14x20, $4.62½@4.65; Worcester, 20x28, $9.50@9.55; Deane grade, 14x20, $4.20@4.30; Dean grade, 20x28, $8.37½@8.50 Allaway grade, 14x20, $4.05@4.07½; Allaway grade, 20x28, $8.10@8.20; I. C. Coke, B. V. grade, $4.25@4.27½; J. B. grade, 14x20, $4.30@4.32½; I. C. Bessemer steel, squares, $4.65@4.70 basis; I. C. Siemens steel, squares, $4.70@4.75. Spelter with slow demand, yet the market is very well in hand and prices apparently sustained without much difficulty. We quote at 4.75@4.85c. for the ordinary brands of common.

NAILS.—Demand without much force, and all the evidences go to show that buyers feel in no great hurry about investment. If stock can be used promptly there is a call for it; if not, the policy is to let manufacturers carry it until it is wanted. On value steady rates are claimed, but not inclination to buoyancy. We quote at $1.80@1.85 per keg for car lots, and $1.90@1.95 per keg for parcels from store.

PAINTS, OILS, ETC.—Business somewhat unsettled and on the whole less liberal, with many outlets than had been calculated upon. Holders abstain from urging stocks and generally appear to have the accumulation very well in hand, but are looking for custom all the while, and buyers who bid full former rates find prompt accumulation. It is believed that country stocks are small at the moment. Linseed Oil has advanced, and shows a steady market at 58@59c. for Western, and 60@60½c. for City. Spirits Turpentine not very active and has been lower, but at the close shows an inclination to greater steadiness. We quote at 38½@39½c. per gallon, according to quantity, delivery, etc.

TAR AND PITCH.—The general line of business is slow, buyers evading stocks in excess of early wants. Prices somewhat irregular without changing the general range. We quote Pitch $1.35@1.50 per bbl.; Tar at $2.10@2.20, according to quantity, quality and delivery.

For tables of Building Material prices see pages v., ix., x. and xi.

JUDGMENTS.

In these lists of judgments the names alphabetically arranged, and which are first on each line, are those of the judgment debtor. The letter (D) means judgment for deficiency. (*) means not summoned. (†) signifies that the first name is fictitious, real name being unknown. Judgments entered during the week, and satisfied before day of publication, do not appear in this column, but in list of Satisfied Judgments.

VOL. XLIII. JUNE 15, 1889. No. 1,109

A dispatch in the New York Tribune, dated Indianapolis, June 11th, and marked "special," said: "Austin Corbin is here inspecting the lines of the Indiana, Bloomington & Western Railway, in which he holds a controlling interest. He says he has sunk half a million dollars in the property, and that even now it is hardly earning the interest on its indebtedness."

There is a freshness about this message which would quite suggest that Corbin himself was the writer. The control of a property lies in its stock, and no one believes that Corbin has any but the slightest interest in its stock, while his statement, that he has sunk half a million dollars in the property, must make his associates smile. It is this once great railroad which brought Mr. Corbin out of his obscurity in Davenport, Ia., and the profits he made in it formed the foundation of his fortune. He was its first president, and has regularly succeeded himself every annual election. If it is on the rocks, he alone has been at the helm. He has enjoyed singular immunity from criticism in his performances with the I., B. & W., but things cannot much longer keep on going from bad to worse without a storm in which lightning may strike somebody.

Mayor Grant continues to show that where he is not controlled by his political committals he has both the will and the power to be a good Mayor. His treatment of the repavement business, in its connection with the electric subways, has been very sensible and businesslike. Everybody who knows anything about New York knows that in the natural course of events everybody who had any work to to do under the pavement would wait until the pavement was laid and then proceed to rip it up, and, having dawdled over his work, relay the pavement very badly, so that it would not be a decent pavement even at the beginning. The Mayor proposes to prevent this nonsensical nuisance, so far as the subways are concerned, by seeing to it that they shall be laid in all streets where both they and the new pavements are authorized after the pavement is taken up and before it is replaced. This will settle the matter as far as they are concerned. Naturally objections were raised in the Board of Electrical Control, in which the Mayor's proposition was made. It was much too sensible to pass unopposed in an official body of this municipality. Of course it should be adopted and enforced. It would not be out of place to notify all the gas and steam heating and other companies that use the streets under the surface to take the opportunity when the pavements are up to overhaul their pipes and put them in good condition.

In 1878 the number of leasehold conveyances (not leases) recorded in New York City was 472. Five years later the number had increased to 644, and last year it was 960. Stated in percentages, the increase between 1878 and 1883 was 36 per cent., and between 1878 and 1888 103 per cent. Now the increase in the number of conveyances during the same period—that is, between 1878 and 1888—was only 99 per cent.; so that in the last ten years there has been a somewhat greater increase in leaseholds in this city than in conveyances. Moreover, the greater proportional increase in the number of leaseholds, as compared with the increase in conveyances, is really larger than the figures show, for the total of the transfers has, of late years, been enlarged more than ever by merely nominal conveyance of property from one person to another, which does not occur, at any rate not to the same extent, with leasehold conveyances.

In the number of recorded leases (in contradistinction to leasehold conveyances) the increase in the last ten years has been very heavy. In 1878 they numbered 618 and last year 1,750—an increase of 184 per cent., about double the increase in the conveyances during the same time. These figures clearly show that the leasing of property, both for long and short periods, is increasing in this city more rapidly than the purchasing of property; and while the figures do not warrant any extreme deduction, they point to a tendency in real estate matters worth watching.

The foregoing facts are especially interesting in view of the very powerful effort which is being made in England to enfranchise leaseholds. The bill for this purpose in the House of Commons provided, "that every lessee or sub-lessee, with a term of twenty years unexpired, should be entitled to acquire the reversion of his property by purchase." That is, the landlord must sell out, and if terms cannot be agreed upon out of Court the County Courts are to be empowered to fix a price upon the basis of the present interest plus the reversion.

The measure naturally has been met by great opposition even in the House of Commons, which itself established a precedent for such a measure by the Irish Land act of 1887. The argument of the advocates of the bill, which by the way has the support of the Radicals and Labor-men, is that the leasehold system produces overcrowding, ill-housing and over-renting, and it checks improvement. Undoubtedly this is true, as a general thing. Liverpool, Manchester, Bristol, Birmingham, and some other large towns in England have always opposed "short" leases (that is, leaseholds for ninety-nine years or less) with beneficial results. London is the great centre of the "short" lease system, for outside of the metropolis about 69 per cent. of the population live upon freehold or long leasehold property. But in London short leases prevail, and much of the overcrowding in unsanitary buildings, where excessive rents are charged, is said to be due to this fact.

On the other hand, the opponents of the bill argue that the facts do not justify the assertion that short leases are the cause of the evils referred to, and allege that some of the most degraded property in London is freehold. The famous Seven Dials district, so malodorous physically and morally, was in the hands of small freeholders from the end of the last century until it was wiped out of existence a few years ago. Of the property affected by the Cross and Torrens Act, 1,022 holdings were declared unsanitary, and of these 463 were freehold, though the average of leases to freeholds was as high as seven to one. Besides, it is pointed out that the abolition of leaseholds would not remedy the alleged evils unless the owner was compelled to live upon his own property. And as a final argument it is said the people do not wish the measure. In many cases, especially where tradesmen and small manufacturers are concerned, the leasehold is preferred, as the money that would otherwise be locked up in real estate can be put to more productive uses. Certainly, at one time all the buildings on the Holborn Viaduct in London were freehold, but in the last few years without a single exception they have been converted into leaseholds.

The State Board for the Equalization of Taxes has an equitable name for a very unjust proceeding. It was one of the results of the resolution made when the government of this city from Albany was instituted. When the State once took the power to govern the city—to control its revenue and expenditures and its taxation—it gained a power that it will not willingly lay aside, and that it will be hard to take away from a majority; for even if the city should come to contain more than half the population of the State, it will be difficult to unseat the present majority in the hands of the rural counties. The city for many years has paid much more than its share of the State tax. It thus relieves the rest of the State from its due share of the burden for interest on the State debt, for State expenses and local schools and education. This inequality the State Board of Equalization increases. They have for their prey the wealth of the city, and as there is no uniform rule of valuation throughout the State, nor can there be under present laws, they charge on the city a portion of the tax regularly accrued on the State. The simple justice of giving the city a member of this Board would afford the city an opportunity to protest, but not any relief. To open a discussion on uniformity of valuation would be like starting on a tempestuous sea which has no horizon. This is one of the evils that has no direct remedy. It leads either to a radical reform in the methods of taxation which has been discussed for forty years, or to the restoration of home rule to the city, and the investigation of the hardest of all political problems, that of municipal government in a democracy. But to this we shall come at last.

The trustees of the Cooper Union, in their annual report which has just appeared, while acknowledging the donations of newspapers, books, etc., refer specially to the gift of two "complete" sets of certain cheap paper "pirate" libraries. The "practical" considerations involved are perhaps too great to permit the hope that the consumers of sentimentality who support these novel libraries will seek their literary hashish in "authorized editions" only, and thus effectually protest against an iniquitous system of legally sanctioned robbery, which disgraces the nation that permits it; but these "practical" considerations should have no weight with a moral educational institution under any circumstances, and especially in this case where the books were a gift. The proper thing for the trustees to have done was to have returned the volumes, and if any publicity were given to the matter it should have taken the form of a notice that the Cooper Union was not in the habit of receiving stolen goods. The right of the authors of those books to their works is as strong as the right of the institution to its building or the contents of it; and it would be interesting to know what explanation the trustees intend to have placed upon each volume so that pupils and readers may not be led to suppose that the Cooper Union sanctions the theft of any man's labor. To place the books in the reading-room without any such explanation would warrant unpleasant inferences.

It is usually assumed that any building in this city passed by the Building and Health Departments is thoroughly well constructed and perfectly fit, so far as sanitary arrangements go, for habitation. This assumption would be more correct than it is if the scope of action of the two departments, instead of being limited strictly to the building itself, went further and took in the nature of the foundations, and the condition of the soil. On the west side, to-day, there can be seen unoccupied low-lying blocks, many of which are perpetually damp and some of which remain well filled with water, even in the dryest weather, due in some cases to drainage from higher land, and in others to the presence of springs. A notable case is to be seen just east of the terminus of the Elevated road on the west side. These damp blocks will in the process of time be taken for "improvement." They will be filled in a little, and rows of "elegant" flats and dwellings "with all modern improvements" will be erected on them. But, neither the terra cotta trimmings outside, nor the hardwood trim, and all the devices of modern sanitation within, will keep the houses from being damp, or those who inhabit them from the pains of rheumatism, malaria and general debility. Power should be given to the Health and Building Departments, not only to see that dwellings are properly built, lit, ventilated and "plumbed," but that the foundations are laid in thoroughly drained soil. The cellars in numbers of houses in the city are never dry; never anything but damp and noisome; and the inmates, especially the women who are much indoors, are continually ailing. The explanation of such sickness, in very many cases, lies in the foundation.

What has become of the "power behind the throne," "the spirited foreign policy," and the "international troubles" that we were told a few months ago would surely follow the nomination of Mr. Blaine to the Secretaryship of State. Mr. Harrison seems to be managing national affairs very much as other Presidents before him have done, and though the Haytian and Samoan and Behring Straits difficulties have given ample opportunity for the production of the "spirited foreign policy" which Mr. Blaine is supposed to have carried about with him since the Garfield days, these matters have been treated in the way common to international diplomacy. There has been no "jingo" policy, no "international trouble," nothing indeed of all the evil which we were told this man Blaine would surely bring upon us. On the other hand, we have not yet seen anything of the vast schemes for the regeneration of American shipping and the extension of American commerce which we were told to expect. But the principles of the Chicago platform accord thoroughly with those Blaine has held for years, and at the meeting of Congress next fall there is very little doubt that Mr. Blaine will not be inactive. He is a man whose influence has always been strongly felt, and who is, moreover, ambitious. The probabilities are that he has plans for closer commercial relations between this country and the Central and South American States, which, geographically speaking, are the natural markets of the United States; but he has nothing to gain by subjecting any scheme before the time to political prejudice and newspaper criticism, and is wise in his silence.

The Board of Assessors find that there is a marked decrease in the value of farms throughout that portion of the State which they have as yet visited. Their report was to have been anticipated. It but confirms the stories of agricultural depression in Pennsylvania and the adjoining States which have been not infrequently heard of late. The causes of this depression have been too often dwelt upon in these columns to need further elucidation, particularly as the daily papers have very generally come to the same conclusions. The fact, however, has other significances. It shows for one thing the inherent weakness of a community simply agricultural, and for another the amount of caution which must be used in investing in agricultural real estate. While so much of the earth remains untested for husbandry there is always an unknown element in what may be called the world-farm—an element consisting of the possible increased fertility of a newly-opened tract of territory, and supplemented by the endless improvements in methods of transportation. At present we can produce wheat just about as cheaply as any nation on the earth; but suppose that immense tracts of territory were discovered in Africa, just a trifle more fertile than our prairies; suppose that these tracts had steam communication with the ocean, then their products could easily undersell ours, at all events in certain of the more convenient European markets. If that should happen (as it may happen), there would be the same depreciation in our Western lands as is at present taking place in our Eastern lands. Real estate is liable to just as important fluctuations as any other kind of property, and these fluctuations have the advantage of being predictable and the disadvantage of not being preventable, until all the lands of the earth have been at one time or another thoroughly tested for the purpose.

In view of these fluctuations notice how necessary it is that a country should not have to depend exclusively or too largely upon agriculture. Such a community is given no opportunity to recover from deep-seated depression, being comparable to a steam engine minus the steam rather than to a social organism deriving its sustenance from many quarters. If it becomes no longer profitable to produce very much grain the surplus labor and capital formerly devoted to farming can go into other lines of business, a change which undoubtedly would result in a burdensome increase in competition; but it would be an increase mitigated by a decreased cost of food. If the inhabitants are industrious, the contraction they have suffered in one direction can be made up by expansion in other directions. Great Britain has not suffered half as much from the competition of American and Indian wheat fields as Ireland has, because she is not simply an agricultural country, and her material development can still proceed no matter how little grain she may be producing. In time, if the development continues, other uses will be found for the land left unoccupied by the lack of profit in farming. We find analogous readjustments taking place all the time in our own cities. Some years ago there was to all appearances not very much more desirable property in Brooklyn than that on Fulton street, between the Bridge and Montague street. Yet of late there has been a decline in the rental value of that property of very close to 40 per cent., due of course to the movement of the retail trade farther up town, consequent upon the completion of the elevated roads. It is not to be supposed, however, that the property on lower Fulton street will be permanently depressed. As Brooklyn grows a wholesale trade will be likely to spring up, which, with its attendant trail of banks, insurance companies and the like, will soon restore the value of the property in that district. Wherever there is growth there is necessarily some readjustment of function.

Pernicious Charity.

According to the report of the State Board of Charities, 1889, the number of beneficiaries in the care of the various charitable and reformatory institutions of the State of New York, October 1, 1888, was 64,322. The receipts for the administration of these institutions, the care, maintenance and custody of their inmates, the repairs of the buildings, etc., for the year ending September 30, 1888, were, according to the same report, $14,591,817.68. Of this sum there was received from the State, $1,626,658,73; from counties, $1,894,300.74; and from cities, $3,815,429.69; a total from public sources of $7,336,338.16. For the out-door relief of poor the reported expenditure for the same period was $576,515.83. It thus appears that the people of the State are taxed annually about eight millions of dollars for the support of the dependent and defective classes, and for the reform of the delinquent.

This burden, though not a light one, is borne with the least complaint by taxpayers. Suffering, misfortune and want find the hands of the public open and ready, as many and recent experiences show. But this same willing generosity on the part of the people, though above criticism in its spirit, is often wrongfully and harmfully bestowed or fraudulently misdirected. It often increases the burden of the taxpayer without benefiting those whom it was intended to help; more than that, it sometimes does them positive harm.

For example, advantage is taken of this public beneficence by those whose self-interests are involved, or whose local pride seeks gratification to rear unnecessarily expensive buildings for these afflicted classes. Thousands and thousands of dollars have been devoted to what contributes in almost no degree whatever to the comfort or relief of the inmates of these buildings. Indeed, comfort is perhaps sacrificed to architectural beauty in some cases. Where the real needs of the patients would be met and well met, as experience shows, by an expenditure of $500 or $600, or even less per capita, $1,000 or $1,200 has often been spent. There seems to be no good reason why public charges should dwell in houses more extravagantly built or furnished than the house of the average taxpayer. For the comforts, the convenience, the means of relief, and cure of the inmates, the former is willing to pay amply; more he should not be asked to pay.

The result of the present system of providing for the support of dependent children in New York City furnishes another example of an unjust application of the public moneys. Moral and financial considerations alike ask for some reform in this matter, but the latter will alone be mentioned here. By statute, the city of New York is required to pay a certain per capita allowance to special institutions for the care of destitute children. This allowance has in no case been less than sufficient to support the inmates for whom the city authorities, who are left without discretion in the matter, are required to grant it. The total amount so appropriated is between one and one-half and two million dollars yearly. The result of this system has been that the numbers of these dependent children have increased at a much faster ratio than the population of the city, and a heavier burden is being imposed on the taxpayers. The State Board of Charities, in the report of 1886, refers to the effect of the appropriations in substance as follows: There is no check put upon the growth of the majority of these institutions. The managers have no consideration of economy to force them to scrutinize the claim of each applicant. On the contrary, the per capita allowance may serve as an incentive to increase the size of the institution, because a larger number of persons can be much more cheaply maintained, in proportion, than a smaller. The rate is the same, no matter what the number, and the temptation to be lax in regard to the admissions thus becomes almost overpowering, for the admissions depend on the will of the managers whom the Legislature can alone control. By granting the Board of Estimate and Apportionment discretionary power in making these allowances, this evil may, in part at least, be avoided.

Still another example of the manner in which public taxes are unwisely and unjustly spent in charity is afforded by the system of "out-door relief" in vogue throughout the State of New York. Administered with discrimination and judgment, public out-door relief may be given without serious evil; but it is not, generally, and will not, it is safe to say, be so administered. What is the result? The poor law officials are, from good or from selfish motives, actually pauperizing men and women who come to them for help, and encouraging them to a life of idleness, in which the taxpayer is forced to support them. Brooklyn and Philadelphia have remedied this abuse by the total abolition of public out-door relief, and New York City has reduced the amount given to a small sum. Hundreds of thousands of dollars are thus saved to these cities, yet no increase in suffering or want is noticed, nor is more given in private charities. This method seems the best, but if it should not prove practicable in all places this principle should at any rate prevail—that the position of the one who is given relief be made less attractive than that of the independent laborer of the lowest class.

These are some of the evils and reforms that suggest themselves in an examination of the expenditures from the public treasuries for charitable purposes. It may be added that these evils and abuses are not all on the side of over-expenditure. When the insane are kept in county poor-houses for 95 cents, 98 cents and $1.06 per capita per week, there is something to be said about too great economy and under-expenditure.

It is a little curious that citizens should have to seek for light on the electric lighting of the city from the Gas Commission. This commission consists of the Mayor, the Comptroller and the Commissioner of Public Works. For about two months they held the bids for lighting the city during the current year, but a decision has only just been reached. Why is this? The trouble which arose a year ago over these bids and postponed the acceptance of any for twelve months may have something to do with the case. Before awarding any contracts again, is not this an excellent opportunity for the Gas Commission to consider the wisdom of the city owning its own electric plant and furnishing its own light, thus saving to taxpayers the large sum which now goes annually into the pockets of private corporations as "profits." Many scores of municipalities throughout the country are supplying themselves with light, as they do water, to their own great advantage. In every case a better and cheaper service than under individual enterprise is obtained. Indeed, the difference in the cost of light under municipal and under private management is so remarkable that it is the plain duty of our city officials to investigate the matter and discover the reason why Chicago, for instance, can supply itself with electric light at fifteen cents per lamp, before awarding contracts to private corporations at an "average" of thirty-five cents per lamp or something like that sum. There is no reason for our paying twenty cents more than Chicago that will be satisfactory to taxpayers. Other cities have shown the way. Will those in authority look after the interests of the city?

They have a method in northern New York of keeping the roads in repair which is about as bad and ineffective as any system that could be devised. It is the almost universal custom to let them out to some farmer whose house is situated on the highway, whose duty it is to keep the road in repair, and whose privilege it is to collect certain tolls regulated by the description of the wagon and team. The farmer very naturally undertakes the task for the purpose of making money. The more he has to spend on the roads the less he will make. Consequently he is not going to lay out any more than he is obliged to. Thus the care of the highways is put into the hands of a man who not only lacks all technical knowledge as to their management, but whose interest it is to do as little work as possible. Superficially there is a certain justice in the system, for it makes those who use the roads pay for them. Yet this justice is seeming, not real. The people who travel on the roads most are not alone those benefited by them, neither is the benefit obtained at all proportional to the number of times they are used. As an inevitable result most of the roads in that vicinity are detestable; and if there is any economy in the actual outlay (which may be very much doubted), it is more than counterbalanced by the cost of the wear and tear on cart and horse. New York needs a law like that of New Jersey, which puts the care of the roads into the hands of a competent engineer in the employ of the county.

The Taxation of Tenants.

The ordinary man has but small powers of idealization. In order to understand he must see, feel, hear, or touch. Words and the counters that pass for things are never enough to make him thril as he would to the touch of reality itself. We think that our rich men have been generous in contributing to the Johnstown relief fund; but let us suppose for a minute that, while the charitable gentlemen were sitting in the Mayor's office organizing that committee, there could have been reproduced in massive proportions a vivid picture of that mighty wall of water raging down the valley, its ominous roar broken only by the terrified shrieks of its victims, might it not then have happened that some of these gentlemen would have contributed more than a day's or a week's income? It was not until Governor Beaver visited the valley itself that he felt called upon to spend $1,000,000 of the money of the State in order to retrieve some of the ruin.

This commonplace psychological fact should be remembered in dealing with matters that seem to be far away from the science of the mind. Above all, it should not be forgotten in discussing the effects of certain kinds of taxation. On it may be founded an argument of some force for preferring a direct to an indirect tax. If a man is brought into immediate relations with the tax collector, and is obliged to send in his check payable to the order of that official, there can be little doubt in his mind as to the ultimate destination of his money, whereas if a tax means only a cent more a pound or yard for this or that commodity it is very apt to become confused with the cost of his purchase. The tax, of course, is none the less present in one case than in the other; but in one case it is present in its own capacity, as it were, and not disguised by the flimsy veil of an increased milliner's bill. Indeed, John Stuart Mill feared that in case all the money of the State were raised by direct taxation the people would realize what they paid out so forcibly that the temptation to repudiate their public debts would be too strong for them. But, however we may regard Mr. Mills' fears, it is certain that this presentation to the taxpayer's senses of the actual amount of his taxes is a skillful way to awaken his conscience to the dangers of administrative extravagance and dishonesty.

A tax law should seldom be framed for the sole purpose of gathering money. The transfer of capital which it implies may be so regulated as to encourage the production of necessities, put a burden upon the production of luxuries, and generally to be utilized to make the community happier and better. "One of the most marked and most important distinctions between direct and indirect taxation," says Prof. D. T. Ely, "is that the former tends to encourage good citizenship, while the latter cultivates a careless and indifferent attitude with respect to public affairs." May it not be that the often remarked indifference of Americans to the incompetency and self-interestedness of their officials is due largely to the fact that our national and most of our municipal and State taxes are levied so that the taxpayer is not made to feel his responsibility?

This principle applied to the taxation of real estate in this city simply means that the city, county and State taxes should be paid, not by those who own, but by those who lease houses. Everybody has to occupy a house; few can afford to purchase them. It is granted that the tax, however levied, falls ultimately on the tenant, to be by him distributed still more widely; but, as was said before, it makes all the difference in the world whether the money is paid as a tax or as a rent. For an analogous reason it is a good thing that a tax should be paid quarterly rather than annually. The more you can get people to appreciate that it is their money continually being squandered, the more they will endeavor to correct the evil. Bring them face to face with incompetent officials, with wasteful administrative methods, and with the thousand-and-one absurdities of the departmental regulations, and the remedy will be the sooner found, because it will be the more sought for.

We must not, however, expect too much from a device of this kind. The evil of our political methods is too deeply rooted to be charmed away by any mere alterations in our methods of taxation. Prof. Ely goes too far in saying that a system of direct taxation "promotes good citizenship," unless "good citizenship" means a desirable result without any regard to the motive which led up to it. Taken in this restricted sense, a system of taxation of tenants would tend to a promotion of public interests in New York City. Consequently it is a desirable reform.

A New View of an Old Subject.

When a problem arises, for example, of a chemical, mechanical, astronomical, or medical nature, we turn, as a rule, for enlightenment to the accumulated knowledge known, as the case may be, as chemistry, mechanics, astronomy, or medicine.

What would we think if a man ignorant of all medical knowledge should be appointed to prescribe for a new disease afflicting mankind everywhere? What would be our opinion of a university that should call upon an individual who knew nothing of astronomy for an explanation of a strange perturbation in the motion of one of the planets; or asked for a solution of an abstruse mechanical problem from one totally ignorant of mechanics? These questions, and others of like nature that might be asked, need no answer.

But, when any new trouble afflicts Society, or when any new social problem arises, we reverse our action and rush off in a direction quite opposite to the one we would unhesitatingly take in medical, chemical or mechanical matters. Instead of turning for enlightenment to the accumulated knowledge known as social science, or for assistance to men well versed in sociology, we appeal to the "people"—a mass of sociologically ignorant individuals—to self-seeking politicians, to class interest and class prejudice. These are our common guides.

Those who think this an overstatement should study the discussion of the Prison Labor difficulty carried on in this State during the last twelve months. This serious matter was treated from first to last strictly according to the dictates of self-interest, and it was settled as it was only by the force of necessity, because of the mental and physical evils which forced idleness had produced in our State prisons.

This being the case, there is nothing astonishing in the fact that no one has thought of asking "What has Sociology to say about trusts?"

What has Sociology to say about trusts?

In the first place we must remember what is seldom considered, that societies develop not in a haphazard way according to individual caprice, but in accordance with certain laws. Wherever there is development it is along well-defined lines.

Let us take, for example, an uncivilized people, wherein as nearly as possible there are only individual differences. Every man is equal, every man is hunter, tool maker, clothes maker, etc., for himself. There is no division of labor, and even in war every man gathers up his weapons and fights as he deems best. As such a community increases in numbers, by internal growth and by additions due to conquest, one of the first steps towards civilization is the selection of a chief—the division of the Society into the Governed and the Governing. At the outset this division is indefinite and unstable. The chief still remains his own weapon maker, hunter and so forth, assuming control in time of war only. But as the Society grows and development continues, the difference between the governed and the governing becomes definite and permanent. The governing function of the chief increases. His voice is not only supreme in war, but in religion, law and all other matters; and with the continuance of development he becomes the centre of an extensive governmental apparatus.

In the development of the subdivisions of a Society the same course is followed. In primitive religions all are worshippers—the establishment of a priesthood, the division into governed and governing, follows. Within the priesthood itself development brings about exactly the same result. At first all members of the priesthood have like powers and functions, but in time different orders are established—bishops and archbishops and supreme authorities, like the Pope, are created. Within the congregation, too, development creates governing bodies—deacons, elders, vestrymen.

In the development of our legal machinery, the army, the navy, the same fact is observable. Divisions into co-ordinating and co-ordinated parts are made, and within these divisions like divisions are afterwards established.

Turning to the industrial field we see in the beginning all men laboring alike. But by-and-by we find there as elsewhere development dividing individuals into the governed and the governing—the employed and the employer, the laborer and the capitalist.

In all civilized societies this differentiation has long ago been brought about; and pressing towards our point, the question to be asked is: If there is to be further development among laborers and among capitalists what direction must it take? Clearly the direction taken by other development—the establishment of a governed and a governing part within the lines of labor and of capital.

With the working class this division has already to a large extent been made. The result is the trades union, and the still larger organizations, such as the Knights of Labor and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

And now we are prepared to see the force of the question: What is the "Trust," "Combination," "Ring," but the establishment of governed and governing parts in capital? What are these organizations but the outcome of development, the result of the law that has given us government of every kind? What are they but the creation of a regulating apparatus in capital?

This is what Sociology has to say about trusts. They are the result of industrial development. Yet free trade papers tell us they are the creations of our tariff (though, by the way, they exist in England where there is no tariff in the protectionist sense), and others tell us they are due to the "monopolistic spirit of the times,' etc., and are "excrescences on civilization" needing legal or legislative cautery in the interests of Society.

Of course, the "trust," or combination, is not without danger to Society, and it may be pointed out that those who first organized them did so for selfish purposes. But the same may be said of the "division of labor," which has made the vast industrial activity of modern times possible. When one savage, more skillful than the rest, consented to make weapons while others hunted, on the condition that afterwards there should be an exchange of products, the motives that prompted the arrangement were selfish—the wish to get all possible out of existence—and in the savage's brain there was not the slightest idea that a course of action had been established that would tend wonderfully to increase the prosperity of mankind.

From the preceding there is a corrollary which should not be overlooked. If the development of capital results in trusts and the development of labor in the trades' unions, what will the development of trusts and of trades' unions result in. These will develop, no doubt, like other organizations. Only one answer can be given to this: in the establishment within each of a governing and a governed body. As trusts increase in number, and development becomes possible a still higher controlling body will arise. The trusts themselves will create a higher power, a sort of superior trust which will regulate them. And the same will happen with the trades' unions. But this is looking somewhat far ahead. It is sufficient for us to know that science has no such verdict to pass upon trade combinations as that pronounced by the daily newspapers and politicians. But then the one is in search of circulation, and the other of notoriety, while Science is satisfied with truth.

Newspaper reporters seem rapidly to be becoming detectives in the interests, not of justice, but of publicity. During the last two or three years the representatives of our leading journals having in charge celebrated murder cases have deemed it their duty not merely to report news, but to make investigations of their own. In a number of New England cases there was a keen competition for news between the reporters of New York and Boston journals, which led to a good deal of amateur detective work and resulted in little besides flaring head-lines in the New York World and Boston Herald. More recently the discovery of the house in which Dr. Cronin was murdered was, we believe, due to the ingenuity of Chicago newspaper men. This custom is, however, more widespread than outsiders would think, as a vast amount of this work is done without the public knowing anything about it, simply because the young men who undertake it are modest and wise enough to keep their failures to themselves. Whatever the professional detectives think of this interference with their trade, a protest should be entered from the standpoint of respectable journalism. This is simply the evil of sensationalism in its most exaggerated form. It is not enough to report brutal and degrading incidents; but it becomes necessary to take trouble to seek them out. This is giving overdue importance to matters of really little moment. It is the mistaking of a means for an end. It is the prostitution, not the practice, of journalism.

But what, it may be asked, is "respectable journalism?" It is the art of being thoroughly wide-awake. Wide-awake, not merely to discern news, not merely to point out its significance, but to arrange it with due sense of its relative importance. It is not the art of making money, it is not the art of piling up a big circulation. These may be subsidiary results, but they are not material ends, and the proper function of journalism can be sacrificed for these purposes only by the loss of personal dignity on the part of journalists. There is, of course, a business department to every journal. Within its proper sphere we see no reason why this business department should be extended rather than curtailed; but it should be kept within its proper sphere. A curious and to all appearances successful experiment has been tried by the Philadelphia Record. That paper went into the retail coal business in 1884, and since then has sold 132,583 tons, valued at $720,716. It claims that it has saved consumers generally $6,000,000 during that period by competing with the regular dealers and preventing them from overcharging. Why should not this example be followed? Why should we not, before many years are out, hear of the "World Dry Goods Emporium?" In many of the large retail establishments advertising constitutes a very large part of their expenses; and if any one store could reduce this expense to the cost of setting up type and buying paper it is easy to see what an advantage such an establishment would have over its competitors. Almost all rural papers at the present time run a job printing office in connection with the journal, and what we suggest is simply an extension of the same principle. Then the store could be used to advertise the paper, as well as the paper the store. A man who wanted some shirts could read in the World what a superior article could be obtained by stepping into the World store; and when he came to put the shirts on he could be delicately reminded by a few casual lines on the skirt of the garment what a great and good paper the World was. Thus the owner could make money and still preserve his editorial columns free from claptrap and his news columns free from filth.

It is curious how suddenly the Boulanger excitement has subsided in France. Not two months ago he was the centre around which the politics of the country revolved. Just at present he is almost neglected. The French are a capricious people. If Boulanger had stayed in France to be persecuted, and had been actually arrested by the government, it is very probable that a revolution, or at all events bloodshed, would have resulted. But when he ran away his persecution did not excite very much sympathy. Doubtless, the Exposition has a good deal to do with this neglect of the brave general. All a Frenchman wants is an excitement to talk about; and it does not make very much difference what causes it. It will be well for Boulanger to wait until the novelty of the Exposition wears off before putting himself again forward, for it is not to believed for a minute that he is going to submit to being buried politically, even if his grave is decorated by British social flowers. Whatever his virtues, he has too great a craving for notoriety to permit such a consummation. Wait until the next general election comes. Depend upon it, the name of Boulanger will be heard again.

Our Letter Bag—The Vanderbilts and Rapid Transit.

Editor RECORD AND GUIDE:

The construction of a rapid transit railroad in the City of New York, which is now going on, would seem to be a matter of infinite importance to the entire community, and yet it is receiving but the scantiest attention in the public press.

We have here the solution of a problem which has puzzled so many persons, viz: Why, in the face of the repeated declarations that the defeat of Mayor Grant's bill had retarded rapid transit in this city for a decade, there has recently been such marked strength in the market for real estate in the 23d and 24th Wards, or the "annexed district" across the Harlem River, which peculiarly depends for its value on speedy means of communication with the city proper. While city property, strictly so called, has been stationary in price and at least halting in value, with transactions scattered and somewhat difficult to effect without a considerable rebate in prices demanded; on the contrary, property north of the Harlem River has been eagerly sought at the auction sales which have been lately held in such unaccustomed numbers. An investigation just completed has disclosed the fact that most of the recent auctions of realty in the annexed district have generally netted from 15 to 20 per cent. more than the owners expected to realize. In many cases the strength of the market has been such that owners have withdrawn their property from sale while the auction was progressing, the prices obtained convincing them that their own estimates of values were too low.

The sinking of the tracks (as it is usually called) of the Harlem Railroad from the river north to Woodlawn, a distance of ten miles, is in fact the construction of an open cut rapid transit railroad between those points, which, with the present tunnel and viaduct south of the river, will give complete rapid transit from 42d street to Woodlawn.

At present the entire traffic, both freight and passenger, of the New Haven and Harlem Roads is carried over two tracks north of the river with crossings at grade and very inadequate switching facilities. The open cut which is now being constructed and is expected to be completed within a year will contain four tracks, stone ballasted, and thus entirely free from dust and without obstruction of any kind to the speediest running of trains. The two interior tracks will be devoted to the express trains of both railroads, and the outer tracks will be exclusively for the local traffic of the Harlem Railroad. The cut will be 54 feet wide and will be inclosed within retaining walls varying with the grade from 5 to 35 feet in height.

It will be evident therefore to students of the rapid transit problem in the City of New York that these two tracks will constitute the first and only real attempt to carry local passengers expeditiously within the city limits.

There will be nine stations between the Harlem River and Woodlawn, viz.: Mott Haven (138th street), Melrose (162d street), Morrisania (168th street), Central Morrisania (172d street), Tremont (177th street), Fordham (190th street), Bedford Park, Williamsbridge and Woodlawn.

The stations will be constructed at most of these points on arches erected over the tracks, with stairways at the sides descending in recesses 5 feet deep to the side tracks. These will be similar in general detail to the subterranean stations which, as is well known, were erected at intervals through the 4th avenue tunnel in anticipation of its extension northward as part of a local rapid transit route.

The station platforms on the trans-Harlem Road will be 500 feet in length or more than double those on the Elevated roads. It has always been maintained by engineers that the capacity of rapid transit railroads in cities to handle great crowds of people was in direct proportion to the length and capacity of the station platforms and the consequent length of the trains.

It is only necessary to observe the operation of the Elevated railroads to see that this is one of the causes of their incapacity to decently accommodate the present traffic.

It will be possible on this trans-Harlem road to load and unload from eleven passenger cars on each train, while on the Elevated roads five cars take up entirely most of the platforms.

A comparison of the running time on the elevated roads with that which will be effected on the Harlem Road will disclose a striking superiority of the latter, well worth the careful study of investors in real estate.

It is certain that values of realty north of 125th street in the near future will be determined by comparative accessibility, other conditions being equal. It may, therefore, be expected that the result of the completion of the Harlem Railroad's rapid transit line will be to produce at least an equality of values between lands in the annexed district and those portions of Manhattan Island north of 155th street, which are now and seem destined to be for several years comparatively inaccessible. The recent failure of lots on the Dyckman farm to bring more than they sold at in 1871, while lands in the corresponding section of the annexed district have more than doubled in the same period, justifies this prediction.

The following figures, from official sources, will illustrate how conditions of proximity to lower New York are likely to be governed by the completion of the rapid transit route under consideration:

The distance via the Sixth Avenue Elevated Railroad from 42d street to 155th street is 6.38 miles; the running time, 28 minutes; the number of stops, 12; the average rate of speed, 12⅛ miles an hour.

Via the New York & Harlem Rapid Transit line, from 42d street to Bedford Park, is 9 miles; the running time will be 28 minutes; the number of stops, 9; the average rate of speed, 21¾ miles per hour.

This comparison is made between the average trains on the Elevated railroads and the slowest accommodation train on the Harlem Railroad. The express trains on the Sixth and Ninth Avenue Elevated Railroads run the distance of 6.38 miles to 155th street in 19 minutes.

The express local trains on the Harlem Road will run in the same time to Woodlawn, a distance of ten miles, or more than half as far again.

It therefore appears that Woodlawn and Williamsbridge are soon to be practically as near to 42d street as 155th street now is. It seems quite unnecessary to enlarge upon what this will mean with respect to comparative values of real estate.

It has always been contended by those students of the rapid transit problem who were not partizans of special systems and not pecuniarily interested in any, that the key of the situation in New York City was held by the New York & Harlem Railroad Company, and that genuine rapid transit could not and would not be achieved until this company extended its tunnel and open cut system through the city north of the Harlem River and south from 42d street.

Such has been my opinion, and it is confirmed by a very careful investigation of the facilities which the Harlem Company are preparing to give residents in the annexed district upon the completion of their rapid transit route. This will certainly be supplemented by the construction of a tunnel under the Harlem River through which trains will run, freed from the present inconvenience attending the use of a drawbridge.

The subsequent extension of the system south from the Grand Central Depot will ultimately be compelled by the "logic of the situation," and will not be very long deferred.

It seems to me that the completion of this rapid transit route is destined to work changes in the values of realty in this city which can scarcely be appreciated at present and whose importance it is difficult to overestimate.

AUGUSTUS A. LEVEY.

Mention has been made in these columns from time to time of the improvements which our correspondent speaks of. He does not exaggerate their importance to real estate north of the Harlem and indirectly to the entire city, though he perhaps overrates the perspicacity of investors, for some of the recent sales of trans-Harlem property have not been the glowing successes he describes. Still, many of them have been fairly successful; some successful in an unexpected degree.

It is to be hoped that this very unusual manifestation of enterprise on the part of the Harlem Railroad is only the commencement of a new régime marked by energetic management and a liberal policy that will at least keep step with the vast increasing necessities of this city.

Hitherto New York has suffered immensely from the wretchedly bad management of the Vanderbilt roads. Instead of assisting the development of the city northward they have retarded its growth in that direction immensely and turned population east and west to Brooklyn and to New Jersey towns. Had the Harlem Road been under the management of the Pennsylvania Company the annexed district would be in a very different condition than it is to-day. Efforts should have been made long ago to create and increase traffic on the Harlem road.

The tracks should have been stone ballasted ten years ago; a faster train service established, with numerous local expresses in the morning and evening. The antiquated badly lit, badly kept cars should have been replaced by others such as the Pennsylvania Road runs on its local service, where all trains are composed of new cars which are removed for others apparently every few months. In a word there has never been any sign on the Harlem Road of active, intelligent management, and the same is true of the entire Vanderbilt system. They have bragged more than any other line in the country, and done less. From parlor cars to vestibuled trains and "quick time" they have been compelled to make every improvement, every concession to the public by the action of other lines. Their road is still a dirt track instead of being stone ballasted, and while the Pennsylvania is experimenting with Webb's compound engine they are running many old-fashioned locomotives fit only for cross roads.

It is to be hoped, however, that the Harlem enterprise is the beginning of new things. Experience has clearly shown that the easiest way for New York to get rapid transit is to improve existing facilities, and the improvement of the Harlem Road is one of the first steps. Now for the Elevated roads—the third track and the Battery loop.

The Divorce Question.

Editor RECORD AND GUIDE:

Not a day passes but some of our city newspapers send a glow of light upon our vexed social problems. The New York Sun, after a review of some of the main facts stated in the report of Hon. Carroll D. Wright, on the statistics and laws relating to marriage and divorce in the United States, comes to the following conclusion: "There is no occasion whatever for the Boston National Divorce Reform League to distress itself on the subject. The institution of marriage is exceedingly popular in this Republic, and it is working very successfully." As if almost to corroborate a certain part of this assertion we find, in the Sun of the same date, another paragraph, written in that bright, breezy way which is so characteristic of the style of certain of our newspapers. The heading is one which immediately claims the reader's attention: "Mollie is Popular;" and the sub-heading adds some interesting details: "She has had six husbands, and has been divorced from them all." What a beautiful and touching picture of domestic promiscuity! How admirable the laws of a Republic that will allow such a free play of individual freedom! Surely marriage is exceedingly popular—with the like of Mollie, and certainly Mollie has been, as the Sun delicately insists, exceedingly popular too. The Sun is right—marriage is working very successfully. We can bring Mollie to prove our assertion. Yours connubially, F. B. HERBERT.

Two gentlemen were talking, not long ago, in one of New York's best known clubs, and the conversation turned on the subject of rents. One of these gentlemen, a large property-owner, complained that he found it very difficult to satisfy his tenants as to the amount they should pay for his houses. No matter how just and fair he tried to be, his tenants, he said, always found something to object to. Whereupon his companion replied, that that was only human nature. A man always finds something onerous in a continuous payment. It was the same with the Romans as it is with us. Not seeing exactly why the Romans should be brought into the discussion, the first speaker asked him what proof he could give for his statement. "Why!" returned the historian, "the words of Antony, as reported by Shakespeare—'See here! the rent the envious Casca made!'" The joke was weak; but since it had, as it were, a Pine street flavor to it, we give it for what it is worth.

Americans are generally considered, if not the most assiduous, certainly the most enterprising advertisers in the world. No other nation allows its rocks and fences to be marred with patent medicine signs in the way we do, and ingenious methods are continually being discovered to force the daily journals to give in a newsy way that publicity to the name of a prominent professional or business firm which is the very breath of their life. It remains, however, for some Englishmen seriously to propose an advertising scheme, remarkable, if not for its ingeniousness, at least for its boldness. These two men wish the government to rent the back of stamps to an advertising bureau, which could let them out to business houses. No government could, of course, do such a thing without a sad loss of dignity, and if such trifling with public papers were once permitted there is no telling to what monstrous developments such an innovation might ultimately lead. But there is another objection which we would recommend to the careful consideration of our readers. As the London Daily Telegraph says in discussing the matter: "There are plenty of perfectly legitimate means available for enabling advertisers to proclaim the merits of their wares." These means are not far to find.

There is a piece of undulating property on Pelhamdale avenue, about half a mile from Pelhamville Station, which in the past has been in the hands of institutions that would do nothing to improve it. Lately, however, it has been divided into lots, whereon houses are to be built; and vigorous efforts are to be made by the owners, the Pelhamdale Land Company, to make its value appreciated.

The condition of a part of the roadway on 5th avenue on Thursday was simply intolerable. The section between 92d and 110th streets is here referred to. After a rainstorm no effort seems to be made by the Street Cleaning Department to gather up the several inches of mud which accumulates in the next few hours. It is allowed to dry, and in a few days the wind throws up clouds of dust which blinds pedestrians and drivers, and practically boycotts that part of the first avenue in the city. The same holds good of the Boulevard on the west side. Is it not time that this standing disgrace to our Public Works and Street Cleaning Departments should be blotted out. It is futile to tell us that these thoroughfares are not yet sufficiently built up to demand a fine pavement. Private improvements will follow very rapidly upon public improvements, and the main reason why the Boulevard is not built up is on account of the wretched condition of its roadway.

A meeting was held last night at No. 1138 Park avenue to form a Real Estate Owners' Association, composed of property owners between 86th and 96th streets, Park and 5th avenues. The circular convening the meeting was signed by Dr. J. V. S. Woolley, Andrew J. Kerwin, John H. Gray, Peter Somers, Chas. Gulden, Ph. Braender, Frank E. Wise, Alex. D. Duff and Walter Reid.

Mr. C. F. Cox, Vice-President of the Canada Southern Railroad Company (Cornelius Vanderbilt being President), a most conservative gentleman, gives it as his opinion that the Drexel, Morgan & Co. receipts for Richmond & Alleghany Railroad Company first mortgage bonds, now selling at 66 are worth 80. He is represented as saying:

The scheme to combine the property with the Chesapeake & Ohio is now completed, except as to some technical steps which are necessary to give the Chesapeake & Ohio actual ownership. As soon as these are accomplished the new securities will be delivered for Drexel, Morgan & Co.'s receipts. In the meantime the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad Company is operating the Richmond & Alleghany road and has assumed the obligation te pay the interest on the receipts the same as if the new securities were issued. The first payment will be due July 1st. The receipts representing first mortgage bonds bear interest at 2 per cent. per annum until January 1, 1894, after which they become a 4 per cent. bond for ninety-five years. There is no reasonable doubt that that bond will be worth at least 90. Therefore, if the 2 per cent. per annum for five years is at once deducted the present value of the bond is 80. But on the usual theory of deferred payments it is really worth more than that, while in the market it sells at about 66.

It is understood that the Vanderbilt family have been steady buyers of these Drexel, Morgan & Co. receipts, and that they never hold over $1,000,000, the total issue being $5,000,000.

The death of Joseph Arthur Levy removes from the real estate market one of the best known among its brokers. He was a very active man, and was much esteemed by his many business friends and acquaintances for his industry and integrity. He opened a branch on the west side last year which he was compelled to give up owing to failing health and press of down-town business. His death was literally due to hard work.

Fifth Avenue, East of Central Park.

A CONTRAST TO CENTRAL PARK WEST.

The article dealing with the character of that part of 8th avenue bounding the Central Park to the west, which appeared in these columns on the 1st inst., showed the tendency of building on that thoroughfare. A synopsis was given of the vacant lots along Central Park West, together with the character of the buildings along its fifty fronts, between 60th and 110th streets. It showed that more than three quarters of the ground was vacant, while the majority of the buildings erected were flats.

In view of the recent Huntington and Astor purchases of some of the very few lots remaining vacant on 5th avenue, south of the Central Park, and as a corollary to the article on Central Park West, a glance at the character of Central Park East, so to speak, will no doubt prove interesting; in other words, that part of 5th avenue between 59th and 110th streets.

A run along this part of 5th avenue shows that it has the advantage at present in a degree that makes comparison with Central Park West seem absurd. In the one case there are scarcely twenty first-class buildings; in the other there are scores. Nearly all of them are of a really handsome character, many of them being very costly residences. Among these are the Cook, Brokaw, Ruppert, Mills, Armour and other residences, not to speak of the Lenox Library and the Progress Club. Central Park West has the Dakota, which is immeasurably finer, it should be said, than any flat on 5th avenue; as well as a noble row of Noble houses, with a corner flat or two, the Cancer Hospital, and the Museum of Natural History. It makes a fair showing, what there is of it, but the 5th avenue side is clearly stamped up to the present as a private residence thoroughfare, while Central Park West seems to be determining itself into a region of flats more than anything else. It is these private residences which give the tone to that part of 5th avenue which we are here considering. Of course flats appear here and there, and there are no doubt more to come; but they will be largely confined to the section between 85th and 110th streets, rather than between 59th and 85th streets.

A glance at the following list, prepared after the manner of the article on Central Park West, will show the character of each block front on 5th avenue skirting Central Park. The description of the properties under the heading of "Present Condition" takes in the eight lots on each block front on 5th avenue, between the streets indicated:

59th and 60th sts.	—Liquor saloon, stable office, dairy kitchen and a carpenter and builder—all shanties. Park & Tilford's store, with six floors above; a plumber and gas fitter, a flower store, tailor, and liquor saloon. The seven-story building, owned by Joseph Park and others, is the only improvement on this front, the rest being old buildings.
60th and 61st sts.	—One-story shanty, used as a soda-water and cigar store, on the northeast corner of 60th st. The balance vacant, about seven lots.
61st and 62d sts.	—Residence of Jabez A. Bostwick, on northeast corner of 61st st. Balance vacant, about seven lots.
62d and 63d sts.	—Residences of William Belden, Chas. H. Sanford, Thomas Rutter, Clarence A. Postley and others; also Fidelio Club. No. 811 to be converted into a flat. The front is all built up.
63d and 64th sts.	—Progress Club on northeast corner of 63d st. Saloon shanty on the southeast corner of 64th st. The balance vacant, about three lots.
64th and 65th sts.	—Residences of Henry Knickerbacker, Amos Cutting and Isidor and Simon Wormser, the latter living together. Three houses altogether; the balance of about five lots vacant.
65th and 66th sts.	—Two residences, those of Andrew J. White and another, on the southeast corner of 65th st. Six lots vacant.
96th and 67th sts.	—Excavations under way on the northeast corner of 66th st. for the handsome residence to be built for Henry O. Havemeyer, to cost about $200,000. The residences of H. O. Armour, George W. Kidd and Mrs. Francesca A. De Barrios, widow of the General, and another house, making four in all, cover the 100 feet on the southeast corner of 67th st. The balance vacant, about two lots
67th and 68th sts.	—Mrs. Elizabeth Fogg's residence, on the northeast corner of 67th st., and Augustus C. Downing's, No. 860, in the centre of the block. The balance vacant, about six lots.
68th and 69th sts.	—Two handsome residences are on this block; those on the northeast corner of 68th st., about 30 feet wide, is owned by Robert

L. Stuart, who has 55 feet front on the avenue, and the other on the southeast corner of 69th st., about 50 feet wide, owned by Ogden Mills. The balance vacant, nearly four lots.

69th and 70th sts.—Front covered by houses of Heber R. Bishop, John Sloane and others, with the exception of one vacant lot in the centre.

70th and 71st sts.—Lenox Library.

71st and 72d sts.—Entire front vacant.

72d and 73d sts.—Northeast corner of 72d st occupied by passengers' waiting room of Fifth Avenue Stage Line, and a soda-water and cigar store. The balance vacant, seven lots.

73d and 74th sts.—The Wilhelm Pickhardt residence on the southeast corner of 74th st, and the Francis E. Quintard house on the northeast corner of 73d st. These gentlemen each own 100 feet frontage on the avenue.

74th and 75th sts.—Residences of Alfred M. Hoyt, Jacob H. Schiff and two others. Four houses and four vacant lots.

75th and 76th sts.—Entire front vacant.

76th and 77th sts.—Saloon on northeast corner of 76th st. Balance vacant, seven lots.

77th and 78th sts.—Two fine houses being completed. A frame cottage on the southeast corner of 78th st. Balance vacant, five lots.

78th and 79th sts.—The Cook mansion, with grounds taking in the entire front and block.

79th and 80th sts.—Isaac V. Brokaw's mansion on the northeast corner of 79th st, taking in a frontage of 100 feet on the avenue, including ground. Two other residences on the southeast corner of 80th st. The balance vacant, two lots.

80th and 81st sts.—Louis Stern's house in centre. The balance vacant, seven lots.

81st and 83d sts.—Two block fronts vacant.

83d and 84th sts.—The northeast corner of 83d st, No. 1020, occupied by Wm. A. Arnold. The balance vacant, seven lots.

84th and 85th sts.—Five houses on the northeast corner of 85th street, including those occupied by Richard S. Dana, Mrs. Susan G. Turner, Wm. Tucker and Ed. P. Hatch. A seven-story flat being built by Ph. Braender, on the southeast corner of 85th street, up to the third story walls. Two lots adjoining southerly vacant.

85th and 86th sts.—Six houses, occupied by Miss Margaret Griswold, Mrs. Jane Moffatt and others. The flat being built by Fred. J. Stone, on the southeast corner of 86th street, nearing completion. The northeast corner of 85th street vacant.

86th and 87th sts.—The houses of Gen. Collis and three others. The two corners vacant, about five lots.

87th and 88th sts.—Entire front vacant.

88th and 89th sts.—Front vacant, with a frame house in the rear of two of the centre lots.

89th and 90th sts.—Saloon on northeast corner of 89th street and another frame structure. Balance vacant, about six lots.

90th and 91st sts.—The Fifth Avenue Riding Academy (Antony & Runk's), occupying 75 feet frontage on the avenue. Balance vacant, five lots.

91st and 92d sts.—Shanty on rear of southeast corner of 92d street. Balance, practically the entire front, vacant.

92d and 93d sts.—Jacob Ruppert's residence on the southeast corner of 93d street, occupying, with ground, a frontage of 100 feet on the avenue. The four lots to the south vacant.

93d and 94th sts.—Entire front vacant. About 1 to 6 feet of rock on the southeast corner of 94th street.

94th and 95th sts.—Saloon on the northeast corner of 94th street. Seven lots vacant.

95th and 96th sts.—Saloon on southeast corner of 96th street. Six lots vacant.

96th and 97th sts.—Entire front vacant. About 1 to 15 feet of rock on the northeast corner of 96th st.

97th and 98th sts.—A one-story brick saloon and seven vacant lots.

98th and 99th sts.—Entire front vacant; fenced in with stone.

99th and 100th sts.—Saloon on northeast corner of 99th st. Balance vacant, about six lots.

100th and 101st sts.—Entire front vacant. About 1 to 12 feet of rock on the southeast corner of 101st st.

101st and 102d sts.—Entire front vacant. About 1 to 15 feet of rock.

102d and 103d sts.—Shanty on southeast corner of 103d st. Seven lots vacant.

103d and 104th sts.—Saloon on northeast corner of 103d st. Seven lots vacant.

104th and 105th sts.—Entire front vacant.

105th and 106th sts.—Saloon on southeast corner of 106th st and shanty in centre. Six lots vacant.

106th and 109th sts.—Three block fronts vacant, from about 10 to 15 feet below grade.

109th and 110th sts.—Grube's Park Hotel. A four-story brick building, with a saloon on the first floor and rooms above, on the southeast corner of 110th st. Also the Hotel Puck. Six lots vacant.

It will be noticed that the line of improvement practically commences at 61st street and ends at about 87th street. North of 87th street, the Ruppert residence is the only relieving feature, except it be the rather genteel front of the Fifth Avenue Riding Academy. But what there is between 61st and 87th streets is all of a first-class character, and with very few exceptions the buildin s are all private residences. There are only two flats, and these are both handsome in character, and they come north of 84th street. The Progress Club will hardly affect the surrounding property any more than the Union League Club does further south. The fact that one house, No. 816, is occupied by the Fidelio Club, and another, No. 811, is to be changed into a first-class flat, only affects the block between 62d and 63d streets. The character of the avenue is really determined. It is of a strictly residential character between 64th and 86th streets, while between 86th and 110th streets it will no doubt be an intermixture of handsome residences and flats, with a sprinkling of buildings of a non-residential character.

An analysis of the property improved and unimproved shows the following results. Central Park West is included by way of comparison:

	Fifth Ave.	Cent. P'k W.
Total No. of block fronts	51	50
Total No. of lots, about	408	402
No. of lots improved, about	99	96
No. of lots unimproved, about	309	306
No. of flats and apartment houses	2	11
No. of strictly private residences	58	9
Miscellaneous buildings	6	6
No. of old frame houses, etc., about	25	30

BOARD OF ASSESSORS.

No. 27 Chambers Street,
New York, June 8, 1889.

Notice is given to the owner or owners of all houses and lots affected thereby, that the following assessments have been completed and are lodged in the office of the Board of Assessors for examination by all parties interested, who must present their objections in writing, if opposed to the same, within thirty days from date of notice:

REGULATING, GRADING, ETC.

No. 1.—Manhattan av, from 100th to 105th st.

[The limits embraced by said assessments include all the houses and lots situated as follows:

No. 1.—Manhattan av, both sides, from 100th to 105th sts, and to extent of half the block at the intersecting sts.]

The above-described list will be transmitted for confirmation on the 28th day of July, 1889.

Building and Loan Associations in New York City.

The building and loan associations have excited so much interest of late that a reporter of The Record and Guide went to see John T. Canavan, of the Home Seeker, to secure information about the progress they were making in New York City and its vicinity. In reply to a question as to the vitality of the associations, Mr. Canavan said:

"In spite of the fact that in point of time building and loan associations are not so very young, nevertheless they possess now all the enthusiasm and vigor of youth. The men connected with them are confident that these associations fill a real need, and that their advent will do a great deal to make it easier for a man of moderate means to provide himself with a fireplace and a roof. This hopefulness and confidence is, perhaps, more manifest in the neighborhood of this city than elsewhere. In places like Philadelphia, Rochester and Minneapolis, the building associations are more numerous, both absolutely and proportionally, than they are here; but New York and its neighborhood is just beginning to wake up to the benefit to a poor man which may flow from a wisely-conducted association, and in consequence they are increasing steadily."

"At what figure" asked the reporter, "would you put the number of associations operating in and about New York City? I see that W. A. Linn, in Scribner's, limits the total within the city limits to thirty-five."

"Mr. Linn's figures are not entirely correct," answered Mr. Canavan. "There are forty-six associations in the city itself; and there are at least eighty more in the outlying districts, the members of which so generally do business in New York that in speaking of the New York associations it is hardly right to exclude them. In these 126 associations there are close to 35,000 shareholders, a number which does not seem so large when compared to the gross population of these districts, but which grows in size when we consider how many of this total population are either too rich, too poor, too Bohemian, or too thriftless to wish to take advantage of the opportunities which an association offers. At the same time these 35,000 men do not begin to include the aggregate which may very possibly be formed when the aims of the associations are appreciated and popularized as fully and widely as they are in other places in this country and abroad."

"What means are being taken," asked the reporter, "to spread among the right kind of people the ideas of this movement?"

On this point, Mr. Canavan's modesty naturally made him reluctant to speak; but after some little persuasion he consented to confess that he thought really important work was being done by certain of the papers connected with it. "There are four papers in the city supported by the associations," said he, "two of which are doing good work—the Home Seeker and the Building and Loan Association News.

In answer to an inquiry as to the amount of business the associations do, Mr. Canavan said: "Although there are a number of associations in New York City, they do but very little business within the city limits. The houses built are intended for New Yorkers, and are erected within a radius of thirty-five miles of City Hall; but the price of land south of the Harlem is too high to permit a poor man to build. The average loan to shareholders is about $3,000; and a man who can only afford to spend that on his house is not very likely to pay more than $700 or $800 for his lot. The mortgage filing for the various suburban towns show that about $3,000,000 is spent yearly by the members of the associations, which means an increase of a thousand homes a year. It is the real estate dealers in the outlying towns which get the advantage of this, and it is said that in some places which have been popular among the associations the dealers depend exclusively on them for business."

"How about the premiums?" asked the reporter. "Mr. Linn, in his article, says that bonuses as high as 60 per cent. have been paid for loans in this city. Is that at all a common occurrence?"

"Not at all," answered Mr. Canavan. "In exceptional cases they have ranged very high; but as a general thing they average exceedingly low. In fully four-fifths of the associations they are of but slight importance."

"In what way are these premiums paid?" was the next query.

"Generally on the monthly installment plan," returned Mr. Canavan. "This method has been found by experience to be by far the most secure. I can recollect without any trouble six associations which, starting on the 'gross premium' system, have found it wise to change to a system of payments by monthly installments.

Notes from Lakewood.

Lakewood, N. J.—The season at this popular winter resort ended two weeks ago, when the Laurel House closed its doors until next fall. There are but few boarders left at the cottages, and many of the residents of the place have either gone or are preparing to go to mountain and seashore resorts for the summer months. The season just closed has been a successful one, and although a few houses were unoccupied during the winter it was owing to their incompleteness rather than a lack of tenants. There was an excellent demand for houses, both to buy and to rent, and it is said many desirable people went elsewhere owing to a lack of suitable dwellings. The Hotel and Land Improvement Company, large land owners here, do not build any houses themselves and, it is said, discourage their erection in advance of their being either sold or rented. In the way of building there is not much doing, although during the week a few jobs have been commenced. By far the largest and most important is the rebuilding of Clifton Hall at the corner of Clifton avenue and 3d street. The old hotel, which was a two-story frame structure, was burned to the ground last March, and although no lives were lost, few of the sixty or seventy guests saved either their clothing or valuables. The fire commenced in the early morning and, as there was a high wind blowing the hotel was soon burned to the ground. On Wednesday the preparatory work of excavating was begun, and Builder Arthur W. Oliver, of this place, who has the contract, says work will be carried on with all possible dispatch. The new Clifton Hall will be built after plans by Frank Bodine, of Asbury Park, N. J., and will cost the owner, J. R. Palmer, $50,000. It will be three stories high, of brick, and will have a frontage on Clifton avenue of 40 feet, extending 126 feet on 3d street, the depth in the rear being 90 feet. The hotel will contain about seventy rooms and will be supplied with all the modern improvements, including elevators, steam heat, electric bells, etc. The builder, Mr. Oliver, states that the contracts have not yet been given out, but he expects the hotel will be ready for occupancy in October. Among the other work being carried on is the erection of a three-story brick house on Madison avenue, near 2d street, by Miss Snyder, at a cost of about $10,000. Builder Borden, of Eatontown, has the contract for the work; Mr. Oliver is altering and enlarging a house on Clifton avenue for Mrs. Currier, at a cost of about $1,000; Miss Russell is altering and extending Mr. Stout's house on Clifton avenue; and Carpenter John Grant is building a shop and small dwelling on 4th street.

Among the prospective work may be mentioned a new Catholic Church, for which subscriptions have already been pledged, but the work of building seems to be delayed because of a difference of opinion as to the size and appointments of the edifice. We hear that ex-Mayor Wm. R. Grace and Counsellor Marrin, of New York, and Miss Harriet S. Arnold, of this place, were the largest subscribers. Miss Arnold contemplates altering a shop on 6th street into a dwelling, or erecting an entirely new house on the site.

Improvements at Dunwoodie.

James Thompson, the architect, of Yonkers, N. Y., has completed plans for two eight-room dwellings, with hardwood trim and all modern improvements, which C. Henry Mead, the real estate agent, will erect on Bennett avenue, Dunwoodie, or South Yonkers. This will no doubt prove to be the beginning of a number of improvements in a most charming spot upon the very borders of New York City. Few people have any idea that there, within fifty minutes' ride of Wall street, is to be found natural rugged scenery, which in many respects rivals that of the Adirondacks. The land is well timbered and rolling with high elevations, from which superb views for twenty miles around are to be obtained along the Sound and the Long Island shore, with the Hudson to the west winding through the Palisades out to the Lower Bay. The district is remarkably healthy, and already contains many fine residences of wealthy New Yorkers. With smaller improvements, however, progress has been slower than might have been expected. The opening of new streets will no doubt prompt the building of smaller cottages, as in Mr. Mead's case, and if property-holders are wise they will part with a portion of the land they have kept so long tied up and do all possible to further these improvements, which, by settling the district, will enhance the value of real estate and make lots as valuable as acres are to-day.

Notes About Mortgages in May.

The Manhattan Athletic Club mortgaged its property on the southeast corner of Madison avenue and 45th street for $650,000 to secure $400,000 first mortgage and $250,000 second mortgage bonds.

Chas. Broadway Rouss, dealer in notions, borrowed $400,000 at 5 per cent. from the Mutual Life Insurance Co. on the large building he is having built on Broadway and Mercer street. The Bonner Brothers took back a mortgage for $400,000 on the five and three-fourths lots on the southeast corner of 5th avenue and 57th street, which they sold to Collis P. Huntington. A loan of $180,000 at 5 per cent. was made by the New York Life Insurance Company on the northeast corner of Crosby and Houston streets, where Harry Hill's theatre formerly stood. Editor Oscar Hammerstein borrowed from the Washington Life a quarter of a million dollars on three lots on 125th street and six lots on 126th street west of 7th avenue. Mr. Hammerstein is erecting an opera house on the site. A loan of $150,000 at 5 per cent. was secured by Mary E. Hanley on the new San Carlo on the northeast corner of Broadway and 31st street. There is a first mortgage of $40,000 on the property. Builder Charles Buek placed a $125,000 mortgage on the "Parkway" flat on West 72d street. The De La Vergne Refrigerating Machine Co. borrowed $200,000 at 5 per cent. from Brewer Henry Bartholomay, giving as security property on East 138th street, etc.

Among the mortgages by noted people the following are interesting: Ex-Mayor Edson mortgaged a plot of two and four-fifth acres at West Farms to the Mutual Life for $18,000. Jim Keene's wife ratified a previous mortgage for $33,157 given to the Equitable Life, the property covered being the Windermere flat on the southwest corner of 9th avenue and 57th street, size 125x100.

The executors of Samuel J. Tilden advanced $35,000 on the dwelling No. 1054 5th avenue. Ex-District Attorney John McKeon's executors loaned $24,000 on two West 83d street houses.

The City of New York took back a mortgage for $65,000 at 4 per cent. on eight lots, corner Park avenue and 82d street, sold to the Church of the Redeemer.

Parcels Showing a Decline in Value.

We often publish items showing advances in the value of parcels changing hands, but there seldom appears anything to show that houses or lots have depreciated in value. The following will therefore be read with interest, as they are taken from recent filings: No. 158 South 5th avenue was sold on May 2d by Frank A. Seitz to Mayer Kahn at $33,750, Mr. Sietz taking in trade a plot on West 3d street. On the same day (May 2) Mr. Kahn resold the South 5th avenue factory for $29,500, or $4,250 less than the figure at which he acquired it.

No. 18 West 40th street was sold on January 2d at $41,000, and again on May 17th at $38,000—a decline of $3,000.

No. 46 West 55th street changed hands last July at $28,500, and again in April of this year for $28,400—a decline of $100.

Important Buildings Under Way.

IV.

BETWEEN EIGHTY-SIXTH AND ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY-FIFTH STREETS, EAST OF FIFTH AVENUE.

The three previous articles have shown what buildings of prominence are being built between the Battery and 59th street, and east of the Central Park—south of 86th street. We have seen that every building under way south of 14th street that has been described is to be used for offices, stores or lofts, and that between 14th and 59th streets there will be hotels, flats, clubs and institutions, etc., while in the district between 59th and 86th streets, on the east side, flats predominate, with a club, an institution or two, private houses and other buildings intermingled. The buildings under way south of 59th street, described in the first two articles, may be considered important, but some of those mentioned last week and the vast majority this week should be classed as "important improvements," rather than under the heading of "important buildings." It will be observed that the buildings described in this article consists mostly of flats and tenements rather than single structures, the principal exceptions consisting of an armory, a warehouse, an institution and a number of private houses.

The Sisters of the House of the Good Shepherd are building a three-story brick dormitory and laundry on the northeast corner of Avenue A and 89th street. It will be 118x101 and will cost $75,000. The foundations have just been started, and the architect, Wm. Schickel, says the building will be ready in the fall. It is to accommodate waifs (girls).

The four-story stable and one-story shed, which is to be built for Elliott F. Shepard on the north side of 88th street, 82.2 west of Park avenue, is having the foundations put in. The building is to be used by the Fifth Avenue Transportation Company, and will have accommodations for 600 or 700 horses and 100 stages. It will be 153.4x201.5 in size, and will run through to 89th street. It is to have a gravel and tar roof, and will cost about $60,000; the contracts are on the point of being given out. McKim, Mead & White are the architects. The building is to be ready by September, when it will be used for the horses and stages of the entire Fifth Avenue line. President E. Ely Goddard told the writer that some day in the future the stables might be removed to the southern terminus of the road, possibly near one of the ferries, where it would be less objectionable to the neighbors and more convenient for the company.

The new armory for the Eighth Regiment is now very near completion. The scaffolding is being taken down from the southern tower, and the building, from the front, presents an imposing appearance. It occupies the entire western frontage on Park avenue, between 94th and 95th streets, and takes up the whole block, with the exception of the front on Madison avenue. It has a drill room about 200 feet square, and ten company rooms averaging about 25x40 each. Its two turrets can be seen for miles around, as the armory is located on some of the highest ground in the city. The extreme height is 145 feet above the curb. The contract calls for the completion of the structure by August 10th. The architect, J. R. Thomas, has brought the entire cost within the appropriation, which was $300,000.

Thirteen five-story stone front flats, some with stores, are being completed by Frederick Shuck on the northwest corner of 2d avenue and 88th street, from plans by Brandt & Co. They are having their trim put in, and will be ready by August. Their cost is estimated at close upon $200,000.

Andrew J. Kerwin's seven buildings on the northeast corner of 92d street and Park avenue, are up to the roofs and will be ready in a few months. The corner is a five-story flat, 28x84.6, and there are two single flats on the street adjoining, 19x84 each, while on the avenue there are four three-story private houses of different sizes. The cost is estimated by A. B. Ogden & Son, the architects, at $150,000.

On the northwest corner of Madison avenue and 92d street, Walter Reid has nearly completed seven three and four-story dwellings, from plans by A. B. Ogden & Son. Their cost is estimated at $148,000.

Seven three-story private houses have just been inclosed on the northwest corner of Madison avenue and 93d street. They are of different sizes and are being built by J. & G. Ruddell, from plans by G. A. Schellenger. They will be ready for occupancy in about three months, and will cost, when complete, about $80,000.

Twenty-seven five-story flats and stores are being built for Theresa, wife of John Schappert, from plans by J. C. Burne. Nineteen are on the north side of 94th street and the south side of 95th street, west of 2d avenue, and eight cover the western front of that avenue, between 94th and 95th streets. They are in different stages of progress, some being topped out, while others are up to several stories in height. This is one of the largest improvements of the kind in the city, and the cost is estimated at $554,000.

Eight three-story brick and stone front private houses and a five-story flat are approaching completion on the northwest corner of Lexington avenue and 95th street. The flat will be on the corner and will have steam heat, hardwood trim, and other improvements. The houses are on the street, and are 17, 17.6 and 18x52 in size. They are now being topped out by the owner and builder, Francis J. Schugg. The architect is Frank Wennemer. They will cost about $130,000.

Joseph Schwarzler has nearly completed nine five-story stone front tenements on the south side of 97th street, 105 feet west of 3d avenue, from plans by Ed. Wenz. They are having their trim put in, and will be ready for occupancy soon. Their cost is estimated at $126,000.

Wilmurt & Jarvis are building a five-story brick warehouse on the north side of 100th street, 100 feet east of 3d avenue, from plans by J. C. Burne. It is up to the firss tier and will be 50x90 in size. The cost is estimated at $40,000.

Ten four-story brick and stone front tenements, 25x65 each, are being rapidly pushed forward on the north side of 100th street, 250 feet east of 3d avenue, from plans by Ed. Wenz. They will be 25x65 each, and will cost the owner, Henry Chenoweth, about $120,000.

The eleven five-story tenements which are being built for Mrs. Wilhelmina A. Juch on the southwest corner of 1st avenue and 104th street, and on 103d street, near 1st avenue, are approaching completion. They are being built from plans by Schneider & Herter, and will cost about $200,000.

The Congregation Moses Montefiore are building a synagogue at No. 160 East 112th street. It will be 25x90 in size, and will have a children's school on the top floor. It is arranged in four floors, though the place of worship, which will be on the first floor, will be lighted from the roof. It is up to the first tier of beams and will be ready by September 1. The architect is Alex. I. Finkle, and the contractor for the entire work Roderick J. McDonald.

On the northeast corner of Madison avenue and 114th street, six five-story brick and stone front flats are nearing completion. Some of these are single and others double, and they vary in size. They have been built by Walter S. Price from plans by Cleverdon & Putzel, and will cost about $112,000.

John H. Wellwood, of Williamsbridge, N. Y., has the first tier of beams on five five-story flats which are being built by him on the southwest corner of Madison avenue and 116th street, from plans by R. R. Davis. Three will front on the avenue and two on the street, and they will cost $135,000.

A handsome residence is being built by Jacob Doll, the piano maker, at Nos. 309 and 311 East 118th street. It is 37x80 in size, and is to occupy a site of four lots, the ground surrounding the house to be laid out in shrubbery and trees. It is three stories high and has bay windows on the second story and basement. The cabinet trim is now being put in, and the house will be ready for the occupancy of the owner and his family by October. It will have steam heat, electrical work and other improvements, and will cost about $50,000. E. W. Greis is the architect.

On the south side of 120th street, 162 feet east of 5th avenue, F. W. Styles is building four five-story brick, stone and terra cotta front flats. They will have the roofs on in a few days, and will be ready by the fall. Two of the houses have bay windows, and they will all have steam heat, etc. They have been built from plans by S. M. Styles, and will cost $135,000.

On the southwest corner of Madison avenue and 125th street a five-story brick and stone front flat, which is to have stores on the first floor, is being built by Moritz Cohn, from plans by French, Dixon & Desaldern. It is up to the first story and will hardly be completed until October. It is to be 55x95 in size, and is to have steam heat, etc. It will cost $60,000 or more.

The Latest Astor Purchase.

William Waldorf Astor, millionaire, author, and ex-United States Minister to Italy, intends to build a very handsome residence on the plot of four lots purchased this week by him from Andrew A., Robert E. and Frederic Bonner on the northeast corner of 5th avenue and 56th street. The plot covers two lots on 5th avenue, the corner being 25.5x100 and the lot adjoining 25x100; and two lots on the street, the one in the rear of the avenue lots being 25x75.5, and the other adjoining eastwardly 25x100.5. There are altogether 9,437.6 square feet, equal to nearly 3 4-5 city lots of 25x100 each, and the price paid was $325,000. Broker Geo. R. Read represented Mr. Astor and Broker Charles MacRae the Messrs. Bonner.

Mr. C. P. Huntington paid $450,000 for the five lots on the southwest corner of 57th street. These comprised 14,447.11 square feet, equal to over 5¾ city lots of 25x100 each. So that bunching the lots together, Mr. Astor paid $34.43 per square foot, or $88,075 per city lot, and Mr. Huntington $31.14 per square foot, or $77,850 per city lot. The actual price of each lot, according to the figures paid, is estimated by a prominent real estate broker as follows: Mr. Astor paid about $145,000 for the corner of 25.5x100, while Mr. Huntington paid $160,000 for the corner of 25.5x125. The former paid $95,000 for the inside avenue lot of 25x100.5, and the latter $105,000 each for the two inside avenue lots of 25x125 each. Mr. Astor paid about $85,000 for the two street lots, the one 25x75.5 bringing $40,000, and the one 25x100.5 bringing $45,000, while Mr. Huntington paid about $80,000 for his two street lots.

The Messrs. Bonner have still five lots left, comprising three lots on the avenue, between the two corners purchased, and two lots on the north side of 56th street, commencing 150 feet east of 5th avenue. Of the three avenue lots two are 25x125 each and one 25x100, while the two street lots are 25x100.5 each. For the two deep avenue lots $125,000 each has been said to have been refused, and the price which the five lots are expected to bring is about as follows: For the two deep avenue lots $130,000 each; for the lot adjoining $110,000, and for the two street lots about $100,000 together, making a total of $470,000, which is very near what the owners expect to receive for them. If they should bring these figures the entire plot of 200.10 on 5th avenue, 175 on 57th street and 200 on 56th street, comprising over fifteen city lots, will have brought a total of $1,245,000, an average of $83,600 each. This might be divided as follows: $895,000 for the front on the avenue, comprising 200.10x100, and $350,000 for the seven street lots, comprising 175x100.5 altogether. Of course all calculations made in the matter of the Huntington and Astor sales as to the actual prices brought for each lot are merely estimates, as they were in each case purchased en bloc and not singly.

Two handsome residences are, it seems, already assured on the two corner plots sold. No doubt some other wealthy citizens will soon be announced as the purchasers of the avenue and street lots remaining, whose values are now enhanced by the superb residences to be built on the property and the prominent citizens who are to occupy them. These two sales of vacant lots, aggregating $775,000, form an interesting chapter in the history of New York real estate during the past two weeks.

Damages Against the "L" Roads.

Judge Miles Beach has awarded $7,000 to K. Ode for damages done by the "L" road, on South 5th avenue. Judge Ingraham tried the unreported cause of Bertha Kenkele, June 11th, and the same day gave the plaintiff about $12,000. Judge Beach's former decision was $10,000 future damage to Samuel and Bernard Stein on their property, 20x80, and $1,200 per year past damages. This would make $17,200 it for the customary term of six years past damages. The Kenkele property was 25 feet front. Judge Morgan J. O'Brien granted $8,000 to Geo. J. Hochhalber, $8,000 to A. Giordano, $7,200 to Chas. H. Otto and $4,800 to John C. Hoch, each of whom owns 20 to 25 feet frontage on South 5th avenue. Judge Ingraham has also awarded $8,000 damages to Henry Moss, who owns 25 feet frontage near 76th street.

Sanitary and Plumbing News.

Two men might have been seen recently on the sidewalk in Rutger's place, which is that part of Monroe street between Jefferson and Clinton streets. They were talking rent matters, and one seemed to be janitor while the other was apparently a prospective tenant. "What is the rent of the floor?" inquired the latter. "Thirty-six dollars," rejoined the former; "there is no other family in the house, and the tailors up stairs are very quiet." "Don't the tailors live on the premises?" "Oh, no; they go home at night." At this juncture an individual slid quietly behind the latter speaker, and in a stage whisper muttered that cabalistic word, "Inspector." The "game" was up at once; the trade was spoiled and the floor remained untenanted. A representative of THE RECORD AND GUIDE was a puzzled spectator of the scene; and when the supposed janitor had retired an explanation was asked of the other party, who happened to be the Health Inspector of the district. "The whole matter is very simple," he explained. "The Tenement House act does not allow the erection of rear buildings on lots where the front building is a tenement before the law—that is, having three families living independently of each other on the premises and doing their own cooking. A rear building was erected last year on this lot, the owner having first reduced the tenants of the front building to two. A month or two ago a third family was added, but I was promptly on hand and the third party had to go. There are already two families there now and a floor to let, which would make a third. The old fellow that whispered 'Inspector,' knew me and put the other on his guard; but, notwithstanding, if you are around here about the first or second week of July, you will see another effort to keep out of the hands of the Board of Health by sending some other third family out into the wilderness." "Then," said THE RECORD AND GUIDE man, "you did not mean to hire the floor?" "Not if the Court knows itself," replied the guardian of the public health. "It was only a little device, doncherknow, to catch them at their game."

"I hear the Board of Health caught on to you a couple of weeks ago," remarked one architect to another recently in the vicinity of the Bible House, "and that the District Inspector was, as the boys say, 'laying you out.'" "Only a slight breeze," said the other. "I had taken out a plan for a building about eight or nine months ago, but the owner did not build, the property changed hands, and the new owner commenced work right away. I had, in the meantime, forgotten that plans for light and ventilation expire by limitation six months after approval if the work is not commenced, and the Inspector having called my attention to the fact I was willing to bet him two to one that there was no such limitation on the plan in question. He was right, however, the plan was stamped with the 'limitation' clause, but I had no difficulty in explaining my mistake and filing a new plan. That's all there is to it."

The "germ" theory is once more on the tapis. This time it is in connection with what has long been supposed to be a hereditary and incurable disease, viz., consumption. The pathologists of the Board of Health, Drs. Biggs, Prudden and Loomis, have just reported on the subject to the Board, and given as their opinion that consumption is the sole product of the work of the "tubercle bacillus," a living germ which is contained in great numbers in the expectoration of consumptives, and which when dried is suspended as dust in the air, and breathed into the lungs; and they also distinctly state that consumption is not in their opinion hereditary, but that when parents are afflicted the children become from the earliest moment exposed to the disease. The following are the conclusions reached in the report:

First—Tuberculosis is a distinctly preventable disease.

Second—It is not directly inherited.

Third—It is acquired by the direct transmission of the tubercle bacillus from the sick to the healthy.

The measures which are suggested for the prevention of the spread of tuberculosis are:

First—The security of the public against tubercular meat and milk, attained by a system of rigid official inspection of cattle.

Second—The dissemination of the knowledge that every tubercular person may be a source of actual danger to his associates if the discharges from the lungs are not immediately destroyed or rendered harmless.

Third—The careful disinfection of rooms and hospital wards that are occupied or have been occupied by phthisical patients.

The Board of Health, appreciating the value of their researches, passed a vote of thanks to the medical savants, who have thus brought hope to the hearts of many who dread the disease because of the widespread belief that it is incurable.

The Master Plumbers' Association of this city has not been behind in the general relief movement for the Johnstown sufferers. On the 7th inst. a special meeting was called at their rooms, No. 54 Union square, and though only seventy members responded $700 was subscribed on the spot, and arrangements made for a general canvass among the other members. It is expected that at least $1,000 will be contributed by the members in individual subscriptions before the list is closed.

As a specimen of the work done by the plumbers of this city no better illustration can be presented than the new building which stands diagonally across the street from the office of THE RECORD AND GUIDE, on the northeast corner of John street and Broadway, and in which the Chatham National Bank is located. The vertical lines of pipe, of the grade known as "extra heavy," and in this case "tarred" by special permit of the Health Department, it is presumed, stand possibly from 130 to 150 feet from the extreme point above the roof to the basement. These were tested by filling to the roof with water, and when it is remembered that the lower joints on these pipes sustain a pressure of from sixty to sixty-five pounds to the square inch, it may be fairly assumed that the plumbing work in New York City can challenge that done in any city—possibly in the world. The lead joints in these pipes must be well made to sustain such a pressure.

The attachés of the Health Department of this city have contributed $750 to the Johnstown fund. This is a "healthy" sign of sympathy which is worthy of emulation.

The star of President Charles G. Wilson, of the Health Department, is still in the ascendant. It mounted up at the rate of five to one in the recent contest for the presidency of the Consolidated Exchange, carrying Mr. Wilson to the presidential chair of the Exchange for the seventh time.

Real Estate Department.

The market this week on 'Change has formed a strong contrast with last week. There was little of importance done and there has been comparative inactivity. At private sale quite a number of important parcels have changed hands, both of improved and unimproved properties, as will be seen from our "Gossip" column. One of the notable sales has been that of a second installment of the Bonner property to Wm. Waldorf Astor, which has created quite a little flurry in real estate circles, and which is commented upon more fully elsewhere.

On Monday only one sale of note was announced, that of the foreclosure of the Bijou Opera House, which has been advertised to take place over and over again. However, it did not come off, and the sale was adjourned till July 8th.

On Tuesday four unimportant city parcels were sold, the highest bringing $15,000, being No. 355 West 29th street, a four-story house and lot 22 feet wide, knocked down to Patrick O'Brien. Five acres on Kingsbridge road were to have been offered, but the sale was adjourned.

The announcement of the sale by Adrian H Muller & Son of the Givan Homestead lots attracted a considerable crowd around Peter Meyer. The maps showed that 160 parcels were to be offered, and the auctioneer announced that the lots were all to be sold without reserve, as it was a Supreme Court sale in partition. The first lot auctioned off went to Peter Bruner. It is on the highway from Westchester to Eastchester and contains over six and one-quarter lots, and brought only $950. It adjoins Mr. Bruner's property, which fronts on the Bronx and Pelham Parkway, part of the new parks. The plot adjoining, containing seven and two-fifths city lots, went for $790; and the third plot, No. 122, sold to Captain B. P. Fairchild, the veteran real estate broker, for $1,350. It contains about ten and seven-tenths city lots and is on the corner of the highway and Van Cortlandt street. Corner plots on the latter street, containing nine and three-tenths to fourteenth and four-tenths city lots went for from $520 to $550 each. The plot on the southeast corner of Givan Drive and Palmer Boulevard was then put up and went for $620. This was too much for the parties in interest. The auctioneer made great efforts to get better prices, but to see over fourteen lots near the boundary of the City of New York go for between $500 and $600 was more than man could stand. The balance of the property was consequently withdrawn. The land lies in the very heart of the new park system, but is some distance away from a railroad station. Still, the prices were unusually low and what was sold was simply sacrificed.

On the same day Jere. Johnson, Jr., sold 176 lots at Garretson's, Staten Island. The property surrounds the depot and is about forty minutes' journey from the New York side. The prices obtained ranged from $30 to $400 per lot, and they were considered fair. The property belonged to the Garretson estate, who had announced that they would sell 383 lots, but 207 were withdrawn. The balance brought about $17,000. Those withdrawn will be sold in the fall.

On Wednesday a few parcels were sold, the highest price obtained being for No. 356 West 49th street, a five-story brown stone front tenement, lot 25x98.9, which went to Wm. McKee for $26,750. A country parcel was withdrawn, and the sale of No. 147 Elizabeth street adjourned sine die.

On Thursday there was only one parcel offered on 'Change. It was the five acres on Kingsbridge road adjourned from Tuesday, and was knocked down to the plaintiff at $16,500 under foreclosure.

On Friday a four-story residence at No. 15 East 90th street was sold under foreclosure to J. Hyman for $40,000. It stands on a lot 25.6x100.8 and is near 5th avenue. Two other foreclosure sales were held, one of them being that of the three-story dwelling, lot 18.4x100.11, at No. 249 West 122d street, which went to the plaintiff at $13,500, the other being the four-story houses at Nos. 160 and 162 West 76th street, each 21 feet front, which were knocked down to Daniel Rogers at $25,000 each.

On Tuesday, June 18th, Richard V. Harnett & Co. will sell eight full-sized lots on the east side of 8th avenue, constituting the entire front between 133d and 134th streets. This is the only complete front remaining between 122d and 135th streets. Seventy per cent. of the purchase money can remain on bond and mortgage at 4 per cent.

On Wednesday, June 19th, at 1 P. M., John S. Mapes & Co. will sell, on the premises, by order of the Supreme Court, in partition, eighty-five well-located business and dwelling lots adjoining the New York Jockey Club, Westchester.

On Thursday, June 20th, Richard V. Harnett & Co. will sell the estate of George P. Gordon, consisting of some well-located lots on Grand, Irving and Cherry streets, in Rahway, N. J., and 100 acres with homestead at Houtenville, N. J., on the Pennsylvania Railroad.

On Thursday, June 20th, Wm. Kennelly & Bro. will offer "Pythagoras Hall," which has created such attention owing to the circumstances under which it was knocked down on 'Change recently.

Gossip of the Week.

SOUTH OF 59TH STREET.

Geo. R. Read has sold, in connection with Richards & Sause, the four-story brick house, 24.1x74, lot 77, adjoining the Sub-treasury, to the Lancashire Insurance Company for $195,000, and in connection with Chas. Mac Rae for Messrs. Bonner over three and three-quarter lots on the northeast corner of 5th avenue and 56th street, to W. W. Astor for $325,000.

Daniel Birdsall & Co. have sold Nos. 21 and 23 White street and No. 102 Franklin street, to private parties for $225,000.

J. P. Nivans has sold to B. Galewski the five-story brick store and tenement No. 135 Elizabeth street for $21,500.

Tillfar Smith has sold the southwest corner of 19th street and 9th avenue to William Drout and Charles J. Carew for $29,000.

H. V. Mead & Co. have sold the five-story brick tenement No. 248 West 30th street, 25 feet front by half the block, for William C. Ackerman to M. Monheimer for $21,750.

Wm. R. Mason has sold for the estate of David Cant the three-story brick dwelling No. 334 West 35th street, 18.9x50x98.9, for $12,500.

D. Kempner & Son have sold the five-story brick flat No. 356 West 43d street, 25x90x100, for $33,250; the four-story front and three-story rear house No. 319 West 39th street, lot 25x100, for $16,000; and the four-story front and three-story rear house No. 242 West 27th street, lot 25x100, for $14,000.

W. B. Taylor & Sons have sold for Fred. Dietz the brick stable No. 116½ West 50th street, 16.8 x half the block, for $12,500.

John Bunn has sold for Curry & Gillie the three five-story brown stone flats at Nos. 317-321 West 21st street, 25x87.6x98.9, to Edward Hassey for $105,000, and for E. Mantanus, the three-story dwelling at No. 113 East 7th street, lot 21 x half the block to John Aichele for $15,500.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company is reported to have purchased a block of property on West and Washington streets, nearly opposite their present depot, with the object of building a large building on the site.

Dr. Nichols has sold the four-story English basement brown stone dwelling No. 7 West 39th street, 15x55x98.9, for $28,000.

Geo. R. Read has sold to a client, for investment, the property at the northwest corner of Fulton and Cliff streets, containing upwards of 4,000 square feet (1 3-5 lots), and covered by substantial five-story iron and stone buildings, for $106,000.

NORTH OF 59TH STREET.

Howard MacNutt has sold for Elizabeth Aldrich a plot of fifty-six lots, constituting, with the exception of the frontage on 10th avenue, the entire block bounded by 63d and 64th streets and 10th and 11th avenues, to Samuel F. Bailey, the builder, for $500,000. Mr. Bailey has obtained a building loan of $600,000 on his purchase. This property has a frontage of 700 feet on each of the streets and 200 feet on 11th avenue. Mr. MacNutt sold this same plot last April for William Noble to Elizabeth Aldrich, Mr. Noble taking in trade the "Princeton" apartment house on 57th street and 8th avenue.

F. Zittel has sold for John D. Taylor the southwest corner of 121st street and 7th avenue and the two adjoining houses on the avenue to a Mr. Williams for $150,000. The same broker has also for Jane Browning the southwest corner of 98th street and 9th avenue to Herman & Adler for $32,000.

John C. Overhiser recently bought six lots, four on 5th avenue, north of 132d street, and two on the south side of 133d street, west of 5th avenue, at $49,500. He has since traded the lots at $68,000, taking in part payment a plot on West 67th street. The lots are now mortgaged for $58,000, or $8,500 more than Mr. Overhiser paid for them, and Mr. Overhiser owns a second mortgage thereon for $18,000.

Jno. W. Stevens has sold the west side of Manhattan avenue, 200x50, from 104th to 105th street. The property will be improved immediately by the erection of three-story dwellings. He has also sold four lots on the south side of 103d street, 100 feet west of 10th avenue. The buyers will erect five-story flats on these lots. The same broker has sold the northeast corner of 100th street and the Boulevard, size 26.2x92. The names of buyers or sellers of the above-mentioned properties have not yet transpired.

John Deaken, Jr., has sold for Mrs. Mary A. Stewart the five-story brick building on the northwest corner of 10th avenue and 77th street to Alfred N. Cohen for $51,000.

Conlie & Dwyer have sold to M. A. Lawson the southwest corner of 78th street and West End avenue, 75x102.2, for $45,000.

On Decoration Day, Frank E. Smith signed a contract to purchase the east side of 7th avenue from 128th to 129th streets, 200x75, from David Frank and Mayer Goldsmith, intending to improve the same. Since the purchase he has been offered $7,000 more than he paid for the lots, and he is inclined to accept the offer.

L. H. Hallen & Co. have sold for F. G. Palmer the four-story and basement stone front dwelling No. 47 West 130th street, to Miss T. I. Murray for $16,000. The size is 20x60x100.

John Casey has sold three flats on the north side of 88th street, 82 feet east of Park avenue, to George Mundorff for $31,000 each. The houses are 25.6x88.6, and are not yet completed.

T. W. Shotwell has sold for J. W. Haaren two flats on the east side of St. Nicholas avenue, between 127th and 128th streets, to S. J. Anderson and Webster White for $50,000; for Harry Smith a country place at Stamford, Conn., for $30,000; and for White & Anderson four lots on the north side of 132d street, between 6th and 7th avenues, to J. W. Haaren for $36,000.

I. Kuhn has sold for C. H. Bliss a plot, 46.6x100, on 59th street, 25 feet west of 6th avenue, for $50,000.

D. Kempner & Son have sold the five-story flat No. 1865 9th avenue, between 106th and 107th streets, 25x65x100, for $22,400.

Brooklyn.

J. P. Sloane has sold for George H. Gerard the two-story and basement brick dwelling, 17x40, with lot 17x75, No. 649 Lorimer street to C. H. Tiebout for $6,800.

Corwith Bros. have sold the house No. 171 Calyer street for Frances I. Reed to Annie M. Morrison for $4,050; and the lot, 25x100, on the west side of Newell street, 150 feet north of Nassau avenue, for Mary R. Knudsen to John J. Robinson for $1,200.

Out Among the Builders.

One of the largest building enterprises of late years will shortly be begun by Samuel F. Bailey. That gentleman has just purchased a plot 200x700, constituting the entire block bounded by 63d and 64th streets and 10th and 11th avenues, with the exception of the block front on 10th avenue, and on this plot he intends to erect fifty-six 25-feet front brick tenements, designed to accommodate four families on each floor. In order to do this, Mr. Bailey has procured a building loan of $600,000 on the property.

William Waldorf Astor will build a palatial residence on the four lots just purchased by him on the northeast corner of 5th avenue and 56th street.

McKim, Mead & White are the architects for the new club-house for the Deutcher Verein, to be built on six lots on 58th and 59th streets, between 6th and 7th avenues.

The Lancashire Insurance Company are going to erect a handsome office building on a plot, 24.1x77, just purchased by them at No. 25 Pine street. The architect is not yet decided upon.

John G. Prague is working busily at the plans for the handsome hotel and apartment house which he intends building on the northwest corner of 9th avenue and 85th street. It will be 80x155 in size, and will have two elevators, steam heat, hardwood trim and all the modern improvements. It will have an imposing entrance, and will have stores on the first floor. There will be about fifty suites of apartments, and the cost is estimated at $300,000. Mr. Prague will be the owner.

We have been informed that Peabody & Stearns are preparing plans for the new building which the Central Railroad of New Jersey will erect on the northeast corner of West and Liberty streets. We learn that it will be about eight stories high, and will be constructed in a manner to add greatly to the appearance of that section of the city. It will be devoted to railroad purposes.

Fred. R. Meres is preparing to erect a handsome seven-story apartment house on a plot, 60x96, on the northwest corner of Madison avenue and 118th street. Four families are to be accommodated on each floor, and the owner intends to put in every possible convenience. The architect is not yet appointed. Cost, $150,000.

W. A. Potter has plans on the boards for the new Lutheran Church of St. James, to be built on the plot on the southwest corner of Madison avenue and 73d street, adjoining the Tiffany mansion, as reported in these columns several months ago. The Rev. Dr. J. B. Remensnyder is the minister.

C. W. Luyster will commence at once the construction of nine private dwellings on the southerly side of 72d street, opposite Riverside Park, at a cost of $150,000. Ralph S. Townsend, architect.

Squire & Whipple have plans for Nelson M. Whipple for seven first-class four-story and basement dwellings, 20x56, with extension, which he will build on the north side of 88th street, 100 feet west of the Boulevard. The cost has not been estimated.

C. F. Butler will build seven first-class three-story and basement dwellings, 18x55, with extensions, on the south side of 88th street, 100 feet west of the Boulevard. The cost is not estimated.

E. W. Greis has the plans on the boards for five five-story brick, stone and terra cotta front single flats, 20x85 each, to be built for Jacob Doll, the piano manufacturer, on the south of 119th street, 100 feet east of 2d avenue. They will have bay windows in the rear from basement to roof, and will contain steam heat and other improvements. Their cost is estimated at $80,000. They will be built solely for investment, and will be in the rear of the handsome residence now being built by Mr. Doll on 118th street.

John Casey will build five five-story first-class flats on 81st street, northeast corner of 10th avenue, from plans by Thom & Wilson. The flats will cover a plot of ground with a front of 200 feet on the north side of 81st street, the corner house being 40x98.2 and the others 40x90. These flats will contain every conceivable modern improvement, and will cost the builder $225,000.

Mr. Casey will also build four five-story brick flats on the north side of 105th street, 100 feet west of 3d avenue. The flats will be 25x87, and the house nearest 3d avenue will have stores on the first floor. The total cost will be $80,000. The same builder proposes to erect two five-story flats with stores on the east side of 3d avenue, 27 feet north of 75th street. These flats will be 28.6x95 feet, with the lot 105 feet deep, and will be out of the run of flats in that they will have two tiers of stores and will be made specially adaptable for business purposes. The total cost will be $60,000.

John C. Burne has plans on the board for four four-story and basement stone front dwellings, to be erected on the south side of 75th street, between 8th and 9th avenues, for Frederick Aldhous, at a cost of $32,000 each. These houses will be about 25x82 in size, and will be made first-class in every particular. The same architect is to furnish drawings for a five-story brick and Euclid stone front flat, to be built on the south side of 113th street, 145 feet east of Madison avenue, for William Scott, at a cost of about $21,000. The building will be 25x69, with an extension 13x5 in size.

John C. Burne is the architect for seventeen three-story and basement brick and stone dwellings, to be built at 132d street and 10th avenue for John W. Haaren, at a cost of $20,000 each. The exact size of all the buildings could not be ascertained, but they will probably have a frontage of about 20 feet.

M. V. B. Ferdon has completed plans for Henry W. Deane for a five-story flat, 25x97, which he will build at No. 63 Bank street, to accommodate three families to a floor. The front will be built of brown stone, and all modern improvements will be introduced. The cost will be about $21,000.

S. Haberman will build seven flats on the southeast corner of Manhattan avenue and 116th street, not Ed. Cunningham. G. A. Schellenger is the architect.

The East Side Building Association filed plans several months ago for nine five-story brick and stone front flats, 27.11x89.5, to cost $180,000. These were never commenced. Inquiry at the office of the architects, J. C. Cady & Co., elicits the information that they will probably be commenced within the next month.

W. H. Boylan is engaged on plans for four three-story frame tenements, to be erected on the southeast corner of Railroad avenue and 150th street, for Edw. Calahan. The buildings will be 20x50, and will cost $2,000 each. The same architect is drawing plans for two two-story frame dwellings, size 20x32, to be built at Morris Dock for C. L. Mead, at a cost of $2,500 each.

Frank E. Smith will build two five-story brick flats at Nos. 155 and 157 East 39th street. One flat will be 19x78, one family on a floor, and will cost $19,000; the other will be a double flat, size 27.6x83, and will cost $25,000. The buildings will be first-class in every particular, and will be erected from plans by R. E. Rogers.

George Schreiner will build tenements on six lots situated on the south side of 83d street, 273 feet east of Avenue A.

Ralph S. Townsend has plans on the boards for a five-story flat, 24.10x89, to be built for John McKulvey, at No. 333 10th avenue.

Thom & Wilson are the architects for the flat to be built by Patrick Farley on the northeast corner of 9th avenue and 93d street. It will be 57.6 and 56.4x96, and will have all the modern improvements. It is to be four stories high, of brick and stone, and will have stores on the avenue front.

E. L. Angell has plans for two five-story tenements to be built by J. Streifler on the northeast corner of Bradhurst avenue and 144th street.

Ed. Cunningham intends to build two five-story flats on the southeast corner of Madison avenue and 112th street. The corner will be 33.5x66, with an extension, and the other 27.6x44, with a 20x15.11 extension.

Thos. Bennett intends to build a five-story tenement at No. 240 East 83d street, from plans by Julius Munckwitz.

A. Spence has plans for five five-story flats to be built by Hiram Moore on the north side of 115th street, 225 west of 7th avenue.

Geo. W. Harding is preparing plans for a four-story tenement and store, 22.2x71, to be built for Wm. Purcell, on the northeast corner of 3d avenue and 21st street.

Douglas Smyth is the architect for a five-story flat, 35.8 and 37.8x96.11, to be built by Chas. Mierisch at Nos. 148 and 150 East 124th street.

T. F. Houghton, of Brooklyn, is preparing plans for a five-story flat, 30x87.9, to be built for Sophia Sterns on the north side of 25th street, 125 feet west of 2d avenue.

Ed. Wenz has plans on the board for four five-story stone front double flats, to be built for Wm. Radebold at a total cost of $80,000. The site is situated on the north side of 108th street and the south side of 109th street, 87.6 feet west of Madison avenue. Two of the flats will be 31x84 and the other two 31.6x84. Tney will have all modern improvements.

F. Wennemer will draw the plans for rebuilding the New York Sash, Door and Blind Co.'s factory at 1210 2d avenue, which was recently destroyed by fire. The building on 2d avenue will be reconstructed internally, and the "L" running through to 64th street will be entirely rebuilt at a cost of $15,000. The alterations will include new machinery and elevators. Geo. B. Christman is the owner.

Brooklyn.

A. Herbert has plans for two two-story frame dwellings, 21x36 each, to be built on Rochester avenue, 40 feet south of Bergen street, for Henry Kahrs, to cost $2,000 each.

Out of Town.

BRYN MAWR PARK, N. Y.—Frank Waller has completed plans for a two-story station building, 18x60, at this place. It will cost $4,000, and will be built by the owners of real estate in the neighborhood in connection with the railroad company.

FLUSHING, L. I.—Henry S. Ihnen has plans for a residence to be erected at this place by R. B. Lawrence. The building is to be of frame, with a slate roof and brick basement. Cost, $12,000.

PAMRAPO, N. J.—J. H. Van Bushkirt will erect for Stephen L. Cummings, of New York, a two-story and attic frame dwelling on 42d street, between Avenues C and D, to cost about $3,000.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICKS. -At last, after many disappointments, the market for Common Hards has touched a reactionary basis and prices have set up a trifle from the lowest point. The change does not appear to have come about through any special measure of manipulation, nor is it accompanied by evidence of excitement or expectations of sharply regaining the recent steady shadings on cost, but that fact is probably a really healthy feature, and indicating a tendency to conservatism that should prove beneficial to all concerned. We should judge from the expression of views on the part of the majority of the trade that no great variation has taken place in the volume of demand as yet, and that to a reduction in the volume of the offerings may be attributed the principal credit of the strengthening. The curtailment of shipments is in accord with a forecast of contemplated action on the part of manufacturers given in our reports for some time and cited as the natural sequence of low and unremunerative prices, though loading has also been latterly retarded in a measure by unfavorable weather. The full advance to present writing is 25c. per M, most decided on the better qualities, and bringing top rate up to $6 00 per M. A change in the course of value naturally creates surmise as to what may follow, though as yet all hands are a little non-committal. It is, however, admitted that consumption in the natural course of events can hardly be expected to fall away, but on the contrary the chances rather favor expansion, as delayed work is now coming on more freely, so that a great deal will depend upon the manner in which supplies are forwarded. This week moulding is said to have been stopped at many yards on account of rains, etc., but otherwise no move actually made to reduce production, while in regard to shipments we are told that in the "Bay" the feeling is in favor of holding back, but Up River the policy seems to be to continue shipments as opportunity offers without actually crowding. Pales hold the former good general demand very well and remain steady in value.

HARDWARE.—In most general features it appears to be simply a moderately active and fairly uniform market. A great many dealers are certainly disappointed with the movement of supplies thus far this season, and at the moment there appears little chance of increase, but calculations are making upon a better summer and fall trade, especially in the way of builders' assortments. Production is under very good control and prices in most cases held steadily. The export outlet continues to exhaust quite a fair amount of stock at times. There has been no recent changes in the principal price list.

LATH.—Since our last and up to the present writing the market has really managed to maintain a pretty steady tone, indeed has gained a small fraction. This is to be attributed in the main to small offerings, the coastwise arrivals amounting to little and the canal boat loads of State stock that have been something of a thorn in the sides of receivers of the Eastern product, disappearing into consumption. We encounter the usual enthusiasm always to be found on the selling side when there is no stock here, and while $2.15 is the highest actual selling basis that can be confirmed, it looks low in comparison with "expectations" mentioned regarding next sales.

LIME.—Very little stock has come in from the Eastward since our last, and the supply from the State was regulated according to requirements of the market, preventing a surplus offering, while on prices former figures were retained. It is thought that dealers are distributing into consumption with greater freedom, to the exhaustion of current accumulations, and that before a great while demand will develop in a more forcible manner.

LUMBER.—Our immediate local market undergoes very little change. The distribution may probably be somewhat fuller than a week ago—a portion of the trade think it is—but that is no more than was expected and hardly up to the calculations of the more sanguine. The taking of fresh supplies into stock goes on apace and in one way or another a considerable volume of trade is reached, though, as recently noted, many dealers are in a position to assume indifference if they care to, and some do so when they think it will pay. Nothing in the way of general or positive holding off, however, is indulged in when really standard first-class stock is offered, with the possible exception of white pine, and, assisted by supporting advices from primary sources, most leading descriptions are very well sustained in value with here and there a slight stiffening tendency.

Eastern Spruce is calculated upon to hold a generally steady market during the greater portion of the season, but claims for further buoyancy are not made with quite so much emphasis, even when referring to the more desirable cuts. This may be attributed to the extreme figures already attained as one reason, and also to the fact that the most anxious buyers have to a considerable extent fortified themselves against urgent necessity. It is, however, quite unlikely that long and wide stuff will go begging, and any ordinary percentage of short and narrower likely to do fairly, but on schedules running largely to inferior cuts there is always the chance of being compelled to offer pretty easy terms. Some little attention is still given Virginia Spruce, but it is said that architects are rather afraid of it less it prove too brittle. It is understood to be available at $16 per M at Jersey City for cuts 20 feet and under, widths immaterial.

Piling has a somewhat irregular demand, a portion of the trade reporting good business and others rather slow. The general supply, however, appears to be under control and held with a considerable degree of confidence.

Hemlock of desirable quality remains quite steady, and the principal operators repeat their reports in cheerful form. Business could be a little more active for consumption without causing any great inconvenience, but there is proportionately as much doing as in any other woods, and for standard stock prices are maintained without much of an effort. Some of the early season customers are said to be again on the market looking for a partial duplication of orders, and that in conjunction with the cutting off of many recent deliveries by the floods, and the utter prostration of a great deal of productive capacity by the same disaster, tends to increase the strong conditions in a wholesale way previously referred to. Indeed, bids have already been received at a fractional advance for quite a large amount of stock, but sellers make their valuation still higher, not so much that they really expect to be met, as to temporarily shut off negotiation, there being no certainty about deliveries of Pennsylvania stock. This is due not only to loss of logs and cut stuff, and damage to mill property, but to general demoralization of a great deal of transportation service. Furthermore, as suggested in our last, the consumption almost at the door of producing locality is wanting a very large proportion of the present output, and what is spared other cities seem willing to contract for at more money than our buyers are ready to pay, Philadelphia furnishing some very good orders.

White Pine retains much the former general features. A portion of the trade appears inclined to report the market in very cheerful and promising form, but there is a conservative element ready to frankly admit that business thus far this season has proven more or less disappointing, and the prospects for early free revival do not look flattering. Now and then, of course, some very good contracts can be placed, but there is lacking a general inquiry, and in consequence competition does not develop to give demand stimulating form. Thus far the offerings have apparently been in the hands of judicious operators who have abstained from urging matters and softening values.

Yellow Pine has apparently undergone no very great change, if any at all, as the regulars and outsiders continue to contradict each others' statements, and that should about make a balance. The chances are that if any variation at all takes place on current deals it is in favor of the buyer, as while a considerable amount of stuff has yet to come forward on contract the new demand is of a more cautious character. In the f. o. b. trade more or less negotiation is taking place from time to time and now and then some very good orders booked.

Carolina Pine remains generally steady, the market appearing to be well controlled and sellers making good their promise to keep matters uniform during the season. Demand probably does not increase, especially on local account, but holds at least former volume and is looked upon as satisfactory.

Hardwoods seem to have a variable trade, as some dealers quote quite a little movement, and others the reverse, and now and then a solid bit of fault finding is encountered applied to pretty much all leading descriptions. On the whole, however, a reasonably full business is accomplished in one way or another from week to week, so far as consumption is concerned, and now and then dealers invest fairly in fresh supplies, with prices ruling about steady. In comparing business with former seasons some allowance must be made for a more conservative spirit now actuating operators which leads them to report closer to actual facts and with less tendency to magnify influencing features upon either side.

Shingles have shown some irregularity but no more so than usual at this season, and there is nothing of a very decided character on the general market. Supplies appear to be well under excellent control, and the demand embracing orders from the country and export trade in about usual relative proportions.

GENERAL LUMBER NOTES.

THE WEST.

The Timberman as follows:

Although there has been what would ordinarily be considered a heavy rainfall, it is not believed that it has been sufficient to afford very extensive relief to the hung up logs in the tributaries to the main logging streams in Michigan. The exceeding long drought of the past two months has so dried up these feeders, and mother earth as well, that a perfect avalanche of rain is necessary to put the logs afloat. The recent rainfalls will perhaps assist in moving the logs in some localities, but it is hardly probable that log running in the upper branches will be so general as to afford the relief desired this season.

Owing to the fact that the winds were in the right direction for bringing in a heavy fleet last week, and the elements not remaining in the same condition during the early part of this week, matters were unfavorable for the arrival of much cargo lumber at the Chicago docks. Perhaps twenty-five cargoes will embrace the entire receipts of the first four days this week, and these embraced such a variety as to give no considerable quantity of stock of any one kind to the market. The reason that the receipts continued so light throughout the week, doubtless, is that the weather was entirely too stormy for boats that had come in to return, unless it was the steam barges. They seemed to be able to plow through the lake billows regardless of storm signals and the fury of the elements.

At the yards good lumber is in better demand than it was ten days ago. Good strips are scarce and there is considerable call for them at $36 for "A," $32 for "B," and $38 for clear, in the rough. The odd thing about it is that when cut into siding this stuff only brings $16.50 per thousand, a clear loss, if the dressing is counted in at $1 on each 1,000 feet of siding made. Two 2-inch "C" select is not over-plenty, and is worth $23 to $24. Two-inch dry "B" is scarce at $31. Two-inch "A" is more plentiful.

Car trade is dead, laid out, and "waked." Especially is this true of roofing. Clear roofing is not worth more than $29 per thousand. The whole complexion of car-roofing trade has been changed in the last twelve months. Where car-builders used clear stock at $36 for this purpose, one year ago, they now use fencing at $15, combined with a preparation of tin.

On the Hardwood market:

Red oak is receiving considerable favor at the hands of buyers for furniture purposes, house finish, and almost everything for which it can be used. In this respect it is rather overtopping white oak as a fashionable commodity.

Some sales of white oak have been made at pretty low figures.

There is no unusual feature in the walnut trade, which is rather slow. Supplies are ample for an emergency, and some dealers have been reducing their stocks at figures which do not indicate a great deal of firmness.

Perhaps gum is having as much favor nowadays as any other wood of its character and worth. It is being bought at prices varying from $11 to $35. The preference is shown to red gum because of its high qualities and it is in good request at all times.

Birch is selling from $24 to $26, and with the increased demand for all the cheaper woods is claiming special notice. Several round lots have been purchased recently on a basis of $8, $16 and $26.

There is no over supply of ash as has been frequently mentioned in this column, and yet the demand is not pressing. Some purchases were recently made on a basis of $26 to $28 firsts and seconds.

Some little elm is selling from week to week for pump stock, pipes, blocks, agricultural purposes, etc., and by some parties is given preference over other woods, notwithstanding the sap feature, they claiming that the sap is as useful as the hardwood, in which respect elm offers a marked contrast to the oak or pine. The wood wears smooth, and hence it is particularly useful.

There is some trade in hickory at all times, as there are some uses to which it is put for which substitutes can scarely be found, and prices show little change.

From the Northwestern Lumberman we take the following:

The Toronto, Ont., Mail points out to supporters of Canadian export log duty that they are intrenched in a poor position when they assume that the Americans must take their lumber and pay the duty on it, whatever it may be, and remarks that the United States will take Dominion lumber at a certain price, but if the price is unsatisfactory a supply can be easily obtained elsewhere. This truth is self-evident to every well informed lumberman on either side the line, but it must evidently be demonstrated to the bull-headed contingency in Canada that continues to champion obstructionist methods. If the export log duty is not mitigated in some way Canadian lumber is likely to be too expensive a luxury to be largely consumed in this country.

The lack of animation in the white pine bulk stock market was mentioned in our general review of last week. It was shown that at lakeside manufacturing points the mill operators were becoming fully aware that there was a hitch in the movement consequent on the determination of the wholesale trade at Chicago and other points to keep out of the market until the holders of stocks at the mills showed mellow in their views about prices. This has since been emphasized by reports from Lake Michigan mill points, which indicate that the manufacturers are awake to the situation, are much dissatisfied with the cargo movement, and are discussing the advisability of withholding lumber from the market, and of even shutting down the mills for a period, with the intent of strengthening prices. At Manistee, it is said, shipments have already been delayed on account of the dull state of the Chicago market. In the Saginaw valley a noticeable quietude prevails in cargo dealings, though dry stock seems to have been well sold up. At the same time Eastern buyers are picking up considerable lumber on Lake Michigan and Green Bay, which relieves the situation somewhat. It is also to be noticed that there have lately been a number of prominent Chicago buyers at the mill points on the east shore of Lake Michigan, which is an indication that the time has come for looking up supplies, if they are to be obtained at all this season.

ENGLAND.

The Timber Trades Journal as follows:

LONDON.

Atlantic freights have undergone no material change since our last report. Several vessels have been lately fixed from New Brunswick ports at 67s. 6d., and also from the St. Lawrence ports to the United Kingdom; the same rates ruling to the Continent. From Quebec some ships have been fixed at 65s. to the United Kingdom and 70s. to the Continent, and we understand tonnage has been fixed from Quebec to Liverpool, timber cargoes at 27s., and Greenock 25s. 6d.

American Black Walnut.—Except in the case of the unreserved lots in Thursday's catalogue, there was almost nothing done, but generally, considering the character of the stock offered, we should say fair prices were obtained for what was sold. There is still a large consumption going on for cabinet-making purposes, but as supplies of poor quality stuff for some time past have been so abundant and yard-keepers generally are heavily stocked, it will be a serious mistake to further overburden the market with wood of this description, as in that case prices will be sure to suffer. Better class stuff, for which there is always a good demand, is still wanted, and for such the realization of good prices may be safely calculated upon.

American Whitewood.—This market is in a healthy state, with prices fully maintained. We are told that lately several shipments of a very indifferent character have been landed at the wood wharves, and there can be no doubt that there will be very great difficulty in realizing these parcels, and the result will be sure to give dissatisfaction to all concerned.

American Oak — Thursday's catalogue included a considerable quantity of lumber, which was sold without reserve, and it seemed to us that some of the larger buyers secured great bargains. There can be no doubt if the market had been supplied with better judgment there would have been no need to force the sale in this manner, which must of necessity be very bad business for the shippers on the other side.

LIVERPOOL.

With regard to pitch pine very little, comparatively, has recently been done, buyers round the coast having been fully supplied with what will suffice for some time to come. Amongst the most recent transactions round the coast made by our local brokers are a cargo of moderate size sawn pitch pine, 35 ft average, at 65s, per load c. i. f.; a cargo of 30 ft. at 64s. c. i. f.; and a cargo of part hewn timber, 18 in. average square, at 69s., with sawn, 40 ft. average, at 68s. per load c. i. f.

NAILS.—The actual demand probably does not increase to any positive extent, but buyers have appeared to move a little quicker of late and the decrease of productive capacity has induced a steadier feeling. No actual advance in value could be fully established, but there is no more cutting on rates. We quote at $1.80@1.85 per keg for car lots, and $1.90@1.95 per keg for parcels from store.

PAINTS, OILS, ETC.—For the general run of paints, oils, colors, etc., there has been about the usual market, and nothing of an unusual character develops to the advantage of either buyer or seller. As with a great many other articles consumption has been a little disappointing and grumbling on the part of manufacturers and importers is not uncommon, though as a rule steady prices are very well sustained. The most important event of late has been the formation of the White Lead Trust, which seems to be a settled fact. Parties to the combination are reticent and indeed rather inclined to deny that any agreement has been entered into owing to the existing laws against trusts in many of the States, but there is scarcely a doubt that 85@90 per cent. of the producers in the country are now bound together by a strong compact that will prove an important factor in the situation. The Atlantic White Lead Co., the Davis Chambers Co. are the leading producers not in the combine, and a few smaller companies are out, but it is generally understood that none of them will attempt to antagonize the Trust. Linseed Oil at the recent advances has been steadily held and is in average demand at 58@59c. for Western and 60@60½c. for City. Spirits Turpentine has met with rather moderate demand, and on the whole the market is a fraction easier at 38@39c. per gallon, according to quantity, delivery, etc.

TAR AND PITCH.—The market dull and buyers generally quite well inclined to keep their orders confined closely to immediate wants. Offerings at about former rates.. We quote Pitch $1.35@1.50 per bbl.; Tar at $2.10@2.20, according to quantity, quality and delivery.

For tables of Building Material prices see pages v., VIII., IX. and X.
